

This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

- + Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
- + Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
- + Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
- + Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

- "And whereas, the thirteen protesting Annual Conferences in the slaveholding states, having formed themselves into a separate and distinct ecclesiastical organization, under the title or name of the Methodist E. Church, South, and their General Conference in May, 1846, did authorize their Commissioners (whose credentials have been received by this General Conference) to present and adjust their claim on the funds of the Book Concern of the M. E. Church :

May 27.

Bro. Wright's substitute.

"And whereas, our common and holy Christianity prescribes and enjoins the most pacific measures for the settlement of all matters in dispute between individuals, as well as associations of professing Christians; and the whole Christian world expect ministers of the Lord Jesus Christ to adopt the most peaceful and conciliatory measures for the settlement of any claim that may be urged against them:

"Therefore, Resolved by the delegates of the several Annual Conferences, in General Conference assembled, That we propose to the Commissioners of the Church South to refer the question of their claim on our Book Concern to five arbiters, neither of whom shall be a member of either Church, who shall be chosen in the manner here prescribed, namely:—

"The Commissioners of the M. E. Church South shall choose two arbiters; and three commissioners, to be appointed by this General Conference, shall choose other two, and the four arbiters thus chosen shall choose a fifth, each party being solemnly bound to abide by the decision such arbiters shall make on the questions of such claims."

Brother Wright's substitute was laid on the table.

Laid on table.

Dr. Holdich offered and moved the following substitute, stating it to be a paper presented by the Bishops in response to a written request of several delegates that they would communicate their opinions in regard to the property question.

Bishop Morris not being present when his colleague agreed to have the paper presented in consequence of having to preside, he signified his concurrence in the first resolution, and his nonconcurrence with the last two.

"Whereas H. B. Bascom, D. D., A. L. P. Green, and C. B. Parsons, commissioners of the M. E. Church, South, have visited the seat of this Conference to urge a claim to a portion of the funds of the Book Concern, based, it is understood, on an act of the last General Conference, known as the 'Report of the Committee of Nine':

Dr. Holdich's substitute.

"And whereas the nonconcurrence of the Annual Conferences in that part of said report which bears on the division of said funds, leaves this General Conference without any authority to recognize or adjust said claim in any voluntary way:

"And whereas it is understood from the periodicals of the M. E. Church, South, and from conversations with some of said commissioners, that a suit at law will be resorted to for the recovery of said claim: . . .

May 27.
Dr. Holdich's
substitute.

"And whereas the commencement of this suit will change the form of this difficulty, rendering it a mere business transaction, so as to throw it within the constitutional control of the General Conference :

"And whereas it is understood that the commissioners would accept none but a strictly legal arbitration :

"And whereas this Conference desires to advance as far as its constitutional power will authorize toward an amicable adjustment of this difficulty : therefore

First resolution.

"Resolved, by the General Conference of the M. E. Church, 1. That should such lawsuit be commenced by the commissioners, our Book Agents at New-York and Cincinnati be and are hereby authorized and advised to tender to said commissioners an adjustment of the claim, based on the report aforesaid by arbitration, under such legal sanctions as shall render the award final, and of binding effect on the M. E. Church, and the M. E. Church, South.

Second resolution.

"2. Resolved, That inasmuch as the General Conference is not formally assured that such suit will be commenced, and inasmuch as an amicable settlement of the difficulty is, in any event, exceedingly desirable, and inasmuch as this General Conference has no power or authority to act at discretion in this matter, either to allow or arbitrate said claim, if not prosecuted in court, unless the Annual Conferences authorize it by a change of the constitution : it is hereby recommended to the Annual Conferences, if said suit is not commenced, so far to suspend the sixth 'Restrictive Article' of the Discipline, as to authorize our Book Agents at New-York and Cincinnati to submit to arbitrate what is technically called the Property Question.

Third resolution.

"3. Resolved, That in case said suit is not commenced, the Bishops are requested to lay the last resolution before the Annual Conferences for their concurrence."

Time given to Preamble.

"Whereas the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, having in due form preferred claims against the vested funds and other property of the Methodist Episcopal Church ; and whereas the General Conference has no power officially to respond to, or in any way adjust said preferred claims ; and whereas we are anxious that an amicable and strictly equitable disposition may be made of them ; therefore,

"1. Resolved, by the delegates of the several Annual Conferences of the Methodist Episcopal Church in General Conference assembled, That we hereby advise the Book Agents at New-York and Cincinnati immediately, in due form, and under such instructions as this Conference shall hereafter give them, to offer to submit said preferred claims to the full and final decision of judicious and disinterested arbiters.

Report of Com.
on Missions.

"The Committee on Missions, to whom was referred the subject of distinct missionary organizations for domestic purposes, beg leave to report that they have had the matter under careful examination; and, in view of the facts, that but few of the Conferences have expressed any desire for such a change in our policy, and that several others have, through their representatives, manifested a strong opposition to the measure, they deem the establishment of two distinct missionary organizations for the Methodist Episcopal Church inexpedient at present. But to meet the case, so far as is practicable and safe, the Committee recommend the following to be added to that section of the Discipline under the head of 'Support of Missions,' and made the fourth paragraph:—

"Any Annual Conference may, at its option, by a vote of two-thirds of its members, assume the responsibility of supporting such missions already established, or to be established within its own limits, as have hitherto been reported under the head of "Missions in the Destitute Portions of the Regular Work;" and for this purpose it shall be at liberty to organize a Conference Domestic Society with branches; provided, such organizations shall not interfere with the collections for the Missionary Society of the Methodist Episcopal Church, as required by the Discipline. Provided, also, that in case more funds shall be raised for such missions than are needed, the surplus shall be paid over to the treasurer of the Parent Society of the Methodist Episcopal Church at New-York, to be appropriated to such missions, under the care of the Society, as may be designated by said Conference. It shall be the duty of every such Domestic Society to send, annually, to the Corresponding Secretary at New-York, a full and detailed account of the number, names, condition, and prospects of each mission under its care; and to the Treasurer of the Parent Society at New-York an account of its receipts, incidental expenses, and disbursements."

The Report from the Committee on Itinerancy was presented by Dr. Akers.

Report of Com.
on Itinerancy.

"The Committee on the Itinerancy beg leave further to report, that they have carefully examined the records of the several Annual Conferences for the last four years, which were submitted to them; and they find that the general character of said records is good. Yet your Committee have thought it their duty to notice a few things, which they deem worthy of correction by this General Conference.

"First. One Conference, on locating one of its members, retained a certificate of his location. Therefore your Committee recommend the following for adoption:—

"Resolved, That when a member of an Annual Conference is located, he is entitled to a certificate of the fact under the hand of the president of said conference.

"Second. An exception was taken by your Committee to one Conference for not sustaining a charge of mal-administration against one of its members, when they had found him guilty of withholding a certificate from a member removing from his charge, although he refused to try the person when he was willing to be tried. Therefore, your Committee recommend the adoption of the following resolution:—

"Resolved, That when a member wishes to remove his residence out of any particular charge, and there are, in the judgment of the preacher in charge, sufficient reasons for withholding the certificate, and the member is willing to be tried, he shall be held guilty of mal-administration, unless he proceed in the trial of such person.

"Third. Your Committee except to the records of several of the Annual Conferences for a want of explicitness and fullness of statement, namely, several were not paged; some had not the numbers in society; some no stewards' report; some mentioned that reports were made on different subjects, but did not tell where they were to be found; others spoke of trials of members, but did not show the investigations in detail, nor tell where the evidence could be found.

"In view of correcting all such defects in the records for the future, your Committee recommend the adoption of the following resolution :—

Report of Com.

“Resolved, That it shall be the duty of each Annual Conference, through its president, and by its secretary, to cause to be kept, either on its regular journal, or in a separate book kept for that purpose, a full transcript of the adopted reports, and of the doings of said Conference, in respect to trials, including the evidence on which the Conference may have acted, to which such references shall be made in the principal Conference Journal, as that the said reports, evidence in trials, &c., as excepted to above, may be readily found.

“Fourth. Your Committee have had under consideration the petition of a number of persons praying this General Conference to authorize the Bishops to divide the city and county of New-York into convenient charges of three, four, or more Churches each, and to cause the pastors of said charges to itinerate with each other, &c. Or should this body be of opinion that the Bishops are now possessed of the power asked for, then the petitioners request a recommendation from this General Conference directing the Bishops to exercise the said power.

“After a careful consideration of this subject, your Committee have concluded to report the following resolution for adoption :—

“Resolved, That it is inexpedient to grant the petition asked for in the memorial from New-York.

“Fifth. Your Committee would also report the following resolution for adoption, in respect to a memorial from the Pittsburgh delegation and others, praying for authority to be given to the Annual Conferences to appoint a committee for the trial of ministers, &c. :—

“Resolved, That it is not expedient that this General Conference should grant the prayer of the petitioners.

“Sixth. Your Committee have ascertained that, in some instances, there exists a strong disposition to confine ministerial and pastoral labors to the towns and villages, to the comparative neglect of societies in the country. Also, we ascertain that, in some instances, ministerial support is deficient in consequence of the smallness of the charge. In other instances, because of the sparsely settled state of the country; in others, because of the poverty of the members; and in some instances, where there was no want of pastoral labor, support was defective for want of liberality; in other cases, for the want of suitable stewards. But in all such cases, in respect to finances, the members of the Committee report the several Conferences in an improving condition. And for the correction of the above-mentioned tendency, in some instances, to neglect country appointments, by

"Resolved, That a copy of this report be transmitted by the secretary to the Board of Trustees, and that a certificate of the election of such persons as may be chosen to fill the afore-mentioned vacancies, signed by one of the bishops and the secretary, be also sent to the Board.

Report of Com.
on Book Con-

"The Committee on the Book Concern beg leave to submit their final report.

"The committee have carefully examined the Reports of the Book Agents at New-York and Cincinnati, and the various communications referred to them, and present, as the result of their deliberations, the resolutions connected with this report.

"A number of propositions in regard to the price of our books, the best means to be adopted to increase their circulation; the propriety of reducing the price of the Christian Advocate and Journal at New-York to $1 00 per annum; and the establishment of depositories; was before the committee, and fully discussed. The conclusions to which the committee have come are believed to be the best which under all the circumstances could be arrived at.

"In the report of the Book Committee at New-York the General Conference is requested to decide the question whether Editors should be allowed additional compensation for literary productions.

"After investigating this point, your committee are of opinion that the talents and time of Editors as well as Agents ought to be devoted exclusively to the duties of their office.

"The attention of the committee was called to the large amounts paid for the traveling expenses of Editors the four past years; the action in regard to which will be found below.

"Your committee had no report from the depository in Charleston, South Carolina, nor from the paper in that place; nor from the papers at Richmond, Virginia, and Nashville, Tennessee; and consequently took no action in regard to them.

"After a patient consideration of all the matters submitted to them, your committee recommend the following resolutions for adoption by the General Conference :—

"1st. Resolved, &c., That it is inexpedient to publish a periodical for sermons of living ministers. Not adopted.

"2d. Resolved, &c., That the traveling expenses of Editors ought to include only those growing out of their moving to the place of their appointment, and the necessary expenses incurred in their going to and returning from the annual sessions of the Conferences of which they are members." Adopted.

"3d. Resolved, &c., That it is inexpedient to alter the terms of publication of the Christian Advocate and Journal at New-York." Laid on the table.

"4th. Resolved, &c., That the Agents at New-York be, and they are hereby, authorized to dispose of the four houses on Crosby-street, whenever an advantageous opportunity may offer; and, with the advice of the Book Committee, erect other houses on a part of the lots recently purchased on Mulberry-street: provided that new buildings can be erected without materially increasing the expenses of the Concern." Adopted.

"5th. Resolved, &c., That the Agents, if they deem it advisable, be authorized to establish one or more sabbath-school depositories in each Annual Conference that may provide for such depositories, and under such regulations as the Agents, with the concurrence of the Book Committee, shall approve." Adopted.

"6th. Resolved, &c., That the Sunday School Advocate as it is be continued." Adopted.

"7th. Resolved, &c., That our standard Catechisms be revised by the Editor of our Sunday-School Books, under the supervision of the Book Committee at New-York." Adopted.

"8th. Resolved, &c., That it is expedient to insert advertisements in the Quarterly Review to an extent not to increase the postage thereon." Adopted.

"9th. Resolved, &c., That while we highly prize the Quarterly Review in its present character, it is our firm conviction that were it made more practical it would be more popular and useful." Adopted.

"10th. Resolved, &c., That we recommend the following addition to the Discipline, before the proviso in the seventh paragraph of section 8, part 2: 'And the Agents at New-York shall fill the orders for the Agents at Cincinnati for the plates of such book or tract; and when the Agents at New-York are about to issue any new work of less than seven hundred pages, they shall, when practicable, give notice to the Agents at Cincinnati, and furnish, if ordered by them, duplicate plates, which with the above shall be at cost.' Adopted.

"11th. Resolved, &c., That the General Conference permit advertisements to a limited extent in the Christian Advocate, at the discretion of the Agents and Book and Publishing Committees, if the price should be reduced." Adopted.

"12th. Resolved, &c., That it is inexpedient to alter the Christian Advocate and Journal to the quarto form." Adopted.

"13th. Resolved, &c., That a deduction of 15 per cent. on an average be made on the retail prices of the books of the General Catalogue; and that the discount to preachers on "14th. Resolved, &c., That the price of Bibles and Testaments, with the discount thereon, be left to the discretion of the Agents at New-York and Cincinnati." Adopted.

"15th. Resolved, &c., That the discount to wholesale purchasers of our books be left to the discretion of the Book Agents." Adopted.

"16th. Resolved, &c., That it is the sense of this General Conference, that the Agents at New-York and Cincinnati purchase no additional real estate in New-York or Cincinnati, but such as is indispensably necessary to carry on advantageously the Book Concern." Adopted.

"17th. Resolved, &c., That the Bishops be allowed to appoint an agent or agents for the German publishing fund, when requested to do so by an Annual Conference." Adopted.

"18th. Resolved, &c., That so much of the debt of M. B. Hopkins as is due to the Concern at New-York be referred to the Book Agents at New-York for settlement at their discretion." Adopted.

"19th. Resolved, &c., That the Agents at New-York be authorized to close up or continue the depository at Charleston, South Carolina, at their discretion." Adopted.

"20th. Resolved, &c., That, in view of the action taken by the General Conference in regard to the settlement of the property question, on the 28th inst., it is inexpedient to take any action on the subject of the widows and orphans of traveling preachers of the Church South, as suggested in the resolution offered by P. Akers and N. Rounds." Laid on the table.

"21st. Resolved, &c., That the General Conference have learned with great satisfaction the flourishing condition of the Pittsburgh Christian Advocate, as presented in the statement of the Publishing Committee, and that the Conference approve the method adopted to increase the circulation of that paper." Adopted.

"22d. Resolved, &c., That the indebtedness of the Pittsburgh Christian Advocate to the depository in this city, amounting to some $1,400, be divided into installments, and paid so as not to embarrass the paper." Adopted.

"23d. Resolved, &c., That the Discipline, part 2, section 8, paragraph 29, page 201, be so altered as to introduce 'or manuscripts,' after the word 'books.'" Laid on the table.

"24th. Resolved, &c., That, in the judgment of the General Conference, the contents of the Quarterly Review have cost too much during the past four years, owing to the fact that so large a portion of the articles which have appeared in it were paid for; and the editor is hereby directed to lessen the expenditures in this particular for the future." Laid on the table.

Report of Com.
on Law Questions.

The secretary was ordered to furnish the Troy delegates with a copy of the resolutions in the case of E. Sprague.

The whole report was adopted, and is as follows :—

"The Committee on Law Questions have had under consideration the proposition of the Bishops respecting a delegated Annual Conference; the plan of a connectional Conference, and the explanatory letter of Dr. Luckey accompanying it; the proposition so to alter the section of the Discipline relating to the General Conference, as to authorize the appointment of a committee of that body to sit as a Court of Appeals during the sessions of the General Conference from time to time; and also the resolution which proposes to make the Annual Conferences judges of the constitutionality of the laws passed by the General Conference: and after bestowing upon each of the above-mentioned subjects all the deliberation so justly due to their intrinsic importance, no less than to the eminence of the sources whence they have respectively originated, your Committee think that changes so vital should not be made at this juncture. Better that they should be subjects of consideration by the whole connection for the next four years, and subjects of action, if need be, of the next session of this body.

"Your Committee beg leave further to report answers to several questions referred to them.

"First. In relation to the trial of a preacher under certain circumstances :—

"1. Resolved, That an Annual Conference has a right, when charges are preferred against one of their number, and the case cannot be tried during their session, for want of testimony, to refer it to the presiding elder who may have charge of him, under the rule for the trial of immoral ministers in the interval of an Annual Conference.

"Second. In relation to superannuated preachers :—

"1. Resolved, That a superannuated preacher living out of the bounds of his own Conference is not a member of the Quarterly Conference where he resides.

"2. Resolved, That such minister has no voice in the society where he lives.

"3. Resolved, That he has a right (as all other Methodist preachers) in class meetings.

"4. Resolved, That he is under the jurisdiction of the presiding elder; so far as is provided in the Discipline, pages 24 and 68.

"Third. In relation to a certain item of expense :—

"Resolved, That horse feed, in the case of those who are under the necessity of keeping a horse to attend to their appointments and duties in the ministry, is to be paid for as traveling expenses.

"Fourth. In relation to the case of E. Sprague :—

"They return the questions propounded by the delegates of the Troy Conference, with their answers subjoined.

“Ques. 1. In what relation to the Troy Conference did the above act of the General Conference place Rev. E. Sprague? Does he still remain suspended from the ministry or not?”

"Ans. His relation to the Troy Conference is that of an accused member.

“Ques. 2. May the Troy Conference suffer the said E. Sprague to withdraw from the Church, should he request it, before the trial takes place as required by the action of this body?”

"Ans. They may.

“Ques. 3. When the trial takes place, is the Troy Conference at liberty to use any part of the testimony read before this body as documentary evidence in the case?”

"Ans. Yes, if it has been taken according to Discipline.

“Ques. 4. If living witnesses are present at the seat of the Conference, but refuse to give evidence in open Conference, is the Conference at liberty in such case to appoint a Committee to take such testimony in the presence of the accused out of the Conference; and if so taken, must the testimony be written down by the secretary of the Conference?”

"Ans. The Conference has a right to appoint a commission to take testimony when the witnesses cannot be brought before the Conference, the opposite party being notified to appear before such commission, and having the right to cross examine the witnesses : in such case the testimony is to be taken by a secretary appointed by the commission, and when reported to Conference it must be filed and carefully preserved by the secretary of that body.

"Ques. 5. Must all testimony taken before the Conference be spread on the journal; or may it be written down and kept in a form separate from the journal?"

"Ans. Documentary testimony need not be spread upon the journal, but should be filed and preserved by the secretary.

“Your Committee do not deem it necessary to sustain their views by elaborate argumentation; and presuming that, at this late hour of the session, the more brief their report, the more acceptable, they respectfully submit it.

P. P. SANDFORD, Chairman.

"Resolved, 2. That the Discipline be so amended, that the 5th answer, in section 10, part 2, shall read as follows: 'The bishops may employ colored preachers to travel and preach, where their services are judged necessary; provided that no one shall be so employed without having been recommended by a Quarterly Conference.'

APPENDIX.

The following is the letter of Bishop Soule, referred to on page 43.

TO THE BISHOPS AND MEMBERS OF THE GENERAL CONFERENCE OF THE M. E. CHURCH, NOW IN SES-SION.

Pittsburgh, May 10, 1848.

REV. AND DEAR BRETHREN,—In conformity to the “Plan of Separation” adopted by the General Conference of 1844, providing for “a distinct ecclesiastical connection, should the Conferences in the slaveholding states find it necessary to unite in such a connection,” these Conferences, at their first sessions after the General Conference had the subject under their deliberate consideration. But that there might be no hasty action in a matter of such important concern, and that the views and counsels of all the Conferences might be obtained, after sufficient time to examine the whole ground, they appointed delegates to meet in Convention in Louisville, Kentucky, on the 1st of May, 1845. These delegates convened at the time and place appointed; and after deliberate examination of the deeply interesting subject on which they were met, accompanied with much prayer, they came to the decision, with almost unparalleled unanimity, that it was necessary for the Conferences in the slaveholding states, represented by them in Convention, to unite in a distinct ecclesiastical connection, under the provisions of the act of the General Conference. Having settled this important question, the Convention provided for the consummation of a separate organization, by appointing a General Conference to be held in Petersburg, Va., on the 1st of May, 1846. The acts of the Convention were submitted to the Annual Conferences for their approval, and, being approved, delegates were elected to the General Conference. The delegates having convened, and the General Conference being organized, I regarded the provisions of the “Plan of Separation,” for a distinct ecclesiastical connection, consummated in the establishment of the “Methodist E. Church, South.” So far as I have had cognizance of the deliberations and decisions of the General Conference, the Convention, and the Annual Conferences, it affords me pleasure to say, that, according to my best judgment, they have been conducted with the strictest regard to the provisions of the “Plan,” and with much of the same spirit of peace, brotherly kindness, and charity, which marked its adoption in the General Conference of 1844 as a scene of the truly moral sublime. As soon as the General Conference was organized, I officially notified the body that I adhered to the Methodist E. Church, South, in conformity with the provision of the second resolution of the “Plan of Separation,” which is in the words following: “2d. That ministers, local and traveling, of every grade and office in the Methodist Episcopal Church, may, as they prefer, remain in that Church, or, without blame, attach themselves to the Church, South." With this act, my official relation to this General Conference, and to the Methodist Episcopal Church under its jurisdiction, ceased. And being received as one of the bishops of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, my official relations and responsibilities were transferred to that body.

From the foregoing facts it will readily be perceived that I hold myself amenable to the General Conference of the Methodist E. Church for all my acts till 1st of May, 1846. The chief object of my attendance at the present session of your body is to ascertain whether there are any charges to be preferred against me, and, if so, to answer to them as best I may. I am aware that it has been the usage of the General Conference to appoint a committee on the episcopacy, whose duty it is to inquire into the administration of the government, and other matters appertaining to this department in the Church, and to report the result of their examination to the Conference. To this course, under ordinary circumstances, I certainly can have no objection; but coming before you under circumstances of an extraordinary character, such as have never existed before, I respectfully request, that any action of the Conference, so far as my character is involved, growing out of publications in the official journals of the Church, may be had without reference to Committee.

In the Western Christian Advocate of the 12th of June, 1846, the editor, Rev. Charles Elliott, has made a declaration to the Church, and to the American people, to the extent of the circulation of the paper, which I regard as highly injurious to me, so far as Dr. Elliott is regarded as a man of truth. His declaration is in the words following: "But Bishop Soule has withdrawn from the Methodist E. Church under grave charges, or liable to them. Charges, we learn, were officially laid in against him, previous to the Convention." On the appearance of this announcement, I took the liberty to call on Dr. Elliott, in the presence of four ministers of age and experience, to obtain, if possible, an explanation of this extraordinary statement. In the course of this interview, I proposed to Dr. Elliott the following question,— "By whom were these charges 'laid in,' or preferred, and who gave you the information?" To this question the doctor answered promptly, and in a manner suitable to the character of his office as a minister and editor. His reply was, in substance, "That in a letter which he received from James B. Finley, he informed him that he had laid in, or preferred charges against me, previous to the Louisville Convention, and that he had furnished me with a copy of these charges." I assured the doctor that I had never received any charges laid in against me by brother Finley, or the slightest intimation of any intention on his part to charge me, till he gave me the information. I have requested the doctor to retract this statement, so injurious to my character, so far as he is accredited as a man of truth; but this retraction not appearing, I have respectfully, but earnestly, requested him to publish, in the Advocate, the letter of brother Finley giving him the information. Failing in this, I have several times requested to be furnished with these "grave charges," that I might know what they were, and have some time to prepare to meet them; but in this I have also failed. And although this statement of "grave charges officially laid in against me previous to the Convention" has now been before the American people for nearly two years, in one of the official journals of the Church, and (for aught I know to the contrary) may have gone to Canada, and crossed the Atlantic, I remain as perfectly ignorant of what these charges are as any member of your body, or as any citizen of this city.

In view of this plain statement of facts, which I think will not be denied, it must be perceived that I come before you under no ordinary embarrassments. It is scarcely possible that the announcement that "grave charges were officially laid in against me, under which I had withdrawn from the Church," coming from such a source, and sustained by such authority, should fail to produce an influence prejudicial to my character and to my cause, if, by the presentation of the charges, I shall have an opportunity to make my defense. The shortness of time which I may have for preparation after I shall be put in possession of the charges may operate to my disadvantage. But waiving these considerations, however embarrassing, I avail myself of the opportunity now offered me, respectfully to request that my alleged accuser will lay in his charges to this Conference, and thus afford me an opportunity of making my defense as best I may before a tribunal to which I hold myself amenable, as previously stated. As I cannot, consistently with my sense of propriety, make any further communication to this Conference on this subject, either verbal or written, till the charges shall be presented, unless the facts before stated shall be denied, I respectfully request that this communication may not be made a matter of animadversion in the Conference, so as to produce a still stronger influence against me before the charges shall be prepared in proper form. I here dismiss this truly painful subject, which no motive could have induced me to lay before the Conference but justice to myself, and to others whose characters may be as deeply involved as my own. And having made this communication as my last recourse to obtain the knowledge of the charges which your official journal declares were laid in against me more than two years ago, and under which I had withdrawn from the Church, if I should fail to obtain these charges here, I will indulge the confident hope that such declaration will not be repeated, and that a favorable judgment will be passed upon me, at least at the tribunal of public opinion.

In conclusion, permit me to express my deep and sincere regret that you have found it expedient, as the result of your deliberations, to decline to recognize a fraternal relation, in the bonds of our common Methodism, to the Church, South. The unanimity with which you have arrived at this conclusion, both in your large and intelligent committee, and in your Conference action, may be regarded as evidence of the strong consolidation of the great body of ministers and people which you represent, and for which you act. And I will indulge the hope that, at least so far as regards all the essential elements which constitute the "unity of the body of Christ, which is his Church," this consolidation will be fully realized. But suffer me to say, that though my voice, soon to be hushed in the silence of the tomb, can in all probability be heard no more in your councils; and those bonds which have bound me to you, as a branch of the great Wesleyan family of Methodists, for half a century, have been severed by your act; I still feel a deep solicitude for your connectional unity, and for the success of the great work committed to your charge. But I cannot free myself from the apprehension that your act may disturb the peace and harmony of your body, and be, at least, the accidental cause of unhappy differences among your body. Against such a result, though your action in connection with my relation to the Church South has neutralized any personal or official influence I might otherwise exert, I shall continue to interpose my prayers.

In the last four years, though not as successful as in some previous years, the work of God has gradually advanced in the Annual Conferences of the Church, South, and in some parts of the work we have had great and blessed revivals. The increase of white members is 17,462; colored 23,896. Total increase in the four years, 41,358.

Very respectfully and affectionately,

Yours in Christian bonds,

JOSHUA SOULE.

A.—REPORT ON EDUCATION.

THE judgment of reason, attested by the history of society, declares that no community can continue to make healthy progress, and establish itself as an integrant and important element in the moral world, unless it take to its aid, and incorporate with its life, sound and liberal education. If this be true in reference to society in general, how much more so in reference to religious society! A Church in its infancy, owing to its more urgent, immediate wants, and the peculiar condition of the people under its care, may be constrained to postpone active attention to liberal education. So it was in the primitive Church. But when it has collected a people which has itself become the parent of a great population born within the bosom of the Church, she cannot fulfill her high mission unless she takes measures to prevent this population from being withdrawn from under her fostering care in the period of its youth. And this she must do by supplying it with the whole circle of sound, useful learning, imbued with Scriptural and vital piety. A Church that seeks to fulfill her mission by retaining and cherishing her own children, and by continually expanding and acting on society, must create a religious literature that shall be imbued, not only with the general elements of Christianity, but with her peculiar views and life. This literature must not be confined to the form of periodical issues, but must become a permanent element in her life and action. These remarks apply, with peculiar propriety and force, to the Methodist Episcopal Church. She has strongly marked doctrines and discipline which distinguish her from her sister Churches. She finds herself in a new and vigorous world, the vast asylum of the oppressed millions of the old and worn-out world : a new world, in which as yet a mature religious literature has not been produced, suited to its peculiar genius and conditions ; a world in which the principal Churches are laudably striving to be felt in the department of education and religious literature. And this noble emulation among the Churches is heightened by the astonishing fertility of the press, striving night and day, by skillful combinations of machinery and the application of steam, to satisfy the craving demand of the country for books. Society, in this new world, is placed under new conditions : it is free to speak as well as to think ; and thus mind is brought into keen conflict with mind : and from these rapid and powerful collisions will be evolved the conclusions which will enter permanently into the life of society. How important, then, when every doctrine and dogma is being submitted to the closest scrutiny, and, when accepted, becomes spiritual food for the nation, that we, who believe that we hold and teach the true evangelical doctrine and practice, should be prepared not only to state and defend the same, but to present them to the youth of our people and land, in conjunction with liberal learning, and to clearly exhibit them to the judgment, and apply them to the conscience, of those to whom we are sent to preach ! In the first case we shall retain and cherish our own people, and in the second bring others under the blessed influences of a pure gospel.

In order to accomplish all this, our schools must comprehend the whole circle of learning, and be open to all. The wealth and intelligence of our people will require the most accomplished education. But if our schools were organized only for our own people, and afforded little more than instruction in our own peculiar views, they would contribute to make us a bigoted sect, instead of an enlightened and liberal Church : and they would afford us but little aid in extending the kingdom of Christ in the earth. We must not forget the social character of our common Christianity, and we must seek to introduce it into the social life of the nation, and make it the ruling element therein.

Nor must we omit to state distinctly that the progress of society in matters of knowledge, and in skill in execution, imperiously demand a corresponding advance in the Christian ministry. It will be impossible for us worthily to fulfill our mission as a Church, unless our ministry shall be in advance of the people in knowledge as well as in spirituality. We must fully measure up to the standard prescribed by our Saviour to his evangelists ; we must be able to bring from our treasures things new and old.

There never was a period in the history of the Church when this ability was more necessary. The very foundations of our holy Christianity, as well as its essential principles, are undergoing a severe scrutiny ; the light, as well as the ambition and wickedness of the past, are brought to the investigation. The consciousness of what is true and present in the life of the Church must also be earnestly contended for, and pressed into the glorious conflict. For by means of those keen collisions, and in the very midst of them, God will establish the kingdom of his Son, chiefly by the pure and powerful preaching of his holy word. How important, then, is it that every minister should be able rightly to divide the word of God, and give to each his portion in due season!

Your committee take great pleasure in saying, that they believe that these general views are prevalent, to a great extent, among our ministry and people, and that they are finding additional favor. The true and proper aspect of education is being clearly apprehended: that is, that it must be carried on in close and living union with religion; so that the elements, the evidences, and the history of Christianity, may form a part of the earliest food of the youthful mind. That the interests of education and religion, thus combined, enter into the regular work of the Church and of the ministry, the General Conference has heretofore judged and declared, by authorizing our bishops to appoint our preachers to our colleges and seminaries of learning, and to continue them in such appointments as long as the interests of the Church in this department of her work require. And God has been pleased to affix his seal to this division of our work, by the manifestations of his presence in all our principal institutions; not only once or twice, but in some of them several times, and in some several years in succession. Indeed, a careful inquiry would probably lead to the conclusion, that in proportion to the number of students in our schools, as many instances of conversion to God have occurred, as in the congregations on our circuits and stations. From among these converted youth, as well as from the bosom of our societies, have come forth, and will come forth, young evangelists, who, subjected to the thorough and well-digested course of study which our superintendents will give them in addition to their former studies, and pursuing this course in conjunction with practical exercise in the work of preaching the gospel and taking care of souls, will become workmen indeed, who shall have no need to be ashamed. And from these seminaries shall go forth, also, our daughters, to adorn society, to diffuse the essence and the odor of piety in the more private and sacred walks of life; and thus to become the sympathetic and effectual planters of the seeds of eternal life in the hearts of generations to come.

These general views your committee would earnestly commend to our ministry and the people, in their organized and individual capacity, and press them to extend a prompt and liberal support and patronage to the colleges and seminaries under their care. We would at the same time deprecate the hasty and inconsiderate multiplication of colleges; and most respectfully suggest that it would be much better fully to endow those we have before we attempt to found others. Yet your committee is of opinion that each conference should have at least one capacious and well-endowed academy for the youth within its bounds, both male and female. And if the habits of the people object to the education of these together, then there should be one seminary for males, and one for females.

Your committee beg leave to present, for the encouragement of the Church, an intimation of what has been accomplished in the department of education. We are aware that the exhibit is imperfect, yet it will be gratifying to see even what we can now state with certainty, by reciting the rank and list of the institutions under our care.

Resolved, That we respectfully but earnestly ask the attention of each Annual Conference to the propriety and necessity of presenting the claims of the literary institutions under its care at least once a year, at a stated time fixed by the Conference, to each congregation, and of taking up a public collection in each congregation for the current support of said institutions. All which is respectfully submitted,

B.—PROPERTY QUESTION.

The Committee on the State of the Church beg leave further to report in part :—

That they have had under consideration the claims preferred by the Church South to a portion of the property of the Book Concern and Chartered Fund ; and pending the discussion of the subject, the question of proposing to refer the whole matter to disinterested arbiters was proposed and considered. Whereupon the Committee agreed to recommend to the General Conference for adoption the following resolutions :—

Resolved, 1. That it is the sense of this Conference that we have no authority independently of the Annual Conferences to enter into arbitration with the commissioners of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, in relation to the claims set up by them to a division of the vested funds of the Methodist Episcopal Church.

Resolved, 2. That this General Conference recommend to the Annual Conferences so far to suspend the sixth restrictive rule of the Discipline, as to allow the appointment of commissioners, for the purpose of arbitrating what is technically called the Property Question with the commissioners of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South.

By order of the Committee. Respectfully submitted,

Geo. PECK, Chairman.

C.—ADDRESS OF THE BRITISH CONFERENCE.

To the Bishops of the Methodist Episcopal Church in the United States of North America, and to the Ministers in Conference assembled :

VERY DEAR BRETHREN,—At our last Annual Conference, held in Liverpool, it was resolved, That as it is desirable to maintain that fraternal and Christian affection which has long subsisted between your Church and British Methodists, a representative should be appointed from among us to attend your next General Conference.

The Rev. James Dixon, D. D., was affectionately requested to undertake this important mission, and the Rev. Joseph Stinson was desired to accompany him. We presume that Dr. Dixon, the bearer of this letter, is not altogether unknown to you. Among us he has lived for many years in the highest esteem and veneration. His Christian simplicity, the meekness of his spirit, his manly and effective eloquence in preaching the gospel, as well as the ability and fidelity with which he has maintained our ecclesiastical polity, have pointed him out as well fitted to undertake this mission. The British Conference has deputed him to visit you with the utmost confidence in his integrity and ability. His companion, the Rev. Joseph Stinson, also visits you in compliance with our earnest desire, and with our entire confidence and growing esteem.

A lengthened epistle is rendered unnecessary by the presence among you of our representatives. They will convey to you our fraternal salutations. We respectfully refer you to them for any such information respecting our affairs, as it may be agreeable to them to communicate.

Our earnest prayer is that the Holy Spirit may pour upon your approaching assembly his choicest influences, and conduct your deliberations to such results as shall promote the glory of Christ, and the maintenance and spread of Scriptural holiness through your extended country.

We are, dear brethren, in behalf of the British Conference,

SAMUEL JACKSON, President.

ROBERT NEWTON, Secretary.

REPLY TO ADDRESS OF BRITISH CONFERENCE.

To the British Conference of the Wesleyan Methodist Church :

FATHERS AND BRETHREN,—Nothing gives us more pleasure than to receive your fraternal salutations at a session of our General Conference ; and this pleasure is heightened when we receive them at the hands, and in the words, of one of your own body. It affords us much happiness to bear testimony to the excellent spirit and amiable deportment of your representative, the Rev. Dr. Dixon ; and we should have been pleased to receive with him the Rev. Joseph Stinson, whom you requested to accompany him. We avail ourselves of your kind and confiding reference to your representative, and consider his address to us as the voice of our British brethren. •

Through him you express the continuance of your cordial affection toward us, and your earnest desire for our increased prosperity. We receive this expression as in some degree a manifestation of paternal feeling on your part, which in our judgment has somewhat of a divine blessing connected with it. And, in return, we declare the unabated admiration and love which we bear your body, and our desire to prove ourselves worthy of our sacred spiritual relations with you. We have good hope that we shall be able to do so, as well from our own knowledge of the true Wesleyan character of our doctrines, services, and discipline, as from the frank and clear declaration of your representative, that the Methodist Episcopal Church appeared to him to exhibit essentially pure Wesleyan Methodism.

Your representative was pleased to allude to the unhappy separation of our beloved Church, growing out of the connection of one of our superintendents with slavery, prior to the General Conference of 1844; and expressed his deep regret that any such cause of separation should have arisen.

The true cause of the difficulty in our beloved Zion was our refusal to admit, under any circumstances, a connection of our episcopacy with slavery. True, your honored representative took occasion to say further, (declaring at the same time that he expressed the sentiments of the whole body of Methodists in England, both ministers and people,) that your sympathies were entirely on the side of liberty.

On our part we would say, that while all our sympathies lie in the same direction, and it is our purpose still, as heretofore, to bear steadily our testimony against the great evil of slavery; and within our legitimate sphere as a Church, to discountenance it, and seek its removal; we, nevertheless, have long been satisfied that our brethren in other countries, occupying a distant stand-point, and therefore not clearly comprehending the complicated conditions of this extremely difficult subject, have not been able to do full justice to our policy and conduct as a Church in regard to this matter—they may have thought that we should have acted with more directness and decision. Feeling ourselves within the complications of this great evil, whose effects are felt throughout the sacred, social, and political relations of this country, it becomes us to act prudently, and in the fear of God, and strive to consider well, and settle all things on the surest and best foundations for the promotion of his glory, and the peace and prosperity of the Church.

Your representative took occasion to express to us the high satisfaction he felt in visiting our country, and conversing with the most distinguished and intelligent of its citizens, both in the government and in private life. And we acknowledge a sense of unfeigned gratification on our part, while we listened to his frank and candid avowal of his astonishment at the mellowing influences of our institutions, in inspiring our great men with striking condescension and courtesy, and in elevating the lowly. And we were edified with the direct and fervent prayers which he offered up for our government and nation in his public administrations ; while, at the same time, he as frankly and fervently mingled therewith his prayers for your beloved queen, your government, and nation, which found a warm response from our hearts.

We will take this occasion to say, we have great pleasure in observing that you have distinctly assumed all the titles, forms, and functions of a true Church of Christ, which, indeed, we have regarded you always to have been. The present condition of Protestantism in Europe, and particularly in England, renders this position on your part very important to the interests of Christ's Church.

Your systematic and efficient organization, not only for a regular and abundant supply of the word of life to the people, but also for your foreign missionary work, commands our admiration, and moves us to action. We behold you planting the standard of the cross in islands of every ocean, and on the coasts and plains of every continent, provoking us thereby to enter more largely into the same great work.

It gives us pleasure to assure you, that in this respect we are steadily advancing. Though our movements are not so striking as yours, yet they are vast and important. Our own country stretches westward over the Rocky Mountains to the Pacific Ocean, a distance of thousands of miles, through which is dispersed a sparse population from all the nations of Europe, together with the numerous and populous tribes of the native Indians of its unbroken forests.

These elements of vast empires must be taught the principles, imbued with the spirit, and provided with the institutions, of our holy Christianity. This immense domain is our domestic field of missionary operations. And it is a cause of devout thankfulness to God that we see it yearly blossoming as the rose. As a specimen, we mention our German Missions. Hundreds of thousands of native Germans flock to our land, bringing with them the cold and heartless Rationalism, or ignorant and fanatical Roman Catholicism, of Germany. In their new and strange circumstances they become easily accessible to us, and, within ten years past, five thousand have been converted to God, of whom about two thousand were Roman Catholics. These have been formed into regular societies, which have been reduced to regular circuits, stations, and districts, and well appointed by German preachers, amounting in all to eighty-five. The work is still rapidly advancing, and we are taking measures to insure its increase and purity. Arrangements are being made to compile and publish an Evangelical Commentary on the New Testament, also Sunday-school books for our German Sunday schools, and to translate additional works from our General Catalogue into German. Already this great light, kindled among the natives of Germany now residing in this country, is beginning to illumine their fatherland, by means of letters, books, and visitors from the members of this new evangelical German Church. God is sending Germany to us to be evangelized ; and, indeed, in some degree, all the nations of Europe ; and we doubt not but the reaction of this great domestic missionary work among us will be great and salutary on the Old World. But we are not content within this domestic field—we are extending our missionary operations to Oregon, California, portions of Mexico, and to China. And aided by the bright example of your brilliant missionary resources and operations, we hope shortly to fill up the measure of the missionary work which God may be pleased to assign us.

And while we are thus endeavoring to extend the kingdom of God wider in the world, we are not unmindful of the population he hath given us at home. And believing that education is one great means of advancing and fortifying his kingdom among us, we have, within the last twenty years, given much attention to this matter. While we have not thought it best to have theological seminaries proper, and have judged that a proper course of study which our young men are required to accomplish in four years, while they are actively engaged in preaching the gospel, and taking care of souls, will make them able ministers of the New Testament, we have been careful to provide universities, colleges, and academies, for the education of our own people, as well as the public at large. And in this department of our work we may congratulate ourselves as having been successful. We have now seven colleges fully organized, and affording academic education to thousands of our younger sons, and also of our daughters, who are thus prepared to diffuse the essence and odor of piety in the more private and sacred walks of life.

We take pleasure in naming, as additional means of education, the vast capital and appliances of our General Book Concern, and the numerous excellent works which issue from it. In the General Catalogue there are two hundred and seventy-five distinct works, some of them extending to six heavy volumes. In the list are commentaries, dictionaries, Church histories, and many excellent ecclesiastical and theological works. We should be wanting in honor did we not acknowledge that many of them have been derived from your connection. Our Sunday-school publications also are very numerous; the Youth's Library already amounts to four hundred and eleven volumes, and our Tract publications to three hundred and sixty. It would be difficult to state the many thousands of these works that are annually distributed throughout our vast country.

Our periodical literature is also immense. The weekly issues from our various presses in newspaper form amount to not less than forty-five thousand copies. We have one monthly magazine, entitled "The Ladies' Repository," with about seven thousand subscribers. It is conducted with taste and ability, and the mechanical execution and embellishments are very creditable.

Our Quarterly Review is conducted with ability, and affords a medium of presenting to our ministers and principal friends the graver topics in theology, and in general science and literature. Our children in our thousands of Sunday schools are supplied, semi-monthly, with the Sunday-School Advocate, in quarto form. It now has 80,000 subscribers, and is rapidly advancing to 100,000. We have also a monthly Missionary Advocate, with a subscription list of at least 20,000, which distributes throughout our Church general missionary intelligence from various parts of the world. We trust that these vast issues of books and periodicals from our various presses and agencies are deeply imbued with the doctrines and spirit of genuine Christianity.

We did not think it necessary in the earlier part of this address to allude to the only little matter of uneasiness between us, that is, the liberty which some of our ministers (we say some, although we are advised of but one case) have taken to visit England, and make appointments for preaching and public services, without the regular approbation or concurrence of the proper authorities among you. It gives us pleasure to testify our disapprobation of this course, and to say it has never been done with our sanction; and that we will see that hereafter the proper restraint is put upon all our traveling ministers in this matter. As it respects local preachers, we have no direct authority in the premises; but we wish distinctly to declare our disapprobation of any conduct on their part, as preachers in your country, which has not your special sanction, and is not under your direction.

We have been gratified to observe that the cause of temperance, on the principle of total abstinence from intoxicating liquors, is attracting attention in England; and we respectfully ask your attention to it, and your kind consideration of it as intimately connected with the best interests of society in general, and greatly conducive to the success of the Gospel. Such is our experience in America, particularly when the Church enters heartily into the cause.

In conclusion, it gives us great pleasure to renew to you the expression of our fraternal affection; and to say, that it is now in our minds, at some suitable time hereafter, to reciprocate the favor you have done us by sending us your excellent representative to refresh our spirits by his holy ministry, and to edify us by your Christian fellowship which we enjoy through him.

Wishing you all prosperity and peace as a Church, through the abounding grace of God in our Lord Jesus Christ, we are, dear fathers and brethren, yours in the bonds of the gospel.

D.—ADDRESS OF THE CANADA CONFERENCE.

To the Bishops and Members of the General Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church.

REVEREND FATHERS AND BRETHREN,—With undiminished feelings of regard for our brethren of the Methodist Episcopal Church in general, and particularly for the bishops and ministers who labor in word and doctrine within its pale, we avail ourselves of the occasion of the assembling of the General Conference to renew the testimony of our esteem and affection.

We are aware that very important topics were discussed at your last General Conference; and since that period some of these subjects have engrossed the attention and excited the feelings of ministers and people throughout your extensive country. In the serious difficulties by which you have been surrounded, and the troubles in which you have been involved, we have felt the deepest concern, and cherished the liveliest sympathy. But "God is the hope of Israel, the Saviour thereof in time of trouble." That he may overrule all things for his own glory, and the ultimate benefit and salvation of your venerated and beloved Church, is our devout and earnest prayer.

Your success in the midst of these trials and conflicts awakens our gratitude and joy. We notice with unmixed pleasure your extensive operations in the diffusion of education, in the circulation of useful and religious books and tracts, in the establishment and support of Sunday schools, and in the preaching of the gospel as far as your population extends. We rejoice to learn that the great Head of the Church has poured out his Holy Spirit on various parts of your great field of labor, and that thousands by your instrumentality have been brought to the knowledge of Christ. May these tokens of the divine presence and favor be perpetuated among you to the latest generation!

The Wesleyan Church in Canada, as in the United States, has had its times of sorrow and seasons of joy. Since the year 1840 we have had to lament over serious difficulties existing between ourselves and the English Conference. Happily, upon a review of the whole, both parties were led to the conclusion that misapprehension had existed on several points, and that events which gave rise to differences in former years no longer existed. To the English Conference of 1846 we sent our esteemed brethren, the Rev. Messrs. Ryerson and Green, as our representatives, that, if practicable, peace and unity might be restored and promoted between the two legitimate Wesleyan bodies in Western Canada. Under the peculiar guidance of divine Providence their mission was signally successful. Our English brethren have promptly joined us in mutual agreement to bury in oblivion the record of the painful past: to reunite our separated bodies on terms generous and just: and to go forward as a united host in the defense and maintenance of the glorious gospel of the ever-blessed God. We are certain your earnest prayers will spontaneously blend with our own that this union may be perpetual.

We are still endeavoring to assist in promoting the great object of useful and religious education in this country. Our college has had its embarrassments; but we are gradually surmounting them. Our Book Room is in a state of efficiency. The mission work among us is increasing, and the funds are increasing with the work. Our other connectional funds are also on the advance, through the liberality of our people. Our united bodies make the statistics of the Connection in Western Canada as follows:—Circuits and missions 98, preachers 189, members 24,882.

Considering the hostilities we have had to combat in past years, we are truly thankful that our situation at present is so favorable, and shall enter upon the duties of another year high in hope, and full of expectation, that the blessing of the great Head of the Church will be upon us and our beloved people, prospering us more and more in our work of faith and labor of love.

We have appointed our esteemed brethren, the Rev. Messrs. M. Richey, A. M., J. Ryerson, and Anson Green, as our representatives to your General Conference, to whom we refer you for any additional information respecting us which you may desire.

Signed by order, and on behalf of the Conference of the Wesleyan Methodist Church in Canada, this 16th day of June, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and forty-seven.

R. ALDER, President.

REPLY TO THE CANADA ADDRESS.

DEAR BRETHREN,—We have received your very kind and agreeable address by the hands of your worthy and esteemed representatives, the Rev. Mr. Richey, D. D., Rev. J. Ryerson, and Rev. A. Green, conveying to us your warm Christian salutations. Your excellent representatives also took occasion to add thereto further expressions of your fraternal regards, and of your personal esteem and affection for us. We accept all these expressions as tokens of your sincere love toward us, and of your earnest desire to cultivate the same in future. Allow us, dear brethren, to reciprocate from our hearts the affection you bear us, and to render thanks to God for the manifestations of his goodness to you, especially in restoring peace and concord between you and our common parent connection in England. We rejoice that you have found in the British Connection, and we believe you will continue to find in it, counsel and support; and that, aided by its general and liberal fostering care, your own industry and enterprises will be abundantly fruitful.

In your address you allude to the interests of education among you, and of the prosperity of your Book Concern, which we regard as a spiritual handmaid of secular learning. It is a matter of real joy to us that you have a fair prospect of permanently endowing a college for the liberal education of your youth, and the youth of your province, under the salutary influence of your own Church. It is wise and good to take care of the people born to you in the bosom of your community; and also to expand and advance the kingdom of our Lord Jesus Christ in the midst of the world by means of a healthy, a sanctified education; an education sound in its elements, and made vital by the personal spirituality of the professors and teachers who dispense it.

Your address also, as did your representatives, alluded to the difficulties which, for the last four years, have distressed our Zion; and although it appeared to us that they did not fully comprehend them, yet they kindly and properly expressed a hope that these troubles would pass away. They encouraged us by setting forth your own case as one of long-continued and great difficulty, yet happily adjusted at last. We also abide in hope that these difficulties may pass away from us, and our Zion be as tranquil and prosperous as formerly. But we do not now see the end; and have some apprehensions, as it is believed that both the Methodist Episcopal Church, and the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, claim that essential principles of morals and policy are involved. But in the Lord will we put our trust.

It gives us great pleasure to have no occasion for a lengthy epistle to you, on account of any misunderstandings between us. We are of one heart and one mind, and rejoice mutually in each other's prosperity. Let us continue to be of the same mind, and to walk by the same rule. It is now in our minds to send to you one of our own body, at a suitable time, to express to you, face to face, the love we bear you, and our fellowship with you.

And now, dear brethren, we commend you to God, and to the word of his grace; and we renew to you the assurance of our fraternal affection in Jesus Christ, our common Lord and Saviour.

E.—REPORT ON SUNDAY SCHOOLS.

THE Committee on Sunday Schools and Tracts have had under consideration the several papers referred to them, and present the following as their report, in part :—

There is no benevolent enterprise among the many which mark the present period that has higher claims upon the attention, or that appeals more loudly to the sympathies of the human heart, than the sabbath school. If we contemplate it in its bearings upon the spiritual interests of its legitimate subjects, both their age and number invest it with peculiar importance. Other instrumentalities for doing good have to grapple with established habits, which present almost insuperable obstructions to success, and are necessarily restricted in the probabilities of efficiency by the comparative paucity of their objects; whereas Sunday schools lay their forming hand on the yielding mind of youth in great numbers, and in all the departments of society. Ere the enemy has had time to sow the tares of vice, the soil is prepared for and receives the good seed, which experience and observation have shown spring up and bring forth precious fruits, in some thirty, in some sixty, and in some a hundredfold, to the benefit of society and the glory of God. If hitherto the institution has been justly regarded as the nursery of the Church, furnishing her altars with devout worshippers, and her pulpits with warm-hearted and successful ministers, in future it must be more eminently so, especially in the Methodist Episcopal Church. If our zeal should be unabated, and our knowledge steadily progressive, their united influence will not enable us to fulfill our mission—to spread Scripture holiness through the world—unless we strike at the root in religiously educating the children. We may burn with zeal, and shine in all the attractions of learning in the pulpit and through the press, but if we leave our children to the care of others in the sabbath school, though Christians they may, Methodists they never will, become. As we believe in “Christianity in earnest,” and feel our great indebtedness, under God, to the Church of our choice, and would hand down to our children's children to the end of time the doctrines, the moral discipline, and the deep Scriptural holiness, of our beloved Methodism as the richest inheritance we have received, or can impart, we must, to the utmost of our ability, establish and build up sabbath schools.

We are happy to say, the “Memorial of the Sunday-School Union of the Methodist Episcopal Church," which was read before you, and referred to your committee, and the more extended "Report" of the Union, recently published by our Book Agents at New-York, furnish most encouraging evidence that the Church is more alive to this great interest than ever before, and that the prospect is increasingly cheering. Though within the last four years hundreds of our traveling ministry, and thousands of our membership, have separated from us, carrying with them a large number of Sunday school children, our increase of schools and scholars has been nearly fifty per cent., while the receipts for their support have increased in little more than two years and a half nearly tenfold over all the previous receipts from the organization of the Union to that date. And, best of all, in a single year more than four thousand conversions have been reported among the teachers and scholars!

In closing this part of the work assigned us, we would present a few resolutions for the adoption of Conference, in relation to visiting the schools, forming Bible classes, and enforcing catechetical instruction, if such obligations were not already most solemnly laid upon every Methodist preacher by the disciplinary regulations to which he has voluntarily subscribed. We forbear, therefore, to add more than a solitary reflection: the present growing prosperity in the sabbath-school cause in the Methodist Episcopal Church, to a great degree, is traceable, no doubt, not to the precedent exercise of an agency the wisdom of which cannot be too highly eulogized, while we deem it prudent not to name the agent, lest we thereby set a precedent which, in coming years, might be a heavy tax on an honest committee, or render the misfortunes of inefficiency an intolerable burden.

Praying that the cause may always meet the favor its importance merits, until it has contributed its full share in the evangelization of the world, we respectfully submit the result of our labors in proposing the following amendments to the Constitution of the Sunday-School Union of the Methodist Episcopal Church, recommended by the Board of Managers, and to the Discipline of the Church.

I. In regard to the CONSTITUTION.

1. That Art. III. be amended by erasing the last sentence, and inserting "each Annual Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church shall be entitled to elect a vice-president."

2. That Art. V. be amended by erasing the term "twenty-four," in the sixth line, and inserting "thirty-six;" and also by erasing the words "and county" from the seventh line.

3. That Art. VI. be amended by erasing from the first and second lines the words, "on the second Wednesday in April," and inserting "in the second week in January."

II. In regard to the DISCIPLINE.

1. On page 25, in chap. i, sec. 3, question 17, let the question be: "What has been contributed for the support of missions, what for the Sunday-School Union, what for the publication and circulation of tracts, and what to aid the American Bible Society?"

2. On page 45, in chap. i, sec. 10, answer 16, line 3 from the top, under the head of "Duties of those who have charge of Circuits," after the word "same" insert the words, "to his Annual Conference, according to the form published by the Sunday-School Union of the Methodist Episcopal Church;" and strike out all after the word "tracts."

3. On page 62, chap. i, sec. 16, eighteenth line from the top, let it read, "Each Quarterly Conference shall have supervision of all the Sunday schools and Sunday-school societies within its bounds, which schools and societies shall be auxiliary," &c.

4. On page 31, chap. i, sec. 5, after the word "circuit," in the third line from the top of the page, read: "and male superintendents of Sunday schools, who are in full membership in the Methodist Episcopal Church; provided that where there are two or more, the principal superintendent only shall be a member of the Quarterly Conference." [Laid on the table.]

5. On page 63, chap. i, sec. 16, answer 2, fourth line from the top, that all after the word "Conference" be erased; and on page 45, chap. i, sec. 1, after answer 16, read: "Ans. 17. To take an annual collection in each of his appointments in behalf of our Sunday-School Union." This will, of course, require that answers 17 and 18, as they now stand, be numbered 18 and 19.

In behalf of the Committee,

F.—REPORT ON TRACTS.

THE Committee on Sunday Schools and Tracts have had the latter subject under consideration, and beg leave to present the following as their report:—

The Rev. John Wesley might be regarded as the parent of that admirable plan of disseminating knowledge and doing good by the circulation of small printed documents called tracts, the utility of which is now so generally admitted, had not One, whose sandals even Wesley was not worthy to bear, adopted the expedient more than eighteen centuries since. The Holy Volume, now and always a unit in truth, is not so in the dates of its parts, nor in the character of its compositions. It is a volume of tracts, brought out at different and distinct periods, in different countries, and in divers forms; and in the manner of coming into the possession of mankind, exhibiting not less wisdom than in the character of its revelations. We cannot say, that when nearly every instrumentality adapted to promote the salvation of the world was sleeping in profound inefficiency, the fact alluded to awoke in the breast of our distinguished founder the idea that tracts would be as efficient in doing good in the eighteenth century as in the first: but it is certain that in this way, or in some other, the philanthropy of that great reformer was directed to tract circulation as a great auxiliary to the work of preaching the gospel. Others have seen the wisdom of the plan, and are operating upon it with unexampled success. The American Tract Society, which has held its twenty-third anniversary since the commencement of our session, reports its receipts for the last year at $237,296 94, more than a hundred thousand of which were donations, the remainder the proceeds of sales. In one year it has circulated 6,987,202 publications, making 211,730,285 pages, which, added to the circulation of former years, makes the whole amount of pages in twenty-three years, two thousand and thirty-five millions, nine hundred and one thousand, three hundred and twenty-six pages! In this organization several denominations, as such, and many individuals of others, unite, while besides these there are several ecclesiastical denominational societies. That a vast amount of good is done by the American association, and also by such as are more isolated, there can be no reasonable doubt. It is a question worthy of our consideration, Ought we to merge our energies in the former, or follow the example of the latter? For many reasons there should be but one response to this question. God has given us a work to do; and while we wish well to, and pray for the success of others, let us do our own work in our own way.

The Discipline makes it the duty of those who have charge of circuits to encourage the distribution of tracts, by forming societies and making collections for this object, in such way as the Annual Conferences to which they belong direct. But, though four of the bishops, in March, 1845, caused to be published a circular, calling attention to the rule, and to the importance of the work it enjoins, it is to be feared that there is much less done by the Methodist Episcopal Church in this department of Christian enterprise than should be expected. As already remarked, it is a method of doing good commended to us by the example of our own Wesley, and by its obvious facilities for the achievement of great results by limited means. And surely no Church has better opportunities to wield this instrumentality with efficiency than ours, our itinerant system giving us a kind of omnipresence, of which other denominations, whatever other advantages they may have, cannot boast. It is the opinion of your Committee, therefore, that there should be incorporated in the Discipline something more in detail than we find, and which shall be obligatory upon preachers in charge, though the Annual Conferences should wholly neglect to act in the premises.

Invoking the blessing of God on his Church in every lawful effort to promote the great ends of her organization, and especially in sowing broadcast the precious seed by means of tract distribution, we submit for your action our report, recommending the adoption of the following resolution:—

Resolved by the delegates of the several Annual Conferences in General Conference assembled, That the Discipline be amended, by inserting after the 15th answer to the 1st question of section 10, chapter i, the following as the 16th answer:—

“If the Annual Conference to which he belongs should not give any directions on the subject, to take up a collection in the course of the year, or raise a subscription, as he may judge expedient, the proceeds of which shall be at his disposal in the purchase and distribution of tracts." Respectfully submitted,

C. COOKE, Chairman.

G.—REPORT ON TEMPERANCE.

THE Committee on Temperance submit for the action of the General Conference the following as their last report:—

It affords us great pleasure to announce, that within the last twenty years the doctrines of the temperance reformation have been disseminated throughout the civilized world; and in many countries they have exerted a most powerful and salutary influence over all classes of the people. Temperance, we believe, is one of the practical features of our common Christianity, and should combine the energies and zeal of all pious people in its support and promotion. By its instrumentalities unnumbered thousands have been rescued from the most hideous forms of vice—from degradation, poverty, and wretchedness; and their comfortable and smiling families attest the importance of their reformation. This cause has not only arrested and rolled back the desolating tide of intemperance, but it has spread innumerable blessings in its pathway: being often followed by revivals of experimental religion, it secures the interests of its subjects, under God, both in this life and in that which is to come.

The great truth, that alcoholic drinks are never necessary for persons in health, but always injurious, has been freely discussed in all circles of society; and vast multitudes of moderate drinkers have been brought under its influence, and now advocate and practice total abstinence from all intoxicating liquors. In all this we do rejoice.

We proclaim with peculiar satisfaction that we now have Mr. Wesley's rule on spirituous liquors restored to our General Rules. This was done by a vote of two thousand and eleven to twenty-one in the Annual Conferences. This overwhelming majority may be considered as full proof that the making, vending, or using, intoxicating liquors as a beverage, are judged to be unchristian practices by American Methodists, and ought not to be tolerated in the Church of God.

Your Committee recommend to the General Conference the adoption of the following resolutions:—

1. Resolved, &c., That while we recognize the good hand of our God in giving success to the temperance enterprise in former years, we deem it our special duty, at the present time, to send up our most fervent prayers, and to put forth our utmost Christian endeavors, to secure the complete triumph of this great cause; and that we most earnestly recommend to all the Annual Conferences to adopt such measures as they shall deem best calculated to advance this very desirable object.

2. Resolved, That we cordially approve of the design of the New-York Temperance Society, based on Christian principles, and should rejoice to see similar associations organized throughout the country.

H.—FINAL REPORT—ON THE STATE OF THE CHURCH.

THE Committee on the State of the Church, after a full and careful examination of all the sources of information within their reach, including, as they believe, all that are essential to a just understanding of the subjects hereinafter named, do recommend to this body the adoption of the following as their final report:—

1. We claim that the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, exists as a distinct and separate ecclesiastical communion, solely by the act and deed of the individual ministers and members constituting said Church.

In support of this position we set forth the following facts. On the fifth day of June, one thousand eight hundred and forty-four, John Early, W. A. Smith, Thomas Crowder, and Leroy M. Lee, of the Virginia Conference; H. B. Bascom, William Gunn, H. H. Kavanaugh, Edward Stevenson, B. T. Crouch, and G. W. Brush, of the Kentucky Conference; W. W. Redman, William Patton, J. C. Berryman, and J. M. Jameson, of the Missouri Conference; E. F. Sevier, S. Patton, and Thomas Stringfield, of the Holston Conference; G. F. Pierce, William J. Parks, L. Pierce, J. W. Glenn, J. L. Evans, and A. B. Longstreet, of the Georgia Conference; James Jamieson, Peter Doub, and B. T. Blake, of the North Carolina Conference; J. Stamper, of the Illinois Conference; G. W. D. Harris, Wm. M'Mahan, Thomas Joyner, and S. S. Moody, of the Memphis Conference; John C. Parker, William P. Radcliffe, and Andrew Hunter, of the Arkansas Conference; William Winans, B. M. Drake, John Lane, and G. M. Rogers, of the Mississippi Conference; Littleton Fowler, of the Texas Conference; Jesse Boring, Jefferson Hamilton, W. Murrah, and G. Garrett, of the Alabama Conference; Robert Paine, John B. M'Ferrin, A. L. P. Green, and T. Maddin, of the Tennessee Conference; and W. Capers, Wm. M. Wightman, Charles Betts, S. Dunwoody, and H. A. C. Walker, of the South Carolina Conference, did present to the General Conference, then in session in the city of New-York, the following declaration, to wit: "That the continued agitation of the subject of slavery and abolition in a portion of the Church—the frequent action on that subject in the General Conference, and especially the extra-judicial proceedings against Bishop Andrew, which resulted, on Saturday last, in the virtual suspension of him from his office as superintendent, must produce a state of things in the South which renders a continuance of the jurisdiction of that General Conference over these Conferences, inconsistent with the success of the ministry in the slaveholding states," from which it is evident that they sought their remedies for alleged grievances, not in any constitutional acts, but in a violation of the integrity of the Methodist Episcopal Church.

And further, on the sixth day of June, in the year above written, the above-named gentlemen, and N. C. Berryman, of the Illinois Conference; I. T. Cooper, W. Cooper, T. J. Thompson, and Henry White, of the Philadelphia Conference; E. W. Schon, of the Ohio Conference, and T. Neal and T. Sovereign, of the New-Jersey Conference, in addition, presented a protest to the above-named General Conference against its action in the case of Bishop Andrew, in which they assert, "If the compromise law be either repealed, or allowed to remain a dead letter, the South cannot submit, and the absolute necessity of a division is already dated." Now, while we wholly deny the existence of any "compromise law," in the sense here claimed, the indication in this extract, and indeed in the whole document, of a purpose upon the part of these protesting brethren to secure a division of the Church is too plain to be mistaken.

And further, at the close of the General Conference, on the eleventh day of June and year above mentioned, fifty-one of the above-named brethren assembled in the city of New-York, and by formal resolution recommended to the Southern Conferences the appointment of delegates to a Convention, to commence in Louisville, Kentucky, on the first day of May, one thousand eight hundred and forty-five, said delegates to be instructed "on the points on which action is contemplated, conforming their instructions, as far as possible, to the opinions and wishes of the membership within their several conference bounds." And the said brethren issued from this unauthorized meeting an address in which they call the attention of Southern Methodists "to the proscription and disability under which the Southern portion of the Church must, of necessity, labor in view of the action alluded to, unless some measures are adopted to free the minority of the South from the oppressive jurisdiction of the majority in the North in this respect;" and they declare "that they regard a separation at no distant day as inevitable." There is, therefore, no room to doubt that the appointed Louisville Convention was one of those leading "measures" adopted by these fifty-one brethren for the express purpose of freeing the minority of the South from what they are pleased to term "the oppressive jurisdiction of the majority in the North," and that the contemplated separation, if it actually occurred, must be the legitimate result of these premature preliminary arrangements.

And further, the several annual conferences now included in the Church South did, at their meetings, successively, of their own will and accord, vote to approve the holding of the Louisville Convention, for the purposes proposed by the members of the aforesaid meeting at New-York, appointed delegates to said convention, and, in various forms of expression, directly assumed, as far as they were able, the responsibility of the dismemberment of the Church evidently contemplated in the appointment of said Louisville Convention.

In the mean time Bishop Soule wrote to Bishop Andrew, requesting him to resume episcopal functions, and, in the character and office of a Bishop, to attend the sessions of Annual Conferences, which he did, though said act was clearly in contravention of the expressed will of the General Conference, "that he desist from the exercise of the" episcopal "office so long as the impediment" of slaveholding "remained." By which acts both Bishop Soule and Bishop Andrew openly repudiated the authority of the General Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church.

And further, in the convention assembled at Louisville, May, one thousand eight hundred and forty-five, delegates from the following conferences, namely, Kentucky, Missouri, Holston, Tennessee, North Carolina, Memphis, Arkansas, Virginia, Mississippi, Texas, Alabama, Georgia, South Carolina, Florida, and Indian Mission, Bishops Soule and Andrew presiding, did formally resolve "That it is right, expedient, and necessary, to erect the Annual Conferences represented in this convention into a distinct ecclesiastical connection, separate from the jurisdiction of the General Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, as at present constituted," and they did "solemnly declare the jurisdiction hitherto exercised over said Annual Conferences by the General Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church entirely dissolved; and that said Annual Conferences shall be, and they hereby are, constituted a separate ecclesiastical connection." Accordingly a delegated General Conference from the Annual Conferences above named, held at Petersburg, Virginia, May, one thousand eight hundred and forty-six, did assume the powers and privileges of authorized representatives of a separate ecclesiastical connection, under the style and denomination of "the Methodist Episcopal Church, South," to which Church many of the former ministers and members of the Methodist Episcopal Church, some evidently from choice, and others from the force of circumstances which they felt themselves unable to resist, did, formally or informally, attach themselves, thereby withdrawing themselves from the Methodist Episcopal Church.

Finally, while a clearly marked line of history, extending from the first-named declaration to the final action of the General Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, shows the independent action of the ministers and members of said Church in its organization, we affirm it to be impossible to point to any act of the General Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church erecting or authorizing said Church, nor has the said General Conference, or any individual, or any number of individuals, any right, constitutional or otherwise, to extend official sanction to any act tending directly or indirectly to the dismemberment of the Church.

2. In view of the formal declaration of the brethren herein first named, that certain acts of the General Conference, especially the act in the case of Bishop Andrew, "must produce a state of things in the South which renders a continuance of the jurisdiction of that General Conference over these conferences inconsistent with the success of the ministry in the slaveholding states"—fearing that ministers and members of the Methodist Episcopal Church would, according to the opinion expressed in the declaration above quoted, deem it necessary to erect themselves into a separate and independent Church, in the intervals of General Conference sessions, when no remedies for so great an evil could be provided in time, and desiring, as far as practicable, in accordance with suggestions made by brethren from the South, to adopt measures calculated to pacify our members and ministers in the South; the General Conference, at its session in New-York, A. D. one thousand eight hundred and forty-four, did propose a Plan for the adjustment of relations between the Methodist Episcopal Church and her separating members and ministers, when such separation should, by their own act and deed, if at all, occur. Said Plan, based entirely upon the above first-named declaration of the delegates from thirteen specified and above-written Conferences in the slaveholding states, having relation to those Conferences, and to no others, proposed an amicable division of territory between them and the Methodist Episcopal Church as follows:—"The northern boundary" of the prospective new Church to be fixed at the northern extremities of those "societies, stations, and Conferences," a majority of whose members should, of their own free will and accord, vote to adhere to the said Southern Church; and ministers, traveling and local, to be allowed to remain in the Methodist Episcopal Church, or attach themselves to the "Methodist Episcopal Church, South," at discretion. And said Plan further proposed to make over and give to the prospective "Southern Church so much of the capital and produce of the Methodist Book Concern as will, with the notes, book accounts, presses," &c., in the South, due and belonging to the Book Concern of the Methodist Episcopal Church, (the transfer of which is provided for in the fourth article of said Plan,) "bear the same proportion to the whole property of said Concern that the traveling preachers in the Southern Church shall bear to all the traveling preachers of the Methodist Episcopal Church." And said Plan further proposed, that "the Book Agents at New-York be directed to make such compensation to the Conferences South for their dividend from the Chartered Fund as the commissioners to be provided for shall agree upon."

But the whole of this Plan was expressly or otherwise conditional, as follows, namely:—

(1.) That the asserted "state of things in the South which renders a continuance of the jurisdiction of that General Conference over these Conferences inconsistent with the success of the ministry in the slaveholding states" should be "produced" by the action of the General Conference in the cases referred to.

(2.) That three-fourths of the members of all the Annual Conferences should, "at their first approaching sessions," concur in the vote of, at least, two-thirds of the General Conference so to alter "the sixth restrictive article" of the Discipline, as to add to it the following words, to wit: "and to such other purposes as may be determined upon by the votes of two-thirds of the members of the General Conference;" it being certain that should such vote be refused by the Annual Conferences, the financial part of the Plan could not go into effect, which financial part was deemed by both parties essential to the Plan; and it being probable that those who were opposed to the Plan as a whole, would vote against the change in the sixth restrictive article.

(3.) It was clearly and necessarily implied, that the friendship and fidelity of the parties should be evinced by voluntarily keeping inviolate the principles and ordinances of the Plan, pending the settlement of the important conditions upon which its validity and binding force depended.

In support of the above statement of facts, we refer expressly to the aforementioned declaration of the fifty-two southern brethren, and to the report of the Committee of Nine, presented to the General Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church on the seventh day of June, 1844.

And further, it will be observed that the declaring brethren of the South did not claim that a state of things already existed, that required any separation of the South from the jurisdiction of the Methodist Episcopal Church; or that required the positive enactment of any unconditional plan of such separation. They only asserted that (in their opinion, of course) certain acts of the General Conference "must produce" this state of things. And hence they did not proceed upon the supposition that they were the official judges of the facts, which might require the separation of the southern ministers and members of the Methodist Episcopal Church from her jurisdiction. It is true that the report of the Committee of Nine, as it was first presented, made these delegates from the thirteen Conferences South the judges of that necessity; but it was so changed as to leave the question to the Annual Conferences from which they came, thus showing that the General Conference would by no means allow this question of necessity to be decided by these men. From all of which it appears, that the Plan proposed rested, not upon the present or future existence of any state of excitement in the South, which might be produced by causes entirely apart from the General Conference; but upon the production of such a state of things as was predicted by the acts of the General Conference alone. Certainly if, upon returning to their charges, our southern brethren had found that no such "state of things" as they had supposed existed, and hence no separation had occurred, they would not assert the validity of the proposed Plan; and if it would have been of no binding force, in the absence of the predicted necessity, produced solely by the action of the General Conference, it follows inevitably that such necessity so produced was an indispensable condition of the Plan. And, though this necessity had actually been so produced, and the southern ministers and members had actually separated on this ground alone, in this case one of the conditions of the Plan would have been met, we nevertheless affirm that in failure of this condition, the Plan became invalid, though every other condition of it had been literally fulfilled.

And further, in proof that the proposed alteration of the sixth restrictive article of the Discipline was a fundamental condition of this Plan as a whole, we refer to the third resolution of the Report of the Committee of Nine, in which it is expressly asserted. Also to the published speech of Rev. Dr. (now Bishop) Paine, from which the following language was reported :—"This separation would not be effected by the passage of those resolutions through the General Conference. They must pass the Annual Conferences, beginning at New-York, and when they came round to the South, the preachers there would think, and deliberate, and feel the pulse of public sentiment, and of the members of the Church, and act in the fear of God, and with a single desire for his glory." Every word of which, in its connection, would be entirely incompatible with the idea that he referred merely to an extension of the power of the General Conference in relation to the appropriation of funds ; but it is perfectly consistent with the doctrine here asserted, that a vote on the change of that restrictive article was understood to be a vote on the merits of the Plan as a whole. So, we believe, many of the members of the Annual Conferences regarded it, and hence so many of them voted against it as to defeat the measure. Indeed, so essential to the Plan did our southern brethren consider this change of the sixth restrictive article, that they never have, in any way, signified their willingness to accept of the Plan without it. With this agrees perfectly the Address of the above-named fifty-one brethren, from their meeting in New-York, held the 11th day of June, 1844, in which they hold the following language :—"It affords us pleasure to state that there were those found among the majority who met this proposition (the Plan, not "of formal and specific separations," but to provide for the results of separation, should it occur under the necessity above explained) with every manifestation of justice and liberality. And should a similar spirit be exhibited by the Annual Conferences in the North, when submitted to them, as provided for in the Plan itself, there will remain no legal impediment to its peaceful consummation."

But "if a similar spirit should" not "be exhibited by the Annual Conferences in the North, when submitted to them, as provided for in the Plan itself ;" then, of course, by the showing of these fifty-one southern brethren, "there will remain a legal impediment to its peaceful consummation" as a Plan. It is true that the question of a ratification of the Plan was not directly, and in so many words, submitted to the Annual Conferences ; but it is evident, that in the honest opinion of these southern brethren, it was in effect so submitted. Nor could it by possibility have been otherwise, from the language of the Plan, which submits an amendment of the Discipline absolutely essential to the Plan as a whole, the preachers being obliged to vote upon said amendment in view of its bearing upon the whole Plan ; and the failure of said amendment rendering the Plan as a whole entirely unsatisfactory to the South : therefore, in the event of a failure of three-fourths of the members of all the Annual Conferences—the Southern Conferences included—"at their first approaching sessions," to vote for the change proposed in the sixth restrictive article, said Plan would be as a whole, and hence of necessity in its details, rendered null and void.

And further, we claim that the position, that a sacred, though voluntary observance of the requirements of the proposed Plan by the Methodist Episcopal Church, and the brethren South who should separate from her, was a fundamental condition of the Plan, is a clear and undeniable inference from the whole design and scope of said Plan. It was, as its friends openly claimed, a peace measure. It was designed to prevent aggressions from either party, and thus to prevent unchristian feelings and angry collisions between those who claimed to be brethren. If, therefore, this great object, lying at the very foundation of the scheme, and in the light of which alone any part of it has the least significance, were disregarded or trampled under foot by either party, the other, as a whole, and every individual of them, would be entirely absolved from all obligations to it whatsoever. If, therefore, this shall be found to have been done, then, though all other conditions of the Plan were certainly fulfilled, it will be to all intents and purposes null and void.

Finally, it has fully appeared, that to meet, in what was then supposed to be the best manner possible, the disastrous results of a violent dismemberment of the Methodist Episcopal Church, should it occur; and provide for an amicable adjustment of all relations between the two parties, this provisional Plan was adopted by the General Conference at its session in the year 1844—that to provide for, or sanction, a division of said Church was therefore no part of the intentions of said General Conference. And that it rested upon three distinct and fundamental conditions, the failure of either of which must be fatal to its validity and binding force. And though, in the light of four years' history, we are fully convinced that the act implied a degree of faith in men not justified by the facts, and under all the circumstances of the case it was not adapted to secure its intended results, we cannot for a moment question the Christian liberality in which it had its origin.

3. It is evident to us, that the acts of the General Conference complained of, did not produce a state of things in the South which rendered a continuance of the jurisdiction of said Conference "inconsistent with the success of the ministry in the slaveholding states." Three-fourths of the members of all the Annual Conferences did not concur in the vote to alter the sixth restrictive rule, and thus sanction the Plan, for the accommodation of which said alteration was asked. And the conditions and requirements of said Plan have been violated, and hence said Plan is [and, from the first failure of the conditions of said Plan, or either of them, has been] null and void.

In support of which we offer the following facts:—

After the adoption of the proposition for a peace measure, and providing for its final ratification and use, in case the predicted separation should occur, it would, as we humbly conceive, have been in perfect conformity to said peaceful arrangement for the Southern delegates to have used their utmost endeavors, as some of them assured us they would do, to quiet the public mind in the South; and entering instantly upon their regular work, to have met every act of resentment, and every appearance of insubordination to the authorities of the Church, with a calm, dignified, and determined resistance—to have defended the General Conference so far as they could conscientiously do so, and themselves to the utmost; for doing which their motions, speeches, votes, declaration, and protest, furnished ample materials. To have adopted this course would, we believe, have been doing no more than to meet the just expectations excited by their peaceful protestations upon the Conference floor, and elsewhere, both before and after the vote upon the proposed pacific plan, and their avowed attachment to the Church of their choice, in its uninterrupted integrity. But if active peace measures had been either incompatible with their private opinions or self-respect, or inconvenient under their peculiar circumstances, they, as we verily believe, might have avoided all acts preparatory to the excitement of the public mind, and leading directly or indirectly to the division of the Church; by doing which they would have given to the world an example of moderation under circumstances confessedly difficult and trying, worthy of all commendation, and afforded an opportunity for a free, spontaneous, and in due time decisive verdict, of Southern Methodists, upon the question whether the action of the General Conference had, and "must necessarily" have, "produced a state of things in the South, which rendered a continuance of the jurisdiction of that General Conference over these Conferences inconsistent with the success of the ministry in the slaveholding states." This, we claim and assert, the Methodist Episcopal Church had a right to exact of them, in order to a just estimate of the circumstances under which the conscientious and legitimate action of her highest judicatory had placed her in relation to her Southern ministers and membership. But, instead of this, these fifty-one brethren, by character and position highest in rank and influence among Southern Methodists, did, at a meeting called and had before leaving the seat of the General Conference, only ten days after the principal action, and five days after the final action, in the case of Bishop Andrew, virtually appoint a convention to be held in Louisville, Kentucky, to commence on the first of May, one thousand eight hundred and forty-five, to take into consideration the question of a division of the Church; and thus superinduce the very excitement which they should have deprecated, and attempted by every laudable means in their power to allay. Indeed it is evident, as it should have been foreseen, that the appointment of that convention alone was, under the circumstances, decisive of the very question which should have been left to the decision of time under the action of all the conservative elements available in the case.

Moreover, from the said meeting in New-York, which, if it occurred at all, should have given utterance only to counsels peaceful in their nature and tendency, and strictly loyal to the Methodist Episcopal Church, an Address was issued "To the Ministers and Members of the Methodist Episcopal Church, in the Slaveholding States and Territories," in which these fifty-one brethren say, that the "various action of the majority of the General Conference, at its recent session, on the subject of slavery and abolition, has been such as to render it necessary, in the judgment of those addressing you, to call attention to the proscription and disability under which the southern portion of the Church must of necessity labor in view of the action alluded to, unless some measures are adopted to free the minority of the South from the oppressive jurisdiction of the majority in the North in this respect. The proceedings of the majority, in several cases involving the question of slavery, have been such as indicate most conclusively that the legislative, judicial, and administrative action, of the General Conference, as now organized, will always be extremely hurtful, if not finally ruinous, to the interests of the Southern portion of the Church, and must necessarily produce a state of conviction and feeling in the slaveholding states entirely inconsistent with either the peace or prosperity of the Church. The opinions and purposes of the Church in the North on the subject of slavery are in direct conflict with those of the South; and unless the South will submit to the dictation and interference of the North, greatly beyond what the existing law of the Church on slavery and abolition authorizes, there is no hope of anything like union or harmony."

Further similar quotations might be made from this address, but we deem it unnecessary. We submit it to a candid world, whether language less respectful to the Church of which they were members, or more inflammatory to Southern minds in the midst of slavery, could well be used. Surely there is no room for surprise, that the most excited meetings soon occurred in all parts of the South, and the most indignant resolutions were passed, leading to a degree of public agitation, alarming to the peace of the Church and the nation.

But one more quotation shall be made, to show that these fifty-one brethren did not hesitate, formally, to take the initiative in the work of deciding the question which they had raised, and thus actually, as they had already done virtually, give the full weight of their influence to counteract the pacific measures which they had asked at our hands, and for which they had just voted: "As the undersigned have had opportunity and advantages, which those at a distance could not possess, to form a correct judgment in the premises, and it may be expected of them that they express their views fully on the subject, they do not hesitate to say, that they regard a separation at no distant day as inevitable." After this declaration, of what avail was it to "beseech their brethren of the ministry and membership in the slaveholding states to examine this matter carefully, and try to reach the conclusion most proper under the circumstances?" or "disposed, however, to defer to the judgment of the Church, we leave this subject with you?" The result was what must have been expected. The voice of remonstrance, though sincere and beseeching, against the revolutionary measures urged on by such powerful talents and influence, was too feeble to be heard till the confusion was over, and it was too late. The act of separation was consummated, as we have already seen, and many thousands hurried out of the Methodist Episcopal Church into the new organization, with scarcely an opportunity to know what it was for.

We thus see clearly that the way for separation was prepared, not by a state of things in the South "produced" by the action of the General Conference, but by revolutionary measures adopted by the Southern delegates at the very seat, and nearly at the time, of our General Conference session. The success of the ministry could not have been hindered by our action; for not only was there no instance of the kind alledged, but there was a want of time to produce any such result, before these fifty-one brethren, by taking the lead of the Southern mind, anticipated their decision. In view of the whole of which we claim and affirm, that the Southern organization was consummated in direct contravention of the Plan proposed to meet the results of separation, thus reducing it to a nullity, by the violation of its first great and fundamental condition. And we moreover claim and affirm, that the very acts of calling the convention and issuing the said address, by which Southern opinion was forestalled, was an abandonment of the Plan proposed by the General Conference, and, hence, that for the reason above alledged the Plan has been of no real force since the date of said call and address, to wit, the 11th day of June, 1844.

And further, it appears from official returns made from all the Annual Conferences voting thereon, including those now embraced in the Church; South, obtained since this session commenced, that the required three-fourth majority of the members of the said Annual Conferences has not been given, and hence, that for this reason, as shown above, the Plan is null and void.

And further, from information officially given by the bishops of the Methodist Episcopal Church, in answer to a call upon them by the General Conference for a statement of facts in the premises, that in numerous instances the Plan proposed in the event of a separation has been openly violated by the Southern Church, and hence that the peace upon the border and elsewhere, which it was designed to promote, has not been secured. The bishops of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, have claimed a movable line, thus transferring, from one place to another, the scenes of strife and confusion as fast as society majorities could be obtained, which we regard and affirm to be in direct contravention of the most obvious principles of the said provisional Plan. And it is in evidence before us, that in numerous instances the sense of members on the proposed border has been taken by Southern preachers, privately, and in various other illegal and inconvenient ways, and hence that societies have been reported and claimed for the South, which, by suitable tests, would have given large majorities in favor of adhering to the Methodist Episcopal Church. And in numerous instances influence has been applied, and often varied, and obstinately persevered in, to secure a decision in favor of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, and contrary to the wishes of many of our people. And also, in some instances, houses of worship, built at the expense, in whole or in part, by members adhering to the Methodist Episcopal Church, have been taken from them without their consent, and without compensation, and they have been discommoded by vexatious lawsuits, costs, and in various other ways, by preachers and members attached to the Church, South, all of which we claim and affirm is in direct violation of the most sacred objects and conditions of the said proposed Plan, showing that it has long since, in this way also, been rendered a nullity by our brethren of the South, and this, notwithstanding the bishops of the Methodist Episcopal Church, waiving all conclusions which this General Conference were entitled to draw from the numerous ascertained infractions of the proposed Plan, resolved, "as far as their administration was concerned," to adhere to it strictly, which, for the sake of the magnanimous Christian example it exhibits, and in view of the right of the General Conference alone to assert the facts of the infraction and consequent destruction of the Plan, we are happy to find they have scrupulously done.

Finally, having thus found, upon clear and incontestable evidence, that the three fundamental conditions of said proposed Plan have severally failed, and the failure of either of them separately being sufficient to render it null and void, and having found the practical workings of said Plan incompatible with certain great constitutional principles elsewhere asserted, we have found and declared the whole and every part of said provisional Plan to be null and void.

4. In view of the above-named principles and facts, [as well as the constitutional rights already referred to,] we regard those who have, by their own act and deed, become members of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, as having withdrawn from the Methodist Episcopal Church. And whereas those who are members of the Methodist Episcopal Church in good and regular standing, cannot be deprived of such membership without due form of trial, all those members who have not attached themselves to the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, are and have been members of the Methodist Episcopal Church, and as such they are entitled to its care and privileges, as provided for in another report of this committee. Respectfully submitted,

GEORGE PECK, Chairman.

I.—INFRACTIONS OF THE PLAN.

THE attention of the committee has been directed, by sundry memorials submitted to their consideration by the General Conference, to numerous infractions of the provisions of the so-called Plan of Separation, upon the part of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South; and upon this subject present to the conference the following statement and facts:—

I. The Methodist Episcopal Church, South, has officially and authoritatively taught the infraction of the Plan by her Convention, her General Conference, her Bishops, her Annual Conferences, her Editors, and leading Ministers.

1. The Louisville Convention taught the violation of the Plan.

In the report on organization, passed Saturday, the 17th of May, 1845, the new Church is declared to be formed out of the Conferences represented in the Convention, (see History of the M. E. Church, South, p. 186.) But while the convention, in their formal acts of organization, on Saturday, the 17th of May, make this declaration, we find them on the Monday following passing these resolutions, (see Western Advocate, vol. xiii, page 42, col. 7:)—

"Resolved, That should any portion of an Annual Conference, on the line of separation, not represented in this convention, adhere to the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, according to the Plan of Separation tion adopted at the late General Conference, and elect delegates to the General Conference of the Church in 1846, upon the basis of representation adopted by the convention, they shall be accredited as members of the General Conference.

"Resolved, That, in the judgment of this convention, those societies and stations on the border, within the limits of Conferences represented in this convention, be constructively understood as adhering to the South, unless they see proper to take action on the subject; and in all such cases, we consider the pastor of the station or society the proper person to preside in the meeting."

Thus, although the convention, in their formal organization, confine themselves to the original limits; yet two days after, when the way was prepared for further inroads, they enlarge the provisions of the Plan, and extend it into the boundaries of the Philadelphia, Baltimore, and other Conferences. And in all societies within the border where no votes would be taken, these societies must be constructively understood as adhering to the south. Hence their preachers have generally prevented any voting wherever they could by any means hinder it; although the Plan of the General Conference required the societies to vote. The conclusion is, that the convention taught the infraction of the Plan in two very important respects.

First. They exceed the provisions of the Plan by extending it into the territory of the Baltimore, Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, and other Conferences. Thus they teach to cross the line.

Secondly. And in all societies where no vote would be taken, they claim them constructively as belonging to their Church.

2. The bishops of the M. E. Church, South, have taught the infraction of the Plan.

Bishop Soule, in his letter, dated Lebanon, Ohio, August 4th, 1845, and published in the Western Christian Advocate of August 22d, 1845, or vol. xii, p. 75, col. 2, teaches the breach of the Plan. It is addressed "to the preachers and border societies of the Kentucky and Missouri Conferences, and of other Conferences bordering upon them." The bishop here calls on the societies on the southern verge of the Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, and Iowa Conferences, to vote whether they will, or will not, remain in the M. E. Church. Bishop Soule, however, makes these regulations in reference to his own administration. But this same course was sanctioned by Bishop Andrew immediately, and afterward by their General Conference, and by all their bishops. And indeed Bishop Soule, in his letter to the Rev. Wesley G. Montgomery, dated Nashville, April 30th, 1847, and published in the Western Christian Advocate of May 21st, 1847, hints broadly enough that minorities had best be accommodated. He says: "Minorities on either side of the line of division are entitled to a kind and respectful consideration, and should be treated accordingly. And I should think it far better for such minorities, being on the borders, to receive preachers from the Church to which they desire to adhere, provided they believe themselves able to support them, than for majorities to be interdicted the exercise of a right plainly secured to them by the provisions of the law, or rule, in the case." Now with this instruction about minorities, as well as the maintenance that the line is a sliding one, and no limits of time are given in which its sliding operation ceases, southern preachers will find little difficulty in passing over any limits which may be in the way.

But Bishop Capers' letter to Rev. Mr. Moorman, and published in the Christian Advocate and Journal of April 21st, 1847, claims all the territory in the slaveholding states, and this too according to the Plan, or, as he calls it, the "Deed of Separation." Now as Bishop Capers claims all slaveholding territory, and Bishop Soule as much of the territories of the free states as the accommodation of minorities and the sliding line will transfer, it would be difficult indeed to fix any line at all.

It were useless to insist, in a matter so clear, that the bishops of the M. E. Church, South, have taught officially the violation of the Plan.

3. The General Conference of the M. E. Church, South, has taught the infraction of the Plan.

For proof of this we need go no further than the famous report on the episcopacy, in which the Conference sanctions the breaches of the Plan as taught by the convention, and as was taught and practiced by Bishops Soule and Andrew, from the session of the convention in May, 1845, to the session of the Conference in May, 1846. This document will be found in the Western Christian Advocate of June 26th, 1846, and in the Richmond Advocate of May 21st, 1846. The report fully clears Bishops Soule and Andrew of any blame for occupying Cincinnati, the Kenhawa district, &c., and gives such full latitude of interpretation, that the limitations of the Plan became a perfect nullity. Our limits will not allow us to quote the report, but it can be perused in the papers, as cited above, as well as in all the southern papers.

4. The Annual Conferences, editors, and leading members of the new Church, maintain the infraction of the Plan in perfect accordance with the acts of their convention, their General Conference, and their bishops.

It were useless to make quotations on this point. Their press teems with approving acts of Annual Conferences, and the labored essays and constant admissions of editors and correspondents, upholding fully their conventional, episcopal, and General Conference decisions and acts. And from all this there is no dissent in any quarter.

II. The bishops of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, in their official administration, have actually broken the Plan.

As undoubted and official testimony on this point, we need only quote the report on this subject, by our excellent and devoted bishops, which, at the request of the General Conference, they furnished the committee. This official document is as follows:—

To the Committee on the State of the Church.

In compliance with a request of the General Conference, made on the 6th instant, the superintendents present to you such information as they possess in regard to alledged infractions of the "Plan of Separation," on the part of the constituted authorities of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, by which the Methodist Episcopal Church has been injuriously deprived of portions of its territory and members. They must be understood as giving the most authentic statements which have come to their ears, without vouching their own personal knowledge for the correctness of every item thus presented. They are, nevertheless, impressed with a conviction of the truth of the statements generally, as hereinafter made.

They commence first with Baltimore Conference. Within its bounds there is a portion of the state of Virginia, situated between the Potomac and Rappahannock Rivers, commonly called the "Northern Neck," embracing the counties of King George, Westmoreland, Richmond, Northumberland, and Lancaster. These counties contained the following circuits, (having a membership of eight hundred to a thousand,) namely, King George, Westmoreland, and Lancaster, each having preachers annually appointed to it from the Baltimore Conference. At different times each of those circuits determined to attach themselves to the Methodist Episcopal Church, not as border societies, but as circuits. To all of them preachers have been sent from the Virginia Conference, who are there at present, to the exclusion of the ministers of the Methodist Episcopal Church. From the Conference of 1847 preachers were sent to this portion of the Baltimore Conference, who found on their arrival the circuits under the pastoral care of ministers of the Virginia Conference. The ministers sent from the Baltimore Conference, not being able to have access to the preaching places or societies, were withdrawn after suitable time, and sent to places where they were needed, except one, who was left in the charge of the whole field of labor. At present this place appears on the Minutes, "to be supplied." No minister of the Methodist Episcopal Church is now in this ancient portion of the Baltimore Conference.

Warrenton circuit has been occupied between one and two years with preachers from the Virginia Conference; but as the circuit did not go to the Church, South, in whole, a portion thereof continuing in the Methodist Episcopal Church, a preacher from the Baltimore Conference has been continued there. Some of the societies which voted to go to the Church, South, were strictly border societies, but others also went which were as strictly interior societies. One of the churches, (Wesley Chapel,) where a majority adhered to the Methodist Episcopal Church, was forcibly entered, and new locks were attached to its doors; and the Church, South, has it in possession at the present time, unless the civil court has recently decided a suit, which was instituted for the property, in favor of the M. E. Church.

Harrisonburg, in Rockingham county, Virginia, unquestionably an interior society, having by a majority of votes determined to connect themselves with the M. E. Church, South, a preacher from the Virginia Conference has been appointed to labor there. A minority adhering to the M. E. Church are under the pastoral care of one of its ministers. The church was in a course of litigation a few months since, and probably the case has not been decided by the court. An attempt was made to get possession of the parsonage in Harrisonburg for the Church, South, but with what success there is no information.

Leesburg, a station belonging to the Baltimore Conference, clearly an interior society, has been visited by a preacher from the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, much agitation produced in the society and in the community, and a suit at law commenced for the church edifice. Whether the effort is still persisted in to occupy this place is not certainly known. That which makes this case even a glaring one is the fact, that the majority of the society voted to adhere to the M. E. Church. There are other instances of the violation of the Plan of Separation, in the opinion of some equally apparent with the instances given in this paper, of which more certain information may be obtained from Rev. Messrs. William Hamilton, N. J.; B. Morgan, S. A. Roazel, John Bear, and J. A. Collins, members of this General Conference.

Kanawha District, in the north-west part of Virginia, is a part of Ohio Conference. In 1845 that work was supplied from the Ohio Conference, as usual. The preachers were received, with one exception, as far as we know, namely, Parkersburg station. A part of the members there refused to receive any preacher from Ohio Conference. They rejected the preacher sent to them, not for any objection to him personally, but because he came from Ohio; and by threats of violence, and preparation to execute those threats on a given day, compelled him to leave the place, and took possession of the chapel. He, however, returned after some weeks, and in connection with the preacher of the adjoining circuit, to which they were transferred, served the remaining members of the scattered flock in another house. These outcast members have since erected a chapel for themselves, in which they worship undisturbed; while the old chapel is supplied from Kentucky Conference, of the M. E. Church, South. Parkersburg is not a border station. It is the county-seat of Wood county, situated at the junction of Little Kanawha and Ohio Rivers, and is about seventy-five miles from the nearest point of the Kentucky state line; so that the Kentucky preachers had to travel that distance through our work to reach it, though they now occupy other places through our work between that and Kentucky. No preachers were appointed from the Kentucky Conference of 1845 to the Kanawha district; but some were sent there, as we learn, during that Conference year, by a presiding elder, that made breaches in some of our circuits. In 1846 the Kanawha district was all supplied from the Ohio Conference, as usual, though the societies in some places were divided by Southern influence. A few weeks afterward a second supply was sent from Kentucky Conference, as we learned from the newspapers. Since that time there have been two presiding elders, and two sets of preachers there: one from Ohio Conference, and the other from Kentucky Conference. Indeed it is alledged that, at the last session of the Kentucky Conference, they divided the district; so that the old Kanawha district is now occupied by three presiding elders—one from Ohio, and two from Kentucky.

These are the most material facts which have been reported to us, bearing on the point of inquiry submitted to us, so far as Kanawha district is concerned.

"Soule Chapel," Cincinnati.—In 1834 Cincinnati, which had previously been one charge, was divided into two, "Wesley Chapel" and "Fourth-street." Each had definite bounds, within which the stationed minister had exclusive pastoral functions. Private members were advised to observe these limits in fixing and holding their membership, but were not considered bound to do so, and did not in all cases practice it. But class meetings, &c., were held in strict regard to this provision.

New preaching places have been opened in these charges, under the direction and countenance of the presiding elder and preachers in charge, have matured societies, and have been finally formed into stations by the presiding bishops and received preachers.

In 1844 the first city missionary was appointed, and was supported by a City Missionary Society whose object was to carry the gospel to the destitute. The first year, with the approbation of those having authority to direct him, he formed three societies, namely, the Bethel, Ebenezer, and Maley Chapel, and succeeded in erecting two small chapels for "Ebenezer" and "Maley" in the north-west part of the city and suburbs. By permission, he exercised pastoral authority in some or all of these societies.

In 1845 the same brother, Rev. G. W. Maley, was reappointed to the same mission. At the same time two of the aforesaid societies, "Bethel" and "Ebenezer," were made stations, and Rev. J. W. White and Rev. Joseph Bruner were appointed to serve them. These two stations were marked out by metes and bounds, as had been invariably done when new stations were formed in Cincinnati. This was done in council with the presiding elder of Cincinnati district, two or three days after Conference closed, it having been forgotten in the pressure of Conference business. Letters were written by the presiding bishop to brothers White and Bruner, defining by streets, &c., the bounds of the new charges; and the city missionary had Maley Chapel, and the region around it, set apart from all the stations as his special field of labor, within which, and nowhere else, he was to exercise pastoral functions. As the superintendent, however, was in haste, he did not write to the missionary, but requested the presiding elder, brother Morley, to give him the information.

Three objects were sought in this arrangement:—

First. As the City Mission had lost two principal appointments, it seemed proper to encourage the missionary by assigning him the pastoral charge of this precinct territory, which was fast filling up, and which must, of course, receive most of his labors.

Second. Ebenezer station bordered on Maley Chapel, and the population and territory were enough to be under the pastoral care of one man, after Maley Chapel and its territory were taken off.

Third. It seemed to the presiding bishop proper that each city preacher should have exclusive pastoral authority within his own charge; and, though no rupture was then dreamed of, it was thought the exercise of pastoral functions by the missionary within the different charges would derange and disorder the work.

Within three or four weeks after these arrangements were made, the city missionary obtained leave from the City Missionary Board to preach in "Vine-street Church," an old deserted building within the bounds of Morris Chapel charge, from one-half to three-fourths of a mile from "Maley Chapel" charge, and in the heart of the city. If we understand correctly, both the presiding elder and the Board deny that the missionary received any authority to form a society there, or do any other act which belonged to the pastoral oversight. He received no such authority from the bishop.

A number of brethren, however, obtained certificates, and presented them to the city missionary, not in his own charge, but at "Vine-street," and in the very heart of the city he proceeded to take possession of his brother's territory, and form a society. Having increased it to a company of several scores, it voted to go South, was created "a charge" by the authority of Bishop Andrew, and Revs. E. W. Sehon, G. W. Maley, (the missionary,) and S. A. Latta, were appointed to serve it as ministers of the M. E. Church, South. Bishop Andrew named it "VINE-STREET CHARGE, a border society," &c. In a short time this society purchased a church, in the heart of "Weasley Chapel charge," so that between it and the border, or the Ohio River, interposes one whole charge, the Bethel, which makes Soule Chapel as truly an interior station as though it were in Columbus or Cleveland.

"Andrew Chapel, Cincinnati."—"Andrew Chapel" was purchased a few months since by the "Soule Chapel" society, and stands within the bounds of Ninth-street charge, having, like "Soule chapel," one whole charge—"Morris Chapel"—between it and the border or river. It is understood to have regular preaching, but whether placed on the Minutes of the M. E. Church, South, as a distinct charge we know not, but understand that pastoral authority is exercised there in the formation of classes, receiving members, and exercising discipline.

Statement of encroachment on the territory of the Philadelphia Conference by the M. E. Church, South.—Accomac and Northampton counties, Va., are separated from the Virginia Conference by a broad bay, (the Chesapeake,) in every place from fifteen to thirty miles wide. The first place that voted to unite with the Church South was Capeville in Northampton, about seven miles north of Cape Charles. The next place at which the vote was taken was Salem, eight miles north of Capeville, which, by a strong majority, had previously determined to stay with us. The next place was Johnson's Chapel, about ten miles north of Salem, which, by a small majority, preferred the Church South. The next place reported to have chosen the Church South was Bethel, in Occahannock Neck. Here no vote was taken, but some friends of the Church South went around to the houses of the members, and reported that they had obtained a majority for the new organization. These were all that had declared for the South before Mr. Moorman was sent over. Some time after his arrival, Franktown, five or six miles north of Johnson's, gave a majority of one vote, for the South, by getting together members who had not attended class for years. Pungotraque, in Accomac county, about ten miles further north, after giving a majority to remain in the old Church several times, at length chose the new Church by a small majority. And, finally, Craddockville, a few miles south-east of Pungotraque, in a neck, gave a majority for the Church South. There is no appointment between any of the above and the Chesapeake Bay.

Although the Plan could have no reference to the Philadelphia, Baltimore, or Ohio Conference, nevertheless allowing that these conferences could be the theatre of the operations of the Plan on their southern verge, the framers of the Plan, in reference to majorities of societies or stations, as well as to internal societies, have been overlooked by the Southern bishops. At first, by the concession of all, the Plan was confined to the thirteen Conferences in the slaveholding states. Next, it was extended by the South to the other Conferences; and even in these the border regulations were disregarded, and Southern encroachment stopped at nothing. While our bishops, individually, in laudable submission to the episcopal board, have, on their part, most scrupulously observed the regulations of the Plan, the bishops of the new Church have trampled under foot the provisions of the Plan, while at the same time they have professed to be governed by it; and although the authorities of the M. E. Church did their utmost to preserve the line unbroken, it was unavailing. The authorities of the M. E. Church, South, by precept and example, have broken over the barriers, and the line, by their doing, has no longer any being. They themselves have destroyed the Plan, and have placed it now beyond the reach of the M. E. Church to restore the boundaries. Nor is there now any hope that measures could be taken to restore the line or continue it, did it exist. The General Conference of the M. E. Church, South, by the following resolution, in their report on the administration of their bishops, have decided this point. They say,

"Resolved, That after a full and patient examination of the particulars of the administration of the Southern bishops, in relation to the Plan of Separation, the General Conference of the M. E. Church, South, consider the charges so repeatedly made by the editors and correspondents of the Western Christian Advocate, and the Christian Advocate and Journal, against Bishops Soule and Andrew, as entirely groundless, and that, on the contrary, the administration aforesaid has been strictly conformed to the rule set forth by authority of the General Conference of the M. E. Church in its legislation on this subject in 1844."

Thus, the administration of the Southern bishops has been sustained by their General Conference. They have, therefore, in advance of the M. E. Church, overthrown the Plan, and have left none of it remaining for us to overthrow, and now, in pronouncing it null and void, the South have compelled to this action.

Respectfully submitted,

GEORGE PECK, Chairman.

K.—PASTORAL ADDRESS

Of the General Conference to the Members of the Methodist Episcopal Church.

DEARLY BELOVED BRETHREN,—Under a solemn sense of our responsibility, as the representatives in General Conference of your pastors and ministers in Christ Jesus, we cannot permit this occasion to pass away without tendering to you our Christian salutations, with such advice and counsel as present circumstances seem to require.

Since the last General Conference we have had numerous and varied proofs of the divine goodness and mercy toward us, as a branch of Christ's visible Church, which demand our most fervent and devout gratitude. Among these, we would desire especially to mention the preservation of a sound evangelical theology, as contained in the Holy Scriptures, and taught by Mr. Wesley and the fathers of Methodism; the continuance of a godly ministry, who are constantly laboring to save sinners, and raise up a holy people; the manifest tokens of divine approbation which still attend their labors; and the consequent awakening, conversion, and sanctification of souls. We rejoice also to see the improvement which has been made in our Church in her various departments and operations. In the cause of missions, Sunday schools, temperance, religious literature, and sound Christian education, though we are far from thinking that we have fully met our increasing obligations; yet we feel that we have great reason to be thankful to Him who worketh all good in man, and to whom must be given the praise of every good thing. Nor can we omit to mention, among the causes of gratitude on the present occasion, what we regard as a signal mark of the divine goodness, that at a period when we, and many with us, had so much reason to apprehend a painful, if not a disastrous session of our General Conference, we have been graciously kept in the utmost harmony and fraternal concord. No session of this body, probably, has been attended with more evident marks of a Christian affection among the members. The uniformly courteous and Christian bearing of the brethren toward each other, even in their warmest and most interesting discussions, has been truly delightful. In all this we cannot but see and acknowledge the hand of God; nor can we fail to acknowledge, beloved friends and brethren in Christ, that we are greatly indebted to your prayers and intercessions, which, we believe, have, day and night, gone up in our behalf to the throne of God.

But while we have so many evidences of the divine goodness toward us, we must not conceal from ourselves that we rest under a fearful weight of responsibility; and it behooves us to take good heed to our ways lest, after all, we betray our trust. As God, in his grace and providence, is enlarging our means and facilities for cultivating his vineyard, we must take care that we faithfully improve the talents intrusted to us. And here permit us, in virtue of our office as your ministers, in Christ's name, to address you in the words of faithful admonition.

We sincerely hope that in the increasing facility enjoyed by your ministers of the present day for intellectual improvement and literary cultivation, that while you may duly appreciate whatever advantages you enjoy in this respect, you will still bear in mind that it is by the "preaching of the cross" alone that God will convert the world. However highly, therefore, you may enjoy a cultivated ministry, never be satisfied with any preaching that does not direct the soul to Christ. Upon this subject, however, we will not, and we trust we need not, enlarge. We believe that you feel as deeply as ourselves that the health of the Church and salvation of the world depend, under God, on a ministry, the subject and end of whose preaching is "Christ crucified"—"Christ the wisdom of God and the power of God," "the only name given under heaven among men whereby we can be saved."

We would call your attention also to the necessity of maintaining in purity and vigor that form of Christianity which God has committed to our keeping. While we look with Christian affection on all our sister evangelical Churches, and bid them God speed in our common work of saving men, we must not forget that there is a peculiar adaptation in the economy of Methodism to the great purposes of the gospel, and that our ecclesiastical institutions have been especially owned of God, and signalized by a remarkable success. And, while we are willing to allow that, in certain subsidiary prudential arrangements, we may very properly consult changes in the social state and habits, and adapt our modes of operation to special occasions and emergencies, we must still remain steadfast in whatever is essentially characteristic of primitive Methodism. Especially we would insist on the necessity of a faithful and diligent attendance upon all the public and social means of grace. A decent regard for religious consistency, and even conformity to reputable usage in society, and other motives not strictly Christian, may lead persons to attend the ministry of the word. But we trust you will show the sincerity of your profession and the earnest nature of your piety, not only by diligence in attending public service, but also by a close attendance upon those means of grace which are peculiar to ourselves. We grieve to hear that in many parts of our work there is a great, and, we fear, an increasing, neglect of those most important means of improvement in religious experience and character—class meetings. We pray you, beloved brethren and friends, do not help, by any neglect of yours, to prostrate, or cause to be undervalued, what has been found of such inestimable service in our Zion, and which has, more than any prudential institution among us, served to keep alive in our body the life and power of godliness.

But we find it impracticable to dwell at length upon particulars. Let us, then, exhort you generally to care and faithfulness in observing the General Rules of our societies. It behooves us to be watchful, lest, as Providence increases our secular and social advantages, we lose somewhat of the purity and simplicity of the Christian character. With an increase of wealth, taste, and refinement, therefore, will naturally arise increased temptations to worldly pursuits and compliances, and practices that are not after Christ, and "do not tend to the knowledge and love of God," or to holy living. It is to be feared that in some places the spirituality of our Church is suffering from inattention to these considerations, and a want of sufficient care. This is no time for indifference. We must preserve the ancient landmarks. As our General Rules are such as commend themselves to every truly awakened conscience, we hope that they may everywhere be strictly and conscientiously observed.

Among the means of maintaining the purity and permanence of the Church of Christ, nothing is more essential than a strict observance of the Lord's day. We trust you will ever remember the sabbath-day to keep it holy. God and his Church demand this of you, and the interests of mankind depend on it. We hope you will not only abstain from your ordinary secular employments on that day, and from all labors except those of necessity or mercy, strictly so called, but also from social calls and visits, and from everything that would prevent the entire consecration of this day by yourselves and others to the immediate service of God. We recommend, also, that you render whatever assistance you can, prudently and judiciously, to promote the observance of the sabbath in the community.

Closely connected with the observance of the sabbath is the religious instruction of children. We do not mean that this work is to be confined to the sabbath. Far from it. Yet the sabbath affords so favorable an opportunity for the performance of this duty, and the duty is so appropriate to the day, that we cannot but look upon both as closely connected. Certainly parents cannot "sanctify the sabbath" more effectually than by employing the intervals between public service in reading the Bible, or interesting religious books, to their children, teaching them our forms of Catechism, or in some way taking pains to imprint upon their infant or youthful minds the great and beautiful things of God's word. This work must be attended to. We are called to it by every holy obligation, and by the most profound and far-reaching considerations. Let us be in earnest upon it. We fear that many children, of even professedly religious parents, grow up fearfully, shamefully ignorant of the Bible, and of the great doctrines of Christianity. These things ought not so to be. Nor can the sabbath school make up for the lack of parental duty in this matter. We rejoice in the success of the sabbath-school cause, and trust you will spare no pains to make this method of religious instruction as efficient as possible. Still, this cannot do the work of the parent, though it may afford him most important aid. Remember the words of God to his ancient Church, "Therefore shall ye lay up these my words in your heart, and in your soul, and bind them for a sign upon your hand, that they may be as frontlets between your eyes. And ye shall teach them your children, speaking of them when thou sittest in thine house, and when thou walkest by the way, when thou liest down, and when thou risest up. And thou shalt write them upon the door-posts of thine house, and upon thy gates, that your days may be multiplied, and the days of your children, in the land which the Lord sware unto your fathers to give them, as the days of heaven upon the earth." Deut. xi, 18-21.

We think it proper to call your attention to a change in one of the General Rules of our united societies. We allude to the one on intoxicating liquors. By the concurrent votes of the General and Annual Conferences, Mr. Wesley's rule on this subject, which prohibits buying and selling, as well as using, spirituous liquors as a beverage, has been restored. To the restoration of this rule we felt driven, as well by the propriety of the thing as by the force of public sentiment. Consistency of conduct, and a regard to our moral and religious responsibilities, would permit no longer delay. Methodism was at the first far in advance of the general opinion in regard to the use of ardent spirits, and it would be a shameful act of dereliction now to fall in the rear. It has become the belief of almost all enlightened and pious persons that the manufacture and sale of intoxicating liquors, as well as their use, for a beverage, are inconsistent with an elevated standard of morals, as well as with sound views of Christian obligation. It is, therefore, our decided opinion that no countenance or support should be given, nor ecclesiastical justification extended, to a practice so utterly inimical to the safety and well-being of society, and so ruinous to individual character and happiness, both in this world and the next, as that which is herein condemned. But while we recommend a strict observance of this rule, and ask your faithful and strenuous co-operation to render it practically efficient, still, as its restoration is recent, and must have somewhat the nature of a retrospective or ex post facto law, we also recommend a reasonable forbearance with delinquents, and also kindness and gentleness in the mode of its enforcement. These remarks have a special reference to those who were engaged in the liquor business prior to the restoration of the rule. It will be well to allow them a reasonable time to withdraw their capital, and invest it in some other occupation. What may be considered a reasonable time will depend on circumstances, which we must leave to your consideration. Be mild and gentle, yet decided, with offenders. It is better to save a soul, if practicable, than to cut him off without hope of remedy; and, on the other hand, we must not let the whole Church suffer for the secular interest, or the perverseness, of a few incorrigible delinquents.

It will naturally be expected that we should take some notice in this Address of the peculiar difficulties of our Church, which have excited so much attention since the General Conference of 1844, and which have constituted one of the most delicate topics of discussion before us. In the disposition of this subject, we can assure you that we have exercised all the wisdom and discretion that Heaven had conferred upon us. That we have succeeded in satisfying all, is more than we can reasonably expect; yet we hope that the measures adopted will, in the main, prove acceptable to the great body of our people.

You are, no doubt, aware that we have received numerous petitions and memorials from individuals and societies residing in the southern states, praying that we would take some measures whereby they might remain in the Church of their early choice. The petitioners thought the cause of separation not sufficient, and believed it to be their duty to continue in connection with the Methodist Episcopal Church. For the reasons, moreover, which are assigned in the Report of the Committee on the State of the Church, which we have not time here to enumerate, we felt perfectly at liberty to declare the Plan of Separation, as it was called, null and void. We felt not only at liberty to do this, under existing circumstances, but we also believed that we could not otherwise fulfill the obligations of the Church to those who still claim her fostering care.

But while we felt in duty bound to provide for our adhering members in the southern states, we still felt disposed to do all we could constitutionally to adjust, in some amicable way, the difficulty in regard to the invested funds of the Church. You will easily perceive that this was a question of peculiar delicacy. On the one hand, as the permission required in order to divide the funds had been refused by the Annual Conferences, and we had, therefore, no constitutional power to meet the claims of the Church South, neither, on the other hand, were we disposed to reject them if they are founded in justice and equity. Moreover, we felt neither disposed nor competent to decide this question for ourselves, and on our sole responsibility. We have, therefore, made arrangements for submitting the whole question to an arbitration, for amicable adjustment, which will ultimately, we trust, give satisfaction to all concerned.

If the measures we have taken in this whole subject do not seem to you the most judicious, we trust you will duly consider the extreme delicacy and difficulty of our position. We were of different opinions on some points, and yet we have been enabled to exercise a great degree of forbearance and kindness toward each other, so that our differences of opinion have led to no alienation of feeling. We trust it will be so with you. Be calm and prayerful. If you do not at once see the propriety of our course, be patient. Wait until you shall have had time maturely to weigh the matter, and, above all, take no rash step that may cause agitation or tumult in the Church, or in the community. We trust the God of love and peace will be with you, and that he will out of apparent evil bring forth good, and make everything ultimately redound to his own praise and glory.

Finally, beloved brethren, "whom we greatly long after in the bowels of Jesus Christ," let us exhort you to "be steadfast, unmovable, always abounding in the work of the Lord; forasmuch as ye know that your labor is not in vain in the Lord." Live in the exercise of a genial charity toward one another, and toward all mankind; live in the exercise of a lively faith in the Son of God; cultivate holiness of heart, purity of life, and all the graces of the Christian profession. And in your approaches to a throne of grace, do not neglect to pray for immediate and continued blessings from the Holy Spirit upon the gospel labors of your servants and brethren in our common Lord and Saviour. In behalf of the General Conference,

ELIJAH HEDDING,
B. WAUGH,

N. Bangs proposed the following:—

Resolved, by the delegates of the several annual conferences, in General Conference assembled, That the action of the Troy Annual Conference, by which Ezra Sprague was expelled, be, and the same is, hereby affirmed.

Seconded by L. Clark.

P. S. Hill moved that the resolution be so amended as to read, "that the action by which E. Sprague was expelled, be not affirmed."

The proposed amendment was, on motion of P. P. Sandford, laid on the table.

J. Parks moved, as a substitute for N. Bangs's resolution, the following:—

That the case of E. Sprague be referred back to the Troy Conference for a new trial on the same charges.

The substitute, on motion of L. Hitchcock, was laid on the table.

C. K. True proposed to submit a substitute, that called for an expression from the chair as to what was the usual method of action in appealed cases.

The chair stated, that in the Annual Conferences the bishops decided questions of law; in the General Conference they did not. That was the reason there had been no response to the several appeals that had been made to the chair. He had stated, in the early part of the proceedings, what had been the usage of former General Conferences, viz., to refer the case back for a new trial, reverse or affirm the decision of the Annual Conference. The proposition now made proposed to introduce a new principle and mode of proceeding. If the Conference choose to adopt it, the chair does not question its authority to do so.

P. P. Sandford moved, that we adhere to our usual course in such cases, as stated by the chair. Not sustained.

The resolution of N. Bangs, affirming the action of the Troy Conference, was passed—yeas 110, nays 37.

Appeal of J. M. Pease.

The Conference resolved to take up the appeal of John M. Pease, of the New-York East Conference.

After some remarks upon this case, A. M. Osbon moved to refer the case to the Committee on Itinerancy, with instruction to make a special report thereon. Carried.

The order of the day was suspended to present the following:—

Also, that it be committed to a select committee of five, with instructions to report a bill in form.

REPORT.

"The Committee on the Book Concern, to whom were referred the memorials of P. R. Stover, W. M. Meminger, and Mrs. Ann Hensley, praying release from claims held by the Book Agents; the resolution of the North Ohio Conference in relation to the claim against H. O. Sheldon; and of the Erie Conference, in relation to the claim against D. Pritchard; and also the memorial of Samuel Williams, in relation to the publication of a cheap commentary upon the Bible—have had the same under consideration, and beg leave to submit the following report thereon:—

"The memorial of P. R. Stover states, that on the 18th day of January, 1851, he mailed at St. Albans, for the Book Agents at New-York, the sum of $20, for the purchase of books, which did not reach its destination; to which is appended the certificate of the postmaster at St. Albans, testifying to the mailing of the letter at the time specified. P. R. Stover.

"There is no doubt that by some means the money was lost on its passage; but as, by an established principle in the transaction of their business, the Agents do not hold themselves responsible for money mailed to them in payment for books, in view of the large discount made on them to travelling preachers, your Committee are of opinion that the prayer of the petitioner for relief ought not to be granted, and therefore recommend to the General Conference the adoption of the following resolution:—

"Resolved, That the request of P. R. Stover, contained in his memorial to this General Conference, to be released from the claim held against him by the Book Agents at New-York, be not granted."

This resolution was adopted.

"The memorial of W. M. Meminger represents, that he had received from Jehu Hank, a local preacher on Monroe Circuit, Baltimore Conference, the sum of $100, to be paid to the Book Agents at New-York, and on his way to Conference he passed through Washington city, and visited the senate chamber, where the money was picked from his pocket, which fact is certified to by J. W. Ewing and R. D. Chambers. The memorialist, under the impression that he is responsible to the Book Agents for this money, prays the General Conference to release him from that liability. W. M. Meminger.

"Your Committee are of opinion that the General Conference has no jurisdiction in the case, as presented in the

May 8. memorial, and recommend the adoption of the following resolution:—

Resolved, That the Book Committee be discharged from the further consideration of the memorial of W. M. Meminger."

This resolution was adopted.

Mrs. A. Hensley. "Mrs. Ann Hensley prays to be released from the payment of a certain note, held by the Agents at Cincinnati against her deceased husband, on the ground that the note was given for a debt contracted before their marriage, for which she received no benefit, and all their means had been exhausted in meeting their liabilities, especially those to the Book Concern.

"It appears that the Agents hold two notes against brother Hensley, and the petitioner asks to be released from the payment of the note of the oldest date—stating that she will try to pay the other.

"In view of the facts and circumstances in this case, the Committee recommend to the General Conference the adoption of the following resolutions:—

Resolved, 1st. That the Book Agents at Cincinnati have no claim against sister Hensley for the payment of the old note, referred to in her memorial, and that they be, and hereby are, directed to cancel the same.

Resolved, 2d. That if, on examination, the Agents find endorsements of credit on the old note for moneys paid since the death of brother Hensley, they be, and hereby are, instructed to enter said credits upon the other note of later date."

The above resolutions were adopted.

H. O. Sheldon.

"In regard to the claim against H. O. Sheldon, and the claim against Daniel Pritchard, your Committee recommend the adoption of the following resolution:—

Resolved, That the claim against H. O. Sheldon for $724 83, and the claim against Daniel Pritchard for $113, be referred to the Book Agents, to be settled at their discretion."

Brother Hill moved to amend, so as to release D. Pritchard from his debt to the Book Concern, which was laid on the table.

J. H. Power moved to amend, so that the claim of H. O. Sheldon be referred to the Book Agents, with power to compound the debt at their discretion. Laid on the table.

The resolution was then adopted.

Commentary on the Bible.

"The memorial of Samuel Williams prays the General Conference to cause to be published a brief but comprehensive Commentary upon the Bible, adapted to the use of the great body of the Methodist people, either as an abridgment of the standard Commentaries now in existence in the Methodist Episcopal Church, or as an original work.

"The subject embraced in the memorial merits the favourable consideration of the General Conference, and your Committee recommend the adoption of the following resolutions:—

May 2.

"Resolved, That, in the judgment of the General Conference, it is desirable that a cheap Commentary upon the Bible should be published by our Book Concern as soon as practicable."

The resolution was adopted.

"Resolved, That the memorial of Samuel Williams, of Cincinnati, in relation to this subject, contains many valuable suggestions, and is hereby referred to the Book Agents and Editors at New-York.

Memorial of Samuel Williams.

"JOHN A. COLLINS, Chairman."

This resolution was adopted.

The report, as a whole, was then adopted.

THE UNIVERSITY OF CHICAGO

APPENDIX.

A.—REPORT OF THE NEW-YORK BOOK AGENTS TO THE GENERAL CONFERENCE. 1852.

FATHERS AND BRETHREN,—In presenting their report for the last four years, your Agents would, first of all, express their devout and grateful acknowledgments to Almighty God for his watchful and preserving care exercised over both themselves and their assistants, and the Institution committed to their trust.

REAL ESTATE.

From the increase of business, and the consequent enlargement of stock, it became, in the judgment of the Agents, "indispensably necessary, to carry on advantageously" the business of the Concern, to erect an additional building. This building being needed mainly for manufacturing purposes, it was deemed important, for convenience of machinery and motive power, that it should be connected immediately with our former premises. Instead, therefore, of building on the lots already owned by the Concern on the opposite side of Mulberry-street, a lot, twenty-five by one hundred feet, fronting on Mott-street, and connecting with our former premises in the rear, was purchased at a cost of $4,000. On this lot a very substantial building, five stories high, with a basement, has been erected. It covers the entire lot, excepting a recess on the south side, eight by fifty feet, for light and air; and is connected at every story with the rear of the former bindery by means of strong bridges. This building is appropriated mainly to the business of the bindery, but is not yet fully occupied. The addition of this building to the Concern has enabled the agents to fit up a second depository for bound stock, which was much needed; and to make other changes, which add greatly to the convenience of the business.

Permission was given the Agents, by the last General Conference, "to dispose of the four houses in Crosby-street whenever an advantageous opportunity might offer, and, with the advice of the Book Committee, erect other houses on a part of the lots recently purchased on Mulberry-street." No advantageous opportunity having offered to dispose of the houses on Crosby-street, nothing has been done. The Agents, however, would advise that the same permission should be continued for the next four years. All the main reasons urged for this change, in the Report to the last General Conference, still hold, and with increased force, as the accommodations for "exhibitions and balls" in the rear of the premises, mentioned in that Report, have been greatly enlarged, and the annoyance consequently increased.

THE GENERAL BUSINESS OF THE CONCERN.

The Agents are happy to report the business of the Concern for the last four years to have been generally prosperous. The amount of sales for this period has been $653,190 78—which shows an increase on the sales of the preceding four years of $165,968 74, or a fraction over thirty-four per cent. The profits, too, for the same period, show an increase over those of the preceding four years of a little over thirty-two per cent., or $38,475 79; yet for the last six months there has been a falling off in the sales, so that the entire sales for the last year have been less than those of the year before by $12,567 45. This has been owing, it is presumed, partly, to the fact that the demand for the new Hymn-book had been generally met, but mainly to embarrassments in the monetary affairs of the country.

Flattering, however, as is the state of the Concern, according to the above showing, the amount of sales has never yet been what it ought to be. The highest point they have ever yet attained (which was in 1850) is $202,358 27; while they ought to reach annually, as your Agents believe, at least $250,000, or $1,000,000 every four years.

It has been said that the profits of the Concern are greatly less than they should be, and, under other management, might be; and it has been suggested that it would be better to abandon the Concern, and to invest the capital in some more profitable stock. The Agents cannot, of course, tell what the results would be under other management, as the experiment has not yet been tried; but under the management to which the Concern has been subjected, according to the provisions and directions of the General Conference, there has been, for the last four years, an average net profit on the sales of the Concern of a fraction over twenty-seven per cent., and on the capital invested of about seven per cent. These profits are not large; and yet, were they much smaller than they are, the General Conference and the true Methodist public would be very slow to believe, as your Agents apprehend, that it would be better to strike down that noble institution, the Book Concern, and invest the capital in other and (if they could be found) more profitable stocks.

The Methodist Book Concern must not be regarded solely, or even mainly, in its relation to dollars and cents. It has a higher, holier, nobler aim—the diffusion of a sound religious literature, and the spread of Scriptural holiness over the land. Viewed in this relation, its importance cannot easily be exaggerated. (So, indeed, think our enemies—if there are any in this poor world who hold such a relation to us as makes proper the application to them of this ugly word. After our ever-moving and, to them, vexatious itinerancy, there is nothing in the arrangements and appliances of Methodism they so much dread and hate as that mammoth Book Concern, and in nothing would they rejoice more than in its destruction.) Still, though money-making is not the chief, much less the sole design of the Book Concern, it may be doubted whether there is a book-making establishment in the country which would have excelled, or even equalled it in this respect, if, instead of paying out large portions of its profits annually in dividends to the conferences and to other constitutional objects, these profits had been added to the capital for the enlargement of the business, or had been invested in profitable stocks. In this case, instead of counting its hundreds of thousands, it would now probably count its millions. As it is, the Concern is almost a prodigy. Taking its rise, in 1789, in $600 of borrowed capital, it has gradually risen, in despite of all its constitutional leaks and drainings, until now it presents a capital of over half a million of dollars ! So much for the business tact of Methodist preachers !

It may be proper in this connexion to say, that while the increase in the sales, for the last four years, may have been owing mainly to the new Hymn-book, of which there has been a large sale, it has also been owing, in some degree, probably, to improvements in the quality and style of our publications. To these points the Agents have given special attention. They have aimed at a middle course, as best suited, in their judgment, to the character of the Concern as a religious publishing house. If they have not gone as far in ornamenting their publications as some have desired, they have gone, it is probable, quite beyond the tastes and wishes of others. Upon the whole, however, they hope that the publications of the Concern are now generally such as meet the tastes and wants of the Church.

THE CIRCULATION OF BOOKS.

The great importance of a more extensive circulation of our books has been felt by many ; and much has been said and written on the subject, and several new plans suggested.

Some have recommended conference depositories, to be located within the bounds of the several annual conferences ; others are in favour of establishing small depositories in cities and large towns ; while many prefer the colporteur system.

To the first there would be the following objections :—The cost of keeping up these establishments would average about $2000 per annum, and, in the aggregate, would amount to about $60,000 a year ; which, it is feared, would be more than the entire profits, without materially lessening the expenses at New-York. There is another objection to this plan : it will require twice or thrice the amount of stock that is now necessary. At New-York the stock could not be reduced with safety to the depositories, as their orders would frequently be large, and might, several of them, be received at the same time. It would be necessary also for the depositories to be well supplied, that they might at all times be prepared to furnish an assortment to those who would depend on them for their books. Still, it may be proper to establish a very few depositories in localities far distant, and not easily reached, especially in the winter season, from New-York or Cincinnati.

Small depositories, if they could be established in the hands of men who are already engaged in business, and on cash principles, or if ample security could be obtained, would not be so objectionable, and would, no doubt, accommodate those who might wish to purchase on a small scale. For Sabbath-school books in particular, it is believed these would operate favourably. But there are few, comparatively, who are willing to purchase our books to any considerable extent for cash ; and it would be extremely difficult, and in many instances impossible, to get such security, especially at a distance, as could be relied on.

The colporteur system may do well for the circulation of small books and tracts, when some are to be given away, some sold at half price, and some at full price; and when institutions are sustained wholly, or even partly, by public collections and donations. But for large works, and books in extra binding, as many of ours are, and when institutions are dependent on their own resources, it is doubtful whether it would answer at all. If we were to adopt this system, it would be found extremely difficult to obtain the right men to be employed in this work. Those generally who are willing to engage in such enterprises are men who have failed in business, or from other causes are out of employment, and perhaps embarrassed in their circumstances. They may be good citizens, perhaps members of the Church; but how are we to know them, especially those at a distance? For if we adopt the colporteur system generally, it will be necessary to employ men from the St. John's in the east, to the Missouri in the west—a distance, perhaps, of three thousand miles; it is true that they might obtain letters of recommendation from preachers; but is it certain that preachers, changed as they are every year or two, would be sufficiently acquainted with them and their circumstances to make it safe to trust them for books to any considerable amount? To think of selling to these men for cash, is out of the question; it will be found in general that they do not belong to that class who have funds at command. Ninety out of a hundred would expect to get their books on credit, and when they wanted more, would perhaps pay $50, and ask an additional credit of $100; and so in this ratio increase their indebtedness, until, in many instances, a total failure would be the result. They might return a few books which they could not sell, and which had been so injured, by transportation and otherwise, that, if disposed of at all, they must be sold at great loss. On investigating the causes of these delinquencies, it would probably be found that they had appropriated the proceeds of the books sold to the payment of debts contracted previously to their engagement with the Book Concern, or to the support of their families, and they are totally unable to refund.

It may be thought by some that the above is an exaggerated view of the subject. But it is the opinion of your Agents, that if either of the above systems be adopted, and relied upon as a principal medium for the circulation of our books, their fears will be more than realized, and we shall see our error when it is too late to remedy the evil. In their opinion, the old system of sending out books on commission, under proper limitations and restrictions, would be far less objectionable than either depositories or the colporteur system.

Having carefully and thoroughly examined the several plans which have been suggested, and weighed the arguments for and against them, and compared them with the one adopted at the beginning, your Agents are confirmed in the opinion they have long entertained, that the system of circulating the books by the agency of the preachers is preferable to all others, and cannot be abandoned with safety to the Concern.

Your Agents are aware that it is thought by some that this system imposes duties which are inconsistent with the ministerial character, and burdens too grievous to be borne. But not so thought Mr. Wesley, nor our fathers in Europe and America. Mr. Wesley thought it no disparagement to either write or sell books, the price of which was one penny ; and there are still some among us who consider it both an appropriate and delightful employment, inasmuch as God is honoured and souls are benefitted.

Our people must in some way be supplied with our books, or suffer great, if not irreparable loss. And who is so well qualified for this good work as their pastor, who is supposed to understand the condition of his people better than any one else can, and who is required to watch over them as one "who must give account?" And while he is solemnly bound to guard them against reading such books as do not tend to the knowledge or love of God, is he not under equal obligation to see that they are supplied with such as are best calculated to increase both ? In this reading age our people will read something, and if they are not supplied with good books, they will read others ; and the effect, in either case, will be visible : for books will have their influence for good or for evil, and will tell, to a greater or less extent, upon the eternal destiny of those who read.

Thus far, under this head, your Agents have copied, almost verbatim, the Report made to the last General Conference. Four years' observation and experience have but confirmed them in the truth of the sentiments advanced in that Report, and they see not that they could do better than reiterate those sentiments. The active agency of the preachers is, in the judgment of your Agents, indispensable in the circulation of our books. Unite with this agency any other safe agency you may judge proper, provided it does not conflict with it ; but to substitute it by any other your Agents believe you cannot, without serious detriment, if not utter ruin, to the Book Concern.

THE PRICE OF OUR BOOKS.

There is still some complaint about the price of our books, notwithstanding the average reduction on the books of the General Catalogue of fifteen per cent., made by order of the last General Conference. That this complaint is, as to our books generally, without any just ground, any one may satisfy himself who will take the trouble to compare our books, as to price, with those of the leading self-supporting publishing houses in the country.

It is a remarkable fact, that those who complain of the price of our books refer usually for proof of the justness of their complaints to the publications of the American Tract Society, apparently not knowing, or at least not considering, that that institution is not, like the Book Concern, wholly dependent on its own resources, but is largely aided annually by donations and public collections. It may, consequently, with safety put its publications at cost, or below cost, or even, if judged proper, bestow them as gratuities. This the Book Concern cannot do. If it live at all, it must live on the proceeds of its own business ; and its issues, consequently, must be put at a price which will not only cover expenses and the wear and tear of machinery, but also, at least, provide for such an increase of capital and enlargement of business as may be called for by the increasing demands of the Church, to say nothing of the table expenses of our superintendents, and dividends to the conferences. So that, even if these latter items were wholly left out of the question, and the books put at a price that would merely meet expenses and provide for the necessary increase of capital, these prices could not be graduated by the scale adopted, or which may be adopted, by the American Tract Society. To compete fairly with that society, the Book Concern must have a like resource in voluntary contributions.

It is the opinion of your Agents that this whole matter of prices needs to be touched with a very careful hand, especially at this time, when the Concern is probably about to pass through an exceedingly trying ordeal. If reductions are ordered at all, they should be ordered with great care, in view of all the facts and probabilities of the case, and without the least regard to the indiscreet complaints of well-disposed, perhaps, but rash and inexperienced men. There is great danger that the Concern may be embarrassed, if not fatally crippled, by hasty and excessive legislation. The largest discretion, in relation to prices, ought to be allowed to the Agents whom you may intrust with the management of the Concern. If they are at all men worthy to be intrusted with so great and delicate a charge, they must, from their position and circumstances, very soon become able to form more enlightened and safe judgment in relation to this whole matter than those can, no matter what are their abilities, whose occupation is totally different. Finally, if your agents may be allowed to give their judgment in so weighty a matter, they will say—Select and determine the objects to be provided for by the Concern, and then leave to your Agents to provide for these objects in the light of the best experience they can command, and wholly untrammelled by rules and regulations in relation to prices and discounts—the General Conference fixing only the relations of the Eastern and Western Concerns in regard to discounts. The responsibility of the Agents will, we are aware, be greatly increased by this measure; but the true interests of the Concern, and of the cause which it is intended to subserve, will, we think, be promoted.

PERIODICALS.

In 1849, by and with the advice of the Book Committee, the price of the Christian Advocate and Journal was reduced to $1 25, and a certain space, by permission of the last General Conference, was allowed for advertisements. The subscription-list ran up, under the excitement of this measure, from about seventeen to thirty-three thousand. In 1850 it declined to about twenty-nine thousand, mainly, it is presumed, on account of the advertisements, which gave so great and so general dissatisfaction, that they were thrown out at the close of the volume for that year. The number of subscribers has since gradually increased, and now stands at about thirty thousand. This excellent periodical, so far as your Agents are able to judge, never enjoyed more generally the approval and confidence of its patrons than it now does. It is regarded as a sound and able advocate of the doctrines, general polity, and established usages of the Church.

The Methodist Quarterly Review has attained an eminence among the periodicals of its class, creditable alike to its editor and to the Church. In all the elements of a religious review, it is regarded as among the first, if not the very first, in the country ; and yet it does not fully meet expenses. Its list of subscribers, though much larger, as we are assured, than that of any other Quarterly in the country, is yet greatly below what it ought to be. It stands at present at about three thousand.

The Sunday School Advocate not only retains the confidence so liberally extended to it in former years, but steadily increases in popularity and usefulness. It has now a circulation, East and West, of about ninety thousand. Its course is emphatically onward.

The Missionary Advocate is rapidly increasing in circulation and usefulness. We are now printing thirty-three thousand, and the list will probably, in the course of the year, run up to thirty-five, if not forty thousand.

A demand has been made from many quarters for a monthly journal of religion and literature ; and, in our opinion, the wants of our people imperatively demand some such publication. The Quarterly is intended to be the organ of the highest literature of the Church, and, as such, it amply fills its place ; the Ladies' Repository is admirably adapted for the class of readers indicated by its title, and its success fully shows the ability with which it has been conducted. But our people still need a Magazine of Current Literature ; and if we do not supply them, they will supply themselves from other sources. Such a magazine, furnishing instructive and interesting reading from every department of popular literature, science, and art, and conducted in a religious spirit and on religious principles, could not fail, we think, to find a large number of purchasers, and to be eminently useful. From the ample materials furnished in foreign journals, it could be prepared at little cost, except that of editing, printing, paper, and press-work, and could be sold at $2 per annum, if that should be deemed the most available price.

So strongly impressed, indeed, have been your Agents with the necessity of such a publication, that they brought the matter to the attention of the Book Committee at their meeting in the early part of the last year, and also corresponded with the Agents of the Western Book Concern. The Book Committee approved of the object ; but both they and we hesitated as to the propriety of commencing the publication before the meeting of this Conference, as it might by some be regarded as inconsistent with the implied will of the last General Conference. We now commend this matter to the earnest attention of this body.

CHURCH PROPERTY CASE.

It will be remembered that the last General Conference, being desirous "to advance, as far as its constitutional powers would authorize, toward an amicable adjustment of the difficulty between the Methodist Episcopal Church and the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, in relation to the property of the Book Concern, directed that the Agents should offer to submit the claims of the Commissioners of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, to the decision of disinterested arbiters, provided they should find, on taking legal counsel, that, when clothed with all the authority which the General Conference could confer, their corporate powers would warrant them in so doing ; or, that they should find, upon taking legal counsel, that they had not power to submit the case to voluntary arbitration, and should a suit at law be commenced by the Commissioners of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, they should tender to said Commissioners an adjustment of their preferred claims by a legal arbitration, under the authority of the Court; or, that in the occurrence of neither of the above contingencies, the bishops were requested to lay before the several annual conferences, for their concurrence, a resolution adopted by that General Conference, to so far suspend the sixth restrictive rule of the Discipline, as to authorize our Book Agents at New-York and Cincinnati to submit said claim to arbitration."

As soon after the rise of the General Conference as the other and pressing duties of the Agents would allow, they took the advice of George Wood, Esq., an eminent legal gentleman in the city of New-York, and found that, when clothed with all the authority which the General Conference could confer, their corporate powers would not warrant them in offering to submit the case to arbitration. Of this fact they notified the Commissioners of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, in a letter bearing date December 22, 1848. No suit having been commenced by the Commissioners of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, at the opening of the following year, the bishops proceeded to lay the above-mentioned resolution before the annual conferences for their concurrence, commencing with the Baltimore Conference. This measure, which was proceeding with encouraging prospects of success, was broken off by the commencement of suit by the Commissioners of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, on the 19th day of June. The cause was ably argued before Judges Nelson and Betts, in May, 1851, by D. Lord, Esq., and Hon. R. Johnson, for complainants; and Hon. R. Choate and G. Wood, Esq., for defendants. At the close of the argument, His Honour, Judge Nelson, stated it as his opinion, "that it would be much better, if, after a full and fair investigation both of the facts and law of the case, the parties could amicably take it up, and, by the aid of friends and counsel, come to an amicable decision of the controversy;" assuring the parties at the same time that "there could probably be no reasonable doubt but that an amicable, an equitable, and honest adjustment, made by the representatives of the different branches of the Church, with the aid of their counsel, sanctioned by the Court, would be a binding, and valid, and final disposition of the whole controversy."

Though your Agents were aware that it belonged to the Commissioners of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, as complainants in the cause, to take the initiative in negotiations touching an amicable adjustment; yet, regardless of mere form, they, in conjunction with the Agents of the Western Book Concern, and with the aid of their counsel, proceeded at once to draw up and sign a paper, containing a proposition to adjust the claims of the Southern Commissioners by means of arbitration. But before this paper was sent off, they received a communication from Dr. Smith, as chairman of the Board of Commissioners, dated May 29th, and asking whether your Agents had any proposition to make. Having drawn up a brief reply to this communication, they sent it and the paper above-mentioned to E. L. Fancher, Esq., to be forwarded to the Commissioners. This paper was dated June 2d. A reply, dated June 19th, was received, in which the Commissioners stated that they were willing to arbitrate, provided we would admit their claim to a full share of the property in question. As this was the very point in dispute, it could not, of course, be admitted; and so negotiations, in reference to an amicable settlement, were closed. A decision in favour of the claimants was given by His Honour, Judge Nelson, November 11th; and a decree was issued November 26th, based on this decision, adjudging and ordering that a pro rata share of the property of the Book Concern, including both capital and produce, should be transferred to the agents of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, and referring the case to the clerk of the court, to ascertain and report the amount and value of the property, &c. (See accompanying documents.)

In making preparation for a showing before the clerk, your Agents soon found that they could not rely upon the ordinary annual Exhibits to the conferences; that while these Exhibits were perhaps sufficiently accurate for ordinary purposes, when but one interest was involved, they would not answer in view of a division of the property, as they presented certain species of stock at a valuation much too high. Your Agents, therefore, found it necessary to make out two sets of inventories of the bound and sheet stock for 1845 and 1852, and of stereotype plates for 1845—one, according to the scale of prices adopted in the annual Exhibits; and another, according to a corrected, and, as your Agents judged, true scale—and, laying both before the clerk, to insist that the latter alone could be taken as a true Exhibit of the property. All this involved, on the part of the Agents and their assistants, an amount of care and toil which no one, perhaps, who has not gone through something of the same kind, can fully appreciate. They had to go through the entire Catalogues, both General and Sunday-School, and determine the value of every book separately, and to re-examine and revise the prices of the entire list of stereotype plates; and this, besides making out the inventories according to the usual scale of prices.

Believing that a free and full conversation between themselves and the Commissioners of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, on the several points of difference which might arise between them in relation to the Exhibit of the property of the Concern, prepared to be laid before the clerk of the court, might not only facilitate a settlement of the business between them, but also lessen, if not wholly remove, the grounds of discussion and dispute before that functionary, the Agents suggested such interview to one of the Commissioners, who happened to be in New-York. The Commissioner entirely concurred with them, and stated that he and his associates had felt the propriety of such a meeting between themselves and the Agents, but had doubted whether it belonged to them to make the suggestion. This interview was had on the 31st day of March. It was of short continuance, and resulted in nothing satisfactory. The examination before the clerk commenced on the 12th ult., and was continued day after day till Saturday, the 17th, when it closed. The case is to be argued before the clerk of the United States Court, J. W. Nelson, Esq., as Master Commissioner, by Messrs. Lord and Fancher, on the 29th inst., (April,) and then, if either of the parties should be dissatisfied with the Report of the Commissioner, it will be argued again before the court before the final decree shall be ordered. This decree will not probably be issued before midsummer.

B.—REPORT OF THE NEW-YORK BOOK COMMITTEE TO THE GENERAL CONFERENCE, 1852.

THE Book Committee, agreeably to the requirement in the Discipline, present the following Report to the General Conference, on the condition of the Book Concern at New-York.

The Committee have examined diligently the state of the premises and the management of the affairs, each of the four years since the last General Conference, and are happy to be able to report favourably. The premises are kept in good condition; economy of time, space, and material is observed, and business is executed with promptness and regularity. Some of the work-rooms, however, appear to the Committee inconveniently crowded; but this difficulty will be remedied when the new building, now in progress, shall be completed.

The Agents have shown a fidelity and capability in their arduous duties that entitle them to the best and most confidential regards of the Church. Their duties, during the recent period especially of their official connexion with the Book Concern, have been unusually arduous and trying, and they have richly deserved the sympathy of their brethren, as well as their gratitude and confidence.

With the manner of keeping the general accounts of the Concern, the Committee have been highly gratified. In so vast an establishment, with business so complicated and extensive, uncommon care and skill are required to avoid mistakes, and keep everything in an accurate manner, and so clear as to be readily comprehended. We think that great excellence has been exhibited in this department, and those ends successfully attained.

The Exhibit of the Agents will present the particular items of the Concern, as well as present the aggregate value. It will, therefore, not be necessary for the Committee to do more than call your attention to a few prominent facts.

The total value of the property at this time, deducting twenty per cent. for possible bad debts, is $663,189 62. A part of this, as you perceive from the exhibit, is in real estate, consisting of houses and lots, and part in stocks. The profit or yield from the entire capital for the four years past, is as follows:—For the year ending in 1849, $32,833 52; for 1850, $15,239 62; for 1851 it was $47,561 42; and for 1852, $63,906 14. The diminution of the profit reported in 1850, was explained in the Exhibit of the Book Committee that year. It struck us as something strange that in 1850 the amount of sales was $202,358 27, while in 1851 the amount was only $189,843 57, being a reduction in pecuniary value of $12,567 45; yet the profit this year excelled that of the year before by $16,344 72. This, however, was satisfactorily explained to us by the Book Agents, as it doubtless will be to the General Conference.*

In the judgment of the Committee, this is a very satisfactory result. It should be remembered that none of the works sold at the Book Concern are of that popular, but ephemeral character that have a sudden and universal demand, yielding an immense profit for a season, and then passing into oblivion. They are such, for the most part, as maintain a steady demand, yielding profits somewhat slow but uniform. The mode of sale, also, and the heavy discount paid to preachers, far greater than the trade ordinarily pay, greatly reduce the profit; hence, as large profits as a private bookseller would make on the same capital cannot reasonably be expected. Yet with the profits made on the actual amount of sales, we believe, after close calculation, the Conference has sufficient reason to be satisfied.

In the different departments in the establishment there are at present about two hundred persons employed. Not only are the printing and binding done here, but the stereotype plates are cast on the premises. All the works issued at present are stereotyped, except the Christian Advocate. The Sunday School Advocate is stereotyped, and duplicate plates are made for every number, and transmitted to Cincinnati for the use of the Western Book Concern.

There are eight power-presses at present employed, and one hand-press. This is a decrease on former years in regard to number, but an increase in regard to effectiveness, several of the old presses having been advantageously exchanged for one more valuable.

The Committee are pleased to observe a constant augmentation in the several catalogues. During the last four years there have been added to the General Catalogue sixty-eight volumes, of which eighteen are in 8vo. and fourteen in 12mo., the rest of smaller size. To these should be added the revised Hymn-book in the various sizes, with fresh sets of the stereotype plates. To the Sunday-school list have been added three hundred and thirty-four volumes, besides the Almanac: making a total of seven hundred and twenty-seven new books, besides the Hymn-book. To this must be added, also, eight hundred and forty-four pages of Tracts, the most meagre department of all, for which, however, neither agents nor editors are to blame. We hope to see improvement in this department hereafter.

DEPOSITORIES.

The attention of the Committee has been turned to the condition of the several depositories. This is always a subject of difficult management in all similar establishments. From what we can learn, the Depository at Pittsburgh is in good condition; it supplies an important want, and is doing well.

The Depository at Boston was not, at the commencement of this Committee's period of service, in as good a state as could have been desired. The Agents were therefore advised either to remove it entirely, or place it on a more satisfactory basis. The latter has been happily effected, and we rejoice that it is now in a state highly satisfactory, and rendering valuable service.

The Depository in Nassau-street, in the city of New-York, known as the Branch of the Book Concern, is a subject of some perplexity. It, in some respects, certainly affords convenience to the Concern, and to preachers and others occasionally visiting the city. It also assists in the sale of our books in the city, but it can hardly be said to yield any profit, though it occasions no loss. On the whole, the Committee think that if it be necessary to have an establishment of the sort down town, it ought to be on a more creditable scale; and if the business will not justify that, it would be better to abandon it.

PERIODICALS.

Our periodicals constitute one of the most important interests of the Church, and demand our serious consideration.

I. THE CHRISTIAN ADVOCATE AND JOURNAL.

The subject of reducing the price of the Christian Advocate was laid before the last General Conference in the Report of the former Book Committee. It was one of the topics first presented to our consideration. After much inquiry, careful estimates, and earnest thought, the Committee recommended to the Book Agents to reduce the price to $1 25, except to ministers, who were to be charged $1. The insertion of advertisements, also, to a limited extent, under the direction of the Book Agents and Editor, was recommended. It was hoped that the number of subscribers might be raised from 19,000—the number at the time of the last General Conference—to 40,000, which, with the charges in advertisements, would have yielded a handsome profit. In these calculations we have been somewhat disappointed. The subscription-list has never reached the number anticipated, and it was found that the advertisements gave so much dissatisfaction that it was deemed best to discontinue them. This has reduced the receipts from the Advocate very considerably. Still, the Committee are not prepared to recommend a return to the former price. It is still hoped that, by greater exertion on the part of the preachers, the subscription-list may be greatly enlarged, and the Committee are not yet fully satisfied as to the propriety of admitting advertisements. A further consideration of the subject is recommended to the General Conference.

Under the former terms, the yield of the Christian Advocate and Journal was annually about $8,000. The yield for the last year, including $680 67 for advertisements inserted before, but not paid for till last year, was $3,495 69. The difference appears considerable; yet when it is remembered that all subscriptions are now paid in advance, and that a great portion of the money is available from the beginning of the year, the difference in profit is not so great as it seems. Indeed, it is somewhat doubtful whether there is any actual diminution, all things being considered.

II. THE QUARTERLY REVIEW.

At the last General Conference, the number of subscribers to the Quarterly Review was about 2,100; it is now about 3,000. This is, perhaps, nearly equal to any similar publication in the country; yet it does but barely pay expenses. With its present subscription-list, some may wonder that it does not yield considerable profit. But the price is uncommonly low,—lower than that of any similar work,—being but two dollars per annum; and of the subscribers, two-thirds are ministers, who pay but one dollar and sixty cents. No such work can be published at that price and make a profit. Considering the high character of the work, it certainly deserves a better patronage in so large a community, in which there is no other work of the kind.

Under the able management of the Editor, and sanctioned by the Book Committee, considerable modification has been made in the character of the Quarterly. Whether this accords with the purport of the resolution on this subject, passed by the last General Conference, we cannot exactly determine. One thing, however, seems clear. The character of this work is not duly appreciated by a large portion of the community under our religious instruction; yet it is too valuable a work to be discarded, nor ought it to recede in literary and intellectual character. We cannot believe the General Conference would wish such a blow to be inflicted on the character of our Church as to relinquish a publication which reflects so much honour upon us, and diffuses so much intelligence among both preachers and people; yet there is a large portion of our community who are not provided with any suitable periodical. Under these considerations this Committee recommended to the Book Agents to commence the publication of a Monthly Miscellany, provided subscribers could be obtained sufficient to warrant the undertaking. Such a work, more permanent than a hebdomadal, less elevated than a quarterly, is much needed, and we cannot but think would be largely patronized. We commend this subject to the consideration of the General Conference. Should it be thought advisable to establish such a work, then we would suggest whether it would not be better to add somewhat to the size of the Quarterly, and make some addition to the price.

III.—SUNDAY SCHOOL ADVOCATE.

This work, we are happy to say, is not only ably conducted, but is eminently successful. It now numbers 70,000 subscribers, and yields annually a handsome profit, which, however, the last year was considerably reduced by some extra expenses, which will not, probably, occur again. Its annual profit is about twelve hundred dollars.

HYMN-BOOK.

The Committee appointed by the last General Conference to revise the Hymn-book, have very happily executed their task. When completed, the manuscript was submitted to the Book Committee and the Editors, who, in joint session, carefully examined the whole, and the result was a conviction that the work had been executed with discriminating judgment and correct taste, and that the thanks of the Church are due to the Committee for their faithful and judicious labours, and especially to the Rev. Dr. Floy and Mr. Robert A. West, upon whom, as a sub-committee, the labour chiefly devolved. By these means our Zion has been supplied with a collection of sacred lyrics, greatly improved, and every way adapted to her wants.

THE CATECHISM.

At the last General Conference, the Editor of Sunday School Books was directed to revise our standard Catechism, under the direction of the Book Committee at New-York. The attention of the Committee was early called to this subject, and a plan of the contemplated work submitted by the Editor, which was approved. In view of the vast importance of this work, it was the desire of the Editor that suitable assistance should be afforded him. The Committee, therefore, nominated certain brethren to be associated with him, consisting of one of the bishops, two well-known and highly-esteemed brethren, with one member of this committee. The first and second series have been prepared and approved, and the third is in an advanced state of preparation. It is hoped that all three will be in readiness to be laid before the approaching General Conference. We trust that our Church will now be adequately provided for in one of its most important and vital interests.

Lastly. The committee would call the attention of the General Conference to the decided improvement which has been made within the last four years in the style of binding at the Concern. A want in this particular began to be pressingly and injuriously felt. It was easily seen that if we wished our books to go into general circulation, they must accord in their external appearance with the general demand. This necessity, we believe, has now been met; the various tastes of the community are sufficiently provided for, so that none can reasonably complain of any deficiency in that department. With the public demand in this particular there is a disposition fully to comply on the part of the Book Agents, and those especially in charge of the bindery.

All which is respectfully submitted.

C.—REPORT OF THE WESTERN BOOK CONCERN TO THE GENERAL CONFERENCE. 1852,

DEAR BRETHREN,—In compliance with the rule of Discipline, the Agents submit their Report of the Western Book Concern at Cincinnati for the four years ending with this date.

From the accompanying Exhibit, it will be seen that the business of the Concern is in a healthy and prosperous condition. The sales for the four years have amounted to $200,829 53, making an increase of $75,415 88, over the preceding four years.

Most of the old claims due to the Concern have been collected; so that by far the largest proportion of the debts is of recent date, perhaps of not more than one year's standing, except those due in the South. This we regard as a great improvement in our collections, but still there is room for greater.

Our profits for the four years are $48,726 52, being $23,354 55 more than the profits for the previous term. This is an increase in the net profits more than proportionate to the increase of the business of the Concern. This, we think, is mainly owing to the fact that we do more of our own publishing at Cincinnati than formerly. Nine thousand dollars of the profits we have paid over to the Agents at New-York, as the Discipline directs, and the balance we have merged into the capital stock, as formerly.

During the present term we have built two fire-proof vaults—one in connexion with the printing office, in which we have our stereotype plates deposited for safe keeping; the other is in the main building, and is occupied by our account-books and papers.

The growing demand for our books and periodicals made it indispensable for us to enlarge and improve our printing and binding facilities. We have supplied the place of our old boiler and engine by two new boilers and an engine of more power, and added a heating apparatus to the printing office. We have, since the last General Conference, added three large Adams's book-presses; so that we now can run five power-presses—four for printing books, and one for our Western Christian Advocate, Sunday School Advocate, &c. To the bindery, we have added two new embossing-presses.

The cost of all the above improvements and purchases amounts to about $12,000.

We have issued quite a number of new works, and have found for most of them an extensive sale. We have also stereotyped some of the smaller works, printed at New-York, that were in daily demand, and a supply of which could not be kept on hand, while depending on receipts from the East.

Our periodicals are in a flourishing condition, and are all now sent out on strictly advance terms. After the reduction of the Advocate and Journal, and the Pittsburgh Christian Advocate, to $1 25, we found it difficult to sustain our paper at $1 50 per year, and feared that there would be a falling off. We are, however, able to say that our Western Christian Advocate has been steadily on the increase. We are now issuing about 21,000, making an increase, since the last General Conference, of 10,000. The Ladies' Repository has a subscription-list of about 13,000, which is an increase of 5,000.

Of the other periodicals we issue about as follows:—Sunday School Advocate, 25,000 copies; Missionary Advocate, 5,000 copies; Christian Apologist, 3,374 copies.

We take great pleasure in saying that the Apologist is now supporting itself.

In compliance with the resolution of the General Conference at its last session, we have greatly increased the German publications. The following new works have been issued, viz.:—

- 1st. 22 new Tracts, embracing 404 pages.
- 2d. 50 Children's Tracts, embracing 400 pages.

8d. 16 Reading-books for Sunday-School Library, embracing 1,742 pages.

4th. 1-Reward-book of 48 pages—the first of a series already prepared for the press by the editor.

5th. The Life and Experience of Hester A. Rogers.

6th. The Life and Labours of John Wesley and his principal Co-labourers, translated by Rev. Wm. Nast, 300 pages.

7th. A Sunday-School Hymn-Book, containing 184 Hymns and 160 pages.

8th. A German Almanac of 82 pages, quarto.

9th. A German Harmonist, by Rev. S. Wakefield.

10th. A Grammar of the German Language, illustrating at the same time the Laws of Thinking, by Rev. Wm. Nast.

The two works last mentioned are in press, and will be ready for sale in about two months. This would make, in all, about 3,796 pages.

When it is considered that brother Nast has not only to edit the Apologist and the above publications, and read all the proofs himself, but that he compiled, or translated, or wrote most of the books and tracts, it will appear clearly that he had no time left to undertake so great a work as the last General Conference recommended the Agents to publish; viz., a German Commentary on the Holy Scriptures. The same remark applies to the recommendation of the Western Book Committee, to publish a body of Systematic Divinity in the German language, for which the editor has made considerable preparation, but could not find time to put it to press.

All of which is respectfully submitted. As ever, yours in Christ.

D.—THE REPORT OF THE GENERAL MISSIONARY COMMITTEE TO THE GENERAL CONFERENCE OF THE METHODIST EPISCOPAL CHURCH. 1852.

THE General Missionary Committee, in conformity to the rule of the Conference, submit the following report of their doings during the four years past:—

Of the number constituting this committee, by appointment of the bishops at the last General Conference, one has been called to his reward. Our beloved brother, William H. Roper, of the Ohio Conference, met in committee, and, in great weakness of body, indicated his fidelity to God and the Church by the interest he took in all the business coming before it, at three successive meetings. His intercourse with us greatly endeared him to us as a Christian and Christian minister; and we avail ourselves of this occasion to record our appreciation of his great and many excellencies.

During an early part of our labours, too, the late respected secretary, Dr. Pitman, was prostrated by disease, and his place supplied by Dr. Durbin, who has co-operated efficiently with the committee since his coming into office.

To the event of Dr. Pitman's physical prostration, the nature of which is known to the Conference, may be ascribed the fact that we have no record of the proceedings of our first meeting, which convened in June, 1848, and was attended by P. P. Sandford, S. Luckey, and J. T. Mitchell. Diligent search has been made, as we understand, for the record of proceedings at that meeting; but none are to be found in the office.

Of the meeting in 1849, there is a simple record of the appropriations to the different departments of the work, namely, $99,085 :—To Domestic Missions, $61,735; Liberia Mission, $21,000; Oregon Mission, $4,500; South American Mission, $1,000; China Mission, $7,000; California Mission, $2,000; Mission to Germany, $1,800. At this meeting, after much discussion, the establishment of a mission to Germany was agreed to by the committee, in conjunction with a sub-committee from the Board; and all the proceedings of the committee were concurred in by the Board at a special meeting called for that purpose, and sanctioned by the bishop. The committee having received communications from a number of brethren in different parts of the work, asking for increased appropriations to aid weak charges which gave promise of becoming strong ones, in many cases, and able in return to contribute for benevolent purposes if they could only receive a little aid for a short time; indicating, also, that such assistance to the domestic work would be very satisfactory to the people, and tend to increase their liberality in supporting the cause; by resolution, requested the bishops to make inquiry, at the several conferences they might attend, as to the amount which might be required in each to supply such claims. To this request they promptly responded at the next meeting of the committee, and have at every succeeding one, which has furnished reliable data to guide our operations in this matter; and, so far as we have been able to learn, the result has been generally satisfactory to the conferences and the people.

May 2d, 1850, the committee met at the Mission Rooms in New-York. Present, P. P. Sandford, S. Luckey, P. Cartwright, W. H. Roper; J. P. Durbin, Secretary; G. Lane, Treasurer. A sub-committee from the Board met with them.

The Treasurer, by request, reported the pecuniary results of the last year. Receipts during the year, including a balance of $3,256 19 in the treasury May 1st, 1849, $107,885 78. Disbursements, $100,989 68. Leaving a balance of $6,846 10 in the treasury at that date.

After surveying the whole field, and obtaining all the information they could as to the probable receipts of another year, they unanimously resolved to increase the appropriations to $135,000, and to divide it by appropriating $49,000 to Foreign Missions.

The bishops here furnished a plan of the Episcopal districts, designating the conferences assigned to each member of the committee according to the rule, to wit:—

Providence, New-England, New-Hampshire, Maine, East Maine, and Vermont,—Mark Trafton.

Baltimore, Philadelphia, New-Jersey, New-York, New-York East,—
P. P. Sandford.

Troy, Black River, Oneida, East Genesee, Genesee, and Michigan,— Samuel Luckey.

Western Virginia, Pittsburgh, Erie, North Ohio, North Indiana, and Ohio,—W. H. Roper.

Wisconsin, Black River, Iowa, Missouri, Illinois, and Indiana,—Peter Cartwright.

This official sanction to a division of the work, when it came to be understood by the conferences, greatly facilitated the operations of the committee in regard to both correspondence and representation.

The appropriations were then made, by an addition of $1,000 to Foreign Missions, thus:—

Foreign Missions,	$50,000
Foreign population in the United States,	46,500
Domestic Missions,	34,700
Contingent appropriations,	3,425

In all, $134,625

And so were reported to the Board for their concurrence.

In the Board the following additional appropriations were proposed, viz.:—

Increase to the China Mission,	$2,200
Contingent for Foreign German Mission,	3,000
Do. for Oregon and California Conference,	10,000

Increasing the aggregate to $150,000.

The committee concurred in these propositions, and Bishop Hedding gave his official sanction to the proceedings. At this meeting the following resolution was adopted:—

Resolved, That the Secretary be requested to make inquiries concerning the best point for a mission in India, and report to the General Committee next year, and in the meantime to the Board, if desirable.

May 2d, 1851, the committee met at the usual place—all the members present. P. P. Sandford appointed chairman, and John P. Durbin secretary.

The Treasurer reported receipts by conferences, which amounted in all to $126,471 31, exceeding those of the preceding year $21,891 77.

After some discussion, it was determined that we would first examine all the applications for aid to carry on the work, both foreign and domestic, and ascertain what was necessary to sustain it at every point, and then make the aggregate the basis of our general appropriation. To an appeal for the means to meet the claims of the work, thus carefully made out, it was believed that the people would promptly and cheerfully respond.

Following this rule, the communications from the bishops and others were examined, and the records of the Board and committees of the Board, including the correspondence of the Secretary, concerning the Foreign Missions, were referred to, which resulted in a general appropriation of $170,000, as follows:—

To Foreign Missions, $69,000; German Missions, $35,000; Foreign population, other than German, $10,550; English domestic work, $39,850; Border work, $1,000; Incidental expenses, $400.

On the 28th of April, 1852, the committee met at the Mission Rooms. Rev. J. M. Trimble, appointed by Bishop Morris to fill the place of our deceased Brother Roper, appeared and took his place. All the members in attendance. Organized as formerly.

After a patient and thorough investigation of the pressing wants in the different departments of the work, it was resolved to appropriate, for the ensuing year, the sum of $200,000, which was divided as follows, viz. :—

To Foreign Missions, $77,577 49; to Domestic, including the German work, and the missions to the foreign population other than Germans, $110,050; for contingencies or current expenses, $7,377 51; contingencies allowed by constitution, $5,000.

The committee were greatly assisted in their estimates for the foreign work by the records of the several committees of the Board having the Foreign Missions under their charge, and the correspondence in possession of the Secretary. The practice of keeping a record for each separate mission, which we understand has been lately adopted, is entitled to our commendation, on account of the facilities it furnishes in making out the estimates necessary to sustain the foreign work; and we hope it will be continued.

In consequence of information derived from a communication made to the Board by Brother Lore, of South America, the committee resolved that a contingent appropriation for renewing the mission at Monte Video, at the discretion of the Board and bishop having the charge of Foreign Missions, be allowed to the amount of $2,000.

The committee also concurred with the resolution of the Board appropriating $500 towards a mission in Norway, Denmark, and Sweden.

S. Luckey was charged with preparing a Report, to be submitted to the General Conference. Adjourned, to meet in Boston at the call of the Chair.

Appendix.—The records of the first meeting of the committee after the last General Conference, which could not be found when the other papers were forwarded from New-York, have been sent on. They show that the committee, met on the 13th of June, 1848, and that the sum appropriated was $80,000, equally divided between Foreign and Domestic Missions. All which is respectfully submitted.

E.—REPORT OF THE BOOK COMMITTEE OF THE WESTERN BOOK CONCERN. 1852.

To the General Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church in Conference assembled.

DEAR BRETHREN,—The Committee appointed by the last General Conference for the Western Book Concern in Cincinnati have met annually, and made such examinations of the entire state of the Concern, as their time and circumstances would allow; and it affords us great pleasure to be able to say, that on each of our visitations and investigations, we have found all things pertaining to the Concern moving on regularly, harmoniously, and prosperously. The entire establishment is in a good condition for carrying on the business—a suitable place for everything, and everything in its place.

It will be seen, from the Exhibit of the Agents, that the last four years of this Concern have been more prosperous than any previous; and there has been a gradual increase in the business each year,—the last the most prosperous of the four. We can truly say that, according to our best judgment, the business has been faithfully and ably conducted by the Agents, and that they are entitled to the entire confidence of this Conference and the Church at large.

The editorial departments have been well sustained by their respective incumbents; but we regret, however, that any cause should have occasioned so much absence of the Editors of the Ladies' Repository and Western Christian Advocate. Whether these periodicals have suffered in consequence thereof, we are not fully prepared to say.

The Western Book Concern is a powerful and increasing instrumentality for good in the great Valley of the West; and we doubt not but that the General Conference will be ever ready and forward to increase its efficiency as an important part of that common system, by which we are striving to spread our holy Christianity, in its power and purity, over all lands, from the rising to the going down of the sun.

F.—REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE ON MISSIONS.

On Revision of the Chapter in the Discipline on the Support of Missions.

THE Committee on Missions beg leave to report, for adoption by the Conference, a revision of the chapter on missions for insertion in the Discipline, instead of the one heretofore existing.

1. The support of missions is committed to the churches, congregations, and societies as such.

2. It shall be the duty of each Annual Conference, where missions have been or are to be established, to appoint a standing committee, to be denominated the Mission Committee, (which shall keep a record of its doings and report the same to its conference,) whose duty it shall be, in conjunction with the president of the conference, to make an estimate of the amount necessary for the support of each mission and mission school, in addition to the regular allowance of the Discipline to preachers and their families from year to year; for which amount the president of the conference for the time being shall draw on the Treasurer of the Society in quarterly instalments.

3. It shall be the duty of each Annual Conference to form within its bounds a Conference Missionary Society, which shall appoint its own officers, fix the terms of membership and life-membership, and otherwise regulate its own administration. But it shall pay all its funds into the Treasury of the Parent Society.

4. It shall be the duty of each Presiding Elder to bring the subject of our missions before the Quarterly Meeting Conference of each circuit and station within his district at the first Quarterly Meeting Conference in each year; and said conference shall proceed to appoint a committee of not less than three nor more than nine, (of which the preacher in charge shall be chairman,) to be called the Committee on Missions, whose duty it shall be to aid the preacher in charge in carrying into effect the disciplinary measures for the support of our missions.

5. It shall be the duty of the preacher in charge, aided by the Committee on Missions, to provide for the diffusion of missionary intelligence in the church and congregation.

6. It shall be the duty of the preacher in charge, aided by the Committee on Missions, to institute a monthly missionary prayer meeting or lecture in each society, or church and congregation, wherever practicable, for the purpose of imploring divine blessings on missions, for the diffusion of missionary intelligence, and to afford an opportunity of voluntary offerings to the missionary cause.

7. It shall be the duty of the preacher in charge, aided by the Committee on Missions, to appoint missionary collectors, and furnish them with suitable books and instructions, that they may call on each member of the society, or church and congregation, and on other persons, at their discretion, for his or her annual, semi-annual, quarterly, monthly, or weekly contributions for the support of missions. Said collectors shall make monthly returns (unless otherwise instructed by the committee) to the preacher in charge, or to the missionary treasurer of the church, if there be such treasurer appointed by the Committee on Missions. Such returns shall be fairly entered in a book, which the committee shall provide, together with the collections and contributions received from other sources. Such entries shall set forth the name of each collector, the real or assumed names of the contributors to each collector, with the amount contributed by each.

8. Each preacher in charge shall report at conference to the Executive Committee, or Board of Managers of the Conference Missionary Society, a plain transcript of the record of the returns provided for in section seven, comprehending the name of each collector in his charge, and the name, real or assumed, of each contributor to each collector of fifty cents or upwards during the year, and the aggregate sum of all contributions under fifty cents each, that they may be, by said Executive Committee or Board of Managers, properly arranged, by districts and by charges, for publication in the Annual Report of the Conference Missionary Society, together with the contributions and collections received from other sources, unless the Conference shall by vote declare such transcript returns and such publication not to be advisable.

9. It shall be the duty of the preacher in charge, with the aid of the Committee on Missions, to present once in the year to the societies, or the churches and congregations, the cause of missions, and to ask public collections and contributions for the support of the same. The manner of asking and taking such collections and contributions shall be at the discretion of the pastor and the Committee on Missions; with this injunction, that the pastor shall preach, or cause to be preached on the occasion, one or more sermons; and with the recommendation, that one whole Sabbath day be given to the cause on this annual presentation of missions in our principal churches and congregations.

10. It is earnestly recommended that each Sunday school in our churches and congregations be organized into a missionary society, under such rules and regulations as the pastor, the superintendent, and teachers may prescribe.

11. Each Annual Conference shall designate the month or months in which the public collections and contributions for missions shall be taken within its bounds.

12. The president of the conference, at each session, shall appoint one of its members, with an alternate, to preach a missionary sermon during its next succeeding session, at such time and place as the officers of the Conference Missionary Society shall designate; and said officers shall cause timely notice of such sermon to be published abroad.

13. It will be expected, in the examination in the Annual Conference, that reference will be had to the faithful performance of the duty of preachers on this subject, in the passage of character.

14. Each Presiding Elder is charged with seeing that the foregoing provisions, so far as applicable to his district, are faithfully executed within his district.

15. The Corresponding Secretary of the Missionary Society of the Methodist Episcopal Church shall be a member of such Annual Conference as he may, with the approbation of the bishops, select.

16. Any Annual Conference may, at its option, by a vote of two-thirds of its members, assume the responsibility of supporting such missions already established within its own limits, as have hitherto been reported under the head of "Missions in the destitute portions of the regular work;" and for this purpose, it shall be at liberty to organize a Conference Domestic Society, with branches; provided such organizations shall not interfere with the collection for the Missionary Society of the Methodist Episcopal Church, as required by the Discipline; provided also, that in case more funds shall be raised for such missions than are needed, the surplus shall be paid over to the Treasurer of the Parent Society of the Methodist Episcopal Church, at New-York, to be appropriated to such mission or missions, under the care of the Society, as may be designated by said conference.

All which is respectfully submitted, by order of the committee.

J. P. DURBIN, Secretary

G.—REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE ON THE BIBLE CAUSE. 1852.

THE Committee appointed by this General Conference to consider and report on the condition and prospects of the Bible cause, desire to present the following as their report:—

It is not necessary in this place to dwell on the necessity of a free and ample circulation of the word of God, nor on the obligation of the Christian Church and ministry to give the Bible to the world. These things none among us doubt, nor will they be questioned by this General Conference. All admit that nothing but mischief, in various forms of error, superstition, impiety, and immorality, results from withholding the Bible from the people; while multiplied blessings, secular and religious, result from its free circulation. Where the Bible is most freely circulated and read, we find piety, morality, intelligence, and civil liberty most abounding.

Your committee rejoice to learn that the condition of the Bible cause in our land is highly encouraging. Of the various organizations for diffusing the Holy Scriptures, we may barely mention the American and Foreign Bible Society, among the Baptists, the Bible and Prayer-Book Society of the Episcopal Church, the Friends' Bible Society, and the Bible Union Society, recently established by a portion of the Baptist Church, on the principle of a new version of the Holy Scriptures. These are all doing something toward the diffusion of the Holy Scriptures, and are labouring with more or less success in the good cause.

But that Society toward which we especially look for the supply of the country with the word of God, is the American Bible Society. In this noble institution we have a deep and abiding interest. In the year 1836 the Bible Society of the Methodist Episcopal Church was disbanded, and all its interests merged in the great national Society. Since that time, we, as a denomination, have relied on this Society as the agency by which to carry into effect our purposes and desires, as well as meet our wants in regard to the distribution of the Scriptures. It is, then, our interest to know how this Society prospers, what it is doing to meet the wants of the world, and how far it is subserving our ends.

Before proceeding to these several topics, it may not be inappropriate to remark that the American Bible Society is altogether a separate and distinct organization. As its sole business is to circulate the Holy Scriptures, according to the common version, without note or comment, and nothing else, it cannot have connexion or union with any other. While it makes no war upon other associations, and desires success to all who are labouring to diffuse Christian knowledge and virtue, and is ready to aid them in its proper sphere, and in its appropriate modes, yet it can make no entangling alliances. It stands upon its own footing, and desires to work, if we understand its policy, by its own agencies.

We are glad to be able to report that this Society is in a highly prosperous condition, and its prospects of usefulness were never more flattering. It had, in the year 1816, but a small beginning; but, sustained by the prayers and liberality of the Christian Church, and guided by wise and liberal counsels, it has attained a magnitude and importance that make it one of the glories of our land. The last year of its operations, we learn from an abstract of its Annual Report, presented at the late Anniversary, has exceeded any former year, in the amount of its receipts and the extent of its operations. The receipts were over $308,000, being more than $31,800 beyond those of the former year, while the number of volumes of the Holy Scriptures issued by the Society was over 666,000, being an increase of more than 73,000 over the year before. This makes the total number of volumes issued since the formation of this Society, over 8,000,000 of Bibles and Testaments. Besides this, probably an equal number have been issued by private booksellers.

The copies of the Bible thus issued have gone into all parts of our country. They are circulating now east, west, north, and south, among white and coloured, free and bond; while many have been sent to distant countries, either directly, or by supplying foreigners in our own country, or by our chaplains and missionaries in foreign countries. In this way many Bibles and Testaments have gone to South America, and Africa, and China, and to Italy, Spain, and Portugal.

Besides the extensive distribution of Bibles, we also learn that the Society has been enabled to do much the past year toward printing the Bible in foreign lands. The aggregate of its appropriations to the foreign work was nearly $31,000.

Inquiries, we believe, in no captious spirit, have sometimes been made as to the principle or manner of the foreign appropriations. We have been led to look into this subject, and are satisfied that the utmost fairness has been and is observed by the Society on this subject. It has been said that the money raised for publishing the Bible has been paid for the support of missionaries. We believe there is not the least ground for this assertion. The missionaries, severally, are supported by their own boards, and translate the Scriptures as a part of their missionary work, the Bible Society paying nothing for translating, except, perhaps, in a few cases, where a native has been hired expressly to aid the translator or to correct the proof-sheets. The American Bible Society pays only for printing and publishing the Scriptures when translated.

It has also been asked what security there is for an impartial rendering of the original text. Safety for this is found in the charter of the Society. The Society is shut up to this very thing. It is required to make all versions in foreign lands conform, as nearly as the nature of the language into which the version is made will allow, to the version in common use among us. At least every version must be such that all denominations can use it equally. The translation must be impartial. Nothing else accords with the spirit and language of the constitution of this Society; and on no other condition would appropriations be made by the managers of this Society.

From careful inquiry and observation we are satisfied that the American Bible Society is eminently catholic and liberal, and free from sectarian bias. Its agents are from all evangelical denominations patronizing the institution, of which our own Church furnishes its full proportion; its active committees are formed in the same liberal manner; and its gratuitous grants show equal impartiality.

In regard to grants, both of books and funds, we have just reason to be satisfied. It should be remembered that the immense circulation of the precious volume in our own country by this Society is a general blessing in which we participate in common with others. The diffusion of religious knowledge is a general good, and subserves the end for which we live and labour. It aids us in the objects of our mission. But in addition to this general and common good, we, as a Church, have been, from time to time, recipients of special grants to meet our various exigencies. Liberal appropriations have been made to us, and continue to be made, as occasion requires. The wants of our home work have been supplied by grants to our Sunday-School Union, and in various other ways. At the request of our Missionary Board, the New Testament was published in Swedish and English in parallel columns. Our missions have been supplied in California and New Mexico, and extremely liberal grants have been made to our missions in China and Germany. In these appropriations we have been most generously dealt by. Indeed, we do not know of any arrangement by which we could have been so effectually and economically supplied with Bibles and Testaments in our various departments of Christian labour.

Among the useful labours of this Society, during the past four years, may be mentioned the complete revision of the entire Bible, and expurgation of the sacred text from many inaccuracies that had crept into it in passing so repeatedly through the press. The full statement of this work would occupy too much time. A few brief remarks may not be unacceptable to the General Conference. The work of revision was performed by a committee of clergymen, of distinguished learning and ability, from different denominations—Rev. Drs. George Peck and John M'Clintock being chosen from the Methodist Episcopal Church. In the revision, the royal octavo edition of the English Bible, issued by the American Bible Society, was adopted as the basis, and was compared with the four leading British editions; namely, those of London, Oxford, Cambridge, and Edinburgh, and, also, with the original edition of 1611.

The comparison related to orthography, capital letters, words in italic, and punctuation, together with the contents of the chapters and the running heads of the columns. Where the copies consulted were uniform, no change was made; and, generally, where they differed, the uniform usage of any three was followed. In this way no unauthorized change was admitted, and, indeed, no deviation whatever from the established version, except to make it accord as nearly as possible with the minds of the original translators. It is, therefore, in no sense, a new version, but only our common version expurgated from the blemishes that had unavoidably crept into it in the various editions and impressions that had been made in Great Britain and the United States. These errors or variations were found to be about 24,000, yet among all these was not one that materially affected any point in faith or practice. It may be added that no correction or alteration was made but with the unanimous voice of the committee.

Your committee believe that in this work the American Bible Society has performed a service for which every lover of the pure word of God ought to be grateful. As yet only one new set of stereotype plates, with the last emendations, has been prepared, and that in royal octavo. Others will be prepared, we understand, with all convenient despatch.

Your committee may, likewise, remark, that, in consequence of the great increase of demand for the labours of this Society, the buildings at present in use have become entirely inadequate, having neither the space nor the convenience required. The Society have, therefore, purchased ground in a most convenient and desirable location, and are about erecting a spacious and commodious structure. The friends of the Bible cause owe it to the sagacious and liberal management of the Board of Managers, that the erection of this building will draw nothing from the ordinary funds of the Society. It will be erected by funds contributed for this special purpose, and chiefly in the city of New-York. In view of the above facts, your committee respectfully submit the following resolution:—

Resolved, That we, the members of this delegated General Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, highly appreciate the importance and value of the American Bible Society, as well as its zeal and efficiency; that we acknowledge the great blessings that we and our sister Churches are receiving from its wise and liberal exertions in scattering abroad multiplied copies of the word of God; and that we will cordially unite in its support, and encourage our ministers and people everywhere to do the same.

H.—REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE ON THE GERMAN WORK.—NO. I.

THE Committee on the German Work report, That they have carefully considered the unanimous petition of their German brethren of the Illinois Conference, praying this General Conference to appoint two Editors for our German publications, one of whom they desired to compile a Commentary on the Holy Scriptures, and also, that he should officially visit the different Annual Conferences with which the German Missions may be connected, conduct the missionary correspondence for this department, and represent the comparative wants of the German work in the General Mission Committee.

Your committee are of opinion that, however desirable and advantageous it might be to have a German brother charged with these great interests, and clothed with such functions, yet the duties could not well be performed by an Editor, and we cannot believe that the demand at present would justify the appointment of a minister to that especial work, nor can we see how a suitable man could be spared from the regular labours of the ministry to serve in this office.

As it regards the publication of a Commentary in the German language, your committee are fully convinced that there is no publication which the German people need more, or that would promise greater usefulness. Under the same conviction, the General Conference, at its late session, advised it, and authorized the Book Agents at Cincinnati to publish such a Commentary. But the time of the Editor was wholly occupied with the enlarged Apologist, and the compilation of Sunday-school and other books.

In order that a Commentary may be prepared within the next four years, the Editor must have a regular assistant, elected by the General Conference, and other occasional help; or the Book Agents must be authorized to furnish him with such editorial assistance as he may need for his whole work. And as your committee cannot see how a suitable minister can be spared from other important departments of the work, they submit for the consideration and adoption of the General Conference the following resolutions, viz. :—

1. Resolved, That the German Editor be instructed to prepare for publication within the next four years a brief Commentary on the New Testament.

2. That two German ministers, and one from the English department, be appointed by the bishops a committee, and pass upon the work before it is published.

3. That the Book Agents at Cincinnati are hereby authorized and instructed to furnish the Editor with all the help he may need for his whole work to any amount not exceeding one thousand dollars annually. All of which is respectfully submitted.

L—REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE ON THE GERMAN WORK.—NO. II.

WE find the German work in a state of great prosperity. Within the last four years our mission fields in this department have been greatly enlarged, and many new ones have been adopted and occupied. The Lord has blessed the labours of our German missionaries with most signal success; through their instrumentality, thousands of German immigrants have heard the joyful sound of a free, full and present salvation, and a pure Christianity has been sent back to the fatherland, which is spreading a salutary and saving influence over the country of Luther and the birthplace of the Reformation.

This glorious work, like many other features of Methodism, has been from the beginning distinctly marked to be of God, and has expanded in accordance with the openings of Providence and the force of circumstances. Not only has a deep impression been made upon the German population out of our Church, but the conviction is forced upon many American minds, that this gracious work is so far from being ephemeral, that it is destined to spread over this and other lands where Germans live, and will continue so long as the German language is spoken.

The policy adopted at the session of the General Conference in 1848, to include the German itinerant preachers in certain specified conferences irrespective of the boundary lines within which their fields of labour may lie, has worked well, and has been crowned with the divine blessing. But the number of German preachers in the Ohio and Illinois Conferences has increased so much, that mutual convenience, as well as the future success of the German work, makes some change indispensably necessary. To meet this necessity, a great majority of the German preachers in the Ohio Conference propose and advocate in the memorial referred to your committee, the organization of an Annual Conference, to include all the German itinerant preachers and their fields of labour hitherto connected with the Ohio Conference. This conference, though consisting only of German preachers, is proposed to do its business just as every other conference in the English language. The memorialists argue in favour of this plan with considerable zeal and strength, and ought not to be suspected of any want of attachment to their brethren who speak only the English language, or any desire to be less controlled by the constituted authorities and regulations of the Church of their choice. Their only aim is, as the Methodist Episcopal Church has done so much for them, to improve the talents put into their hands in the best possible way, to become efficient Methodist preachers in every respect, and to make their members sound and well-trained American Methodists. Thinking that this could be best accomplished by the organization of a separate Annual Conference for the German travelling preachers now connected with the Ohio Conference, they propose this measure, and certainly furnish many plausible and strong reasons for such an arrangement.

Your committee, however, while they appreciate the reasoning of their German brethren and award to them the purest motives, cannot concur with their petition, and are unanimously of the opinion, that the erection of a separate Annual Conference for German preachers is not expedient. The disadvantages arising from such a measure at present, would, in the opinion of the committee, outweigh the advantages which our German brethren expect to derive from it. It would diminish the deep interest and lively sympathy and co-operation of their American brethren for the German work, produce more or less alienation of feeling, and cause impressions which our German brethren do not wish to make.

The committee is confirmed in this view of the memorial from Ohio, by the fact that one whole German District in the Ohio Conference does not wish a separate Conference; and that the German brethren of the Illinois Conference, who are situated like those in Ohio, prefer a distribution of their number into two Conferences to a formation into a separate Conference.

The committee would, therefore, recommend that the German itinerant preachers be attached, for four years to come, to the following Conferences:—

1. The Pittsburgh, the North Ohio, and the Cincinnati District, with the exception of Lawrenceburgh, be connected with the Ohio Annual Conference.

2. The North Indiana District, as it now is, and the Indiana District, with the addition of Lawrenceburgh, be connected with the South-East Indiana Conference.

3. The St. Louis, the Missouri and the Quincy Districts, with the exception of Pekin and Peoria Missions, be connected with the Illinois Conference.

4. The Wisconsin and Iowa Districts, with the addition of Pekin and Peoria Missions, be connected with the Rock River Conference.

5. The German Missions in the east remain in connexion with the New-York Conference.

J.—REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE ON LAY DELEGATION, TO THE GENERAL CONFERENCE. 1852.

THE Committee to whom were referred the petitions and memorials on the subject of Lay Delegation, respectfully beg leave to report:—

That they have examined the memorial and address presented by the delegates from the Convention in favour of Lay Delegation, held in Philadelphia in March last; and also the address presented by the delegates from the Conference of laymen, held in Philadelphia during the present month, in opposition to that movement; and also the petitions and memorials presented to the Conference from various parts of the Church, chiefly against any alteration of the present economy of the Church.

They have also heard with pleasure the statements made before the committee by the delegates from the Convention and from the Conference, and they desire to bear testimony to the Christian spirit, and the devotion to the interests of the Church, especially as to its Itinerancy and Episcopacy, manifested by the various speakers who represented both these bodies.

After having fully considered the petitions and arguments presented, and having examined the probable effect the introduction of Lay Delegates into the General and Annual Conferences would have upon the interests of the Church, your committee are unanimously of opinion that such a change is inexpedient. As this subject has been on various occasions in the history of our Church fully discussed, your committee deem it unnecessary to enter at present into any argument in support of their views. While they highly appreciate the spirit which characterizes the movements of those brethren who advocate a change, and while they most ardently desire the full and cordial co-operation of the laity and ministry in all our enterprises, still they are fully convinced that the proposed change would not be advantageous to the interests of the Church.

Your committee must also add that they doubt whether any other system has ever secured the co-operation of the laity with the ministry more efficiently than has the Methodist economy. Our fathers were more pre-eminently distinguished for their "works of faith and labours of love," and the same spirit is still manifested in their sons in the gospel. There is a wide field for activity presented in the various offices and agencies employed in the Church; this sphere is constantly widening, and a large discretion is already accorded to the various Annual Conferences in reference to financial arrangements.

Your committee have also ascertained, both from the petitions presented, and from the facts within their own personal knowledge, emanating as they do from all sections of the work, that there is a strong opposition in the great mass of membership to the proposed change. They therefore present the following resolution:—

Resolved, That it is inexpedient so to alter the economy of the Church as to introduce Lay Delegation into the General and Annual Conferences.

L—MEMORIAL OF THE EDITOR OF TRACTS TO THE GENERAL CONFERENCE.

DEAR FATHERS AND BRETHREN,—A sense of duty, growing out of the relations I have for several years sustained to the Tract cause in our Church, constrains me to address you on a subject of general interest and importance.

It is probably known to you all, that we have not now, and have not had for a series of years, any formal organization of a Tract Society.

It appears in the history of our Church, that as early as 1817 a Tract Society was instituted, "with a view of furnishing the poorer classes of the community with religious reading." In this movement our people followed the example of the great and good Mr. Wesley, whose efforts to print and circulate cheap religious reading were in advance of all similar efforts and enterprises.

This Tract Society, however, was very limited in its resources and support, and, after a few years of experiment, was transferred to the book agency. Thenceforward the publication of Tracts has been a part of the business of the Book Concern.

The Book Concern was at that day very feeble; and even as late as 1828 was burdened with a heavy debt. In these circumstances, it could not from its own resources publish Sunday-school books and tracts as cheap as was necessary. Hence the contribution of a Publishing Fund, which was vested in the Book Concern, for the express purpose of cheapening these classes of publications.

About the same period, viz., in 1827, "the Bible, Sunday-school, and Tract Society of the Methodist Episcopal Church," was formed. This society existed about nine years,—until 1836,—when the General Conference, for satisfactory reasons, dissolved our denominational Bible Society, in order to unite with the American Bible Society. This act was a virtual dissolution of the whole organization: not more than two or three meetings of the Board of Managers were held subsequent to it.

The want of some special organization to promote the interests of Sunday schools, was so immediately and so seriously felt, that in 1840 our present Sunday-School Union was formed by action of the General Conference of that year; but down to the present time, no successful effort has been made to reorganize a General Tract Society of the Methodist Episcopal Church. It is true that the publication and circulation of Tracts has not been wholly neglected by us for the last sixteen years.

An Editor of Tracts has been periodically appointed by the General Conference; and Tracts have been constantly printed and sold by the Book Agents. It is a circumstance worthy of attention, that while this branch of the Book-Room business has been conducted solely on business principles, our Agents have habitually sold their Tracts at lower rates than the American Tract Society, an institution which annually receives many thousands of dollars in donations to aid its publication schemes.

During the last few years considerable improvements have been made in our list of Tracts, and in their classification and sale in packages; but there has been no fund to be expended in the production of new Tracts—otherwise the list might have been enlarged and improved still more. For the present state of our Tract publications, you are referred to the publishers' catalogues.

Although we may concede that good has been done, and will continue to be done, by our present mode of conducting this department of our operations, the question arises whether vastly more good might not be done by the organization of a Church Tract Society, specially designed to circulate religious reading matter, throughout the wide field of our labours and responsibilities.

We have now, as a Church, our Missionary Society and our Sunday-School Union, which, as representing two great and general interests, are conceded to be entitled to the support of all our people.

Is not the Tract enterprise as general in its character, and as closely identified with the objects of a Christian Church? Is it possible for us indeed to maintain our position, as a large and growing branch of the Church of Christ, at the present age of the world, without having an organized and well-supported Tract Society?

I will mention some special reasons why a Tract organization is called for, at the present time, in connexion with our Church:—

1. There are numerous cases in which our Methodist Tracts, in the English language, are really needed for gratuitous distribution; for example, in hospitals, in prisons, in alms-houses, in vessels going to sea, among seamen on shore, in home missions, and in weak appointments both in cities and in country places. Independent of a Tract Fund, the Church has no provision for supplying religious reading in any of these cases, or in circumstances like them. Lacking such a fund, we are prohibited at present from entering many wide doors of influence and usefulness.

2. God in his providence seems to be loudly calling on us for an enlargement of our issues in different foreign languages.

Our brethren in the German work have already felt this call to be so imperative that they have responded to it by forming an organisation among themselves, which has been highly productive of good.

Especially since we have entered upon the work of Missions in German Europe, has the call for Tracts in the German language increased and become urgent. So severely has it pressed upon brother Jacoby at Bremen, that he has personally sent circulars to most of the conferences asking for aid in this particular work.

This case will illustrate others. There is also at this moment a pressing providential call for our Tracts in the Swedish and Danish languages, the latter being common to Danes and Norwegians. For lack of them, immense numbers of foreign immigrants, who, with their children, are to form our future population, are to a great degree neglected and suffered to retain prejudices against us and against the truth, which will prove serious obstacles in the way of their salvation; when, at a trifling expense, they might be put in possession of proper explanations of our doctrines and measures, as well as of vital religious truths.

Tracts are wanted, moreover, in the French language, in several missions we are now sustaining; also in the Spanish language, for our missions in New-Mexico, California and Buenos Ayres; while in China our brethren already need Christian Tracts in Chinese, as an essential agency to the accomplishment of their missionary work.

3. Having now specified several important fields, and no less than seven different languages in which our tracts are needed, I will remark that our general missionary interests demand a Tract organization to co-operate with the Missionary Society.

A wise division of labour is as essential to success in the promotion of Christianity, as in the prosecution of worldly business. It would be possible to include all our various evangelical movements in one general society, and thus, under one organization, to send out and support missionaries, and to print Bibles, Sunday-school books and Tracts for their use; but experience has shown that it is at once more convenient and more advantageous to have this complicated labour so divided that missionary societies shall support missionaries, Bible societies print Bibles, Sunday-school societies Sunday-school books, and Tract societies furnish and circulate tracts.

Among us now, good provisions are made for each of these departments except that of Tracts; and why should that be longer neglected?

4. Without attempting to enumerate all the wants that are to be supplied, and all the advantages that might be gained by the organization suggested, I may allude to the fact that some of the most prolific book-making establishments in the world commenced their career as mere Tract societies.

Reference is made in particular to the Religious Tract Society of London, and to the American Tract Society. In the constitution of the latter not a word is said about bound volumes; and yet what that society denominates the VOLUME ENTERPRISE, has sprung up in connexion with its Tract operations, and has become a movement of no small significance.

Without entering into any detail of plans, it is safe to suppose that a proper organization among us will, under judicious management, progress from small beginnings to grand results. In addition to what has been said about Tracts merely, it may become a powerful auxiliary in the diffusion of our VOLUME LITERATURE.

Should these views be deemed by you weighty and just, the question will immediately arise, What ought to be done—what steps shall be taken?

It will be obvious to all, that the General Conference is the only proper body to organize such an institution as seems to be urgently called for. To your wisdom, therefore, may safely be intrusted the task of planning and organizing a Tract Society adapted to the wants of the Church and to the exigencies of the present times.

Hoping that such a society may soon be instituted and placed in active operation, as the result of your deliberations on this subject,

I subscribe myself, sincerely and respectfully,

Your brother in Christ,

DANIEL P. KIDDER, Editor of Tracts.

NEW-YORK, April 23, 1852.

M.—REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE ON SABBATH SCHOOLS AND TRACTS.
NO. I.

WHEREAS the Bishops in their Address have submitted to the General Conference the propriety of a new Tract organization, that may awaken a livelier interest and give more activity to our operations in this department; and whereas several Annual Conferences have passed resolutions expressing a similar desire; and whereas the same is asked for at length in a memorial of the Editor of Tracts,—your committee, after due consideration, recommend the organization of a Tract Society of the Methodist Episcopal Church, with the following Constitution:—

Art. 1. This association shall be denominated the Tract Society of the Methodist Episcopal Church.

Art. 2. Its object shall be to diffuse religious knowledge, by the circulation of the publications of the Methodist Episcopal Church, in the English and other languages, in our own and foreign countries.

Art. 3. Any person paying to this society one dollar per year, shall be a member of the same; and the payment of ten dollars at one time, shall constitute a member for life; and the payment of twenty-five dollars at one time, shall constitute a director for life.

Art. 4. Persons constituted life-members by the payment of ten dollars, not designated for any special object, shall be entitled to receive tracts to the value of fifty cents each year; and life-directors, to the value of two dollars each year: or, if they prefer, they may receive tracts at any one time to the amount of half the sum paid. All members and directors are also entitled to vote at the annual meetings of the society.

Art. 5. The annual meetings of the society shall be held during the second or third week of December. A public anniversary shall also be held each year, at such time and place as the Board of Managers shall determine.

Art. 6. The Bishops of the Methodist Episcopal Church shall be Presidents of this Society in the order of their seniority. A Vice-President may be appointed by each Annual Conference. There shall be appointed by the General Conference a Corresponding Secretary for this society, who shall be the Editor of the Tracts. The other officers of this society shall be a Recording Secretary, a Treasurer, and two elected Vice-Presidents, who shall severally be appointed by the Board of Managers.

Art. 7. The funds of this society shall be expended under the direction of the Board of Managers in payment of the necessary expenses of the institution, and in the promotion of its general objects. In all cases of gratuitous aid, books and tracts shall be given instead of money, unless the latter is strictly necessary to the accomplishment of a constitutional object.

Art. 8. The Board of Managers shall have power to enact their own by-laws, to fill vacancies in the board occurring during the year, to appoint honorary members, to provide for the translation and publication of Tracts, to print and circulate appeals to the Church in behalf of the benevolent objects of the society, to raise and disburse funds for those objects, and to establish committees of finance and appropriations wherever necessary.

Art. 9. Each Annual Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church may form a Conference Tract Society auxiliary to this, with power to adopt such measures as in the judgment of said Conference are best calculated to promote the objects of this association, and to form sub-auxiliaries in its several circuits and stations. The presidents of the Conference Auxiliaries shall be vice-presidents of this society.

Art. 10. This Constitution cannot be altered except by the General Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, on the recommendation of the society at a meeting called for that purpose after, at least, one month's public notice; or by the society, on the recommendation of the General Conference.

In conformity with the provisions and spirit of the foregoing Constitution, your committee submit the following resolutions:—

1. There shall be at New-York an Editor of the Monthly Magazine and of the Tracts, who shall also be the Corresponding Secretary of our Tract Society.

The Editor of Tracts shall have the charge of the publication of Tracts in our own and foreign languages; and it shall be his duty to make arrangements with the Book Agents for the cheap publication of any book or books specially adapted to the promotion of experimental and practical religion.

As Corresponding Secretary of the Tract Society, it shall be his duty to raise funds in behalf of the society, to promote the formation of Conference and other auxiliaries, and to co-operate with the auxiliary societies, and to make all proper efforts for the general diffusion of religious reading.

2. That we recommend our people everywhere to form Tract Societies auxiliary to the Tract Society of the Methodist Episcopal Church.

3. That it shall be the duty of preachers in charge to make annually, in their several congregations, collections in behalf of the Tract Society of the Methodist Episcopal Church.

N.—PASTORAL ADDRESS OF THE GENERAL CONFERENCE TO THE MEMBERS OF THE METHODIST EPISCOPAL CHURCH. 1852.

DEARLY BELOVED BRETHREN,—The circumstances in which we address you, furnish abundant motives for gratitude to Almighty God, and for encouragement in the prosecution of the duties we owe to him and our fellow-men. The principal reasons for encouragement may be briefly noticed, in view of calling forth expressions of thankfulness from all hearts, as well as to induce all to put forth their continued and ever-increased exertions that the interests of religion may be greatly advanced in future beyond their present standard and limits.

Since the last General Conference, there has been an increase of 90,246 members in the Church. And the increase has been progressive, as the first of the four previous years showed an increase of only seven thousand in round numbers; in the second year it was twenty-three thousand; in the third it was twenty-seven thousand; and in the last year it amounted to thirty-two thousand. As nearly, too, as can be ascertained, the number of conversions exceeded the additions. And it is humbly believed that growth in grace, as a general thing, has been in encouraging proportion to the accessions to the Church.

We acknowledge, with profound gratitude to God, the high degree of prosperity with which the Church has been favoured in the Sunday-school cause. At present there are 93,561 officers and teachers, and 473,311 scholars in our Sabbath-schools, and 1,260,558 volumes in the libraries. The increase is encouragingly progressive. The last five years present an increase of 32,741 officers and teachers, of 152,681 scholars, of 652,218 volumes in libraries. The number of conversions, during these five years, has been 47,327. Here, too, there is progression; for the five years present, respectively, in round thousands, the following steps of progress, viz.: four thousand—eight thousand—nine thousand—eleven thousand—and fourteen thousand. The number of teachers has been in proportion to the increase of scholars. Surely the Church has much encouragement to persevere in the cause of Sunday-school instruction.

The last four years have furnished an increase of missionary contributions very encouraging. The past year presents an advance of annual income of about sixty thousand dollars over the year 1848, and the next year's appropriation is put down at $200,000, which the Church, we are persuaded, will cordially meet. When we look back on the progress of the last thirty years, the advance is encouraging. And if we may calculate on the ability of our people, and the increasing spirit of missions among them, we must conclude that the day is not far off, when a million of dollars will be our annual contribution; and this again to be increased indefinitely, to any amount needed in spreading the gospel news. Nor do we see a prospect that there will be any lack of missionaries, while the missionary spirit pervades the Church. The spirit that increases the benevolence of the Church, will also thrust out more labourers into the harvest.

The condition of our literary institutions is truly prosperous, though much yet remains to be accomplished, to place them in such a state as to secure permanency and proper efficiency. We would exhort all our brethren to continue their patronage and even increase their liberality, that our educational department may suffer no loss. Nay, that it may be extended and made much more effective than it now is; especially in diffusing more of the religious element, so as to imbue fully the literary with the religious sentiment and even feeling. While, therefore, we have much prosperity; and though this prosperity is general, rather than local or in reference to some things; there are grounds for fear lest the existing evils may gradually undermine and subvert the good, or greatly mar it. There is much need to cultivate a spirit of earnest, daily, prayerful self-examination.

In pursuance of our practical admonitions, we deem it an imperative duty to warn you against that prevailing love of mammon, and its manifold gratifications, to which you are exposed from so many quarters. St. John, in admonishing "little children," "young men," and "fathers," exhorts them, "Love not the world, neither the things that are in the world. If any man love the world, the love of the Father is not in him." If such admonitions were necessary in the days of the apostles, they are more so at the present time. "Labour not to be rich; cease from thine own wisdom." "He that maketh haste to be rich shall not be innocent." "An inheritance may be gotten hastily at the beginning; but the end thereof shall not be blessed." "They that will be rich fall into temptation and a snare, and into many foolish and hurtful lusts, which drown men in destruction and perdition. For the love of money is the root of all evil; which, while some have coveted after, they have erred from the faith and pierced themselves through with many sorrows." The example of Mr. Wesley is an admirable counteraction to inordinate love of the world. While, therefore, we gain all we can, and save all we can, let us give all we can, in supporting all the benevolent institutions of the Church, so as to render them much more efficient than they are, as well as to save ourselves and our children from the curse of ill-detained property due to God, and therefore incurring the sin of sacrilege in appropriating to ourselves what we owe to God or his cause.

Allow us, dear brethren, earnestly to urge the avoidance of evil surmings, strife, contention; and the cultivation of mutual love. "Endeavour to keep the unity of the Spirit in the bond of peace." "Now I beseech you, brethren," says St. Paul, "mark them which cause divisions, and contentions, contrary to the doctrine which ye have learned, and avoid them." Forbearance and forgiveness are the great counteracting influences operating against strife. "Forgiving one another, if any man have a quarrel against any."

It is proper for us to place you on your guard in reference to two injurious extremes in church-building. Very costly edifices lay heavy taxes on our pecuniary resources, and we think do not tend to edification or godliness, but rather gender pride. When durable material, decency, sufficient space, due proportions, convenience, air, light, &c., are secured, all beyond these seem to be either superfluous or of doubtful character. The extra expenses appropriated in erecting churches for the destitute, would be a better outlay than mere ornament. On the other hand, parsimony in building churches, when convenience, good location, and sufficient room, are sacrificed, is neither praiseworthy nor profitable. We would entreat you, dear brethren, to avoid either extreme; and while you expend liberally for the Lord, consider that he doth not delight in gorgeous temples built with hands, but in the spread of truth among the masses, especially the poor and those who are neglected. In this let your moderation be known unto all men.

We would also exhort you, beloved brethren, to observe the proper and Scriptural modes of conducting public worship according to our excellent forms. Congregations should unite in praising God, as with one voice. The proper use of choirs or leaders in singing, is to aid the congregation to sing, and not to engross it entirely, or principally, to themselves. In prayer, too, the Scriptural mode of kneeling cannot be replaced by sitting, without presenting a sad unfitness between the form and the end in view, viz., ardent, agonizing prayer and supplication. We entreat all to consider these things, and endeavour to remedy these evils where they exist, in the spread of love and kindness, avoiding all severity and unkindness.

The great end in Christian attainment, is "holiness to the Lord." The final aim of Wesley and his associates was to "raise up a holy people," and to "spread holiness through these lands." Indeed, to accomplish this we have the promises of the Father, the redemption of the Son, and the operations of the Spirit. And the crowning work of the Spirit of holiness is to sanctify believers wholly—their whole spirit, soul, and body—and to preserve them blameless until death. We would therefore exhort you, dear brethren, that the doctrine of entire sanctification, or entire holiness, be not confined to our standards; but that it may be a matter of experience in our hearts, and may be constantly practised in our lives. We advise you, however, in speaking or writing of holiness, to follow the well-sustained views, and even the phraseology employed in the writings of Wesley and Fletcher, which are not superseded by the more recent writers on this subject. Avoid both new theories, new expressions, and new measures on this subject, and adhere closely to the ancient landmarks.

While we would exhort you to the pursuit of all useful knowledge, we would especially urge you to acquire religious knowledge. Especially, and first of all, read, learn, and inwardly digest the word of God. "These words," said Moses, "which I command thee this day, shall be in thy heart." Let the word of God be read daily, and let it be the great subject of meditation by day and by night. Let the books issuing from our own presses be preferred to all others; and let our standard writers, especially, be familiar to all, whether the topics be doctrines, morals, history, Church institutions, etc. May we not respectfully suggest to all our people, whether steps could not be taken in each congregation, that every family, whether Church-members, or of our congregations, could be supplied constantly with one of our weekly papers, a copy of the Missionary Advocate, and a copy of the Sunday-School Advocate? Could not steps be taken by the more wealthy to supply those who cannot meet the expense with these invaluable papers?

We would repeat our exhortation of 1848 and 1840, in reference to the instruction of children by their parents. Let our excellent catechism be used in the family for this purpose. The Sabbath school, however excellent, cannot make up for the loss of parental instruction. Remember the command of God to his ancient Church, "And ye shall teach them [the words of God] to your children; speaking of them when thou sittest in thy house, and when thou walkest by the way; when thou liest down, and when thou risest up."

Among the duties obligatory on us as Methodists, is that of attending punctually and constantly to class-meetings. Remissness here has ever been observed among us as the sure forerunner of spiritual decay, or the certain mark of deficient spiritual feeling and Christian experience. We would earnestly entreat our brethren everywhere, "not to forsake the assembling of yourselves together," as members of classes; but on the other hand to maintain by your individual practice, and your influence, the observance of this leading means of grace, coeval with our existence as a people. And while we would not claim for the mere formalities of our class-meetings a formal divine authority, we must claim divine authority for the leading objects promoted by them. Among these we would mention religious experience, growth in grace, wholesome supervision, Christian discipline, to say nothing of the other important ends secured by these meetings.

Remember the myriads of emigrants who are constantly crowding to our country. Let not their differences in language, manners, religion, or condition in life, throw us at a distance from them. They and their children are destined to become component parts of this great country in common with us and our children. And such as they are, and will be, such, in some degree, this rising republic, both religiously and politically, is also destined to be. Let their ignorance be removed by the diffusion of knowledge; let their vices be corrected by the influence of our better example; let their religious errors be counteracted by our Bibles, and religious instruction and pious conduct. To our Church there is likely to be opened, through their instrumentality, access to all nations on earth. Our missions to Germany may be considered no other than specimens of what will shortly occur in reference to Swedes, Norwegians, Italians, the Chinese, Spaniards, and others. Thus we have even now a pentecost in our midst; for we hear them in their several languages uttering the wonderful works of the Lord.

The subject of lay delegation was before the Conference for consideration. A very respectable convention, which met in Philadelphia last March, presented a petition in its favour. These brethren repudiate all disaffection to the Church, and assume no antagonism to the itinerancy or the episcopacy. Indeed their subsequent conduct declares that they are as much the friends and supporters of the Church as those who differ from them. On the fifth instant, another lay convention met in Philadelphia, and memorialized the General Conference, deprecating the changes that the first convention asked, or any other changes. Petitions from various parts of the country, mostly against, and some for, the changes, were presented to Conference. The whole subject was referred to an able committee, whose report was adopted and published. It appears that much the greater portion of our Church are averse to any such changes as are asked, believing they would not be for the better, but rather for the worse. They also fear that though the proposed changes were allowable, they would prepare the way for injurious innovations. Indeed it is doubted whether any other system has ever secured the co-operation of the laity with the ministry more efficiently than our own. There is a wide field for activity presented in the various offices and agencies of the Church, and this sphere is constantly widening. We rejoice to learn that, in regard to our great fundamental principles as a whole, there is but one voice among all our thousands, and that voice is, "Let the aggressive character of Methodism be sustained in maintaining its two great pillars—an efficient itinerancy and an untrammelled general superintendency. And the great unanimity with which this is held, furnishes a guarantee of future peace and harmony.

We would conclude, dear brethren, this our address to you, by adopting the following exhortation and prayer of St. Paul, in his First Epistle to the Thessalonians, "And be at peace among yourselves. Now we exhort you, brethren, warn them that are unruly, comfort the feeble-minded, support the weak, be patient toward all men. See that none render evil for evil unto any man; but ever follow that which is good, both among yourselves and to all men. Rejoice evermore. Pray without ceasing. In everything give thanks: for this is the will of God in Christ Jesus concerning you. Quench not the Spirit. Despise not prophesyings. Prove all things; hold fast that which is good. Abstain from all appearance of evil. And the very God of peace sanctify you wholly; and I pray God your whole spirit, and soul, and body be preserved blameless unto the coming of our Lord Jesus Christ. Faithful is he that calleth you, who also will do it. Brethren, pray for us. The grace of our Lord Jesus Christ be with you. Amen."

O.—REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE ON TEMPERANCE, TO THE GENERAL CONFERENCE ASSEMBLED IN BOSTON. 1852.

THE Committee to whom was committed so much of the Episcopal Address as relates to the subject of Temperance, beg leave to present the following Report:—

The position of the Methodist Episcopal Church, in relation to the cause of Temperance, is well understood, and needs not now to be particularly defined. By the restoration of Mr. Wesley's rule, the power of Church discipline has, to its fullest allowable extent, been brought to the aid of this cause; thus placing it, so far as our Church is concerned, upon a high and impregnable basis. In the opinion of your committee, the Church needs no additional rules upon the subject. But a faithful supervision of the interests of her membership does not discharge her whole duty. We cannot be indifferent to the struggle that is going on around us. The cause has reached a deeply-interesting stage of progress. For some time it has been stationary, if not retrogressive. There was a comparative relaxation of effort among its decided friends. They stood still, as if awaiting the advent of some new principle, the introduction of some new Temperance dispensation. A brighter day has dawned; the dispirited hosts of Temperance have rallied for a decisive conflict. The persuasive influences of the pulpit and the press, and the more strenuous influences of Church discipline, have been recently reinforced by several prohibitory laws passed by the legislatures of several States. Other legislatures will, we doubt not, sooner or later, follow their example. We do not suppose that the most effectual prohibitory measures will put a full end to intemperance. Men will do wrong in despite of law. Sin is the transgression of the law. But these measures will divest the evil of legal protection, and remove temptation from thousands, and promote, upon a large scale, the temporal prosperity, the domestic comfort, and, above all, the spiritual salvation of our fellow-citizens. Deeming a lengthened and elaborate report unnecessary, your committee submit the following resolutions:—

1. Resolved, That the use of intoxicating liquors, to any extent, as a beverage, is deeply to be deplored and deprecated, as tending to the forming and maturing of pernicious habits, and leading, by natural consequence, to diversified crime, wide-spread misery, and the final ruin of vast multitudes for whom Christ died.

2. Resolved, That we greatly rejoice in the recent manifestations of public sentiment upon this subject; and especially, that God is putting it into the hearts of civil rulers to interpose the authority of the State for the protection of society against what we hold to be an enormous social wrong—the manufacture and sale of intoxicating drinks.

3. Resolved, That the encouraging aspects of this great cause present no just occasion for relaxation of effort on the part of its friends, but, on the contrary, call upon us to renew our diligence, in the use of all proper means to spread and consummate those plans so obviously traceable to a propitious Providence, and so richly fraught with the blessings of peace and good-will to men.

4. Resolved, That we recommend the calm, judicious, but firm and impartial enforcement of our excellent disciplinary rules upon this subject.

P.—REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE ON TEMPORAL ECONOMY. 1852.

THE Committee to whom was referred the Report on Temporal Economy beg leave to say, that after due consideration they deem it inexpedient to make any alterations in our Discipline on this subject. Our present system of finance has this advantage over any other that could be devised—it is generally understood; and having assumed different constitutional modifications, in different places, it is gradually improving our finances throughout the connexion.

To accommodate the views of many brethren, however, the committee have agreed to report in favour of two amendments proposed in the Report, and advocated by several speakers in this Conference. The first provides for our bishops drawing their whole allowance directly from the Book Concern; the other authorizes Annual Conferences to decide to what claimants their funds shall be appropriated. They accordingly present the following resolutions for adoption:—

1. Resolved, That the Discipline, part iii, chapter 3, § 1, question 1, answer 3, be so altered as to read: "Each Annual Conference shall pay its proportionate part towards the allowance of the widows and orphans of bishops." Also that answer 4, of the same section, be amended by the addition of these words: "And also for the amount of their quarterage and travelling expenses." Making the fourth answer to read: "Each Annual Conference, in which a bishop or bishops may reside, shall annually appoint a committee of three or more, whose duty it shall be to estimate the amount necessary to furnish a house, fuel, and table-expenses for said bishop or bishops, subject to the action of the Conference; and they are authorized to draw on the funds of the Book Concern for said amount, and also for the amount of their quarterage and travelling expenses."

2. Resolved, That the Discipline, part iii, chapter 3, paragraph 5, page 174, be amended so as to read thus, beginning on the second line from the top: "Out of the moneys so collected and brought to the respective Annual Conferences, let the various allowances agreed upon in the second section be made up; but each Annual Conference shall have full power to determine, by a vote of two-thirds of all its members present and voting, who among the superannuated and supernumerary preachers, and the widows and orphans of deceased preachers, belonging to the Conference, shall be claimants on the said Conference, and what amount each claimant shall receive from year to year."

(Signed,)

JAMES PORTER, Chairman.

Q.—REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE ON EDUCATION.

IN surveying the entire educational field of the Methodist Episcopal Church, there are abundant grounds for congratulation and encouragement. Methodism has not had many years in which to devote herself to the work of education; but the zeal and success which has characterized her efforts, have fully proved that in the intellectual as well as in the spiritual field Methodism is in sober earnest. Our seminaries and colleges have sprung up with great rapidity under our hands. The graduates of the institutions are increasing in numbers; the standard of scientific, classical, and Biblical learning is rising; and the noble work of completing the union of science and religion is advancing to a consummation. The Church is receiving the compensation for her care in training her sons, by seeing many of the choicest of them falling into the ranks of the ministry. They are not only manning our literary faculties, but braving the toil of the itinerancy at home, or cheerfully encountering labours and martyrdoms in the fields of foreign missions. And while this youthful band are thus entering into your labours with the same zeal and greater advantages than their predecessors, no class entertains a higher gratitude for the advantages your care has provided for them,—none contemplates the scenes and events of our past history with warmer interest,—and none feels a deeper attachment to the doctrines and institutions of our Church.

Our youth are the richest capital of the Church. On no part of our work can labour and expenditure be lavished with a surer or richer return. Our fathers were skilful and faithful in drawing out the talent and promise of Methodism; and hence our ministry, it is believed, is pre-eminent for its amount of effective talent. The very schools and colleges we have established must inevitably raise the intellectual demands of our laity; and the Church will fail of its duty if it do not supply them, as far as possible, with the means of meeting that demand.

We, therefore, recognise the necessity of a general effort to impress upon the minds of our people the value of our system of college education,—to induce all the youth of our Church, where means and opportunity will allow it, to avail themselves of the training which the colleges afford.

The ministry and the Church are especially called upon to use every exertion to rescue the flower of our young men from the selfish and material spirit of our times. Such are the pecuniary and commercial excitements of the day,—so rife is the spirit of fortune-seeking and money-getting,—that it is to be feared, not only that many an intellectual talent is buried in the earth, but that many who are or might be “called of God,” really obey the voice of Mammon. Our work is not done when we have constructed a system of academies, and crowned them with colleges. We are not only to bring these advantages within reach of our young men, but we are to bring our young men into the actual use of these advantages. We must take hold of our young men, and recall them to a sense of duty to the Church and to God; they must be directed to the great importance of intellectual and moral cultivation; and if, under proper inquiry, they give proof of being moved by the Holy Ghost, and inspired by the sense of duty, let them assume the sacred calling; and we may hope thus to possess a ministry for the times. If, however, the intimations of Providence require their occupying a secular position, they will bless the Church scarcely less by filling the ranks of a cultivated Christian laity.

We are highly pleased to observe the increasing interest and efforts of our people for the education of females. The number of institutions exclusively devoted to this purpose, with those in which both sexes are educated together, is an encouraging indication that this subject is more justly appreciated, and its importance more deeply felt.

Upon examination it will be found, we think, that our Church is not behind other denominations in this excellent work.

Yet there is demand for still more strenuous exertions. Let not this subject be lost sight of by our preachers and people; but let enlightened and vigorous efforts be put forth to provide as numerous and as great advantages for the mental culture of females as males, that both our sons and daughters may be furnished with a Christian education of a high order.

There has been laid before the committee a letter from one of our most eminent scholars—Professor A. W. Smith, of Middletown—upon a subject worthy our attention. We present the following extracts, in the professor's own words:—

“I have thought it very important that some measures should be taken to attract the attention of our people to the ‘Annual Concert of Prayer’ for colleges, and secure, if possible, an observance of the day by the entire Church. It is, I believe, very generally observed in most other evangelical Churches, but to a very limited extent, I suspect, in our Church. The direct influence of even a partial and limited observance of the day, I have witnessed too often to question the wisdom and power of the custom; and could the prayers of the whole evangelical Church be enlisted simultaneously in behalf of the unconverted in our colleges and academies, the moral power of the fact would be irresistible. Even as it has been, the manifest concern and uneasiness of the godless portion of our students at that period, is evidence of their faith in the power of prayer; and, in many instances, the commencement of revivals, in our eastern colleges at least, dates at the period of this concert.”

To the above remarks of this respected Christian layman, we may add that it is deeply to be regretted that our academies and colleges are so seldom made the subjects of prayer, especially in our Sabbath ministrations. We pray you, brethren, embrace this most momentous interest in your hearts and your prayers, and lead the Church into earnest supplication for our young men, and for those institutions by which the higher elements of their characters are to be shaped. If you wish piety to be enlightened by learning, and learning to be sanctified by piety, consecrate these to God. Then will the divine Spirit shower still more glorious baptisms upon them; and a noble generation of Christian scholars and Christian ministers will arise, thankful to us for giving them the means of excelling ourselves.

At the last General Conference there were propounded to the heads of all our literary institutions eleven queries in regard to their condition and history, and answers were requested. This committee, immediately after their appointment, at the present session, took such measures as were in their power to procure the answers, and the results of their imperfect returns are presented in the following tabular view. It is to be hoped that the same plan will be continued from session to session, so that a systematic and progressive view of our educational interests may be in permanent possession of the Church.

Resolved, That it be recommended to all our congregations to observe the "annual concert of prayer for colleges," in accordance with the custom of other evangelical Churches; and that our ministry are earnestly requested to make our literary institutions a prominent subject of prayer in their Sabbath ministrations.

Resolved, That it be recommended to all our ministry to preach at least one sermon annually on the subject of education.

Resolved, That the heads of our colleges and other literary institutions are specially requested to report for the next General Conference a statement of their condition, suitable to be embraced in a tabular view similar to that presented in this report.

R.—REPORT ON THE REVISION OF THE CATECHISMS.

To the General Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, assembled at Boston, May, 1852.

FATHERS AND BRETHREN,—The undersigned, the Editor of Sunday-school publications by appointment of the General Conference of 1848, found himself instructed by a resolution of that body, which may be referred to on page 113 of the printed Journal, in the following words, to wit :—

“ Resolved, That our standard Catechisms be revised by the Editor of our Sunday-School Books, under the supervision of the Book Committee at New-York.”

In pursuance of the duty enjoined by the above resolution, the undersigned, at the earliest opportunity, solicited the instruction of the Book Committee as to the best mode of procedure. The Book Committee, after due deliberation, resolved to nominate a “Committee on the Catechism,” consisting of Bishop Hedding, Rev. Dr. Olin, Rev. Dr. Bangs and Rev. Dr. Holdich; who, having been severally notified of their appointment, consented to serve on the committee.

After repeated notices, it was found impracticable for this committee to hold a session of sufficient length to accomplish the proposed work of revision in joint-meeting. The Editor was, therefore, instructed to bring the work to a state of forwardness, and then submit it to the assembled committee. The assigned task was found to be one of no little difficulty and labour, requiring entire abstraction from all other engagements, and constant reference to numerous catechisms, text-books of divinity, &c., &c. Amid the pressing routine and especial urgency of his official duties for the last four years, it has only been possible for your Sunday-School Editor, by efforts repeated at several different periods, to secure a sufficient amount of undivided time for the proper accomplishment of the desired revision. Fortunately for himself and the Church, Rev. Dr. M’Clintock, Editor of the Quarterly Review, consented, on invitation, to aid in the practical labour proposed. This labour was performed in the most patient and careful manner, occupying an amount of time which few would conjecture from the dimensions of the work produced.

The primary labour having been thus completed, the result was submitted to the entire committee, and analyzed, word by word, in a protracted examination; at the conclusion of which the following certificate was furnished :—

“ The undersigned, appointed by the Book Committee to examine the Catechism to be revised according to the vote of the last General Conference by the Editor of Sunday-School Books, hereby report that we have, to the best of our ability, performed the duty assigned us. The manuscript, submitted by the Editor of Sunday-School Books, was carefully considered, and after mature reflection we do not hesitate to approve of it, and recommend it for general use in the Methodist Episcopal Church.

“ E. HEDDING, S. OLIN,
N. BANGS, J. HOLDICH.

“ NEW-YORK, April 18, 1851.”

This certificate applied to Catechism No. 1, which is the text or basis used in each number of the series. Having thus briefly stated the successive steps by which the Catechisms now submitted for the sanction of the General Conference have been prepared, it is next in order to explain the plan and character of the Catechisms themselves.

The Catechisms heretofore in use among us were those of the Wesleyan Methodists of Great Britain, compiled and published by order of the British Conference. They were never adopted officially by the Methodist Episcopal Church, but simply republished and sold at our Book Concern, in the absence of any similar publication of our own.

They consisted of three numbers: the first "for children of tender years;" the second "for children of seven years and upwards;" the third, on the evidences of Christianity and the truth of the Holy Scriptures, "for the use of young persons."

Numbers 1 and 2 of this series were the only ones extensively used in our Sunday schools, No. 3 being regarded as too abstruse and cumbersome. One of the difficulties attaching itself to this series of catechisms grew out of the difference between the arrangement and language of the several numbers, by which the labour of instruction and acquirement was unnecessarily increased.

This consideration induced many to make no use of No. 1. No. 2, therefore, was the principal, if not the only Catechism generally and practically adopted in our Church. That Catechism is known to have been prepared by the Rev. Richard Watson at the request of the British Conference.

While it has been uniformly conceded that said Catechism possesses the excellence of presenting a fair statement of our theological views, it has long been the opinion of numbers among us, both ministers and people, that it lacks many qualities essential to the objects of catechetical instruction throughout our extended communion.

Instead of the necessary brevity and directness, many of its answers are long and complicated. Instead of stating truth in the simplest words, many of its terms are technical, and hard to be understood and memorized by children.

Besides, a critical examination shows that the work, as a whole, is a paraphrase of the Westminster Catechism, with an infusion of Arminian theology.

It was evident, therefore, that what was called for by the order of the General Conference was no mere verbal revision, no mere pruning of words and dilution of terms; but a complete reconstruction of the Catechism, adapted to the times and country in which we live. Such a reconstruction has been made upon a systematic and comprehensive plan, with scrupulous care to give short answers in simple words, and yet to express "the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth."

A comparison of this new Catechism with all other existing Catechisms, will show that while no one has been copied, yet that the chief excellences of all have been combined and harmonized under the great advantages growing out of the practical experience and demonstrations of the Sunday-school system for the last quarter of a century.

The first characteristic of the plan adopted is to have ONE CATECHISM—so that what is learned in childhood may be remembered through life, and not displaced from the mind by succeeding lessons, however amplified.

The second distinguishing feature of the present plan is to have the Church Catechism published in different forms in connexion with an expansive series of instructions rising in gradation and enlarging in correspondence with the years and capacities of the pupils. No. 1 is the simple Catechism. No. 2 is the same Catechism proved and illustrated by Scripture. No. 3 is the Catechism accompanied by a summary of its sections, an analysis of its doctrines, an explanation of terms, and an addition of sundry important questions and answers.

This plan will admit of indefinite enlargement; and although it is believed that the present series will answer all necessary catechetical purposes for our Sunday schools, youth and families, yet it may be in place to express the hope that in due time we shall have, as a Church and Conference Text-Book, a complete and systematic body of divinity written upon American soil and arranged upon this basis. Respecting the publication of the new Catechism, it will be observed that the General Conference resolution under which it has been prepared makes no provision. Some have hence inferred, that the work, having been completed, should have been published and brought into use long ago. Others have inferred that the revised work should be reported as it now is to the General Conference; and if approved, published under its explicit sanction. Without discussing the proprieties of the case, it may be sufficient to say that in all the circumstances, the latter course has been the only feasible one. That course having been adopted, the text of the revised Catechisms is herewith submitted to the General Conference to be examined, improved, or rejected at your discretion.

Should the thorough examination of a judicious committee of this body result in its approval, and should the General Conference then officially order its publication, it will go forth to the Church with the highest possible sanctions, and not fail to secure the universal use and confidence of our people. In a few weeks it may be printed and diffused to the extremities of our Zion. On the supposition that such will be the result, it is hoped that active measures will be employed to secure a more general and thorough use of our Catechisms both in our churches, our Sunday schools and our families.

It is believed that with the advantages of the new Catechisms the duty of studying Scripture truth in a systematic manner may become a delight; still, method, effort and perseverance will be required, as indispensable means of securing the desired results.

Of the vast importance of catechetical instruction, as a means of establishing and extending the Church of God, it would be superfluous here to speak. That such instruction has been, from various causes, too much neglected among us, hitherto, is a painful fact which it becomes us diligently to remedy in future.

With these brief explanations and suggestions the undersigned desires respectfully to surrender the responsibility intrusted to him with reference to the Catechisms, hoping that his labours and those of the distinguished brethren associated with him (two of whom have already passed from labour to reward) will not have been in vain.

Editor of Sunday-School Publications.

S.—MEMORIAL OF THE SUNDAY-SCHOOL UNION OF THE METHODIST EPISCOPAL CHURCH TO THE GENERAL CONFERENCE OF 1852.

DEAR FATHERS AND BRETHREN,—Your quadrennial assemblage gives the Board of Managers of the Sunday-School Union another opportunity of laying before you some statements respecting the recent progress and the present condition of the Sunday-school enterprise in our Church. It is with unfeigned gratitude to God that we are enabled to present, as the aggregate of our official statistics, at the end of 1851, the following numbers:—

Sunday schools, 8,706; officers and teachers, 93,561; scholars, 473,311; volumes in library, 1,260,558; Bible classes, 6,034; scholars in infant classes, 38,641; expenses of schools the past year, $66,124; amount raised for Sunday-School Union, $6,568; conversions in 1851, 14,527.

The following is our net increase during the last four years, 1848–52:

	Schools.	Officers and Teachers.	Scholars.	Vols. in Lib.	Total Exp. of Schools.	Total Conversions.
Increase in 1848,	190	5,118	16,802	108,527	46,843	8,240
1849,	576	3,610	35,201	136,407	48,079	9,014
1850,	687	10,966	37,356	149,497	54,587	11,398
1851,	685	8,721	43,722	143,475	66,124	14,557

Total increase, 2,138 28,415 133,081 537,906 $215,633 43,209

Our increase during the preceding four years, 1844–8, was	Schools.	Officers and Teachers.	Scholars.
	2,022	21,401	79,372
Excess of increase during the last four years over the four years preceding,	116	7,014	53,709
Total increase in eight years,	4,160	49,816	212,453

The great and encouraging increase thus stated, is to be attributed under the blessing of God to a more complete development of our system of Sunday-school operations, and to a more general activity throughout the Church in the use of the various means by which Sunday schools are established and promoted. While facilities are rapidly increasing, so also new openings are constantly offering for the spread of this cause. The claims made upon this institution for aid were never more general nor more urgent than now, and the debt upon our treasury was never before so great as at the beginning of this year. Thus God in his providence continues to demand the liberality and the zealous efforts of all who would serve him by endeavours to sustain the cause of Sunday schools.

It is not our purpose in this communication to burden your attention with anything irrelevant to those practical interests which ought to receive your consideration, and, if you judge proper, your official action. As the publication of Sunday-school books belongs to the Book Concern, we refer you to the reports of that institution for information as to the increase of business and the amount of sales in the Sunday-school department.

During the four years preceding 1848 more than three hundred new volumes were added to our Sunday-school libraries. The last four years have witnessed an addition of four hundred more, making the handsome aggregate of one thousand bound volumes now on our Sunday-School Catalogue. During the same last-mentioned period, the Sunday School Advocate has advanced in its circulation from 80,000 to about 100,000. At this point the Board of Managers would respectfully suggest to you to inquire whether in justice to this department the editorship of Tracts should not henceforward be detached from that of Sunday-School Publications.

Eight years ago, when a distinct Sunday-school editorship was first created, there might have been room for doubt, whether a Sunday-School Editor would have enough to do to employ his time. Hence, probably, rather than because there was any special affinity between the two departments, the editorship of Sunday-school publications and tracts was combined into one office.

Our impression is, that the practical experiment of the eight years now closing, has shown that the editorial labours of the Sunday-school department alone are sufficient for one Editor; they probably not being exceeded in amount by any other editorial office in the Church.

But if this were not so, the Sunday-School Editor will always find demands upon his time and efforts as Corresponding Secretary of this Union. Between these two offices there is an obvious and a close affinity, which cannot be overlooked without prejudice to the usefulness of both. We think ourselves safe in presuming that not less than one-fourth of the time of your Sunday-School Editor, during the last eight years, has been employed in the direct service and aid of this Union.

Such services were essential to the organization of a new class of benevolent agencies, and to their introduction to the general notice and support of the Church. Hereafter, precisely the same kind of labours may not be requisite; and yet, with a field of action widening before us, and our responsibilities increasing in every direction, it is obvious that the corresponding secretaryship of this institution will make no inconsiderable drafts upon the time and energies of any incumbent. Hence, as well as in view of the multiplied labours of the editorial department alone, we feel called upon to request of you such a disposition of the Tract department as will relieve the Sunday-School Editor of all responsibilities in that direction.

The Board having attentively considered the state and prospects of the Sunday-school enterprise in our Church, its members are of the opinion that our system of operations is emphatically a good one; useful in its present workings, and destined, with the blessing of God, to produce, still greater and more beneficial results in future.

Nevertheless, when we look at the benevolent or missionary department of our Sunday-school operations, and perceive how small an amount of funds is annually contributed by a Church of 700,000 members to aid in founding new and in succouring destitute Sunday schools, we are impressed with the necessity of some new arrangements or measures for arousing the Church to a larger and a more systematic liberality in behalf of this Union.

In the present state of things, that provision of our Discipline, by which an Annual Conference may appoint an agent to labour within its bounds in behalf of Sunday schools, is practically unavailable for the purposes of this Union.

Agents are rarely appointed under the provision; and when so appointed hitherto, they have usually been ministers superannuated or in feeble health.

Indeed there are good reasons why such appointments should not be made in all the conferences; e. g.:—

1. So large a number is uncalled for.
2. The amount of funds that would be required for their support would be so great as to embarrass the benevolent designs contemplated.
3. Agents acting in some thirty different conferences without a common direction, would not be likely to secure a harmonious result.

Besides, a general conviction prevails among us and our people, that it is better to depend upon the regular ministry in our several charges for Sunday-school labours and influences than to incur the expense and to form the habit of employing special agents to do a general work.

These and other similar considerations have had, and will continue to have, the effect of preventing appointments under the provision alluded to, and our Discipline contains no other provision of any kind for agents or extra labourers in behalf of the Sunday-school cause.

In this state of things we feel called upon to request such a modification of the Discipline as will allow the Bishops to appoint a travelling minister to be an agent of this Union, when, in the combined judgment of the Union and of the Bishops, such an appointment is called for.

We can imagine several cases in which such an appointment would conduce highly to the best interests of the Church. Whereas one conference seldom wishes the services of a Sunday-school agent exclusively within its bounds, it often happens that several conferences would be glad jointly to have the labours of a well-qualified Sunday-school agent.

Supposing, for example, that it should be thought desirable to employ a minister adapted to the work in some four or five of the more remote conferences, let us see what he might do for the direct promotion of the Sunday-school interests of the Church.

He might visit conferences which the Corresponding Secretary could not reach; he might attend Sunday-school conventions, and lecture on the proper qualifications of teachers and the best modes of instruction; he might take collections in behalf of the Union, preach to children, facilitate the introduction of our books and papers, and in a variety of ways arouse new zeal and activity both among our ministers and people respecting every branch of Sunday-school effort.

This work having been done faithfully for a year or two in a given region, and the cause having received a suitable impetus, the agent might return to the regular work of the ministry, or be removed to some other field in which to exert a similar influence.

Our view is, that this class of labours need not be perpetuated, but only used as an introduction of results which would eventually be secured without it, but at a more distant period.

The Union, as a central institution, should be able to determine by its correspondence and observations where and when such labours are most wanted, and in connexion with the Episcopacy to select the proper men to undertake them.

What we request, therefore, is simply the addition of the following words in the Discipline, Part i, chap. iv, § 1, second answer to question third, following the words distributing tracts, fourth line from the end of the answer: "Also, when requested by the Sunday-School Union, to appoint an agent or agents of said Union, to labour under its direction and for the promotion of its interests and objects."

This regulation will, so far as we can see, fully provide for the contingency stated, and at the same time be fully guarded against any misapplication.

If made, it will remain at the discretion of the Board whether to act under it or not; and when action is taken by the Board, it will still be at the option of the Bishop whether to co-operate with it or not.

Thus a joint and harmonious action will be secured in every case; and if, on trial, the privilege granted should be found unnecessary or undesirable, it will fall into disuse.

Signed, in conclusion, by order of the Board,

B. GRIFFEN, President,

WM. TRUBLOW, Recording Sec'y.

T.—REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON CHARTERED FUND.

THE Committee to whom was referred the report of the "Trustees of the Chartered Fund," and the accompanying documents, beg leave to present the following report:—

The Committee have examined the exhibit of receipts and disbursements for the last four years, and find it correct. The exhibit also contains a list of securities, from which it appears that the fund now invested in bonds and mortgages, stocks and other securities, including an uninvested balance of $3,125 23, amounts to $41,635 29. The Committee are satisfied that the trust is managed by the Trustees with skill and fidelity.

The General Conference of 1848, held at Pittsburgh, authorized the Trustees to apply to the Legislature of Pennsylvania for an alteration in their Charter; this they did, and obtained it in February, 1849, a copy of which is sent to the General Conference, which we recommend may be read to the Conference and entered on the Journal. The Trustees ask that the General Conference will, by resolution, ratify and confirm the Amendments to the Charter. The Committee have considered all the suggestions of the Report, and, believing them proper, present to the General Conference the following resolutions for adoption:—

1. Resolved, That the manner in which the Trustees of the Chartered Fund have managed the trust during the last four years, meets the cordial approval of this General Conference.

2. Resolved, by the delegates of the several Annual Conferences, in General Conference assembled, That the Amendments to the Charter of the Chartered Fund of the Methodist Episcopal Church in the United States of America, passed by the Legislature of the State of Pennsylvania, February, 1849—a copy of which has been presented to this General Conference—be, and they are hereby, ratified and confirmed.

3. Resolved, That the action of the Trustees in relation to the legal proceedings which have been commenced against them, as set forth in their report, meets the entire approval of the General Conference.

4. Resolved, That the election of William P. Hacker, by the Trustees of the Chartered Fund, to fill the vacancy occasioned by the resignation of George Ireland, be approved.

5. Resolved, That the thanks of the General Conference be tendered to the Trustees of the Chartered Fund for their care and fidelity in the discharge of their duties.

6. Resolved, That the apportionment of the funds in hand, which is made by the Trustees on the first of January in each year, among the existing Annual Conferences, shall not be altered by the formation of any new Annual Conference or Conferences during the current year; but the amount which any Conference would have drawn, had it remained undivided, shall be equitably divided between the two for the current year, after it shall have been divided.

7. Resolved, That the Secretary be requested to transmit a copy of the foregoing report and resolutions to the Trustees of the Chartered Fund.

T. J. THOMPSON, Chairman.

U.—ADDRESS TO THE BRITISH CONFERENCE.

To the British Conference of the Wesleyan Methodist Church.

REVEREND AND DEAR BRETHREN,—It has caused us deep regret that we have received no communication from your venerable body in reply to our letter, transmitted through Dr. Dixon, who, four years since, so ably and acceptably performed the duty of a representative from your Conference to ours. But, as we cannot believe that your failure to write to us arose from any diminution of fraternal regard on your part, and must attribute it only to accident, we cannot allow the opportunity afforded by our assembly in General Conference to pass without renewing to you our assurances of Christian affection and brotherly sympathy. We rejoice to believe, and we account it one of the distinguishing marks of the divine favour, that Methodists throughout the world are one in heart and feeling; and we wish especially to cherish and preserve the most intimate relations with your body, and with the Wesleyan Methodists of the British Empire, whom you represent. We greet you, then, again, in the name of our common Lord, as brethren beloved.

The want of a letter from you has been, to some extent, supplied by the visit of the Rev. Anson Green, delegate from the Canada Conference of the Wesleyan Methodist Church, whose ample and lucid statements of the affairs of the connexion in Canada have been received by our body with lively satisfaction. Mr. Green also gave us some informal statements with regard to your Conference and Church, and assured us that your affection for us remains unabated.

It is with unfeigned gratitude to the great Head of the Church that we have to report to you continued growth and prosperity within our borders. The last four years of our history have been signally marked with the divine favour. "The Lord hath been our stay; He hath brought us forth also into a large place." His "wonderful works which He hath done unto us cannot be reckoned up in order; if we would declare and speak of them, they are more than can be numbered." There are, however, a few points of special interest to which we can briefly and thankfully advert. You will rejoice to learn that the peace of our Church has been unbroken for the last four years; and that the labours of our ministry have been abundantly honoured with the divine blessing. The increase in our membership during the period named has been ninety thousand two hundred and forty-six, and that increase has been progressive, as follows: namely, in the first year, about seven thousand; in the second year, about twenty-three thousand; in the third year, about twenty-seven thousand; and, in the last year, about thirty-two thousand. We are happy to say, also, that we believe that, throughout the Church, there has been a growth in spiritual life and Christian zeal, and, especially, in many quarters there has been awakened a new interest in the doctrine and practice of Christian holiness. Our enterprises of Christian benevolence have also been more amply and generally sustained by our people during the last four years than ever before. There has been a progressive advance in our missionary contributions, far more than proportionate to the growth in our numbers; the amount raised in 1848-9 being about $87,000; in 1849-50, about $105,000; in 1850-51, about $133,000; and in 1851-52, about $155,000. And our Committee has anticipated a further growth of missionary zeal among the people, by appropriating $200,000 for the outlays of the next year.

In the Sunday school department we have a similarly gratifying prosperity to record. We have now enrolled ninety-three thousand five hundred and sixty-one officers and teachers of Sunday schools, four hundred and seventy-three thousand three hundred and eleven scholars, and one million two hundred and sixty thousand five hundred and fifty-eight volumes in Sunday-school libraries. In the circulation of religious books and periodicals, there has also been a marked improvement, and with our large means for preparing and circulating a wholesome literature throughout our country, we hope for still greater results in the future.

Our home-work is extending with unparalleled rapidity on this continent. On our Western or Pacific Coast, a vast empire has been opened to our labours, and we have endeavoured, as far as our means would allow, to enter it and cultivate it. Two conferences have been formed—the Oregon Conference and the California Conference—and we have already within the bounds of those conferences nearly sixty ministers in active service. We have also just directed the establishment of a Book Room and of a weekly religious Journal in San Francisco.

We take great pleasure in calling your attention to the success which has attended our work among the German population of our country. We have now nearly one hundred and fifty ministers and ten thousand members among them, many of whom are converts from Romanism. Some of the ministers converted here, have been sent back to their father-land as missionaries, and we have great encouragement in the present state and prospects of work there.

Within the last year, our senior Bishop, the Rev. Elijah Hedding, D. D., has been removed by death. He closed a long life of devoted and acceptable service to the Church by a happy and triumphant death. His name is held among us as a synonym for all that is pure in virtue, lofty in intellect, and complete in Christian character and life.

At the present session of our Conference our Episcopal Board has been strengthened by the election of four brethren, high in the esteem and confidence of the Church—the Rev. Drs. Levi Scott, Matthew Simpson, and Revs. O. C. Baker and E. R. Ames.

We have heard, informally, with great regret, of the agitations that have existed in your body for some years past, and sympathize fully with you. We rejoice in the confident belief that Methodism in England is so strongly rooted in the affections of the people, and, what is more, so surely protected by Divine Providence, that it will only flourish the more after these storms are over. We have no doubt that in this, as in all things, you “commit your ways unto the Lord, and trust also in him;” and, therefore, we are assured that “He will bring forth your righteousness as the light, and your judgment as the noonday.”

The Lord, who “loveth judgment,” may he “uphold you in your integrity, and set you before his face forever.”

We are, dear brethren, in behalf of the General Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church,

V.—ADDRESS OF THE BISHOPS TO THE GENERAL CONFERENCE OF THE METHODIST EPISCOPAL CHURCH.

To the General Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church.

REV. BRETHREN, AND FELLOW-LABOURERS.—Assembled in the eleventh quadrennial session of the chief council of the Methodist Episcopal Church, it is deemed suitable, on the part of the General Superintendents, to make an official communication to you, embracing various subjects of interest coming under their general oversight. They are aware that there is no rule of Discipline requiring them to present such a document, nor has there been established a uniform custom in favour of the course now pursued by them; but they cannot doubt the readiness of the representatives of the ministers and members of the Methodist Episcopal Church to receive their address, and to give to it the consideration which, in your judgment, it may deserve.

The occasion of your convening to enter upon the appropriate duties of your delegation, admits of, if it does not invite, brotherly salutations and ministerial greetings. We avail ourselves of it to say to you, from our hearts, that we greet, most cordially, this Conference of grave and godly men, who are here in the name of our Lord Jesus Christ, to consult on the best plans and regulations for the promotion of the interests of Christianity. We hail you as brethren beloved, and salute you in the Lord. But while we thus indulge in delightful effusions of brotherly love, let us be reminded of the propriety of commencing the arduous and responsible duties of the session in the spirit of deep, abiding, and controlling piety, and throughout its continuance, from day to day, let prayer and praise ascend from our midst to God, "the God of all grace," through Jesus Christ, the Redeemer and Mediator, by the heavenly assistance of the Holy Spirit.

In view of the manifold blessings of providence and grace to the Church, and to our country, we ought to feel ourselves especially called on to praise God with glad hearts and joyful tongues, each saying with the ardent Psalmist: "Bless the Lord, O my soul: and all that is within me, bless his holy name. Bless the Lord, O my soul, and forget not all his benefits." During your deliberations, in the emphatic language of our fathers, "Let us have an especial care to set God always before us. And in the intermediate hours, let us redeem all the time we can for private exercises. Therein let us give ourselves to prayer for one another, and for a blessing on our labour." We should always remember these words of our Divine Master, "Without me you can do nothing."

Although we recognise, with pleasurable emotions, the well-known faces of brethren of previous sessions of the General Conference, yet, in looking over the reverend body now before us, we can but exclaim in the language of the Holy Scriptures: "The fathers—where are they? And the prophets—do they live forever?" Few, and only a few, of the elder class of Methodist preachers are left in our midst. Most of them have gone from the sight and service of the Church. Noble men! how much did they suffer, and how much did they accomplish, in planting and cultivating the fields of Methodism, on which their successors are now reaping glorious harvests. Honoured be the few who are left with us. Cherished be the memory of the many who have finished their "course with joy, and the ministry which they received of the Lord Jesus, to testify the gospel of the grace of God."

We here reach a point in this address, at which we must introduce a topic of great tenderness. A venerable father, whose spirit, example, labours, and counsels, have so often and so long blessed the Church of his early choice, and of his unwavering devotion, has fallen asleep in Christ. Bishop Hedding, after half a century of active and laborious service in the itinerant ministry of the Methodist Episcopal Church, has been taken from toil to rest. The demise of this great and good minister of the Lord Jesus Christ occurred at his own dwelling, in Poughkeepsie, New-York, on the ninth day of April, A. D. 1852. His end was peaceful, happy, and triumphant. He sustained the highly responsible office of General Superintendent of the Methodist Episcopal Church for nearly twenty-eight years. With a strong and discriminating mind, busily engaged for so many years in acquiring knowledge and wisdom from various sources of literature and science, of philosophy and religion, we shall not be regarded as extravagant eulogists when we say, that he has left few equals in the Church, and, take him all in all, no superior survives him. With all his greatness he had the simplicity of a child. His amiability, gentleness, and kindness, endeared him to all with whom he had intercourse—from the prattling child to the youth, to the middle-aged, and to those of old age and declining years. All felt at ease in the society of this truly good man, and were delighted with his unpretending and attractive manners. As a preacher, he had many and great excellences. As an administrative officer, he was justly esteemed unrivalled in the soundness of his opinions, the correctness of his constitutional views and legal decisions, and the dignity and urbanity of his manner. His precious memory, and his bright example, are with the Church, and they will, we doubt not, prove beneficial to his colleagues and successors in office, to his ministerial brethren, and to the membership of the Church generally.

Although, in accordance with the doctrine of the supreme headship of Christ, from "whom all rule and all authority" proceed, your functions, as a delegated body, are not strictly, in the common acceptation of the term, legislative, yet the duties you have met to perform, for the purpose of carrying into effect the commands of the great Master for the regulation of "the household of faith," are most sacred and responsible. The preservation of the unity of that branch of the Christian Church with which we are so intimately connected, its soundness in doctrine and discipline, its spirituality and morals, and especially its enlargement and extension throughout the world, will give full scope for the exercise of the warmest zeal and most expanded love which can inspire the hearts of ministers of the Lord Jesus Christ. These great and good objects are sufficient to call us together for counsel, deliberation, and action, for carrying into effect the laws of "the kingdom," without aspiring to legislative powers in our General Conference, except in due subordination to the authority of "One who is our Master," and strictly within the limits which have been assigned to us. Disclaiming, therefore, that high-sounding appellation of "the supreme legislative body" of the Church, we prefer to contemplate its functions as administrative and judicial, rather than as being strictly legislative.

Methodism had its origin in England a little more than a century ago; and from thence was introduced into America, somewhat more than eighty years since. Small in its commencement, and without any design or expectation, on the part of its illustrious founder, of its assuming the distinctive character of an independent Church, it has in both countries become two among the best organized, and most effective branches of the Church of Christ, having been blessed with a success which finds no parallel in modern times. As such events were not anticipated as have been developed by its operation, no arrangements were adopted for the formation of a distinct Church among the Wesleyan Methodists in Great Britain. But in America it was soon found to be necessary to have a regular, distinct, and independent ecclesiastical organization. After consultation with the Rev. John Wesley, and in accordance with his advice, the Methodists in America were organized under the name and style of the Methodist Episcopal Church, whose polity is now what it was at its organization, modified in some of its features, without changing any of its fundamental principles. The Wesleyan Methodists of Great Britain have subsequently taken on the essential features of an independent and distinct Church organization, but without any specific or formal announcement thereof. A vital element has been in both organizations from the beginning, and has operated with unimpaired vigour. This principle is found in the itinerant character of the ministry, an attribute which has been regarded with strong attachment by both the ministry and laity from the beginning until now. It rests on mutual surrender and confidence; and while these remain, this element will continue to operate, by the blessing of God, the happiest results. To apply and direct this principle, the General Conference have selected from the Eldership, from time to time, men in whom they have reposed confidence, have invested them with the office, and clothed them with the powers of General Superintendents; having thus constituted them, they are held responsible for the proper performance of the duties of their office. In carrying into practical effect an itinerant ministry, it has been wisely determined that the Bishops shall be themselves itinerants, in their relation and services. They are, consequently, required "to travel through the connexion at large," and exercise a personal oversight. So important did our fathers consider this feature in the economy of Methodism, as to guard it by constitutional provision, and put it beyond the exercise of the legitimate powers of the General Conference by a restriction, which declares that "they shall not change or alter any part or rule of our government, so as to do away Episcopacy, or destroy the plan of our itinerant general superintendency." With such views of our system, derived from the Discipline, and illustrated by our predecessors, it will not surprise you that we call your attention particularly to this subject, and admonish you of the necessity of guarding against any such modification of the General Superintendency as would be likely to result in the introduction of Diocesan Episcopacy, and thus infract the constitutional restriction here brought to view. We cannot but fear that any such modification of the plan of our itinerant General Superintendency as would be involved in restricting Episcopal labours to a definite and limited sphere, would, at no distant period, lead to the introduction of Diocesan Episcopacy, than which, in our judgment, nothing would be more likely to destroy the itinerant General Superintendency, and in this way change the essential character of our economy. This consideration alone is sufficient to awaken apprehensions of danger to the itinerancy at a point where it should operate with untrammelled vigour, to say nothing of the liability of a comparatively local superintendency, for a period, say, of four years, to introduce an administration not in exact harmony with our general plan, which, having been once introduced, would, by the same administrator, be apt to be repeated annually, until the expiration of the term of his appointment to his diocese, or district; thus not only giving rise to variant administrative acts, which would acquire the force of law in the same degree in which they would be carried into practice without being called in question, which in our present system would be counteracted by his colleagues in succeeding years. It will, without doubt, strike you with great force, that uniformity and harmony are essential to the unity and success of a joint superintendency. These, in our judgment, can be best secured by an annual change of presidents in the several Annual Conferences—thus not allowing the peculiarities in the administration of any of them to become local and permanent, and, consequently, controlling and incurable. Such peculiarities, strengthened by the growth of several years, would be found very embarrassing to a successor. Either he must conform to the usages of his predecessor, or the conferences would be required to take new forms of business, and new or modified principles of administration. This would be unpleasant, and liable to lead to collision and disaster. Also, at every conference, some worthy brethren are disappointed in their appointments. They feel that the Bishop has not properly appreciated their merits as ministers, and has, therefore, not assigned them their proper allotment in the work. In this state of disappointment it is a relieving consideration that another Bishop will preside at the next session of the conference, and may more correctly understand their character, and more fully meet their claims. But if it was understood by them that the same Bishop was to fix their appointments for several years successively, their hearts would sink within them. Much of their comfort and satisfaction in the work assigned them, and probably more of their efficiency, would be sacrificed. To the Superintendent, who must, year after year, meet these disappointed brethren and hear their complaints, and witness their affliction, the circumstance would be most painful. Thus, preachers and Superintendents would be subjected to much suffering, which in our present arrangement is happily avoided. We admit there would be an advantage in the more intimate knowledge the Superintendents might acquire of the work and the ministers. We are also sensible that it would be a relief to the Superintendents, by lessening the extent of their journeys, and of their long absences from their families. But so strong are our convictions of the embarrassments involved in a change, and of the pre-eminent advantages of our present system, that no personal considerations could induce us to favour its modification. We would also call attention to the fact, that since the different sections of the work have their own literary institutions, and several of them their sectional presses, the Episcopacy is one of the few connexional bonds yet left to the Church.

It has often been said that the organization of Methodism was never systematically designed, but should rather be regarded as an aggregation of such arrangements as were, from time to time, indicated by Divine Providence. This is true in part, but not in whole. There are evidences of deep thoughtfulness and careful arrangement pervading the entire system, and although, as previously remarked, Mr. Wesley did not design the formation of a separate and distinct Church in his own land, but only a religious society for the promotion of the spiritual and moral improvement of its members, yet it is not perceived how he could more formally have arranged his system if he had commenced to build up an independent ecclesiastical association, to be called, strictly and technically, a branch of the Christian Church. It does not, therefore, follow, that Methodism has never had any definite or settled character and polity, but with the utmost readiness adapts itself to all the varieties of circumstances which may arise in its operations and history. It is not thus changeful and unsettled. It is indeed true, that every clear indication of Providence, in its onward course, has been heeded, and made tributary to the great purpose of reforming the world and spreading Scriptural holiness over all lands. But it is not less true that our economy is not that shapeless mass of incongruous materials which not only admits of, but requires, continual modifications, and such frequent changes, as to keep things in an unsettled and fluctuating condition—a state of transition in which we are “ever learning, but never able to come to the knowledge of the truth.” No: this is not true of our well-balanced and thoroughly-tested ecclesiastical system, which has been in such vigorous and successful operation for so long a period, without scarcely the alteration or addition of one essential principle. A love of novelty is innate in man, whose nature constantly tends, without salutary restraint, to push principles and measures to their extremes. If we have correctly estimated this “age of progress” and change, there never was a period fraught with more danger to the soundness and stability of first principles, and their legitimate application in domestic, civil, and religious governments, than the present. Again we must urge, even at the risk of being regarded as being behind the times, that you should be thoroughly cautious of the errors into which you may so easily be conducted by the prevalence of an opinion, true only in a qualified sense, that Methodism is, and has always been, so much under the modification of occurring circumstances, as to be, at this remote day from its commencement, in so imperfect a state of organization, as to call forth numerous speculations in regard to changes which are supposed to be required by the new circumstances in which it is now found. In the state of the times, as General Superintendents, we have regarded it to be our duty to awaken in you a more than ordinary vigilance to preserve from radical change the excellent system which began with our fathers, and from them has come under our guardianship. Having said thus much, we leave the suggestions to your judgment and conscience, in view of your responsibility to the Supreme Head of the Church.

We avail ourselves of the occasion to present a brief view of the condition and prospects of the Methodist Episcopal Church. In doing this, the past, the present, and the future may be glanced at with propriety. Of Methodism in the past, let us not be charged with a fulsome egotism in the application to it of the definition of a recently departed servant of God, whose reputation for talent, learning, and piety, will hereafter, as indeed it now does, place him in the front rank of the wise and the good. Doctor Chalmers termed Methodism "Christianity in earnest." If we watch its movements from the beginning until now, in the Old and in the New World, we perceive an incessant and tireless activity, which, although rewarded with large and continued success, pauses not to repose in triumph while there remains any additional conquests to be won, or further victories to be gained. Hundreds, thousands, millions of immortal souls have been brought to God and to glory, by the divine blessing on its institutions and labours. The work was wrought by God, who put this high honour of instrumentality on Methodism. "Not unto us, O Lord," said our fathers, "not unto us, but to thy name give glory, for thy truth's sake." Thus felt and thus said our fathers. Thus let us feel and say. A question of deep and thrilling interest here arises, as we divert our attention from the past to the present period of our ecclesiastical history. It is this: "Does Methodism now operate with the same earnestness and success that it did in the past?" This is a difficult question to answer satisfactorily. The difficulty arises, in part, out of the many elements of prosperity which are seen operating in various departments of the Church; and in part from the aversion which is instinctively felt to admit a deterioration in that which we love or esteem. Not that we are prepared to admit that there is any evidence of a decisive declension in the energy of our branch of the Christian Church now, in comparison with any former period. Externally, there is decided improvement. If our outward prosperity were a safe criterion on which to form a correct opinion, we should unhesitatingly conclude that our cause was gloriously in the ascendant. Look at the rapid increase in the number of our houses of worship, their commodiousness, their architectural proportions, their neatness and beautiful finish, and the taste and comfort of their furniture. These all tell, that whatever else may be said of Methodism, it cannot be pronounced a failure. Neither can it be said that it has accomplished its mission. The increase of its ministers, in numbers, in learning, in gifts, and in effectiveness; the constant addition to the membership; their relative position in the community; the extent to which the public ear is turned to Methodist instruction, in our churches and Sunday schools: in all these respects we see conclusive evidences that there are yet vitality and aggression in its operations. The extent to which the press is employed in the maintenance and extension of its theology and economy; the rapid increase of the Missionary interests, foreign and domestic; and the growing educational power, in all the gradations of literature, from infant and Sunday schools, to Colleges and Universities,—these all show that Methodism has not yet reached its culminating point, but is in vigorous action for further conquests and more extended triumphs. We cannot, however, regard external prosperity as a certain test of the maintenance of primitive zeal and power. The internal state of the Church, if correctly apprehended, will more certainly give its true character and condition. The power of a Church is found in its faith, spirituality, deep communion with God, and enlightened benevolent activity. It is, therefore, possible that while enjoying all this outward prosperity, there may be inward decay. The fact is a fearful one. It should lead every member of the Church to the most prayerful heart-searching self-examination, and every watchman of Zion to the most thorough and frequent investigation of the state and condition of his charge. Preëminently is it the duty of the General Conference to look into this subject. In our observations on this point our fears have been excited by the following considerations: 1. There appears to be more worldly-mindedness now than formerly. This is exhibited in conformity to the world, in costly dwellings, splendidly furnished—in gay and fashionable dress in which we can see little or no difference between professing Christians and those who make no profession of religion—fashionable parties, in some instances associated with vain and sinful amusements. Some of our people manifest a want of relish for prayer and class-meetings, and are too seldom found at those places of spiritual enjoyment and edification. We consider the neglect to attend class-meetings regularly among the clearest indications of decline in vital godliness. Its existence has given us great pain. We have been urging our brethren to do whatever is practicable to secure a more general and constant attendance at class-meetings. We believe that these efforts have not been without some success. Still we have fears that this delinquency is being but slowly overcome. We commend this subject to your special notice, and invoke remedial action thereon, by such measures as you may deem proper and practicable. Another unfavourable omen, which awakens apprehension, is found in the neglect of many of our ministers to execute, with wholesome strictness, our excellent Discipline, each thinking that he finds extenuation, if not justification, in the neglect of his predecessor, and thus the delinquency is not only perpetuated, but becomes annually more and more extended and injurious. What can be done to correct this evil? We earnestly commend this inquiry to your consideration.

In looking forward to the destiny of Methodism, we are not despondent. It has a great work to do, and great capabilities, under God, for its performance. Sadly recreant must he be, whether minister or layman, who does not arouse to the full measure of his duty and responsibility. Behold the multitudes of our fellow-citizens who must be brought to repentance, or perish—who must be saved, or lost. Behold the rapidly-increasing number of the children of our country, who must be gathered into our Sunday schools, or in a great measure grow up without religious instruction and moral training on the part of the Church. Behold the ceaseless tide of immigrants who are thrown upon our shores, annually, from various portions of the eastern hemisphere, who need to be taught the way of salvation. Lift up your eyes on the foreign fields of missionary labour in Asia, Africa, and other portions of the globe—fields already “white to harvest.” See the great educational interests which require to be fostered and more fully developed. Behold the extensive wielding of the power of the press for combating error, and sustaining truth, especially in multiplying copies of the Holy Scriptures. Look at those points of interest, and to the great duties thence arising, and if we are worthy of our spiritual lineage, we shall rejoice to see spreading out a vastness of theatre, and an amount of labour, which will give full scope to all our powers, and to those who shall come after us, as long as both we and they shall live. “The field is the world.” Shall not the sons of him who said, “The world is my parish,” be among its most active and industrious cultivators? O for the spirit of our venerated fathers! then, by the blessing of God, Methodism would be “Christianity in earnest” until the end of time.

So many objects have passed before us, in this rapid survey of the past, the present, and the future, that we hesitate to ask your attention to many details in the further continuance of this communication. What, therefore, remains to be said must be briefly told, and in general terms.

A great distinguishing feature of the Methodist Episcopal Church, as before intimated, is its itinerancy. Watch over it with the greatest vigilance and care, for its preservation and effective operation. Let no modification come into collision with its stirring element. Keep it free from all tendency to localization, from the General Superintendent to the preacher on probation; especially in regard to the extension of the time for which a minister may be continued consecutively in the same charge, or in the same city. Familiarize and nourish local habits, under the appellation of itinerancy, and there will, at no distant period, be nothing more than the name left, if even that shall be retained. In connexion with itinerancy, there is one special view which we judge ought to be presented to your consideration more at large than any other topic which may be hereinafter introduced. We allude to the term of probation which must elapse before one can be received into full connexion, or admitted into membership in the conference. This period of probation is now what it has always been—two years. The propriety of extending this probationary term to four years, has been, for several years, more or less brought to notice and discussed. At the General Conference of 1848 this important change was made, and, by a considerable majority, the period of probation was extended so as to make it of four years' duration. Near the close of the session, however, a motion was made to reconsider the vote, which was adopted, and the resolution was laid on the table. This subject will come again before the General Conference at this session, as many of the delegates have been instructed by their annual conferences to vote in favour of the extension of the period of probation. We believe the change would be highly conducive to the general welfare. While there are many and strong reasons in favour of the alteration, we have heard of but one or two against it. It is said by its opponents that it will operate unjustly to probationers by deferring their ordination as deacons for two years, if ordination be given as it now is, only after admission into full connexion; and if two years shall pass after ordination to the diaconry, before graduation to elder's orders can take place, it would be too long to defer the full powers of the ministry. It is further objected that the Church would suffer by not having a sufficiency of ordained men to administer the sacraments of baptism and the Lord's supper. There would be force in these objections if they could not be removed by making ordination to deaconship a part of the process of probation; but we see not why this cannot be done, as we are in the practice of ordaining local preachers. Let probationers be eligible at the end of two years to deacon's orders, as heretofore, provided the conference shall be satisfied with their proficiency in their studies, and general qualifications for the office; and at the end of four years' probation be eligible, at one and the same time, to admission into full connexion and ordination as elders. We do not think it necessary, even if it were expedient, for us, in a communication like this, to enter into an argumentation of the question; otherwise there would be no lack of strong reasons in favour of the extended term of probation. We may, however, be allowed simply to refer to some of them, without detaining you with their application and results. 1. The time of probation, as it now exists, is too short to allow such a development of candidates as to enable the conferences to judge soundly of their suitableness for the itinerant ministry. Neither mental, nor religious, nor moral qualifications, can be so fully exhibited, especially in the case of a travelling preacher, as to furnish reasonable data for an enlightened judgment on the part of an annual conference, as to his fitness to be received into the regular pastorate of the Church. 2. But if this were not so, the period is too brief to admit of physical developments so fully as to show that the candidate for the ministry has constitutional energies adequate to the work which is to be performed. We need only remind you of the case of a preacher who, the very first or second year after his admission into full connexion, is found to be physically unable to do the work of a Methodist pastor. He has, however, acquired membership, after a very limited probation, and he, together with the family which he most probably will have brought with him, will remain, to find, as he may be able, some pecuniary support from a Church that has received little or no service from him. 3. It will be in harmony with the established usage of our elder brethren, the Wesleyan Methodist Church, than whom, perhaps, no Christian Church has a more efficient organization, and well-adjusted system of operation. Having said thus much on the subject, we submit it to your enlightened judgment, and await your action.

While on the subject of maintaining the efficiency of our well-tryed itinerancy, we take the liberty of calling your attention to the rule authorizing the location of unacceptable travelling ministers, without their consent. As this rule is somewhat complex, and difficult to be administered, so as to accomplish the important object intended by its adoption, we respectfully inquire whether it could not be so modified, with safety to all concerned, as to authorize an annual conference to locate an unacceptable member by a majority vote of two-thirds, or three-fourths, without putting him upon a formal trial? If such amendment should be deemed safe and proper, it would relieve the conferences of much embarrassment and loss of time, experienced under the operations of the rule in its present form. We commend this subject to your careful consideration.

Among other matters of grave interest which may be expected to claim your special attention, will be our Missionary operations, at home and abroad, or, as they are technically termed, Domestic and Foreign. The fields, which in each division are numerous and extensive, will long continue to call for the untiring attention and support of the Church. Domestic missions greatly conduce to the enlargement of the work at home, and, comparatively, with little pecuniary outlay. Our oldest missions are those established for the benefit of the Indians. We review, with gratitude, the good that has resulted from their operations. They have, however, in some instances been greatly embarrassed by the changes that have occurred in their frequent removals to various and distant localities. For this reason, at present, these do not give indications of proving beneficial to the extent of our desires or expectations; but in some fields of labour among them there is prosperity, which authorizes and encourages their prosecution with unwearied perseverance. The largest expenditures for home missions is among German and other foreign emigrants, who, with a tide that has never yet ebbed, are flowing by thousands to our shores—who find on our wide domain ample space for a home, and abundant facilities for the supply of their physical wants. Let the Church see in these crowds of immortal souls the measure of its duty. Not only does Christianity loudly call to continued and increased action in behalf of their religious interests, but patriotism admonishes the thoughtful to lose no time in bringing to bear on them the most effectual element to make them good citizens, by making them good Christians. Our success among German emigrants continues to be most cheering. The societies formed among them, and the ministers who serve them in gospel labours, are fast rising into importance, and they exert a growing influence for good. You may possibly be invoked for an organization of the German work differing somewhat from its present position. We have nothing to suggest at present but the propriety of avoiding hasty action. The cause is now gloriously succeeding among our German population. Let us be careful lest, by the introduction of new measures, we should receive a check in our onward course among them. For ourselves we are well satisfied that the true line of policy to be pursued by our German emigrants is, to become denationalized as soon as possible, and as soon to take on Americanism, and hold fast to the unity of Methodism.

Of our Foreign missions, we have only to remind you of their extent and importance, to secure for them all that you can devise or accomplish for their enlargement and prosperity. In this department we have but made a commencement. The success, and the indications of success, cheer us on. In Africa the foundation has been laid for an independent republic, civilized and Christianized, from which are to go forth the influences and appliances for the civilization and Christianization of its benighted, degraded, and superstitious millions. We rejoice in the belief that our missionary labours have, by the divine blessing, contributed, in no small degree, to the hopeful state of things now existing on the western shores of that distant continent. Let your wisdom and energy, brethren and fellow-labourers, be brought to bear on this great enterprise of Christian philanthropy. We will only add, that it is becoming more and more apparent that Africa's destiny, as well in ecclesiastical affairs as in civil matters, must be wrought out by the instrumentality of persons of colour. But let it not be forgotten that active sympathy from philanthropic and Christian white men will long be required in behalf of the coloured race.

China, with its hundreds of millions of immortal souls, is a mission field of immense interest, of unsurveyed vastness. Its difficulties are manifold and great; yet, shall the work be neglected or abandoned because of its gigantic proportions, or the apparently insurmountable obstacles? If reliance for success rested on human sagacity and power, it were an attempt as foolish as it would be fruitless. But we are divinely taught, that "It is not by might, nor by power, but by my Spirit, saith the Lord;" therefore, let the China mission be prosecuted with patience and hope.

In Germany the harvest has been nearly simultaneous with the seed-time. The cause is onward, and its success is full of cheering inspirings. Let the faithful brethren who are there be sustained, and such reinforcements be sent to their aid as may be practicable and needed.

Our missionary work on the Pacific coast is constantly, and even rapidly enlarging. Everything in the circumstances of the Oregon and California Missionary Conference strongly urges us to push on the moral enterprise, until the zeal of Christians for the salvation of souls shall at least be equal to that of men who abandon all the comforts of home, and brave all dangers on a distant shore, in quest of golden sands. We consider the selection of our pioneer missionaries in Oregon and California as most fortunate for the interests of our cause in these distant fields of labour. We hope that those who have been detailed to aid them may not be less faithful, or less useful.

The mission at Buenos Ayres is, without doubt, useful to the Protestants who sojourn in that Roman Catholic city, and it ought not to be abandoned. Indeed, we commend to your consideration the practicability of extending our missionary operations in South America. The fruit may not for years to come be abundant, but let us not be discouraged. Let it be the work of faith. In time there will be happy results from missionary labours in South America.

We commend to your best efforts the cause of temperance, connected with which are the interests of humanity, and the welfare of Church and State. We recommend decisive action on this subject.

The cause of education, second only to that of religion in importance, will claim, and doubtless receive, your attention. Liberal education among us, is comparatively in its infancy. Our oldest colleges date back less than the third of a century. On the score of their numerical increase there is no cause for regret. Indeed, it appears to us the cause of literary and scientific education would have been better subserved with fewer collegiate institutions better endowed, and with the strongest faculties that could be obtained. However, it is gratifying to perceive that Methodism promises to do its full share of the work of educating the youth of the country, especially in the department of female education, in which, perhaps, we are second to no other Christian denomination in our country. Let all such literary institutions receive the countenance and co-operation of the General Conference.

Our Sunday-school department is in great prosperity, with constant growth in all the elements of success hereafter to a much greater extent. It deserves, and will, we doubt not, receive all the attention and aid you can bring to bear on one of the most available instrumentalities of our organization. The supply of books for Sunday schools is constantly and even rapidly increasing, by most happy selections, and most tasteful preparations in regard to paper, printing, and binding. A resort elsewhere for books for our Sunday schools, other than our own depository, savours more of fastidiousness than wisdom. In this connexion allow us to call your attention to the Sunday-School Union of the Methodist Episcopal Church, the objects of which are most important and useful. Let its interests be prosecuted to the extent of their practicability.

It is feared that our Tract cause fails, in a great degree, to accomplish the object of its institution. We submit to you the propriety of a new organization of it that may awaken a livelier interest, and give more activity to its operations.

We also commend to your special favour, that great Protestant enterprise which is being so extensively prosecuted by the American Bible Society, one of the noblest charities of the age, promising a vast amount of good to the world at large. It is gratifying in a high degree to behold the interest taken in this Society by our ministers, members, and friends. But it is hoped that you will be able to give an impetus to its spreading influences until they shall have pervaded not only our whole land, but, in connexion with those of kindred associations, the whole earth, until every man shall hear or read in his own tongue the life-giving truths of divine revelation.

Our publishing department is one of great power and effectiveness. It has long been extensively useful in explaining, defending, and impressing the great features of our doctrines, experience, morals, institutions, discipline, and polity, on the minds and hearts of successive generations. We are persuaded that only eternity will disclose the extent of benefit which has accrued from the publication and sale of our books and periodicals. Much of the religious literature of this country, in theology, experimental and practical religion, biography, and hymnology, will be found in connexion with the publications of the Methodist Book Concern. It may, however, be due to candour to qualify this commendatory allusion to our press, by remarking, that we have seen with regret at various periods, in the columns of our weekly journals, speculations, controversies, and disputations on various subjects, some of which resulted in unpleasant personalities, which, however gratifying at the time to those directly engaged in them, were not, we are persuaded, pleasing or edifying to the mass of readers. Aware, to some extent, of the difficult and delicate position of our brethren, the editors, we make this qualification not to reflect on them, but to deplore what may be an incidental evil, which is, doubtless, of much more ready perception than of easy or effectual remedy. The Book Concern of the Methodist Episcopal Church commenced in a small way, and without capital, save a few hundred dollars of borrowed money. It enlarged in its progress from year to year, until it reached its present commanding eminence. Nor has it been one of the less interesting results, that it has, for the last half century, disbursed annually from its profits, to each conference, a sum varying from one hundred to one thousand dollars, which have been appropriated to the claimants on the conference, embracing superannuated preachers, their wives and their children, or their widows and orphans, together with the effective ministers who laboured where they could not obtain their disciplinary allowance. From various movements, and from articles frequently appearing in our weekly journals, we have cause to apprehend danger to this institution, by so reducing the price of books as only to cover the cost of their production. In regard to Sunday-school books and tracts, it is, doubtless, proper to put them at cost-prices, but it is by no means clear that books of the general catalogue should be so reduced. It is indeed desirable that our books should go into the market as cheap as works of similar style are sold in the regular operations of the trade; it is even necessary that this should be so, or they would be supplanted by a cheaper supply; but this object being gained, why should not the profits accruing from their sales be reserved and appropriated as heretofore, or for extending the operations of the concern under the direction of the Agents? But our apprehensions are mainly from another quarter; we mean the speculative theories of men whose profession and employments taking them out of the range and knowledge of the complications of such a business operation, in the very nature of the case, cannot be competent judges. The Methodist Book Concern has been long and gradually approaching its present position. It cost many a consuming thought and wearing effort on the part of its Agents. They, and only they, can fully appreciate the dangerous bearing on its resources, credit, and successful operations, which would be likely to result from so radical a change in its long-established policy, as that of restricting prices to the mere cost of production.

The state of the General Superintendency will, as a matter of course, claim and receive the attention of the General Conference. The oversight has suffered for the last two years by the failure of the physical health of two of the Superintendents. The health of the surviving one, by long and increasing pressure of painful disease, is such as to disable him at present from attending to official duties, and calls for the sympathy and prayers of the Church. In view of these facts, the necessity of strengthening the Episcopacy is fully apparent. It may be expected that we should express an opinion in regard to the number necessary to give the requisite efficiency to the Episcopacy. After the best consideration we have been able to give to the subject, we are unanimously of the opinion that the present state of the work will require at least six effective Superintendents, including those who may remain effective of the present number, in order to the practical oversight of the vast and increasing work which spreads out before us. Of the men who may be selected for this responsible station and arduous labour, although none can be more deeply interested than ourselves, yet all that we can venture to say on this point is this, Let them be men who have given indubitable proof that, in addition to deep piety and burning zeal, they both know and love Methodist doctrine and Methodist Discipline—brethren who will give themselves “wholly to this office.” In concluding this communication, it may be admissible for us to express the high degree of satisfaction that we have, in reviewing the past, to find unbroken unity, and undisturbed harmony in the joint Superintendency.

And now, dear brethren and fellow-labourers, suffer the word of exhortation. Let all you may do during this session of the General Conference, and the manner of doing it, conduce to the harmony, unity, and advancement of the Church. May divine wisdom guide you, and heavenly love govern you, so that in all your doings God may be glorified, and his Church be edified through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

We are, reverend and dear brethren, your fellow-servants in Christ,

W—REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON MISSIONS—BISHOP OF LIBERIA.

THE Committee on Missions, to whom was referred the petition of the Liberia Mission Annual Conference to this General Conference, "to take some measure to furnish the Church in the Republic of Liberia with Episcopal powers," beg leave to report:—

That the Committee have patiently and carefully considered the request of the Liberia Conference, and weighed the reasons which are assigned in their petition, and also other reasons which were assigned in committee, and have unanimously come to the conclusion that the petition ought to be granted. The committee then proceeded to inquire in what way this, their conclusion, could be best carried out, having due respect to the wants of the Liberia Conference, and to the powers of this General Conference. In the judgment of the committee, only three ways were possible.

First.—Regular annual visitations of one of our own Bishops, in the same manner that each of our annual conferences is visited. Owing to the unhealthiness of the climate, in reference to white men, this plan was deemed impracticable.

Secondly.—To ordain a Missionary Bishop for the Liberia Mission Conference, whose jurisdiction should be confined to Africa, or to the African race. Many members of the committee, perhaps a large majority, judged that this could not be done without infracting one of our restrictive rules, which says: "We shall not do away with our general itinerant superintendency." The committee was aware that this restrictive rule might be altered by the concurrent action of the General and Annual Conferences, as provided for in the Discipline; and in this way authority might be obtained to appoint a Missionary Bishop, with limited jurisdiction, if the General Conference should judge that it was restrained under the constitution of the Church. The prevailing feeling in the committee seemed to be in favour of a missionary bishop, as this would still retain the Church in Africa in connexion with the Methodist Episcopal Church; but the committee deemed it scarcely expedient to introduce into the General Conference the discussion of a measure which looked to the alteration of one of the restrictive rules, and it was judged very doubtful whether such a measure could be perfected.

Thirdly. Under these circumstances, the committee turned to the only measure which appeared to be left, viz., to wait until the Liberia Annual Mission Conference should think proper to erect themselves into an independent Church, and then to ordain them a bishop, to be designated or elected by this General Conference. The committee accepted this conclusion, for the following reasons:—

1. The Liberia Conference is within the limits of a foreign government, and composed of a people of a race wholly different from ourselves. Those circumstances render the application of our Episcopal administration scarcely practicable.

2. The petitioners themselves, in the conclusion of their petition, suggest this mode of meeting their case, if a missionary bishop cannot be provided for them.

3. The prosperity of the Republic of Liberia, compared with its prosperity as a colony under the administration of the American Colonization Society, affords, by analogy, a good ground to conclude that the independence, or at least the independent action and administration of the Church in Liberia, would be greatly conducive to its prosperity and permanency.

The conclusions which the committee have reached are embodied in the following resolutions, which the committee recommend for adoption by the General Conference:—

1. Resolved, That measures be taken to insure the due exercise of Episcopal functions in the Liberia Annual Mission Conference.

2. Resolved, That, in the event the Mission Conference in Liberia shall think proper to organize as an independent Church, under the title of The Methodist Episcopal Church in Africa, and shall accept the Discipline of the Methodist Episcopal Church in America as its form of discipline and government, except in so far as said discipline may be peculiarly applicable to circumstances in America, we will ordain them a bishop whom this General Conference shall elect, which election shall be duly certified to the Liberia Mission Conference at its next annual session.

3. Resolved, That upon due authentication being made to the bishop having charge of foreign missions, and to the Corresponding Secretary, by the Liberia Mission Conference, that said conference has organized as an independent Church, then proper measures shall be taken for the speedy ordination of the bishop elect for Africa.

4. Resolved, That we recommend the Rev. Francis Burns, at present the Superintendent of the Liberia Mission Conference, as the proper person to be elected bishop for Africa.

5. Resolved, That the execution of the above resolutions be committed to the bishops having charge of foreign missions, and to the Corresponding Secretary of the Missionary Society of the Methodist Episcopal Church for the time being.

6. Resolved, That we advise and authorize the General Missionary Committee, and the Board of Managers of the Missionary Society of the Methodist Episcopal Church, to continue their missionary appropriations to the Liberia Annual Conference as heretofore, at their discretion, in view of the work and wants of said conference.

All which is respectfully submitted, by order of the committee.

J. P. DURBIN, Secretary.

X.—REPORT ON THE COURT OF APPEALS.

The Committee, to whom was referred the communication of the Episcopacy, to the General Conference at Pittsburgh, in 1848, on the subject of "Providing for a Constitutional Test and Conference of Appeals," beg leave to report:—

That they have had the subject under consideration, and are fully of the opinion that provision should be made at this time for such department in the general administration of the Methodist Episcopal Church. The necessity of some conservative power to guard the constitutional acts of the General Conference, and preserve the limitations and restrictive rules by which it is to be governed, has been seen and felt by a large portion of the Church ever since the General Conference was made a representative body.

There are but two organized departments now existing in our Church to which a suitable check can be referred, other than the General Conference itself; these are, first, the bishops collectively, as the joint superintendents, or to the several annual conferences respectively. We could not consent to give the contemplated power to the Episcopacy, and thereby form a bench of bishops, with supreme judicial power; nor can we believe that our bishops would willingly have their already weighty responsibilities so increased. But we do believe, that, as the joint superintendents of the Church, they stand properly connected with, and in some way should be associated with this department of our ecclesiastical jurisprudence. The second is, to refer the right to the several annual conferences, to pronounce on the constitutionality of the acts and doings of the General Conference, which, in the opinion of your committee, would produce confusion, and cause divisions and sectional differences; and which, instead of settling the difficulty and harmonizing the interests of the Church, would, in the final result, dissolve its union. Bishop Asbury, in his posthumous address, which was read in the General Conference a few weeks after his death, (1816,) recommended a Committee of Safety, to guard the restrictive rules, which was construed by some as forming an upper house, to which there were strong objections, and the matter was dismissed, leaving the General Conference to judge of its own constitutional powers. The committee are of opinion that a constitutional test can only exist in coördinate branches of government, or by judicial proceedings, and therefore we would refer it to the Conference of Appeals on actions of complaint.

The attention of your committee was first called to provide, Who shall compose the Conference of Appeals? We are aware that different views are entertained on this subject. Some have thought that there should be one from each annual conference, and chosen in the same manner as the delegates to the General Conference. But against this there are weighty objections. First, the number would be too great for the convenient and patient investigation of judicial proceedings, and too expensive, both to themselves and to the Church. Second, it would in a great measure defeat the intended object of forming a proper judiciary to hear and try appeals, as it would more properly constitute an upper house, or Senate, being more numerous than most of our State Senates, and nearly equal to the Senate of the United States. Third, their appointment would be identified with the election of delegates to the General Conference.

It is the deliberate opinion of the committee, that the number should be so restricted as never to exceed double the number of our general superintendents, to act in connexion with them. We therefore recommend that the Conference of Appeals be composed of the bishops and twelve elders, to be chosen by the General Conference within the first week of its session. And we further recommend that the whole number of annual conferences be apportioned into districts; as nearly equal as practicable by conference bounds; and the elders so appointed should be taken in equal number from the respective districts, by nomination of the delegate of the several districts and appointment of the General Conference. The next subject that has occupied our attention is, What powers shall the conference, thus formed, possess? And here, also, we find a difference of opinion. We, however, recommend that its powers should be strictly appellate, and not possess original jurisdiction. This would give to this conference its marked and distinguishing character of Conference of Appeals.

We, therefore, submit to the General Conference, for their consideration and adoption, the following bill, in form, to take place in the Discipline as section iii, chapter iii, part i.—(See page 76, Journal.)

Very respectfully,

LABAN CLARK, Chairman.

Z—REPORT ON LIBERTY OF CONSCIENCE.

THE Committee, to whom was referred the subject of promoting the same liberty of conscience for Protestants in Roman Catholic countries, that Roman Catholics enjoy under the government of the United States, present the following as their report :—

It is freely admitted by every American citizen, that liberty of conscience, or the free exercise of religion, is an inalienable right of every man under any government. We cannot suppose any case in which the right of private worship by individuals can be restrained, much less hindered, in any respect. And surely there can be few cases, if any, in which the public exercise of religion ought to be restrained or suppressed.

At present, there is a general intercourse between all civilized nations : trade, commerce, the arts, sciences, &c., have now mingled to a great extent ; the nations of the earth, the citizens of one country, either as temporary visitors, or as permanent inhabitants, take up their abodes in other countries ; and as this seems to be freely allowed, it is reasonable and just that the new citizens, or even visitors, should enjoy the privilege of worshipping God, whether in public or private, according to the dictates of their conscience.

Indeed, the law of nations, as laid down by Kent and Blackstone, seems to require this much. These able jurists maintain that the principles, or standard, which should govern nations are right reason, the principles of good morals, and Holy Scripture ; and all principles contrary to reason, good morals, and Scripture, are as dangerous to the government of nations towards each other as they are to individuals ; and the duties which nations owe to each other are benevolence, justice, humanity, liberality, impartiality, good faith.

As the rights of conscience are sacred, according to the principles of morality and religion, it is, in our opinion, the duty of the government of the United States to employ its influence to secure for Protestants the same religious privileges in Roman Catholic countries which Roman Catholics enjoy in the United States. We do not ask the government to use any means which would involve war, bloodshed, injustice, or any unchristian principle or measure. We ask only that the government, in all its departments, should employ its influence to secure the rights of conscience to every American citizen wherever he may sojourn or reside, as well as to promote in all lands the rights of conscience to every human being.

The different Protestant Churches, whether in their Church capacity or as individuals, are surely entitled to protection in this matter. They can with propriety ask the government of the United States to use its influence on the side of liberty ; and it is to be hoped they will turn their attention to this subject, and consider what duties and responsibilities they incur in reference to it.

As citizens of the United States, Protestants possess the greater part of the controlling influence of the government, as voters and office-holders, as well as the principal share of the intelligence, moral power, social education, and business of the country. These are facts well known. How proper, then, is it for them to speak and act in behalf of liberty of conscience throughout the world; as it is the want of this which prevents a large portion of the human race from enjoying the same elevation which we, by the providence of God, enjoy. Yet, when Protestants reside in Roman Catholic countries, whether as permanent inhabitants or temporary visitors, they are deprived altogether of the right of both public and private worship in most cases; and where there is tolerance there are vexatious restraints interposed, which show that the right of worship is denied them even where some toleration exists.

Nor do Protestants ask too much when they ask the Roman Catholics of the United States to unite with them in securing liberty of conscience in Italy and in other Roman Catholic countries; and that they should, if necessary, petition, remonstrate and protest, in order to secure it. In many respects, Protestants and Roman Catholics have lived unfamiliarly with each other. At this time it need not be asked who is more in fault, the Protestant or Roman Catholic. Our present object is, to ask our Roman Catholic neighbours and fellow-citizens to accord to Protestants the same religious privileges in Roman Catholic countries which Protestant citizens of the United States have guaranteed to Roman Catholics, and have pledged, and do now pledge, their lives, fortunes, and sacred honour to continue this to Roman Catholics, as well as to others. Protestants were the founders of this government, under God, and liberty of conscience is one of its most glorious and fundamental principles. Now we would ask our Roman Catholic fellow-citizens a few questions, trusting that they will consider them in a spirit of reciprocal good-will.

We ask them to adopt or recognize the principles of liberty of conscience, of equal rights, and of benevolence towards all.

We ask them to take the side of equal religious rights in Roman Catholic countries, as well as in Protestant Britain and America. Let them have one rule for both Roman Catholic and Protestant countries—one rule for Italy and England—one rule for Scotland and Spain—one for Portugal and Ireland—one for the United States and all the governments on the American continent. Let our Roman Catholic neighbours shake hands with their Protestant neighbours on this principle, and this will go far towards making them more friendly than they ever have been.

We ask our Roman Catholic friends to consider the equal rights they enjoy here, under the influence of Protestantism. Here they exercise all that appertain to their religion—not merely by tolerance, but by right. Does not this call for a noble, generous, and fraternal response?

We affectionately inquire of our Roman Catholic friends, How can you receive these great blessings from the hands of Protestants, and then approve of treating them as they are treated in Italy and other Roman Catholic countries?

If Protestants are restrained from social and public worship in Roman Catholic countries, why should not Roman Catholics be restrained in Protestant countries? and this question will constantly be put to Roman Catholics, not only in the United States, but in every Roman Catholic country. It must also be answered, not evaded; and if Roman Catholics will not answer it, others will answer it, but to their disadvantage.

Well may we call upon Roman Catholics to coöperate with Protestants in the United States in order to secure liberty of conscience, first in Italy, and then throughout all Roman Catholic countries. We ask them to petition the Pope for liberty of conscience for Protestants in Rome, and then remonstrate by renewed petitions and arguments, if it be demanded; and should remonstrance fail, to carry it forward in protest to the utmost limits of this right, and the Roman Catholic archbishops, bishops, and clergy of the United States would do well to take the lead in petition, remonstrance, and protest. They do so in other matters, and the citizens of the United States will look for them to do this. A refusal to do it must be interpreted as saying that they are willing to receive equal rights, but not to grant them to others.

We may reasonably expect, too, that the Christians of Great Britain would unite with the Christians of the United States, and petition their government to use its great influence with the court of Rome, and other Roman Catholic courts, in favour of religious freedom. The Church of England would surely not refuse to act in this noble cause, and the Methodists, Presbyterians, Baptists, and other dissenters, would undoubtedly do their full shares in this divine work. The Roman Catholics of England, Ireland, and Scotland could not, with any show of reason, refuse. The Christian world will confidently expect that the Roman Catholic prelates and clergy of Great Britain and Ireland will go before their flocks and petition His Holiness to grant religious freedom to Protestants in his temporal dominions, and also use his influence and authority with all Roman Catholic princes and powers to do the same. This much is the least that we may reasonably expect to be done by British Roman Catholics, on the score of sheer justice and reciprocity.

In order, however, that this great object of religious freedom in Roman Catholic countries should be enjoyed, it seems necessary that certain competent persons should be selected to present and keep this subject before the public. Perhaps a COMMITTEE OF PRIVILEGES might be appointed, consisting of clergymen and laymen, who would take the pains to present the subject to the American government, plead its cause before the public, coöperate with similar committees or associations, and adopt such measures, and carry them out, as would best secure, or tend to secure, the great object in view.

It is proper here to remark, that no political object is in view in this whole plan, except that good must result to any government that will acknowledge the free use of religious worship. We have no intention to change, or interfere with, the governments of the countries in which the right of free worship is asked, whether they be monarchies, republics, or democracies. With the mere political affairs of Roman Catholics we wish not to interfere; nay, we refuse positively to interfere, leaving this entirely with those to whom it belongs, according to the laws of each country respectively.

In view, therefore, of promoting the free exercise of religious worship in Italy and all Roman Catholic countries, the following resolutions are presented for the adoption of this conference:—

Resolved, That the free exercise of religion is an inalienable right of every man, under whatever government he may reside.

Resolved, That it is the duty of British and American Christians to use their best lawful endeavours with their respective governments that they would employ their diplomatic influence to obtain from Roman Catholic governments, without war, bloodshed, or any unjust or unchristian means, the same religious privileges for Protestants in Roman Catholic countries, that Roman Catholics enjoy in Britain and the United States.

Resolved, That it is the duty of the Roman Catholic clergy of Great Britain and the United States to unite in the foregoing petition with Protestants, and also to petition the Pope, as a temporal prince, and all other Roman Catholic powers, to grant to Protestants the same religious privileges in their several countries, that Roman Catholics enjoy under the British and United States governments.

Resolved, That a committee, consisting of — laymen and — clergymen of the Methodist Episcopal Church, shall be appointed, to whom it shall be intrusted to take such proper measures as may best answer the end, either by themselves, or associated with similar committees or associations which may be appointed by other bodies.

Resolved, That copies of this report be transmitted to the presidents, moderators, or clerks of the several Christian Churches, whether Roman Catholic or Protestant, in the United States, England, Ireland, and Scotland, and on the continent of Europe, as far as practicable.

AA.—REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE ON THE MEMORIAL FROM WASHINGTON CITY.

THE Committee, to whom was referred the memorial of sundry brethren (lay and ministerial) from the City of Washington, touching the erection of a house of worship in some central location in the metropolis of the nation, beg leave to report:—

That this subject, as set forth in the memorial, is one of no ordinary importance to the interests of American Methodism. The enterprise in which our brethren, the memorialists, have embarked with such commendable liberality and zeal, is entitled to the gravest consideration; and the aid and encouragement which they respectfully solicit at our hands, should be accordingly bestowed. That a great denominational want, as specified in the memorial, does exist, is not only evident from the reasoning of the memorialists, but also from other and various sources of information on the subject. That our membership and friends from all portions of our Union, who visit the seat of our national government, have for many years been subjected to painful inconveniences in attending upon our ordinances and ministry, is a deplorable fact—one which has often excited surprise and called forth expressions of regret from many of our most distinguished ministers, both in talent, influence, and offices, from every section of our country. Every one who feels a just and jealous concern for the respectability and success of our fondly-cherished Methodism, must see and regret the same deficiency, and desire to supply it by every justifiable means at his disposal.

The resident members and friends of our Church in said city are amply supplied with every facility for the worship of God, but are by no means able to meet fully this public exigency. They are, indeed, less directly and personally interested in the success of this undertaking than those of our communion who live elsewhere, whose friends and families, when visiting Washington, are almost entirely deprived of the means of grace peculiar to our economy. They have, nevertheless, in addition to the obligations devolving upon them for the support of the stations to which they are attached, voluntarily assumed a debt of eight thousand dollars in the purchase of a lot, proverbial for its eligibility, as a site for a large, commodious, and central church.

If, therefore, a similar devotion to the general interests of Methodism should be exhibited by our friends in every part of our wide-spread work, this enterprise would soon be crowned with success and thus our common Zion be creditably and appropriately represented in the very heart of our metropolis.

In view, therefore, of the urgency of this demand upon our attention and aid, we beg leave respectfully to submit the following resolutions:

Resolved, 1st, That we cordially approve of the erection of a new house of worship for the Methodist Episcopal Church in the city of Washington, as contemplated by our brethren in their memorial.

Resolved, 2d, That, regarding the success of this enterprise as of high importance to the interests of Methodism throughout the country, we will give it our individual influence in our respective annual conferences, and by all appropriate means aid in its promotion.

JOHN BEAR,
E. E. GRISWOLD,
E. THOMSON.

A further amendment was offered to strike out the words, "but any member may decline serving on more than one committee at the same time," which latter amendment prevailed, and the rule as amended was then adopted.

The fifth rule was read and adopted.

The sixth rule was read, and a motion was made to amend it by inserting, after the word "mover," the words, "with the consent of the second."

A motion was made to substitute for this amendment, the words "with the consent of the conference."

On motion, both the amendment and substitute were laid on the table, and the rule as reported was adopted.

The seventh, eighth, ninth, tenth, eleventh, twelfth, thirteenth, fourteenth, fifteenth, sixteenth, and seventeenth rules were read and adopted.

After the eighteenth rule was read, it was on motion amended, by inserting after the word "Conference" the words, "except in cases in which character is involved."

After a motion to strike the whole rule out of the report was lost, the rule as amended was adopted.

The nineteenth rule was read, after which, a motion was made so to amend it, that it shall read thus, "a substitute may be amended before being accepted by the Conference."

A motion was made to strike out the whole rule, but the motion was laid on the table.

The amendment prevailed, and the rule as amended was adopted.

Committee on Missions report in relation to Episcopal authority in Africa.

William Hamilton, Chairman of the Committee on Missions, reported in part as follows, namely :

The Missionary Committee beg leave to report in part, namely: the following resolutions in reference to so much of the Bishops' Address as refers to the subject of Episcopal authority in our Liberia Mission Conference in Africa.

1. Resolved, That we recommend the appointment of a Missionary Bishop, who shall reside in Liberia, on the western coast of Africa, or in its vicinity, and have episcopal jurisdiction in Africa only. The said Bishop and Churches in Africa shall still be under the supervision of the Methodist Episcopal Church in the United States.

2. Resolved, That in case a suitable man cannot be found during the present session of the General Conference, who is willing to go to Liberia and reside, we recommend and authorize the Liberia Annual Conference, under the direction of the Bishop having charge of said Conference at present, assisted by the Corresponding Secretary of the Missionary Society, to elect an elder in good standing in the Methodist Episcopal Church, and present him for episcopal ordination to the Bishops, or any of them, who are hereby authorized to ordain such person so elected, certifying in the parchment of ordination that his episcopal jurisdiction is expressly limited to Africa.

W. HAMILTON, Chairman.

Missionary Seminary.

The Missionary Committee beg leave to report further, in reference to so much of the Bishops' Address as refers to a Missionary Seminary, that they have carefully considered this very weighty matter, and deem its accomplishment of great importance to the future progress of our missions, particularly in foreign lands. But we are of opinion that it is not practicable for this General Conference to devise a plan in detail, and we therefore recommend that the subject be referred to the discretion of the Board of Managers of the Missionary Society of the Methodist Episcopal Church, in conjunction with the Bishops, or a majority of them, with an expression of our approbation of the subject-matter suggested in the Address of the Bishops, as already mentioned above. Provided they should be able to do so without making use of our regular Missionary Collections to accomplish the object.

The Committee on Revisals and Unfinished Business beg leave to report, in part:

1. That having duly considered that part of the Bishops' Address which relates to the Representation of the General Conference, the Committee recommend the insertion of the words "twenty-seven," in place of "twenty-one," in Part i, ch. iii, § 2, Ans. 1, of the Book of Discipline.

The Committee also recommend the alteration of the second Restrictive Rule, (on p. 33,) so as to insert "one for every forty-five," in place of "one for every thirty."

2. so extensively through these lands; that the enterprise received the approbation and sanction of the General Conference of 1852, and that nearly all the Annual Conferences in the connection have pledged assistance for its accomplishment. The committee find that, on application of the trustees, the Baltimore Annual Conference appointed the Rev. Henry Slicer agent to solicit funds in its behalf; that he served in this office two years; and that on a second application to the same conference, the Rev. W. M. D. Ryan was appointed to the same agency; that he has served one year, and is still employed as the agent of the trustees. The result of these agencies up to this date is as follows:

Amount collected in cash.....	$13,600
Amount now due on subscription.....	23,400
Making in all.....	$37,000

Of the funds collected, $8,000 have been expended in the purchase of a lot, and the remaining $5,600 have been expended in laying the foundation.

In this state of things, your committee are of opinion that the honor of the Church is pledged to the accomplishment of this enterprise; and so pledged, that its failure would subject the Church to merited reproach. They further agree, that to complete the edifice in such a style of architecture, of such dimensions, and of such materials as the case demands, will require, in addition to the resources now in the hands of the trustees, at least $40,000.

The committee therefore recommend the adoption of the following resolutions:

1. Resolved, That this General Conference recommend that a collection be taken for the purpose of raising the sum of $40,000, in behalf of the Metropolitan Church, in all the congregations of our connection, between this and the first of July, 1857.

2. Resolved, That the Bishops be, and they are hereby requested, in all the Conferences in which they preside severally, to take the special supervision of this enterprise, urging the collections contemplated, and engaging the preachers to take a practical and efficient interest in the completion of the object proposed.

3. Resolved, That in view of the connectional character of the Metropolitan Church, it is the judgment of this General Conference, that the Bishops, in making appointments, should by transfer supply said church with pastors successively from all parts of our work.

The committee further suggest the inquiry, whether this matter may not be referred to in the Pastoral Address to be issued by this body at its present session.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

Norval Wilson, Chairman of the Committee on Itinerancy, presented a report, in part, in words following, to wit:

The Committee on the Itinerancy beg leave to report, that they have received memorials from Newcastle, East Maine Conference; from Akron Quarterly Conference; from Adams, Black River Conference; from the First Methodist Episcopal Church, New-Haven, New-York East Conference; all asking for an Extension of Ministerial Term of Service, but scarce any two of them agreeing as to the precise limit; some of the petitioners asking an extension to three years, others to five, and yet others to an indefinite term. All these petitioners collectively make scarcely an aggregate of one hundred names. We have also had referred to us the resolutions of the New-York Conference, remonstrating against any extension of time; and likewise a memorial from the majority of the Report of the Committee on Itinerancy on Extension of Time of Ministerial Service.

official members of the Duane-street Church, New-York, adverse to the proposed change. The committee have given these papers a proper measure of consideration, and have arrived at the conclusion, that the interests of the Church do not demand, neither will be promoted by making provision for, further extension of ministerial service. The discussions had in committee have elicited, among many others, the following views :

The memorialists in favor of the change proposed are too few in number to authorize such a vital modification in our economy ; and only induce the belief, that after an extended discussion of this question through the press, and by other means, the great mass both of preachers and people give a decided preference for the two years' rule. The committee have likewise been led to the conclusion, that the arguments usually adduced in favor of an extension of ministerial service, such as the greater probable mental improvement of the ministry, the more thorough acquaintance with and consequent influence over the congregation, &c., are arguments that go more directly to the advocacy of a settled ministry in the stead of our itinerancy, than to the extension of the term of service from two to three years.

The committee, therefore, governed by these and many other considerations, not now necessary to name, strongly as they desire to meet the wishes of the people, whether few or many, find themselves unable to coincide in sentiment with the prayer of the petitioners, and conclude with recommending the following resolution for adoption :

Resolved, &c., That it is inexpedient at this time to extend the term of ministerial service beyond the present assigned limits of two years.

Motion to re-commit, with instructions.

After the report was read, John P. Durbin moved to recommit the report, with instruction to the committee to report in favor of extending the time of ministerial service on circuits and stations to three years, at the discretion of the Annual Conferences severally.

Call for the previous question not sustained.

James Drummond moved the previous question, but the motion was not sustained. Thomas H. Pearne, seconded by John B. Merwin, presented the following substitute for the motion of J. P. Durbin, namely :

Substitute for motion to re-commit.

Resolved, That we recommit the report, with instructions to report in favor of extending the time to not more than three years, by the consent of the Annual Conference, at the request of the bishop presiding.

Report on the Memorial of
D. J. Snow.
Adopted.

The Committee on Itinerancy beg leave to report on the memorial of D. J. Snow, of Illinois Conference, who complains, first, that he was located in an illegal and informal manner by said Conference, in the year 1848, and thereby compelled to engage in secular business; second, that by an equally illegal process he, the said memorialist, was expelled from the Conference and the Church in 1853, which action ruined his business and involved him in a loss of several thousand dollars.

The above-named memorialist prays that the General Conference will take measures to ascertain whether, under the constitution of the Church, an annual conference can legally suspend the claim of a traveling elder upon the funds of the Church, and then determine that said suspension cancels the obligation.

The committee are of opinion that the disposition of the case belongs to the Annual Conference of which the memorialist is a member, and would express their conviction that the brethren of that Conference will do ample justice in the case. The committee request to be released from the further consideration of the memorial.

Resolved, That should the Church in Africa organize an independent Church, as contemplated in the preceding resolution, it does not follow that we shall cease to foster and help them by our missionary funds, but that we shall still be at liberty to make appropriations for that work, so long as they shall maintain the doctrines of the Methodist Episcopal Church.

Action of the Missionary Board in appropriating funds to Methodist bodies in fraternal correspondence with our Church.

Report considered by item.

Call for the previous question sustained.

First item adopted.

Second item adopted.

The Committee on Missions beg leave to report further:

1. We have considered the memorial from the New-England Conference as to a division of the missionary organization into Foreign and Domestic Missionary Societies, and recommend that the suggestion in the memorial be not adopted, for the reason that, in our opinion, it would reduce the aggregate receipts, and make an undue division of the receipts between the foreign and domestic work, in favor of foreign missions.

2. FURTHER.—We have carefully considered the papers referring to Conrad Muth, presented by Brother Crary, and find no case on which a report can be made, as no case is stated. But if the papers are to be supervised at all, they belong to the Annual Conference.

3. FURTHER.—We have duly considered the communication from the New-York East Conference, in reference to the superannuated men whose health failed in foreign missions, and beg leave to report that, in the judgment of the committee, the Constitution of the Missionary Society, in article FIFTH, makes sufficient provision for such cases.

4. FURTHER.—We have duly considered the request of the Liberia Annual Conference, asking aid for their infant Book Concern, and recommend that the Agents of the Book Concern furnish them with books for cash, at such prices as they furnish them to our own Depositories.

5. FURTHER.—We have duly considered the recommendation of the General Missionary Committee at its session in 1855, that the Board obtain the formal sanction of the General Conference to their construction of the Constitution, by virtue of which they make appropriations to aid missions of other Methodist bodies which are in fraternal correspondence with the General Conference, and recommend that we approve of the action of the General Committee and Board in the premises.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

That they have had under consideration various memorials, proposing certain modifications of the rule of Discipline relating to Presiding Elders.

They have examined and duly considered these memorials. Twenty-nine (29) of them were printed, and six (6) were written, representing about four hundred (400) private and official members of the Church.

They ask first that the Presiding Elder be appointed to a station within the bounds of the district; from which station he shall receive his salary; his traveling expenses to be borne by the circuit or station, over whose Quarterly Conference he may be called to preside.

If this be not granted, then second, that each Annual Conference be left to regulate its own economy in regard to this office.

If this be not granted, then third, that New-York, Brooklyn, and other large cities, be excepted from the rule as it now stands.

If this be not granted, then fourth, that such modifications be made as shall best meet the ends proposed by the petitioners.

There were also referred to us five (5) remonstrances from Quarterly Conferences against all such changes.

Also resolutions from the Wisconsin Annual Conference, first praying that the office of Presiding Elder be elective; second, that the Bishop be requested not to appoint any brother to this office who may have served four consecutive years, until an interval of two years shall have elapsed.

After due deliberation, we unanimously propose for adoption the following preamble and resolution, namely:

Whereas it seems impracticable to modify the Presiding Eldership, as at present constituted, without impairing its usefulness and endangering the permanence of our itinerancy; therefore,

Resolved, That we recommend no change at present in that feature of our economy; relying upon the wisdom of the episcopacy in selecting such incumbents for the office as shall give it the greatest possible efficiency.

May 20, 1856.

The Committee on Itinerancy beg leave further to report: That they have had under consideration certain resolutions referred to them, and signed by H. Bangs and J. M. Report of Committee on Missions relating to Germany.

May 30, 1856, Annual Conference in Germany was adopted as follows, namely:

The Committee on Missions beg leave further to report,

German Mission Conference organized.

After examining the grounds of the request of our brethren in Germany for being organized into a Mission Annual Conference, we are satisfied that in order to train up properly the young men whom the Lord has raised up, and may raise up in Germany for the ministry, to regularly receive them on trial and into full connection, to elect candidates to deacon's and elder's orders, and in order that the superintendent might have the benefit of authorized advice from his co-laborers, our mission work ought to be organized as a Mission Annual Conference. We recommend this the more cheerfully, as it will not necessarily involve the expense of regular episcopal visitations. Therefore,

1. Resolved, That the German Missionaries of the Methodist Episcopal Church in Germany, and in that part of France and Switzerland where the German language is spoken, be organized as a Mission Annual Conference.

Bishop requested to visit Germany, if necessary.

2. Resolved, That one of our bishops be requested to hold the Mission Conference in Germany, when it is deemed necessary by the Episcopal Board.

Whereas, a very large amount of the most important business of the General Conference remains either untouched, or in a very imperfect state; and

Whereas, the Report of the Committee on Slavery, after occupying the attention of a large and able committee for several weeks, has engaged the attention of the Conference for several days, during which it has been extensively discussed; therefore,

Resolved, That after the speaker who shall be recognized by the chair this morning shall have spoken, the floor shall be conceded to the Chairman of the Committee on Slavery; after which, the Report of said committee shall be laid on the table, excepting the first resolution, which resolution shall be made the special order of the day for this morning at 11 o'clock.

From this decision an appeal was taken to the Conference; whereupon, H. Slicer moved, that the decision of the chair stand as the judgment of the Conference; but the motion to sustain the decision of the chair was lost by a vote of 93 to 107.

Whereupon, the chair announced that, by this action of the Conference, it was decided that the Report of the Committee on Slavery, excepting the first resolution, was laid on the table by force of the resolution relating to that subject adopted this morning.

On motion of H. Bangs, it was resolved, that when we adjourn we adjourn to meet this afternoon at 2 o'clock.

The chair decided that J. M'Clintock was entitled to the floor. From this decision W. Hosmer appealed, when, on motion of T. J. Thompson, the appeal was laid on the table.

The Committee on Education have had under consideration the subject of Biblical Institutes, and beg leave to report in relation thereto the following resolutions:

1. Resolved, That this General Conference reject all institutional means for ministerial education which assume the sufficiency of merely educational qualifications for the sacred office, and most strenuously require that no candidate for that office be admitted to our Biblical Institutes and departments for ministerial training, without a certificate from the quarterly or annual conference of its belief that he is Divinely called to the ministry.

2. Resolved, That the General Conference looks with approval on those Biblical departments which are in connection with our colleges, and which may hereafter be established in such connection, and upon our Biblical Institutes, which now do, and hereafter may exist separately for the education of such candidates; provided, always, that both these classes of ministerial institutions be encompassed with guards sufficient to protect them from heresy in doctrine and error in discipline.

3. Resolved, That for the efficiency of this protective purpose the General Conference deems it indispensable that the trustees of such institutions be all members of the Methodist Episcopal Church, and that at least one annual conference have the chartered right to supply all the occurring vacancies in such boards, and to have the acknowledged right to procure the prompt removal from the institution of any teacher or teachers whose instructions shall not harmonize with either the doctrines or the Discipline of the Methodist Episcopal Church.

4. Resolved, That the General Conference would regard with decided disapproval every attempt to multiply greatly these institutions among us, as this could have no tendency but to enfeeble their salutary influence and to exhaust the means of the Church, which should be otherwise applied.

5. Resolved, That Trustees of Biblical Institutes be required to report annually to the annual conferences patronizing them, and quadrennially to the General Conference.

6. Resolved, That the General Conference request the Superintendents to act as an Advisory Committee, to counsel the Trustees of the Garrett Biblical Institute, in accordance with the suggestions of the said Trustees, and that they also act as an Advisory Committee for such other Biblical Institutes as may exist in accordance with the provisions of the above resolutions.

Amount of
priated to conferences in
states.

W. Hamilton, Chairman of the Committee on Missions, submitted the following as the information desired by the Conference in relation to missionary contributions and missionary appropriations to the conferences in slave territory.

The following information is given to the Conference by the Missionary Committee, at the instance of the Conference.

Appropriations of missionary money to conferences in slave territory, in part or in whole, during the last four years:

Kentucky Conference.....	$5,450
Missouri Conference.....	17,800
Arkansas Conference.....	10,500
Baltimore, Philadelphia, and Western Virginia for four years.....	30,550

Total appropriations during the last four years 64,300

The same conferences contributed missionary money, during the last four years, to the amount of $168,301 74, showing an excess of contributions of missionary money by these conferences over the appropriations of missionary money to them of about $100,000. We think it desirable that the Church will note this.

George Peck, Chairman of the Committee on the Book Concern, submitted a report, providing for Publishing Committees for the Advocates, and also proposing an alteration of the Discipline as follows, namely:

Proposed
Discipline.

Chap. vi, Part III, page 202, strike out the section after the word "practicable," and insert, "they shall also pay one third of the salary and the traveling expenses of the Bishops; and the same proportion of all other appropriations made by the General Conference, not otherwise provided for."

L. L. Hamline having, through George W. Walker, requested that the letters which were addressed to himself, or his wife, and which were used as testimony in the case of L. D. Harlan, be returned to them; on motion of George W. Walker, the Conference ordered that all the papers used as testimony in the case of L. D. Harlan be returned to the Secretary of the Cincinnati Annual Conference.

George W. Walker presented the following resolution, which lies on the table under the rule, namely:

Resolved, That, in view of the intimate relation which our German Publications at Cincinnati bear to the Sabbath-school, Tract, and General English Publications at New-York, as well as to the contemplated German publications in Bremen, by order of the Missionary Board, we recommend the appointment of the German Editor as ex-officio member of the Publishing Committees of the Tract Society, of the Sunday School Union, and of the Missionary Society, so as to allow him, when it is deemed necessary by those having charge of the above-named interests, officially to consult with them in regard to the Books and Tracts which ought to be published in Cincinnati or in Bremen, and for properly selecting and procuring the necessary cuts and other typographical requirements.

The Bishops returned the following answer to the inquiry propounded in the resolution offered by James S. Porter, namely:

The Bishops have not heretofore communicated to the Conference any wish in reference to the increase of their number, desiring that the Conference should form its own opinion of the propriety of such a measure. We, however, incline to the opinion that, in view both of our interests on the Pacific coast and our increased number of conferences, it might be prudent to elect an additional

Report on Trials and Appeals taken up.

On motion of James Porter, the order of the day was suspended to take up the Report of the Committee on Trials and Appeals.

The report was taken up, and the item providing a mode of Trial of Traveling Preachers by a Committee of the Annual Conference, was read and adopted as follows :

The Committee on Trials and Appeals beg leave to report,

Change of Discipline relating to the Trial of an accused Traveling Preacher.

That they have carefully considered that part of the Bishops' Address which relates to the trial of accused traveling ministers, and in accordance with their suggestion, they recommend that the Discipline be so altered (Part I, chap. ix, sec. 2, page 94, immediately preceding the words "provided nevertheless," &c.) as to read,

"But should the Conference having jurisdiction in any of the foregoing cases, judge it expedient to try the accused by a select number, it may appoint not less than nine, nor more than fifteen of its members for that purpose, who, in the presence of a bishop or a chairman, which the President of the Conference shall appoint, and one or more of the Secretaries of the Conference, shall have full power to consider and determine the case according to the rules which govern annual conferences in such proceedings, and they shall make a faithful report of all their doings to the Secretary of the Conference in writing, and deliver up to him the bill of charges, the evidence taken, and the decision rendered, with all other documents brought into the trial."

So much of the report as relates to the Laws of Evidence was read and adopted as follows :

Report relating to the Laws of Evidence.

The committee have also considered that part of the Bishops' Address which relates to the laws of evidence, and beg leave to report that it is inexpedient to incorporate into the Discipline anything further upon this subject. The laws of evidence in civil and criminal jurisprudence are complicated, and often inappropriate to our circumstances. Having no authority to compel the attendance and testimony of witnesses, we are sometimes obliged to rely chiefly on evidence that would not be admitted in the jurisprudence of the state. These facts, taken in connection with the increasing facilities among us for a better understanding of the subject, fully justify the committee, they think, in the conclusion at which they have arrived.

So much of the report as relates to a Conference of Appeals was read and adopted as follows, namely :

That part of the Bishops' Address which relates to a Conference of Appeals, has given your committee great embarrassment. The plans suggested, together with several others had under consideration at the General Conference of 1852, have been carefully examined. To these have been added a number more, containing elements of great excellence. But after careful consideration of the whole subject, your committee entertain serious doubts of the propriety of introducing a new and distinct tribunal into our economy. Arrange it as we may, it will involve many inconveniences, and much expense, besides being liable to various misconstructions. Our present system is simple and unobtrusive. Without a parade of forms and high-sounding titles, it secures the rights of all our members in an eminent degree, while at the same time it protects the Church against the influence of unworthy members.

Conference of Appeals.

Your committee, therefore, beg leave to report, that, in their judgment, it is inexpedient for this General Conference to provide for a Delegated Annual or Biennial Conference of Appeals, and to relieve the difficulties which call loudest for some change, they recommend that the following paragraph be appended to section 2, of Part I, of the Discipline, entitled, "Of the General Conference," namely :

"The General Conference may try appeals from members of Annual Conferences who may have been censured, suspended, expelled, or located without their consent by a committee embracing not less than fifteen of its members, nor more than one member from each delegation, who, in the presence of a bishop presiding, and one or more of the secretaries of the Conference keeping a faithful record of all the proceedings had, shall have full power to hear and determine the case, subject to the rules and regulations which govern the said Conference in such proceedings; and the records made and the papers submitted in such trials shall be presented to the Conference, and be filed and preserved with the papers of that body."

Change of Discipline relating to the mode of Trying Appeals.

George Peck, Chairman of the Committee on the Book Concern, submitted the following report, and it was adopted, namely :

The Committee on the Book Concern beg leave further to report, that there have been various applications from individuals asking relief. The committee recommend the following :

Report concerning individuals asking relief.

Resolved, That we recommend these persons to apply to the Book Agents at New-York and Cincinnati, who are authorized to settle such claims.

The Chairman of the Committee on the Book Concern further reported in relation to the Pittsburgh Christian Advocate as follows, and the report was adopted, namely :

Report on the Chartered Fund.
Adopted.

F. Hodgson, Chairman of the Committee to whom was referred the Report of the Trustees of the Chartered Fund, presented a report; and on motion it was adopted as follows, namely:

The committee to whom was referred the Report of the Trustees of the Chartered Fund beg leave to report, that from the document submitted to them it appears that in 1854, under a decree of the Supreme Court of the United States, an amicable division of said fund was made with the Methodist Episcopal Church, South. Its net valuation at that time was $38,324 31. The division was made in proportion to the number of preacher in the Churches respectively. The amount paid to the commissioners of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, is $17,051 06, leaving a balance of $21,273 26. It is expected that this sum will be increased in a short time by a due proportion of the sum of $6,000, now in litigation, and to be divided, when obtained, between the two churches.

June 2, 1856.

Your committee having duly considered the whole subject, recommend to the General Conference the following resolutions, namely:

1. Resolved, That the General Conference has entire confidence in the wisdom and integrity of the Trustees of the Chartered Fund, and approves of their administration of their trust during the last four years.

2. Resolved, That the General Conference especially approves of the amicable division of the Chartered Fund with the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, and the principles upon which it was effected.

3. Resolved, That the General Conference leaves to the discretion of the Trustees the question, whether the Fund committed to their care can be safely invested in those states which allow higher rates of interest than are lawful in Pennsylvania.

4. Resolved, That the General Conference confirm the election of Brothers Colson Hieskell and T. K. Collins as Trustees of this Fund.

5. Resolved, That the thanks of the General Conference be tendered to the Trustees of the Chartered Fund for the wisdom and faithfulness with which they have discharged their duty.

In relation to Sunday Schools.

PART I, CHAP. VI.—Of Sunday Schools and the Religious Instruction of Children.

Ques. 1. What shall we do for the moral and religious instruction of the children ?

Ans. 1. It shall be the special duty of preachers having charge of circuits or stations, with the aid of the other preachers, to form Sunday schools in all our congregations where ten children can be collected for that purpose, and to engage the coöperation of as many of our members as they can, to visit the schools as often as practicable, to preach on the subject of Sunday schools and religious instruction in each congregation at least once in six months, and to form Bible classes wherever they can for the instruction of larger children and youth; and where they cannot superintend them personally, to see that suitable teachers are provided for that purpose.

2. It shall also be the duty of preachers to enforce faithfully upon parents and Sunday-school teachers the great importance of instructing children in the doctrines and duties of our holy religion, to see that our catechisms be used as extensively as possible both in our Sunday schools and families, to preach to the children, and publicly catechise them in the Sunday schools and at special meetings appointed for that purpose.

3. It shall be the duty of every preacher in his pastoral visits to pay special attention to the children, speaking to them personally and kindly on the subject of experimental and practical godliness, according to their capacity, pray earnestly for them, and diligently instruct and exhort all parents to dedicate their children to the Lord in baptism, as early as convenient.

4. Each preacher in charge shall lay before the quarterly conference, (see Part I, chap. iii, sec. 4, ques. 4, ans. 8,) to be entered on its Journal, the number and state of the Sunday schools and Bible classes in his charge, and the extent to which he has preached to the children and catechised them, and make the required report on Sunday schools to his annual conference.

5. (To read the same as present answer 2.)

cipline.

To strike out from the answer to ques. 1, sec. 4, chap. iii, Part I, the words,

"But the first male superintendents of the Sunday schools, being members of our Church, shall, by virtue of their office, have a seat in the quarterly conference having supervision of their schools, with the right to speak and vote on questions relating to Sunday schools, and on such questions only,"

And insert instead thereof, after the words "or station," and before the words "and none else," the following, namely :

"And the first male superintendents of our Sunday schools, being members of our Church, and approved by the quarterly conference."

To insert in ans. 5 to ques. 4, sec. 2, chap. iv, Part I, after the word "circuit," in the seventh line, the words,

"Or station, and the first male superintendents of our Sunday schools, being members of our Church, and approved by the quarterly conference."

In Part I, chap iv, sec. 11, ques. 1, ans. 16, to strike out the words, "in connection with reporting the Sunday-school statistics," and insert, instead thereof, the words "in his report."

That so much of ans. 1, chap. vi, Part I, page 85, as follows the words, "each quarterly conference shall have supervision of all the Sunday schools and Sunday-school Societies within its bounds," be transferred to Part I, chap. iii, sec. 4, ques. 4, ans. 8, page 39, in place of the present reference thereto.

The following resolution, presented yesterday and laid on the table, was taken up and adopted, namely :

Resolved, That, in view of the intimate relation which our German Publications at Cincinnati bear to the Sabbath School, Tract, and General English Publications at New-York, as well as to the contemplated German Publications in Bremen by order of the Missionary Board, we recommend the appointment of the German Editor as ex-officio member of the Publishing Committees of the Tract Society, of the Sunday-School Union, and of the Missionary Society, so as to allow him, when it is deemed necessary by those having charge of the above-named interests, officially to consult with them in regard to the Books and Tracts which ought to be published in Cincinnati, or in Bremen, and for properly selecting and procuring the necessary cuts and other typographical requirements.

ADDRESS OF THE BISHOPS.

To the General Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church :

REVEREND AND DEAR BRETHREN,—That so many of us live to see the twelfth quadrennial session of the delegated General Conference, is an occasion of humble thanksgiving to our heavenly Father. In view of the toils and perils incident to our calling, the extensive range of our work, with all its variety of climate and disease, our preservation is more than could reasonably have been expected. We recognize here with pleasure the friendly countenances, and hear the familiar voices, of many senior brethren, with whom we have long been accustomed to mingle on such occasions, while we greet with equal satisfaction the junior members of the body, who are strong to labor, and who inspire hope for the future. This pleasure is sensibly heightened by the presence of honored brethren, who represent in this body the British and Canada Conferences, organizations to which we sustain a fraternal relation—a relation which it is both our interest and delight to strengthen and perpetuate. We also enjoy the pleasure of having with us the members of the Irish deputation, who visit our Churches to solicit sympathy and aid in their laudable efforts to promote the Wesleyan form of Protestant Christianity in Ireland. The distant fields and diversified interests represented by them, clearly indicate that our beloved Methodism, at once expansive and concentric, can adapt itself to all countries without losing its identity, efficiency, or social excellence. We hail these representatives from different branches of our Father's family as brethren beloved, and welcome them to our country, to our conference, to our homes, and to our hearts.

But several distinguished brethren, whose presence cheered our council four years ago, have finished their earthly pilgrimage and entered the promised rest above, thus reminding us that we are all passing away. Among these, our lamented co-laborers, Davis, Clark, and Gary, whose praise is in all the Churches, will long be remembered with gratitude by thousands for their works' sake. The announcement of their names reminds us of their venerable forms, refreshing counsels, and triumphant deaths. May we follow them as they followed Christ. What changes await us in the four years to come, who can tell? It behooves us in all places, especially here, to act in view of our present responsibility and final reckoning.

To make rules and regulations for twelve thousand ministers and preachers, and about eight hundred thousand communicants, is a highly responsible work, and to perform the task aright, requires much wisdom and calm reflection.

In the exercise of this prerogative, you will, of course, have constant reference to two great principles—to ascertain and provide for the real wants of the Church on the one hand, and to do this without infringing her constitutional “limitations and restrictions” on the other.

Such measures as may be evidently needful and clearly constitutional, should be promptly adopted; but no risk should be taken in regard to such as are of a doubtful character, lest the unity of the body ecclesiastic be periled.

It is with profound respect for, and fraternal confidence in, the judgment of this enlightened body, that we venture upon these general suggestions, and trust they will be received as kindly as they are given.

As to the general work among us, its progress since your last session has, upon the whole, been encouraging. This statement is sustained by satisfactory proof. In 1851 our official Minutes reported 4,450 traveling preachers, 5,700 local preachers, and 721,804 members and probationers; while our Minutes in 1855 give us 5,408 traveling preachers, 6,610 local preachers, and 799,431 members and probationers, showing a net increase during the four years past of 958 traveling preachers, 910 local preachers, and 77,627 members and probationers. The numerical table, however, does not exhibit all the fruit. Our brethren and friends have enlarged their means of usefulness, and their liberality in employing them. To name only a few items: they have evinced a commendable zeal in the erection of houses of worship, both as to the number and style of the edifices; they have made better provision for the support of their ministers and their families, and largely augmented their contributions for missions and other benevolent objects; thus showing a growing attachment to Methodism, and an increasing appreciation of its privileges. While devising these liberal things, they have, at different seasons, and in numerous places, enjoyed “times of refreshing from the presence of the Lord.”

And now what we need, above all things, is such humble, active prayer and faith, as will secure a general outpouring of the Holy Spirit upon all the preachers and their congregations, attended with convincing truth, godly sorrow, and saving mercy, and resulting in Gospel holiness of heart and life throughout our extended connection. Such a visitation of heavenly influence would reanimate our organization at home, and impart a fresh impulse to our foreign work. Then, too, the Church would arise by faith and assume her true aggressive and missionary character, while her ministers would be clothed with salvation. Revivals of experimental and practical religion develop the resources of the Church, and supply her pulpits and mission fields with living ministers—ministers of Christ’s own choosing; converted, called of God, and filled with faith and the Holy Ghost. These are the ministers needed everywhere, in town and in country, in city and foreign stations; to whom, under God, we may confidently look for success, and without them but little may be expected.

When the number of such ministers is insufficient to meet the demand, let the Church remember the words of Christ: "The harvest truly is great, but the laborers are few; pray ye therefore the Lord of the harvest that he will send forth laborers into his harvest." And let all who are thus Divinely called, study to show themselves approved unto God.

In this communication, the general superintendents cheerfully submit for your approval, or correction, their official administration during the last quadrennial term. Our official acts in the annual conferences will be before your committees, as embodied in the journals thereof, and in the General Minutes. Of the thirty-eight annual conferences in the United States and territories, no one has failed to receive our attention, or been left to hold a session without our presidency.

The work on the Pacific coast has been duly attended to, though the fourth annual visit has been postponed until after this General Conference, because of a desired and needful change in the time of holding their annual sessions. In accordance with the recommendation of the last General Conference, that one of us should visit Liberia once or oftener during the last four years, Bishop Scott visited this mission work in the winter of 1852-3, and on hearing his report, and duly considering the subject, we were of the opinion that another episcopal visitation prior to this period was not so important as to require such expense and service.

Thus far our joint superintendence has operated harmoniously, so that in all essential principles and usages of the episcopal administration, as well as in our social relations, we have been blessed with the unity of the Spirit and the bond of peace, for which we would be devoutly thankful to our heavenly Father.

CHANGES OF DISCIPLINE.

There are some disciplinary regulations collaterally connected with our work, which we judge may properly claim your careful revision; and from the experience secured to us by our official relation to the executive administration, we deem it proper to invite your attention to them.

The rule requiring the concurrent advice of all the annual conferences, to authorize the bishops to call an extra session of the General Conference, we think unnecessarily restrictive. We have now thirty-eight annual conferences, and a probability of more; yet any one of them, though the least of all, might defeat the wishes of all the others in regard to an extra session, whatever might be the necessity for it. We respectfully suggest that any state of affairs which would satisfy three fourths or even two thirds of the annual conferences, and the bishops, that an extra session of the General Conference was really necessary, should be deemed a sufficient reason for calling it.

The number of representatives forming this body renders it too large to transact business with convenience and dispatch, and may perhaps suggest to yourselves, as it does to us, the propriety of reducing the ratio of representation. There is already constitutional provision for such reduction, so as to authorize, at your discretion, not less than one representative for every thirty members of annual conferences.

During the past four years several cases have occurred in which a change of the place of holding the conference has been desired. Two conferences, the Oregon in 1853, and the Missouri in 1855, were changed from the places appointed at the previous sessions, such a course having been deemed necessary. We commend to your attention the propriety of some disciplinary enactment touching this matter.

Questions frequently arise in our administration respecting the responsibility of trustees of our Church property, and how far they are subject to the control of quarterly conference action, and we would suggest that this relation be defined by some explicit enactment.

The section defining the method of proceeding against accused traveling ministers is attended with much difficulty in its practical application. Among the difficulties complained of are the following: The law of evidence is not well digested or fully defined; of course conferences and parties are liable to be perplexed. The tribunals are too large to hope for the undivided attention of all the members during the progress of a complex case, and the loss of time is afflictive to a large body of pastors, anxious to be with their families and flocks. Some cases require nearly a week to dispose of them, during which all other business is suspended. Suppose a conference of one hundred members spend four days on a trial, then four hundred days of ministerial labor are lost from the great work of their vocation; and so in proportion to the size of the conference, and the time consumed in each case.

We suggest whether a tribunal, consisting of a select number of the conference, might not be formed, and authorized to try all cases of complaint against its members, as private members are tried by a select number of the society, without detaining the bishop and conference from their other duties. A select number, not exceeding fifteen, could investigate a case more conveniently, and secure the ends of justice more readily, if not more certainly, than a conference of one hundred or one hundred and fifty.

Similar difficulties are felt in trying appeals by this body. Cases may come before you so complex and voluminous, that the mere reading of the papers pertaining to one of them could scarcely be accomplished in a whole day, to say nothing of the time spent in the pleadings. And to expect the fixed attention of over two hundred delegates, hurried with other important business, two or three days to one case, is unreasonable. Besides, under the present rule, it often occurs that a brother expelled or suspended, cannot have his appeal heard, and his case finally determined, for three years or more.

To obviate these difficulties two plans have been suggested. One is a delegated annual conference, composed of one member from each annual conference, with authority to try all appeals, whether from the decision of an annual conference or that of a select number of it, without occupying the General Conference with them, or subjecting parties to injurious and needless delay. The same delegated annual conference, if deemed advisable, could be authorized to investigate complaints against a bishop, allowing him an appeal to the General Conference. It will be remembered that attention was called to this subject at your session of 1848, and that it was resumed in 1852, but under the pressure of many interests it was left with a mass of unfinished business. The chief objection we have heard to this plan is the expense and loss of time involved in attending such conference. But it is doubtful whether it would cost more time or much more money than the present system of trying appeals. The bishops have to meet yearly after the conferences are over, and could easily connect their meeting with that of the delegated annual conference.

The other plan suggested for relief, is a District Conference of Appeals in every episcopal district, composed of two delegates from each annual conference within its jurisdiction, to be held annually after the other conferences are over, and authorized to try appeals from the decisions of annual and quarterly conferences within its bounds, a bishop presiding. This District Conference, while it would not have cognizance of complaints against bishops, as in the other plan, might answer so far as appeals are concerned from the annual and quarterly conferences. If the members and ministers of our Church have the right of trial by committee, and of appeal to a new and competent tribunal, their constitutional rights are secured. These are grave matters, and worthy of patient consideration by the General Conference. As cases of trial and appeal increase in proportion as our ministers, traveling and local, multiply, every year's experience renders some relief more and more desirable.

THE INSTITUTIONS OF THE CHURCH claim a large share of your attention, and we feel assured will receive all the consideration which their admitted importance demands. We will briefly refer to a few of these.

EDUCATION.

In presenting to the notice of the General Conference this important subject, it affords us a high degree of gratification to report this department as being in a prosperous condition. The Methodist Episcopal Church, almost simultaneously with its organization, manifested commendable zeal in arranging plans for the diffusion of elementary literature and science. The success of those efforts was not equal to the reasonable expectations of the friends of learning; and after the disastrous fire which destroyed the edifice of Cokesbury College, there was for some years but little progress made in carrying into effect the early design of the Church. Indeed, in connection with, and growing out of, disheartening failures, a state of apparent indifference and inertness supervened. But from this supineness the Church has been fully aroused for the last fourth of a century, and the extent and vigor of its action in the prosecution of this cardinal interest, give good ground for confident expectation that Methodism will never again be second to any of the Churches of Christendom in the prosecution of this grand enterprise. There are, under the patronage and supervision of our Church, fourteen chartered institutions, under the name and style of university or college, in which liberal education is as thoroughly and successfully imparted as in similar schools under the supervision of other denominations, or of state authorities. Hundreds of the sons of our members and friends are being trained annually in these institutions for posts of honor and usefulness in the state and in the Church. In addition to these, we have some seventy or more academies or seminaries, most of them of a high grade, affording ample literary advantages to our youth of both sexes. Several of these institutions, however, some of them with collegiate powers, are exclusively appropriated to female education. In these institutions there are large numbers of young ladies (and their number is annually increasing) who are being prepared to fill with dignity and ability the very important stations to which they are destined, in the progress of time, in the domestic, social, and religious circles of life. It is cause of devout thankfulness to God that our institutions of learning are so frequently blessed with revivals of religion. We commend to the continued fostering care of the General Conference and of the Church, all our educational interests. We would suggest, and we hope without giving offense, that the number of our colleges may be augmented injuriously to the general cause of liberal education; and, also, if there were a less liberal use of the high-sounding title of university, in connection with our literary institutions, it would bring them into no disesteem with the thoughtful and discriminating.

If Biblical schools were yet to be organized, it is not probable that we should feel called upon to make any allusion to them. But they actually exist at two points, and prospectively, perhaps, at others. Several annual conferences, both East and West, have approved and patronized them, while other conferences are aiming to accomplish similar results by Biblical departments connected with literary institutions. If it be the judgment of the Church that Biblical schools are desirable, then we would suggest, with due deference to all concerned, that they should be of a connectional character, and in some way responsible to the General Conference, so that their management and teaching shall be in harmony with the doctrines and Discipline of the Church.

PUBLISHING INTEREST.

It gives us great pleasure to state that the publishing interest has gone forward during the last four years in a course of steady and encouraging prosperity. For details we refer you to the reports of the Book Agents and Book Committees; but the following statements, drawn mainly from these reports, exhibit the present highly satisfactory condition of this great interest.

The number of subscribers to our various periodicals is as follows:

Christian Advocate and Journal.....	29,875
Western Christian Advocate.....	28,718
Northern Christian Advocate.....	15,000
Northwestern Christian Advocate.....	10,033
Pittsburgh Christian Advocate.....	8,000
Sunday-School Advocate.....	114,692
Missionary Advocate.....	34,000
Christian Apologist, (German,).....	6,967
Quarterly Review.....	2,721
National Magazine.....	15,875
Ladies' Repository.....	29,580

The whole number of subscribers to our various periodicals is 285,461; and the whole number of single copies of these useful publications, issued and scattered abroad in a year, is 9,097,840.

The Sunday-school, the Tract, and General Catalogues have been enlarged during the last four years by the addition of 543 new works, including 314 bound volumes, and 229 tracts. The Sunday-school Library, in its various series, now numbers 1,066 volumes.

The list of tract publications has already reached the respectable number of 72 tract volumes, and 585 tracts, including quite a number in the German, Swedish, and Danish languages; and the whole number of separate copies of books and tracts, large and small, issued by the two Conferences during the last four years, is 15,588,926, including 7,226,409 bound volumes, and 8,362,517 tracts and pamphlets.

THE TRACT CAUSE.

The action of the last General Conference in reference to the tract cause gave a new impulse to this important enterprise. Nearly all the annual conferences have formed auxiliaries; liberal contributions have been received; and the distribution of tracts and books, both by Churches and colporteurs, has been greatly increased. The system, however, is not yet fully matured, and the uniformity and consistency of action requisite for complete success have not yet been attained. We trust that this subject will receive your careful consideration.

SUNDAY SCHOOLS.

The Sunday-school cause is certainly among the most efficient auxiliaries of the Gospel ministry. It is the hope of our children, and they are the hope of the Church. By our published reports, it appears that we have an aggregate of 10,469 Sunday schools, 113,159 officers and teachers, and 579,126 scholars, making a very gratifying increase in this department during the past four years.

We would particularly invite your attention to the section of the Discipline respecting the religious instruction of children, and would suggest that such modifications be made as will place our children more fully under the watch-care and instruction of the Church, and especially that a more detailed plan be devised, which will render the pastoral duty there specified more practical.

MISSIONS.

Though the annual contributions to our Parent Missionary Society have not increased during the last year or two, yet the average amount for the last four years greatly exceeds that of any former period. Through the coöperation of this society our itinerant ministry has kept pace with the enlarging fields upon our Western frontier, embracing the work in California, and in the territories of Oregon, Washington, Minnesota, Kansas, and Nebraska. Assistance has been given to societies in sparsely settled portions of the country, and new churches have been erected in the suburbs of our growing cities. The foreign population annually crowding our shores and settling in all parts of our territory, has received the attention of the Missionary Board. The work among the Germans has continued to enlarge and prosper. The efforts among the Scandinavian immigrants have been very successful, and missions among the Welsh and French are still favored with a measure of prosperity.

The foreign department of our missionary work has continued to share largely in the interest and attention, both of the Church and the Board. No stations in foreign lands have been abandoned, and most of them have been enlarged. The Liberia Mission Conference has been prosperous, and is gradually strengthening.

Additional missionaries have been sent to strengthen our important and interesting mission in China, and also to South America. Missionaries have been sent to Norway and Sweden, and already a good degree of success has been enjoyed, and the prospect of usefulness in the future is encouraging. A mission has been established in India, and one of our active and esteemed brethren has recently sailed for that land as superintendent. The mission in Germany has been highly prosperous. There will, probably, be a memorial before you from our brethren there, requesting that they may be constituted a Mission Annual Conference, with authority to receive preachers and elect them to orders under the provision of the Discipline governing such cases. The mission in Germany has ever been regarded with much favor by our brethren and friends, and has been signally owned and blessed of God; and we doubt not that the General Conference will be disposed to promote its interest by all lawful and practicable means at their command. For details we refer you to the superintendent of that mission, who is present.

Your special attention will again be needed to the wants of our brethren on the western coast of Africa, more particularly as to the exercise of episcopal functions. Two points are clear to us: first, that episcopal authority on the spot is very desirable for the interest of the mission in Liberia; secondly, that it cannot be regularly furnished from this country without embarrassing our home work. How it may best be supplied is for you to determine. Three modes have been suggested: first, for the General Conference to appoint a bishop, and send him to organize them as the Methodist Episcopal Church of Africa; second, to let them organize themselves, elect their bishop, and send him to us for ordination; third, to appoint a missionary bishop to take charge of that work, we retaining jurisdiction over it. As this subject has received much attention from you heretofore, we shall not dwell upon it; but we trust you will be able to make such provision as will secure the best interests of all concerned. But whatever disposition may be made of the case, we hope the brethren of Liberia will never cease to receive our Christian sympathy, and that the missionary dividend will be continued to them as long as they need and properly use it.

The chief obstacle encountered in prosecuting our foreign work, arises from the difficulty of obtaining a sufficient number of missionaries of suitable qualifications. There are frequent and embarrassing delays in organizing missions, and getting them under way; and when on the spot, active movements in beginning the work are necessarily deferred for want of sufficient information as to the language, laws, customs, and manners of the inhabitants. In some instances, before these difficulties are overcome, and the work fairly commenced, the missionaries become discouraged on account of the climate, or the small prospect of immediate success, and quit the field. Thus double expense is incurred in going and returning; much time is lost, and the enterprise embarrassed, if not defeated, and the natives still left in the darkness and misery of sin, and on the way to perdition. We need a class of brethren who will deliberately make up their minds to take this work for life, and adhere to it through weal and woe.

Some look for relief to a Missionary Seminary, where, under competent preceptors, candidates might be directed in such a course of reading and study as would prepare them for their particular fields of labor, and where brethren set apart for the foreign work would be comparatively free from temptation to turn aside to other pursuits.

Having thus adverted to the embarrassments connected with this subject, we submit it to your consideration to provide a remedy.

SLAVERY.

In compliance with the request of the Troy, Erie, North Ohio, and Wisconsin Conferences, different resolutions, asking a change in the General Rule on slavery, were laid before all the annual conferences for their concurrence. The result will be found by inspection of the Journals; but, we believe, no one of these resolutions received the constitutional majority of the members of the annual conferences. In view of this fact, the question may arise, whether this body has authority to change the Discipline upon this subject so as to affect membership in the Church. We are aware that it is difficult to separate the consideration of the desirableness of any measure from its constitutionality, and especially so where deep feeling on the subject may exist. Yet we think it to be our duty to express our strong doubts whether, in view of the restricted powers of a delegated General Conference, any measure equivalent to a change in the General Rules can be constitutionally adopted without the concurrence of the annual conferences. As to the propriety of any modifications not of such a character as to conflict with the constitutional economy of the Church, while opinions and views may be various, we can fully confide in the wisdom of this General Conference as the supreme council of the Church.

In our administration in the territory where slavery exists, we have been careful not to transcend in any instance, or in any respect, what we understood to be the will and direction of the General Conference. That body having retained its jurisdiction over conferences previously existing in such territory, and having directed the organization of additional conferences, it became our duty to arrange the districts, circuits, and stations, and to superintend them as an integral part of the Church. As the result, we have six annual conferences which are wholly or in part in slave territory. These conferences have a white Church membership, including probationers, of more than one hundred and forty-three thousand, with the attendants upon our ministry making a probable population of between five and six hundred thousand. They have a colored Church membership, including probationers, of more than twenty-eight thousand, with the attendants upon our ministry making a probable population of upward of a hundred thousand. A portion of this population are slaves. The others are mostly poor. They are generally strongly attached to the Church of their choice, and look to it confidently for ministerial services, religious sympathy, and all the offices of Christian kindness. The white membership in these conferences, in respect to intelligence, piety, and attachment to Methodist Discipline and economy, will compare favorably with other portions of the Church.

In our judgment, the existence of these conferences and Churches under their present circumstances, does not tend to extend or perpetuate slavery. They are known to be organized under a Discipline which characterizes slavery as a great evil; which makes the slaveholder ineligible to any official station in the Church, where the laws of the state in which he lives will admit of emancipation, and permit the liberated slave to enjoy freedom; which disfranchises a traveling minister who by any means becomes the owner of a slave or slaves, unless he executes, if it be practicable, a legal emancipation of such slaves, conformably to the laws of the state wherein he lives; which makes it the duty of all the ministers to enforce upon all the members the necessity of teaching their slaves to read the word of God, and allowing them time to attend upon the public worship of God on our regular days of Divine service; which prohibits the buying and selling of men, women, and children with an intention to enslave them, and inquires what shall be done for the extirpation of the evil of slavery.

With this Discipline freely circulated among the people, or certainly within the reach of any who desire to examine it, and with other Churches existing in the same territory without these exactments, these societies and conferences have, either by elective affinity adhered to, or from preference associated with, the Methodist Episcopal Church. In a few instances their Church relations have exposed them to some peril, and in numerous cases to sacrifices. But such have been their moral worth, and Christian excellence, and prudent conduct, that generally they have been permitted to enjoy their religious immunities, and serve and worship God according to their consciences.

And now, brethren, in conclusion, will you suffer the word of exhortation? We have long regretted two things connected with General Conference proceedings, namely, needless loss of time in the early part of the session, and too much haste toward its termination. We trust that on this occasion both will be avoided; that the Conference will enter upon its duties promptly, and that every member will patiently remain at his post until every part of it is duly considered and regularly disposed of. We trust your deliberations will be characterized by fraternal courtesy and a devotional spirit. May the Spirit of all grace descend upon you, and upon the whole Church, through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

ADDRESS OF THE BRITISH CONFERENCE.

To the Reverend the Bishops of the Methodist Episcopal Church in the United States :

LONDON, April 1, 1856.

REV. AND DEAR BRETHREN: This letter will, we trust, be delivered to you by the Rev. John Hannah, D. D., the representative appointed by the Conference held at Leeds, in August last, to attend the General Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church at Indianapolis, and the Rev. Frederic James Jobson, appointed to accompany and assist Dr. Hannah. The ministers assembled at the Conference had sincere pleasure in thus deputing two of their highly esteemed brethren to visit your General Conference, and to convey to you in person the assurance of that affectionate and respectful regard which they cherish for the Church over which you preside, and their cordial desire for the maintenance of such relations between the two bodies as befit their common origin and their substantial unity. We have sincerely regretted the occurrence of any circumstances capable of being so misconstrued, as to seem indicative of a diminished regard for you and your Church; and we take this opportunity of again assuring you that, notwithstanding the absence of a representative from us at your last General Conference, and the accidental and inexplicable failure of our communication in 1849, we have never ceased to love you as brethren, to honor you as the Lord's instruments for accomplishing a great spiritual work, to rejoice in your stability and increase, and to wish you all possible comfort and usefulness. But on these matters we will not further enlarge, nor do we think it needful now to enter into extended statements concerning the circumstances and prospects of our connection. These will be fully represented to you by our representative and his companion. It has afforded us much satisfaction that this mission of fraternal love has been undertaken by brethren so eminently qualified to convey all needful information respecting our affairs and our habitual sentiments toward you. Still less necessary is it for us to bespeak for them your confidence and kindness. Dr. Hannah is not unknown to you, having accompanied the venerable Mr. Reece to your General Conference more than thirty years ago; and were he without this advantage, we are persuaded that you would not fail to "receive him and his companion in the Lord as becometh saints." A recent instance of your kindness in this respect to the deputation sent by the last Irish Conference to solicit help for the work of God in Ireland, is fully appreciated by us, and will doubtless be (in due time) suitably acknowledged by the proper parties. During the last few weeks we have heard with deep concern rumors of disagreements, involving apprehensions of hostility, between the United States and Great Britain, but we trust that they are rather to be regarded as arising from complications of political partisanship than as implying a prevalent national sentiment, or even a grave purpose or tendency on the part of the rulers of either country. Most sincerely should we (and we doubt not you also) deplore that any misunderstanding should be allowed to sever those bonds of fraternal amity and common interest in which our respective countries have so long been held, and to plunge into war the two nations who ought to be most closely united. Our mutual prayers will, we trust, avail with the great Ruler of nations to avert so dire a calamity. Accept, dear and reverend brethren, in conclusion, our best wishes for the blessing of God upon yourselves and your approaching Conference, and for the continual prosperity of his work throughout the widely-extended region over which your charge extends. May he make you perfect in every good work, to do his will, working in you that which is well pleasing in his sight, through Jesus Christ, to whom be glory forever and ever, Amen.

Signed in behalf and by order of the Conference,

ISAAC KEELING, President.

REPLY TO THE ADDRESS FROM THE BRITISH CONFERENCE.

The General Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church in the United States to the Wesleyan Methodist Conference of Great Britain, to assemble at Bristol on Wednesday, July 30, 1856:

REVEREND AND DEAR FATHERS AND BROTHERS: Your fraternal letter from London, of April 1, 1856, addressed to our bishops, was presented and read to this Conference on the second day of our session. At the same time were introduced to the Conference your and our highly-esteemed brethren, Dr. Hannah and Mr. Jobson; now much more highly esteemed in love, for their works' sake, since they have exercised among us the "ministry of reconciliation," proclaiming to us "the love of Christ which passeth knowledge," and have gone in and out among us, socially and officially, for many days.

We cordially thank you, dear brethren, for sending among us, for a season, these "servants of the Most High God." In Dr. Hannah many of our elder brethren have rejoiced to meet a minister of Christ in the full maturity of years and wisdom; whom you have now twice made your president; whom they saw and heard in the fervor of his youthful zeal.

In Mr. Jobson, his clerical companion, we found a Wesleyan minister, whose cultivated taste, genial spirit, fervent mind, and evangelical ministry, enshrined him in our warmest love, and led us to hope that we, or our successors, may again see and hear him in our "delightful land."

These brethren beloved have told us of the times of refreshing from the presence of the Lord, with which you have been favored since the last "troublesome times" in which you have been tried. In this we do rejoice, yea, and will rejoice. God has also sent us prosperity. In the four years since our last General Conference we have greatly enlarged our bounds and increased our numbers. Our Minutes show a net addition of nine hundred and fifty-eight traveling preachers, nine hundred and ten local preachers, and seventy-seven thousand six hundred and twenty-seven members and probationers. Our missionary contributions have exceeded former times, and our missions, domestic and foreign, have been signally honored by the One Father, who is above all, and through all, and in us all.

You will learn from the proceedings of this Conference, that we have taken measures to aid our brethren and yours in Ireland, by men and means, and instructed the delegates who may be elected to attend your Conference also to visit the Irish Conference.

We heartily reciprocate your prayers for unbroken peace between our kindred and Protestant nations, to whom the God of all the families of the earth has committed so many great trusts. May the Prince of Peace continue to avert war, and unite us forever in "the bond of peace." Thus may we,

"One in heart, in interest, and design, Gird up each other for the race divine;"

until God, by us,

"Shall fill the earth with golden fruit,
With ripe millennial love."

We have chosen as our honored representatives, Rev. Matthew Simpson, D. D., one of our seven bishops; and as co-delegate, John M'Clinck, D. D., well known on your side of the ocean: men who have been highly approved among our Churches, and honored of God.

In conclusion, reverend and dear fathers and brethren, we commend you to God, and pray that our love may abound yet more and more in knowledge and in all judgment, that we may approve things that are excellent, that we may be sincere and without offense till the day of Christ, being filled with the fruits of righteousness which are by Jesus Christ, unto the glory and praise of God.

ADDRESS OF THE WESLEYAN METHODIST CONFERENCE IN CANADA.

To the Reverend the Bishops and Members of the General Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, in conference assembled:

REVEREND AND DEAR FATHERS AND BRETHREN: "Grace be unto you, and peace from God the Father, and from our Lord Jesus Christ."

Permit us, your sons and brethren in the Gospel, to present to you our respectful acknowledgments for the kind and affectionate manner in which you received our representative, the Rev. Dr. Green, as well as for the appointment of a distinguished member of your body to represent you in our Conference. We anticipated with much pleasure the visit of Mr. Gary to our country, but have to regret that he was removed from his high position in the Church militant, before our anticipations were realized. We sympathize with you in this bereavement, which has not only removed from your ranks "a brother whose praise was in all the Churches," but in the absence of any substitute to fill his place, has for a season deprived us of that interchange of personal communication which is so desirable and beneficial.

It is a matter of much thankfulness to the Divine Being, that while, year after year, he is removing to their eternal reward the fathers of the Church—those holy, self-denying veterans who first planted Churches in the wilds of America—he is also raising up a promising class of young men, filled with faith and the Holy Ghost, to carry on the glorious warfare.

We regret that no address has reached us from the last session of your venerable body; but the want of a letter from you has, in some degree, been supplied by the good tidings brought back by our own representative, and from other authentic sources, by which we rejoice to learn that you have peace in all your borders, and are blessed with a good degree of prosperity throughout your entire work.

Your noble efforts in the cause of religious and collegiate education are above all praise. These combined and continued efforts to form and elevate the moral and intellectual character of the rising generation, cannot fail, we think, to inspire confidence in the wisdom of your councils, and confer lasting and untold benefits upon the country at large.

We have looked with the liveliest interest upon your missionary operations, and especially upon the extension of your work in foreign lands. The position you occupy is onerous and commanding. For a long time the first Church in your country in point of numbers, and now also in point of wealth, it cannot but be gratifying to all the lovers of our Zion, to notice the zeal with which you employ the appliances at command in sending abroad the "glad tidings" of salvation.

At home, God has enabled you to turn a barren wilderness into a fruitful field, and make the "desert rejoice and blossom as the rose;" and we praise God on your behalf, that he has enabled you to send back the pure flame of the Gospel truth, to bless the country of Luther, and re-illumine the land of the Reformation.

Accept, dear brethren, our best wishes and fervent prayers, that in these and in all other departments of your great and widely-extending operations, the blessings of the Lord may continue to rest upon you, causing you to abound more and more in every good word and work; for, while he is your leader, "ye shall go out with joy, and be led forth with peace; the mountains and the hills shall break forth before you into singing, and all the trees of the field shall clap their hands. Instead of the thorn shall come up the fir-tree, and instead of the briar shall come up the myrtle-tree; and it shall be to the Lord for a name, for an everlasting sign that shall not be cut off."

It will, we doubt not, afford you much pleasure to learn that the present is a happy and prosperous day with us in Canada. The demon of discord is not permitted, as formerly, to scatter his "firebrands, arrows, and death." Peace reigns in our Church; joy dwells in our hearts, and God, even our God, is causing us to triumph in every department of the work committed to our care. Our people take a deep interest and manifest a growing liberality in supporting the institutions of the Church. Since we last addressed you they have doubled their contributions for the sustentation of our missions. All our connectional funds are well sustained, and we can recollect no period in our Church's history when so many beautiful and commodious edifices were being erected for Divine worship as at the present time.

Victoria College is increasing in popularity and usefulness, and we are making arrangements for a more thorough and liberal training of such young men in our Church as are called to the Christian ministry.

The field of our operations has been greatly enlarged of late, by the union and consolidation of Wesleyan Methodism in the two Canadas and the Hudson's Bay Territory. By mutual arrangements between us and the British Conference, all the Wesleyan societies throughout this vast region of country have been placed under our care. A wide field for benevolent and Christian enterprise is thus opened up before us—a field extending from the Atlantic to the Pacific Ocean, and from the great Lakes to the Arctic regions, everywhere dotted with human beings waiting for the bread of life.

We have much reason to be thankful for the measure of success which has crowned our missionary efforts among the Indian tribes and newly-settled portions of country. Our missionaries are pioneering these rough and rugged portions of the field, as did your fathers aforetime; new missions are being every year formed, and yet the cry is continually heard, "Come over and help us." In the strength of Divine grace, and in constant dependence upon that assistance which such grace alone can impart, we hope to continue our efforts until the "wilderness shall" indeed "become a fruitful field, and the fruitful field be counted for a forest." But we are not ignorant of the difficulties that lie in our way, and the combinations of error with which we must constantly contend.

We have the most unwavering confidence in the Gospel we preach. We know it to be the power of God unto salvation to every one that believeth, and must eventually subdue the world to the obedience of Christ. But, while we are thus confident, and can have no doubt of the final issue, we are reminded by the increasing boldness of our foes, and the dangerous leaven of error which is working in different portions of the community, that we have something more to do than to "hold fast the form of sound words," which our fathers have left for our guidance. Popery, with its kindred errors, is still rampant in our land. The bold manner in which its emissaries are endeavoring to revive that ancient heresy which seeks to extinguish that light which the Reformation with an open Bible has shed upon the world, admonishes us, not only to contend earnestly for the "faith once delivered to the saints," but carefully to watch over our own spirits and affections, that we may constantly experience the rich benefits of deep personal piety, and preach the incorruptible truths of the Gospel under the abiding influences of God the Spirit.

We have appointed as our representatives to your venerable body, our honored and much respected brethren, the Rev. Enoch Wood, President of the Conference, (should he be able to attend, or the Rev. John Ryerson, co-delegate,) and the Rev. Richard Jones; brethren beloved, in whose piety and judgment we have the utmost confidence; and to whom we refer you for any further information which you may desire concerning our affairs.

That you may abound more and more in every good word and work, and see the Church committed to your care rise still higher in piety, liberality, and general usefulness, is the constant prayer, dear brethren, of your sons in the Gospel of our Lord Jesus Christ.

Signed in behalf of the Conference.

REPLY TO THE ADDRESS FROM THE CANADA CONFERENCE.

To the Members of the Canada Wesleyan Methodist Conference :

REVEREND AND DEAR BRETHREN : We rejoice in another opportunity of renewing our former assurances of love and good-will.

The presence among us of the two honored representatives of your Conference, the Rev. John Ryerson and the Rev. Richard Jones, has had the effect to bind our hearts more closely to yours in the strong bonds of Christian charity, while their public ministrations among us have also tended, we trust, to draw our affections more and more to heavenly things. The familiar Christian intercourse and fellow-feeling of these excellent brethren, united with similar manifestations of the same spirit, from the delegates of the British and Irish Wesleyan Conferences, have, both by word and deed, brought home to our hearts in all its sweetness, the truth of that often repeated, but always refreshing declaration, that "Wesleyan Methodism is one in all the earth."

We have learned, with unfeigned gratitude to the Giver of all good, both from your fraternal letter, and also more in detail from your representatives, of your continued and even increasing prosperity. Your zeal and your success, in your great enterprises of Christian benevolence, inspire a glorious hope for your future. The peace that reigns in all your borders; the liberality of your contributions to benevolent purposes; your increasing educational facilities; your self-sacrificing ministry; your rapidly-multiplying Churches; your success in saving souls; your wide-spreading missionary fields; your unshaken confidence in "the God of our fathers," all impress upon us the pleasing conviction that your growth is rapid, symmetrical, and healthy. May

"the God of all grace, who hath called us unto his eternal glory by Christ Jesus," prosper you yet more and more.

You will rejoice, we doubt not, to learn, that, through God's blessing upon our labors, we have been able, through each succeeding year, to push forward our Christian enterprises with increasing activity and power. Our periodicals, our missionary, tract, and Sunday-school reports, so available to you, make it unnecessary that we should, in this paper, go into particular detail in relation to these interests. Suffice it to say, that in all these departments there is increasing activity throughout our connection. The blessing of God upon the faithful labors of our fathers, has placed within our reach the means of carrying forward these enterprises, on a scale of larger dimensions than their founders would have dared to anticipate.

The increasing attention everywhere given to the erection of commodious and substantial church edifices, while it has afforded but an inadequate supply to an increasing demand, is yet, we trust, an encouraging indication of that permanence which must ever be an object dear to every enlightened friend of our Zion.

The last four years have witnessed a gratifying increase in the membership of our Church. From 1851 to 1855, the average net increase per annum was more than nineteen thousand souls; and from the cheering accounts of revivals in all parts of our wide-spread connection, we judge that the Minutes of 1856 will show a much larger annual increase. These fruits of the Gospel, we think, afford evidence that "God is with us." The conversion of the soul to God through our instrumentality, the restoration of the fallen spirit to the Divine image, is to us a cheering indication that God owns our labors. May we never be destitute of this evidence of Christ speaking in us.

We trust the same gracious Providence, which has guided our more directly religious movements, has also led our way in the educational departments of our Church.

Within the memory of men now living, there have grown up in our midst, and under our own control, nearly one hundred literary institutions of a high rank, embracing universities, colleges for both sexes, and first-class seminaries. Perhaps in no other department has so large a ratio of conversions taken place as in these institutions of learning.

You will doubtless be gratified to learn that an effort to more thoroughly infuse the religious element into our colleges and universities, meets with great favor from all parts of our Church. We allude to the establishment of Biblical Departments in these institutions.

While an antiquated and sickly superstition leads its votaries to withhold from the multitude a book, whose teachings are of infinitely higher value to the race than those of all other books of all ages, we are determined that the Bible, The Book, shall have a prominent place in all departments of education within our control. We fear the word of God has not hitherto exerted that influence in molding the character, tastes, and habits of our students of learning, which would have made them wiser and better men. While the student communes with heathen poets, heathen philosophers, and heathen historians, shall he fail to find in the college course that most sublime poetry, that most pure philosophy, that most ancient and most reliable history, given by God's own inspiration? While heathen gods are everywhere speaking to the student, shall not the living God utter his voice? While the student sees everywhere heathen sacrifices smoking upon heathen altars, shall he not lift up his eyes to the great atoning Sacrifice whose blood cleanseth from all sin? While all science, truly so called, imparts a knowledge of God, unfolding his methods in the earth and in the heavens, the science of salvation, God's method of bringing earth's teeming millions to glory, is infinitely above all else, and deserves the corresponding attention of mankind.

We congratulate you on the confidence you express in the Gospel of the Son of God, as altogether suited to human wants. We rejoice in the same confidence. The Gospel in its simplicity—the Gospel as “the power of God unto salvation”—the Gospel proclaimed by men who feel its saving power—preached with the Holy Ghost sent down from heaven, is God's remedy for this world's woes. The only thing that is wrong in this world is the human heart. The only remedy for this wrong is the “Gospel of the grace of God.” “Thanks be to God for his unspeakable gift.”

Finally, dearly beloved brethren, may you, and we, and all ministers of the Lord Jesus, in every place, preach these doctrines fully, faithfully, earnestly; “warning every man, and teaching every man, in all wisdom: that we may present every man perfect in Christ Jesus.” Then shall we, in our day and generation, contribute something toward the ushering in of that happy period, when “The wolf shall dwell with the lamb, and the leopard shall lie down with the kid, and the calf, and the young lion, and the fatling together, and a little child shall lead them.” * * * * When “they shall not hurt nor destroy in all my holy mountain: for the earth shall be full of the knowledge of the Lord, as the waters cover the sea.”

We have selected as our delegates to your reverend body, our much-esteemed brethren, the Rev. Minor Raymond, the Rev. William Hamilton, and the Rev. L. W. Berry, who will bear to you, by God's good providence, our Christian salutations, and whose intercourse with you, we trust, shall tend to our mutual love and edification.

ADDRESS OF THE IRISH CONFERENCE.

To the Bishops of the Methodist Episcopal Church in the United States of America:

REVEREND AND DEAR FATHERS AND BRETHREN: We, the ministers of the Methodist Connection in Ireland, now assembled in our Annual Conference, beg leave respectfully to commend to your fraternal regards the Rev. Robinson Scott, an accredited member of our body, and deputed by us to visit your country on an important mission, the object of which is set forth in the "Minutes" of our present sittings, and which he is able more fully to explain.

As a religious body, both we and our beloved people, in common with other evangelical denominations, have, for some years past, been more than ordinarily impressed with the conviction that the recent visitations of Providence upon this, in many respects unhappy land, are a loud call for more vigorous efforts on our part to develop to the utmost every possible resource, in order to give the Gospel to the masses of our fellow-countrymen. We have, however, labored under circumstances of great discouragement. By emigration, and the estrangement of our youth, through want of educational institutions, in which they might receive a religious training, in accordance with our own views, our numerical strength has been greatly diminished. Besides, our connectional funds, designed to extend the work of God in the neglected and destitute parts of the country, being required to sustain our ministry on depressed circuits, such extensive aggressive operations as are required by the circumstances of our country, and which we are persuaded would be attended with the Divine approbation and much success, have hitherto been impossible.

Calling to mind, however, the successes which attended the labors of our fathers, the vitality of the truths committed to our trust, and to which the Lord continues most encouragingly to set his seal, the adaptation of our system for a yet more extensive appliance of those truths, together with the advantages of a position, from which, were the means at our disposal, it would be easy to embrace every hamlet in the land, we, in conjunction with many of the more influential members of our societies, have been led not only to endeavor after an improved state of things in our existing circuits, but to aim at a connectional movement, whereby, through the Divine blessing, a new impulse might be given to the energies of our whole system.

In the meantime private communications from several Irish emigrants, together with editorial and other articles in Methodist publications, which circulate widely in the United States, encouraged the assurance that such a movement would meet with extensive practical sympathy from our American brethren, and that a deputation on its behalf would be favorably received, an assurance which was otherwise naturally induced by the consideration that numbers now in the American Churches are the children of Irish Methodists, or themselves the direct fruit of Irish Methodist labors.

A meeting was accordingly held in connection with our present Conference, composed of all its members and of lay friends from different parts of the kingdom, and a subscription opened, which reached the cheering amount of £8,800, as the basis of a fund for the increase of the Wesleyan Methodist agency in Ireland; nor will that meeting be less remembered for the spirit of simple piety and fervent gratitude, than for the noble expression of liberality which characterized its proceedings. Deputations have been appointed to visit all our circuits and missions, and we confidently expect that the amount will be considerably augmented. We have named £20,000 as a minimum; but if, by the liberality of our friends in Ireland and in America, a much larger sum could be obtained, we should be able to carry out our aggressive operations upon the masses of our countrymen, upon a scale more extensive and permanently efficient.

To secure the required amount it was resolved to request the Conference to appoint a deputation to the United States and Canada, and, in compliance with that request, Brother Robinson Scott has been set apart for this service. He possesses the full confidence of his brethren, and is followed by their prayers, that the cause which he pleads may obtain favor among your people, and that his ministry and intercourse may be the means also of imparting some spiritual benefit.

The Conference have also addressed a letter to the Missionary Committee in London, requesting that the valuable services of their gifted countryman, the Rev. William Arthur, A. M., one of the General Secretaries, may be granted for the purposes of the deputation; and as he has kindly signified his willingness to undertake this labor of love for his native country, it is confidently hoped that at a period of the year most suited to the convenience of the committee, this request will be granted.

At the request of the Conference, Alderman M'Arthur, of Londonderry, who takes a deep interest in our cause, has consented to afford his services also for a short time during the spring of next year.

Our highly esteemed friend and father, the Rev. Thomas Waugh, who, we have reason to believe, is well known to you by character, in connexion with the services which he has so long rendered to Wesleyan Methodism in Ireland, has been requested to write a private note to each bishop individually, and it is expected his communication will have arrived before the presentation of this document.

We cherish the confidence, venerable brethren, that you will receive our deputation affectionately, and, by your counsel and the influence of your high position, facilitate the object of their mission, bearing as it ultimately must on the well-being of your own Churches and nation, which will continue to receive yearly accessions from the population whose moral and spiritual interests it is designed more immediately to promote, as well as upon the interests of Methodism in this benighted land.

Signed on behalf and by order of the Conference.

JOHN F. MATTHEWS, Secretary.

REPLY TO THE ADDRESS OF THE IRISH CONFERENCE.

REVEREND FATHERS AND BRETHREN: Your fraternal letter, presented to us by your representative, the Rev. Robinson Scott, was received with the highest gratification, and the kind greetings of your deputation have met with a most hearty response. We trust that the intercourse which you have commenced will continue, and always be to our mutual edification and comfort.

You have already, we presume, been advised of the kind reception with which Rev. Messrs. Scott, Arthur, and Cather, have met in this country, both from our beloved superintendents, and our hospitable people.

All our bishops have commended them to the fraternal regards of our membership, and their cause to the consideration of an enlightened Protestant public.

Every annual conference before which they have appeared has promptly, cheerfully, and strongly given its commendation to their mission, and every Church to which they have applied has received them kindly. Already have forty-three thousand dollars been subscribed, and we have not the least doubt that this amount can easily be raised to one hundred thousand.

We look with the deepest interest and sympathy upon Irish Methodists. Were we in your circumstances, and you in ours, we should probably take the liberty to draw upon you for aid on the warrant of the golden rule, and expect the draft to be honored. We cannot, therefore, blame you for making a check upon us, nor hesitate to cancel it. We thank you for the confidence you repose in us. You honor us; and had Providence given us the gold as He has to our people, we would pour it out to your messengers as God pours the streams at our feet.

We commend your deputation anew to American Protestantism generally, and American Methodism specially. Your effort is an attempt to purify one of the great fountains of our foreign population, and you have a claim upon all Protestants, while you have a particular demand upon us, founded not only upon our common origin and common faith, but upon the fact that the very foundations of our American Methodist Church were laid by Irishmen, and that a large portion of her ministry and membership are natives of your island.

We humbly trust that your deputation will continue in this country until the sum named shall have been realized, although it may detain them for months to come. It may be the order of Divine Providence that we should derive largely of your spiritual gifts, before you derive largely of our temporal gifts.

It is cheering to us to see your grand connectional movement: it shows the vitality of our doctrines. May you continue your efforts, under the blessing of God, until your missionaries and schoolmasters shall preach and teach in every district, your colporteurs read the word of God in every hamlet, and your college supply the educational wants of all your youth.

Should it be in our power, at any time, to aid you by men or means, in spreading Scriptural holiness over your land, we trust that you will readily and confidently command us.

ADDRESS FROM THE FRENCH CONFERENCE.

DEAR AND HONORED FATHERS AND BRETHREN: Your brethren, "the pastors and ministers of the Methodist section of the Church of Christ in France and Switzerland," gladly embrace the opportunity of your meeting in General Conference, to convey to you their cordial greetings, and to confer with you officially, on matters pertaining to the work of God among them. We are united to you, not only by the ties of a common faith, and of similar religious institutions, but likewise by the co-operation which you have, by means of your Missionary Board, so generously afforded us in the prosecution of our evangelical labors. May you be rewarded from on high, dear brethren, for "the riches of your liberality." To these you have doubtless added your sympathies and prayers, and have thus given to your pecuniary assistance an additional value and efficacy.

Addressing you for the first time, we deem it right to enter into some details respecting our labors, our difficulties, and our prospects.

It is now full half a century since Methodism unfurled, for the first time in France, the banner of the "glorious Gospel of the blessed God." The beginnings were small indeed, but remarkably well timed and providential. In the year 1791, a pious tradesman, member of the Methodist Society in one of the Channel Islands, came on business to a village on the coast of Normandy. There was in that neighborhood a small community of Protestants, almost entirely deprived, through the awful state of public affairs in France, of the services of a minister, and of the public means of grace.

Nevertheless, they usually met among themselves on the Sabbath day, and our friend gladly embraced the opportunity of joining with them in their social worship. In the afternoon meeting he was requested, in the absence of the usual reader, to conduct the service, which he did in the fervent spirit of true Methodism, by simply relating his conversion to God, exhorting the people to accept salvation, and praying with them.

From that period, at the earnest request of the little flock, preachers from the Island of Guernsey visited them at stated intervals, until one of their number became, at length, a resident missionary.

But it was soon found impracticable to carry on the work. Through one of those mysterious dispensations, with which we have almost become familiarized in France, and which seem, for a time, to blast every hope of success, our preachers were obliged to retire. During the prolonged wars of the republic and the empire, all attempts to spread the truth proved ineffectual. Nor was it till twenty-five years afterward, in 1816, on the arrival of the Rev. Charles Cook in France, that the mission was finally reestablished. This became, in reality, its starting point.

The work soon began to take root, and to spread. Doors of usefulness were successively opened to us, both in the north and south of France, as well as in Switzerland, and on the frontiers of Italy.

In the South our missionaries have been received among the Protestant or Huguenot populations in the vineyards of Languedoc, and the mountains of Dauphiny. Stations have been established in the Cevennes, in whose rugged hills the martyred Protestants once found a refuge and a stronghold. We have likewise penetrated into those distant and almost inaccessible valleys of the French Alps, where dwell the remains of the old Waldensian Churches; and we have visited their more favored brethren, the Vaudois, in the fertile valleys of Piedmont, on the southern declivity of the Alpine range. At a later period, labors have been undertaken in the Island of Corsica, and on the shores of the Mediterranean Sea.

In the North we have been enabled to form stations among the Roman Catholic populations in some important centers. Doors of usefulness have thus been opened to us in the provinces of Champagne, of Normandy, Flanders, and Auvergne, and more especially in the capital of the French empire, in Paris.

The present statistics of our work are as follows: There are under the direction of the French Conference one hundred and forty preaching places, twenty-two ordained ministers and probationers, nine evangelists, forty-five local preachers, one thousand one hundred and seventy-eight members meeting in class, and seventy-three on trial; thirty-three Sabbath-schools, in which are one hundred and ninety-eight teachers, and one thousand six hundred and six scholars; two training schools for day-school teachers, containing about fifty scholars.

The result indicated by these figures may be, perhaps, considered by some of our friends as a very small return for so many years' labor and outlay. But this impression will vanish when they become better acquainted with our situation, and shall have examined more fully the difficulties with which we have to cope. Of these a very brief enumeration will suffice.

Some of the hinderances to our outward progress arise from the evangelical strictness of our teachings and Discipline. The due observance of the Lord's day, stated attendance on class-meetings, and regular subscriptions in favor of the work of God, are some of the duties cheerfully complied with by the members of our societies. But they prove to be obstacles to many persons in a country where the Sabbath is generally reserved for easy labor or for pleasure, where religious habits are neither readily formed, nor easily retained, where the true spirit of sacrifice is a rarity, and the united influences of popery and infidelity have cast, as it were, a spell over the conscience and religious habits of the people. Many, therefore, either stand altogether aloof from such Christian fellowship as enforces duty, or else choose the easier path, and unite themselves to those denominations who are less stringent than ours in their conditions of membership.

Again, our work in France has had to go through a preparatory process. Being of foreign origin, it has had to be first implanted, and then naturalized on the continent. We have had to impress on our friends the value of our institutions, to train native agents for their special callings, to prepare our own religious literature, and to provide places of worship, by the erection of which our cause might more easily acquire the confidence of the public as to its stability and permanence.

We are far from having attained these various objects. There are legal difficulties in the way of our building chapels; few young men in our societies are at all sufficiently educated to become preachers among us, while various obstacles have prevented the publication of suitable Methodist books in the French language.

To these various difficulties may be added another, which is not, in fact, the least. We allude to the absence of that full amount of religious liberty which would afford us access to the masses of our population. Our labors are, therefore, of necessity, circumscribed within the limits of comparatively small congregations, for every one of which a special authorization is invariably required, sometimes refused, and easily withdrawn.

These various facts will doubtless explain our numerical weakness, will help you to understand more fully our situation, and to sustain us in our struggles.

But the success of Methodism in France has not been entirely, nor, indeed, chiefly confined to the thousand members who statedly attend our class-meetings. Having been unable (from the various causes which we have enumerated) to reap the full fruit of our toils, the work in France, as a distinct ecclesiastical organization, reveals but a small proportion of our full success.

This success has been considerable: it can be said without exaggeration, that the revival of the present day, in France, is chiefly due to Methodism. Its principles and labors have been the means of inspiring new life into a slumbering Protestantism. It has furnished it with some of its best pastors, of its most devoted and successful evangelists. It has contributed to the formation of new centers in the midst of Roman Catholic populations, and to the establishment of the Bible, Tract, and Home and Foreign Missionary Societies, which now flourish in this empire. And last, but not least, it has been instrumental in the conversion of thousands of immortal beings. In all these respects Methodism has been a blessing to France, so that its withdrawal, or the weakening of its influence, would undoubtedly, even as to mere general results, be one of the greatest calamities which could befall evangelical religion in this country.

We are, nevertheless, convinced that our task is not accomplished; that, in reality, it has only just commenced. Methodism will assuredly strike deeper root, and extend a still wider influence throughout France, Switzerland, and Italy. To this great and holy work our Master has evidently called us, by furnishing us with the means of its accomplishment. We hold those evangelical doctrines which portray a full, free, and present salvation for every individual of the human race; we are inspired with that missionary spirit which is so well suited to the spread of the truth, and to the conversion of sinners; our Church organization is amply sufficient to meet the wants of our converts; and we have friends who, even from beyond the seas, sustain and encourage us in our labors. But more especially we may and do look up to the "hills from whence cometh our help." The God in whom we trust can, in a moment remove, the obstacles which appear insurmountable, and make our way plain. He can, and will, send down the "healthful spirit of his grace," and cause us to triumph, even over the greatest difficulties.

Until the year 1852 the work in France was carried on at the expense of the Wesleyan Missionary Society, and under the direction of the British Conference. At that period it was newly organized. The missionary district of France, of Switzerland, was, therefore, erected into a district conference, having the entire control and management of its own affairs; but being still affiliated to the older conference. We continue to depend principally on the annual grant of our benefactors in England for the sustentation of our older stations, while the help afforded by our American friends is chiefly devoted to the extension of the work.

We feel assured, dear and honored brethren, that the grant apportioned to our Conference by your Missionary Board, will not fail us. Indeed, it has now become indispensable; some of our most important stations, those especially on the Italian frontiers, depending entirely on your allowance.

We likewise lack two important institutions: a Theological School for the training of our native ministry, and a Book Society, for publishing in French and Italian a religious literature, purely Methodistical. Our cause on the continent will not be placed on a firm basis until these two indispensable auxiliaries to our work shall have been established among us.

We had entertained the hope that this address would have been handed you by the President of our Conference, the venerated Dr. Cook, who had been appointed at our late session, held in Paris last September, as our representative to your venerable assembly. The duties of his ministry among us deprive him, however, of the pleasure of meeting you in person. Accept, therefore, honored fathers and brethren, in their present imperfect form, the cordial greetings of your brethren in France, Switzerland, and Italy. They have heard tell of the glorious progress of that great work, which is confided to your pastoral oversight, and it creates in them a just cause of glorying in the Lord, and of devout thankfulness to his holy name. Accept, likewise, our most earnest wishes, and most fervent prayers, that the blessing of God may abundantly rest on your persons, your families, your Churches, and your country, as well as on the momentous proceedings of your present important session.

Should you, at any time, think it proper to appoint a representative to our Conference, be assured that it will be considered as an honor conferred on us; and that a most cordial reception would await him on the French territory.

We have been exceedingly happy to see at our late Conference the Rev. Abel Stevens, of New-York. We were greatly pleased and profited by our intercourse with him, and it has increased our desire that this first interview with brethren from beyond the Atlantic may not be the last.

Meanwhile, we feel assured that neither the ocean that rolls between, nor the difference of language or of country, can separate those whom Christ unites in one. Strong in this sacred unity, and in entire obedience to our adorable Head, may we, each and all of us, labor undaunted and untired, even unto the end.

For, and in behalf of, the French Conference.

REPLY TO THE ADDRESS FROM THE FRENCH CONFERENCE.

To the Pastors and Ministers of the Methodist Section of the Church of Christ in France and Switzerland :

DEAR AND HONORED BRETHREN: Your brethren, the bishops and ministers of the Methodist Episcopal Church, represented in their General Conference, in Indianapolis, embrace the opportunity afforded them, in acknowledging your excellent Address, conveying to them your cordial greetings, to express to you their warmest Christian salutations. This is especially agreeable to them at the present time, as they ardently hope and trust the formal interchange of brotherly feelings and sympathies, now introduced between the Methodist Section of the Church of Christ in France and Switzerland, and the Methodist Episcopal Church in the United States, will be repeated and continued in all coming time.

We have read with much interest the History of the Introduction of Methodism into France, and its subsequent progress; and we cherish the hope that the work, so providentially begun and so faithfully fostered, will increase in extent and power.

You speak, dearly beloved brethren, of your work thus far as "preparatory," and beset with numerous difficulties. So we understand it. But as light increases, and the principles on which a just and permanent government is based are better understood, your circumstances in this particular will change. The obstacles to your success will, one after another, be removed, as the fears of those in authority subside, and they begin to see that what the masses most need to make them loyal, industrious, and virtuous, is the Gospel of the Son of God in its purity and simplicity.

Free as we are, in this country, to meet together when and where we choose to worship God, to preach the Gospel, to organize Sabbath schools, to disseminate tracts, periodicals, and books, and to establish Churches, we sympathize with you in the disabilities under which you are placed by your government; and while, as faithful Christian subjects, you "submit yourselves to every ordinance of man for the Lord's sake," you may, nevertheless, pray—and we join you in the prayer—that God will dispose those who are in authority, as they witness your exemplary lives and pious zeal, to throw around you that protection which will enable you to prosecute, without molestation or fear, your godly work.

We rejoice to recognize you as brethren beloved, one with us in the doctrines of our holy religion, and in all that is essential to constitute you a branch of the great Methodist family. And, so long as you "walk by the same rule, and mind the same thing," we shall continue to cherish a lively regard for whatever pertains to your welfare on earth and your final salvation in heaven. With these views and feelings, thus freely expressed, we rejoice also in the measure of success you have had in the work of your Divine Lord and Master. And we desire and pray that your godly zeal may be crowned with still more abundant success.

During the last four years the Great Head of the Church has granted us much prosperity in both the home and foreign work. We have now five thousand four hundred and eight (5,408) traveling preachers, six thousand six hundred and ten (6,610) local preachers, and seven hundred and ninety-nine thousand four hundred and thirty-one (799,431) members and probationers. Our net increase, for the last four years, is nine hundred and fifty-eight (958) traveling preachers, nine hundred and ten (910) local preachers, and seventy-seven thousand six hundred and twenty-seven (77,627) members and probationers. In view of the greatness of the work accomplished, and the weakness of the human instrumentality employed, we are constrained to say, God hath wrought it.

We are pleased to learn that the aid which our Missionary Society affords you has enabled you to extend your missionary work; and we have confidence that our Board will continue to assist you as long as they have ability to do so, and are assured of the faithful and useful appropriations of the funds they place at your disposal.

We regret that circumstances, requiring his presence at home, have deprived us of the pleasure of receiving, in person, your honored president, the Rev. Dr. Cook. We hope he may be long spared to labor for the promotion of Methodism in France.

And now, dear and honored brethren, we commend you and the beloved members of your Church in France and Switzerland, "to God and the word of his grace." Devoutly do we thank Him for his good hand upon you thus far, and earnestly do we pray that all grace and mercy may abound unto you. Let us hear from you again by address, and also by a messenger, if it is your pleasure to send one to us; and be assured that he will meet with a cordial reception; and we shall be happy to reciprocate your Christian courtesy and fraternal Christian greetings.

ADDRESS FROM THE CONGREGATIONAL UNION OF ENGLAND AND WALES.

*To the Methodist Episcopal Church of the Northern States of America :*CONGREGATIONAL LIBRARY, BLOOMFIELD-STREET, FINSBURY, }
LONDON, January 29, 1856. }

DEAR AND HONORED BRETHREN : We are encouraged to address you in our corporate capacity as the Committee of the Congregational Union of England and Wales, on a subject of great interest and importance to the Churches we represent, by a remembrance of the fact that one of the objects contemplated in the formation of our Union was to establish fraternal correspondence with Congregational Churches and other bodies of Christians throughout the world ; and that, in pursuance of this design, the Assembly of the Union and its executive have on several occasions addressed letters to the Congregational and other Churches of the United States of America, and on one occasion sent two of their brethren as delegates to visit you, while they have in return cheerfully received representatives from your various ecclesiastical bodies, and have been favored with fraternal epistles of great value from many of your annual gatherings. We believe that in various ways the interchange of sentiment and Christian feeling thus effected has been of great value, and we shall be happy, as occasion arises, from time to time, to aid in the maintenance of such correspondence.

It has been with great concern that we, in common with an overwhelming majority of our fellow-countrymen, have witnessed the springing up of anything approaching to a misunderstanding between the government of Great Britain and that of the United States of America, and have been compelled to listen to rumors of possible contentions between the two nations. We are devoutly thankful to the God of peace that there is now reason to believe that the apprehensions, whether well or ill founded, which were thus entertained, will not be realized, and that, on the contrary, there is ample encouraging ground of hope for concluding that the amicable relations which have been so long maintained between the two countries will continue undisturbed. Still we think that the present occasion, while calling us to congratulation and praise, is one which should urge us to do all that we can to promote and perpetuate the concord now happily existing.

Without propounding any theory on the unlawfulness of war in the abstract, we hold that its inevitable disadvantages to nations are so great, and its calamities to individuals so awful, that Christian men and Christian Churches are most legitimately employing their influences when they exert it in favor of peace. Recognizing the unity of the human race, and the consequent brotherhood of mankind, descended from the one great Parent, and redeemed by the one only Saviour, we would earnestly deprecate an appeal to arms in every case in which it can be avoided, and would seek by all honorable and Christian means to maintain the peace of the whole world ; but we feel that, in addition to these general considerations, there are special motives which urge us to cultivate strong and peculiar affection to the people of your land. For the most part they speak our language, and retain a love for many of our social habits. You, beloved brethren, have sprung with us from a common ancestry. Your fathers left our shores from necessity, in search of liberty to worship the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, and having happily secured that boon for themselves, bequeathed the legacy of religious freedom to you and your children. You have many of our best civil institutions incorporated with yours ; you possess a literature of varied and growing worth, which we appreciate and enjoy ; you hold with us the great principles of Protestant evangelical truth, and you are strenuously laboring, as we are, to spread the Gospel in heathen and other lands. The alienation of two such countries, even for a time, would be an incalculable calamity. Their hostility would be a spectacle over which angels might weep, and demons triumph. The memory of the Pilgrim Fathers, the bond of a no very remote common origin ; the ties of a common Christianity, and the love of an adorable Saviour, all give weight to the apostolic injunction to endeavor to keep the unity of the Spirit in the bonds of peace.

Without unsuitably interfering in political affairs, we believe that Christian Churches, in their separate and associate capacity, can most effectually influence and mold public opinion on moral and social questions such as the one we now venture to present to your attention. Cheerfully undertaking for ourselves to exert our utmost ability to perpetuate kind and brotherly feelings between the people of our country and of America, we feel assured that you, sympathizing with our views and emotions, will earnestly aid our endeavors to promote this momentous object. The mere mention of the subject will awaken in all Christian hearts a conviction of its importance. In the social circles of life, in your sanctuaries of worship, through your periodical literature, and through other approved channels, you will employ your holy influence for the maintenance of peace. In all such efforts we will join you, and at the throne of our heavenly Father we will mutually supplicate his blessing on the peace makers, and on the things which make for peace, and pray for the time when war shall be no more.

Thankfully recognising the large amount of good which God has made you the honored means of effecting in the world by the agency of your voluntary Christian endeavors, and praying that all peace and prosperity may increasingly abound in your Churches, we have respectfully to request that you may adopt such means as to you may appear desirable for bringing this letter under the notice of the denomination or Churches with which you are connected, and remain, dear and honored brethren, on behalf of the Committee of the Congregational Union of England and Wales, yours faithfully,

ROBERT HALLY, Chairman.

REPLY TO THE ADDRESS FROM THE CONGREGATIONAL UNION OF ENGLAND AND WALES.

DEAR BRETHREN: Your communication, bearing date January 29, 1856, was duly received by our General Conference, which convened in Indianapolis, Indiana, May 1st, 1856.

Responding, as we do, with great cordiality, to the excellent sentiments of your address, we assure you that we were much encouraged by your fraternal letter, to hope that the day was rapidly approaching when the honest differences which may exist among Christians will not prevent the fellowship of those who hold the "unity of the Spirit in the bond of peace." If the disciples were "glad when they saw the Lord," then, surely, all Christians may rejoice when they see such exemplifications of his spirit as your letter affords.

Various considerations render your communication grateful to our feelings. Representing a people who have no denominational ties uniting them to our own communion, you have crossed over the ordinary line of separation, and, constrained by the love of Christ, have tendered us your warmest Christian salutations, thus giving us a lovely illustration of the sacred truth, that "he who loveth God, loveth his brother also." This is the union for which the Saviour prayed, and for the consummation of which all Christians should most fervently pray. Your message of Christian affection is no less interesting when we remember that the particular sphere of your ecclesiastical operations is remote from our own. A mighty ocean rolls between us, yet your Christian sympathy, which many waters cannot quench, reaches to these lands, and in spirit we are permitted to hail you as "brethren beloved." It is the diffusion of this spirit, which is ultimately to draw all men unto him, by whom the whole "family of God is named."

The countries which you represent, England and Wales, are endeared to all Protestants, by the recollection of their struggles in the maintenance of the great principles of the Reformation. In support of these principles, and in efforts to promote the evangelization of the world, we feel that one object is before us, and trust that one destiny awaits us.

You have alluded, with deep emotion, to the indications which existed some time since, of an interruption of the peaceful relations which have heretofore held in friendly intercourse the governments of our respective countries. Similar solicitude has pervaded our own country. No less than yourselves should we deprecate any unsettling of that peace which is so closely blended with the happiness of our respective nations.

Though there are some causes still existing to excite, in some slight degree, these disconcerting apprehensions, let us not doubt that they will be so adjusted as to render more firm our mutual regard as Christian nations. To effect this, let all Christians unite in the work of "the peace maker," and the prayer of love.

At the date of your letter, the war in which your country was involved, had not entirely ceased. To the political aspects of that war it would not be proper for us to refer, nor have we any desire so to do; yet we cannot refrain from congratulating you that your warfare is over, and that your land once more reposes under the reign of the "Prince of Peace." Long may that repose remain unbroken, and may your prayers blend with ours, that our endeared countries may more and more exemplify the beauties of that charity which seeks to give the world an open Bible, and to bring all into the brotherhood of Christ.

REPORT OF THE BOOK AGENTS AT NEW-YORK TO THE GENERAL CONFERENCE OF 1856.

To the Bishops and Members of the General Conference :

DEAR BRETHREN : In obedience to the requirements of the Discipline of the Church, we beg leave respectfully to present our quadrennial report of the condition of the Book Concern.

In submitting this report, we not only feel called upon to recognize our obligations, but to express our grateful thanks to God, the Father of all mercies, for his kind providence toward us during the period which has elapsed since the last session of the General Conference. Death has but once invaded this department of the Church during our agency. Our entire Zion has, with us, recently been called to mourn the loss of the venerable Dr. THOMAS E. BOND, Editor of the Christian Advocate and Journal. Though he had so nearly completed the work assigned him, as an officer of the General Conference, and it would seem as though his long and useful life had been providentially spared; yet, ere the last month of the term for which he was elected had come, full of years and ripe for heaven, he was summoned away from the toils he loved and the conflicts he shunned not, as a defender of the Church, to the rest and enjoyment of the general assembly and Church of the first-born in heaven. "Though dead, he yet speaketh;" and his works and words will live, as the rich and enduring inheritance of our Zion, in all coming time. More than this, in regard to the death of our venerable brother, we need not say; less than this, as a just tribute to departed worth and greatness, we could not say.

CHURCH SUIT.

Your Agents have the pleasure to report the long and vexed question in dispute between the Methodist Episcopal Church and the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, about the division of the property of the Book Concern, amicably settled; and from your commissioners you will doubtless, in due time, receive a full report.

CALIFORNIA CHRISTIAN ADVOCATE.

At the last session of the General Conference, it was

"Resolved, That a weekly paper, to be denominated the California Christian Advocate, be established in San Francisco, under the patronage and control of the General Conference; and that the Conference accept the paper of that name now published in San Francisco as the nucleus of the enterprise."

Subsequently to this action the following resolution was passed:

"Resolved, That there shall be a Publishing Committee, consisting of five members to be selected by the California Annual Conference and one from the Oregon Annual Conference, whose duties shall be similar to those of the Book Committees at New-York and Cincinnati, so far as they may be applicable to the establishment."

Soon after the adjournment of the General Conference, and before any publishing committee had been appointed, and even prior to the organization of the conferences contemplated in the action, whose province it was to accept the terms of the transfer of the paper, a draft for $2,591 06 was made upon your Agents by D. L. Ross, chairman of the publishing association. This being a much larger amount than had been represented as the indebtedness of the paper, and being drawn at the time and under the circumstances it was, your Agents were induced to examine into the action of the General Conference in relation to the subject. In that action it will be seen that there is not so much as an allusion to the aforesaid parties. Under the circumstances, the whole subject was laid before your attorney in the suit then pending between the Book Concern and the commissioners of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South. The attorney, after a careful examination of the whole matter, gave it as his opinion, that the General Conference had failed to give your Agents any authority to pay the debts of the California Christian Advocate, or to make any appropriation of funds to aid in its publication. And he further gave it as his judgment, that they would not only make themselves personally responsible, if they honored the above draft, but the Court would be very likely to grant an injunction, which had already been applied for by the prosecuting attorney, and thus very much embarrass your Agents, if not suspend, for a time, the operations of the Concern. In accordance with this advice, the draft was returned unpaid and protested.

On the 20th of October, 1852, Rev. Messrs. Isaac Owen and John D. Blain drew on the Rev. T. Carlton, Treasurer of the Missionary Society of the M. E. Church, for the sum of $3,000, adding, in their accompanying letter, that if the draft was honored they could go on with the paper. After mutual consultation with the officers of the Board, it was finally agreed to pay the amount, provided the bishop having charge of the California work, would make a draft to that effect. This was done, and the money was paid.

On the 14th of February, 1853, your Agents received another draft, drawn by the agent of the California Christian Advocate, for the sum of $2,005, which was represented by the committee appointed by the California Conference to be the whole of its indebtedness at that time; the committee consisted of the Rev. Messrs. Taylor, Owen, Blain, and Stratton. Your Agents were at a loss to know what to do with this draft. The suit with the South had not yet been settled; and they had been forced, by circumstances over which they had no control, to borrow large sums of money to enable them to carry on the business of the Concern, and to meet the liabilities which were falling due. In addition to all this, the General Conference had given them no authority to make such payments. Nevertheless, being desirous to aid the California brethren in their embarrassment, and place them in a position in which they might go on with the California paper, without making any further demands on the Book Concern; and believing that the absence of a grant of authority on the part of the General Conference was an omission not designed, your Agents ventured, on their own responsibility, to pay the said draft of $2,005; and not until the final settlement with the Church, South, was it charged to the Concern.

In the communication forwarded with the above draft, the Rev. W. Taylor says: "We think the paper this year will be self-supporting; and if not, it will be the duty of our conference, at its next session, to wind it up, as per Discipline."

Thus things continued until February the 8th, 1854, when the Publishing Committee reported the paper failing to meet its expenses by $4,116; and a draft was made on your Agents for the amount. The same committee stated, that they would be unable to proceed with the publication of the paper without an additional advance from your Agents of the sum of $5,884, making a total of $10,000.

Your Book Committee was called together; and all the documents pertaining to the subject were placed in their hands for examination and deliberation. As the result of their careful and mature deliberation, we present the following, as the resolutions passed by that body:

"1. The repeated assurances which have been given to the Agents, that, on conditions which they have met with all reasonable promptness, the paper would be able to support itself, and upon failing to do so it would be discontinued; and from the latest reports of the Publishing Committee, the support of the paper, from its own income, appears to be more doubtful than ever, the committee believe it wholly inexpedient to continue its publication as a General Conference paper.

"2. The Agents are, therefore, advised not to advance the $10,000 desired by the Publishing Committee."

Acting in accordance with the above advice, we furnished the Committee of Publication of the California Christian Advocate a copy of the same; and stated in our accompanying communication that the Agents held themselves responsible for the present liabilities, and when the accounts were properly adjusted, as provided for in the Discipline, they would be paid.

The paper, by resolution of the California Conference, was discontinued; and your Agents paid off all its debts, amounting to $4,116, for which they took a receipt from the agent, showing payment in full for all demands growing out of the publication of the California Christian Advocate. The whole amount paid by the Concern, and the Missionary Society, for the publication of said paper, was $9,121.

BOOK DEPOSITORY IN CALIFORNIA.

Your Agents were instructed, by the action of the last General Conference, to establish a Depository in San Francisco, California. Accordingly, with all "reasonable promptitude and dispatch," which the importance of the enterprise demanded, they proceeded to take the necessary preliminary steps for carrying out its instructions. Inquiries were immediately instituted as to the price of rents, clerk hire, &c.; and also as to the cost of ground and price of building, as well as the probable amount of books that could be sold. This information was sought from the most reliable sources; and, after thorough investigation of all the facts in the case—both in reference to the enterprise in California and the financial condition of the Concern—we were brought to a deliberate conviction that the instructions of the General Conference could not be carried out without a great loss to the Concern. This conclusion was not, however, arrived at without a consultation with our constitutional advisers, who, after being put in possession of all the facts in the case, gave it as their deliberate judgment that the General Conference would, under the circumstances, exonerate its Agents from any blame for not establishing a Depository in San Francisco.

The Book Committee, however, advised that arrangements be made, if practicable, by which a supply of our books should be kept on sale in that city. Accordingly, as soon as it could be effected, we made a contract with a firm engaged in the book business; and, through that house, a good supply of our publications are kept on sale, and at as good rates as they could be sold by a Depository, unless it should be at a sacrifice to the Concern.

We have thus presented a simple statement of the facts in relation to the California Christian Advocate, and Depository; and respectfully submit them to your judgment.

CHANGES IN REAL ESTATE.

At the last session of the General Conference, your Agents were instructed to dispose of the real estate belonging to the Concern, situated in Crosby-street, whenever a favorable opportunity for effecting its sale should present itself. The property consisted of four houses on leased lots. Such was the unfavorableness of the location, and the condition of the property, that, though the Book Agents had been instructed at a previous Conference to dispose of said property, a sale could not be effected, and the consequence was that it had been in the market for several years. The object in securing a sale was for the purpose of erecting more suitable houses in a better locality. At length, on the 1st of February, 1853, an offer was made, which was accepted, after due deliberation and consultation with the Book Committee; and the contract was closed for the sum of $12,000.

At the time of the sale it was thought advisable to erect houses on vacant ground belonging to the Concern, in Mulberry-street; but so rapidly and extensively was the business increasing, and so much were your Agents pressed for want of room in the establishment, to enable them to carry on the business successfully, that the idea was abandoned, and the grounds reserved for the future enlargement of the Concern, which must be attended to at no very distant day.

Instead of building, as was contemplated at first, it was ascertained, after careful examination, that it would be much cheaper and better to purchase property already improved. Accordingly, a house and lot was purchased on Sixth-street, for the sum of $9,000, and another on Seventh-street, for the sum of $9,500. This property is quite accessible to the Book Concern, and is situated in a desirable part of the city. Its value is increasing every year, and could now be sold at a considerable advance on the original cost.

In connection with this, your Agents have been under the necessity of expending several thousand dollars in repairs of the buildings of the Book Concern; repairs demanded, not only for preservation, but to facilitate the business in the various departments.

NEW MACHINERY.

The increase of business has been such as to render it necessary for your Agents to purchase a large amount of machinery, all of which has been of the latest and most improved kind.

To the printing department have been added five Adams & Co.'s best power presses, at a cost of $7,798 69. There has also been purchased one of Hoe & Co.'s hydraulic presses, of six hundred tons pressure, the price of which was $1,517 45.

For the bindery there have been procured one cutting machine, at a cost of $400; three backing machines, at a cost of $350; three standing presses, at a cost of $400; four embossing presses, at a cost of $1,600; and embossing stamps, rolls, dies, &c., costing $2,000.

Within the past year electrotyping has been introduced into the Concern, by which plates and cuts are cast with copper face, adding very much to their durability, as well as to the convenience of multiplying engravings, and the perfection of printing; and the short experience your Agents have had, has convinced them that this is far preferable, for many kinds of work, to the old mode of stereotyping. This improvement has been made at a cost of only about $400. Total for new machinery, $14,466 14.

PERIODICAL DEPARTMENT.

Your Agents deeply regret that they are under the necessity of reporting a loss upon all the periodicals published by the Concern, except the Christian Advocate and Journal.

The following shows the cost and receipts of each for the last four years, together with the average number of subscribers:

Christian Advocate and Journal.

Average number of subscribers.....	29,875
Cost of publication.....		$124,749 22
Receipts.....		141,731 67
Profits....		$16,982 45

Sunday School Advocate.

Average circulation.....	83,500
Expenses.....		$95,831	85
Receipts.....		81,497	27
Loss.....			$14,334 58

National Magazine.

Average circulation.....	15,875
Expenses.....		$92,265	61
Receipts.....		69,347	93
Loss.....			$22,917 68

Quarterly Review.

Average circulation.....	2,721
Expenses.....		$17,236	08
Receipts.....		10,975	94
Loss.....			$6,260 14

Expenses over receipts on National Magazine, Quarterly Review, and Sunday School Advocate.....	$43,512	40
Deduct the profits on the Advocate and Journal...		16,982 45
Balance of expenses over receipts on all the periodicals.....		$26,529 95

In the above estimates of cost, the composition, stereotyping, press-work, &c., are calculated at the usual master's prices; prices which we should have to pay if the work was done out of the house.

It is but just to ourselves, and to others specially interested, to say that no small part of the loss indicated in the balances of the Sunday-School Advocate and the National Magazine, is chargeable to a great advance in the price of paper. While this advance in the cost of material, and a corresponding increase in the wages of workmen, were wholly unlooked for at the time when the terms of those periodicals were fixed, yet they occurred soon after, and have continued during the intervening period. As these high prices of material and labor still prevail without prospect of diminution, the question arises, in the judgment of your Agents, as to the expedience of continuing, at least in their present form and at present rates, those periodicals upon which there is so great a loss to the Concern.

In considering this question, we would suggest,

1. The advantages to the Book Department in advertising through these mediums, which otherwise would cost the Concern a very large amount, while all departments of the Church would not be reached as at present.

2. The influence of such periodicals upon the Church and the world, devoted as they are to morality and religion.

3. We would further suggest whether there could not be some change in the form and size of the National Magazine and Quarterly Review, so as to lessen the expense, and at the same time meet the wants of the Church; and also whether, in view of all things, it may not be best to reduce both the size and the price of the Sunday School Advocate, so that it may become more strictly a children's paper.

There is reason to hope that on this plan its circulation might be very greatly increased.

Even in their present form and at their present rates, the whole difficulty would be relieved, if the General Conference could devise some means by which to increase their circulation. If the National Magazine had twenty-five thousand paying subscribers, the Quarterly Review, four thousand, and the Sunday School Advocate one hundred thousand, the Periodical Department would not only support itself, but yield a small profit to the Concern.

BOOK DEPARTMENT.

Your Agents take pleasure in reporting that, in regard to the Book Department of the Concern, the last four years have been years of prosperity. It was stated by our worthy predecessors in their last report to the General Conference, that in the year 1850 the sales amounted to $202,358 27, being the largest business ever done by the Concern in one year. This large amount of sales they attributed, however, to the issue of our new Hymn Book. At the same time, they gave it as their opinion, that the business of the Concern should be increased to $250,000 per year, or $1,000,000 every four years. It affords your Agents no little pleasure to state that the opinions of our excellent predecessors have been confirmed, and that the point has not only been gained, but an advance has been made upon it. The following are the annual receipts: 1852, $182,757 80; 1853, $256,911 78; 1854, $300,655 44; 1855, $260,499 16; making a total of $1,000,734 18, being an increase over the preceding four years of over 53 per cent., or $347,543 40. This large increase in the sales may be in part attributed to the improved quality and style of the books. The paper used has been of the first quality, while the typographical execution, together with the binding, has been equal to that of any publishing house in the country. Your Agents flatter themselves that they have met the wants and tastes of the religious community and the reading public in the works issued from your Concern. Your Agents have published 45 new books for general sales, 185 Sunday-school books, and 17 Tract books, making in all, for the four years, 247. Besides, there have been added to the Tract Catalogue 198 New Tracts.

Your Agents would further state, that they have issued, in muslin and leather binding, 4,378,376 volumes, and in paper covers, 2,079,733; making the whole number of volumes for the four years, 6,458,109. There have also been issued, 8,297,517 Miscellaneous books, Sermons, Pamphlets, Children's small books, &c.; these, added to the above, make 14,755,626, which would be an average per day of 12,296 volumes, allowing three hundred working days per year. Besides this, there has been an average issue of 9,974 Tracts per day, of from 4 to 48 pages each, making, during the four years, 11,968,800.

Your Agents think, if the proper means are used for the coming four years, the sales may be greatly increased, and that the day is not far distant when the business of the Concern may be double what it now is.

One thing ought specially to be borne in mind, namely, that great advantages are secured by a unity of interest and action. It is this which has given to the Book Concern of our Church its great efficiency hitherto.

In some other denominations the habit has obtained of having one publishing-house for general or doctrinal books, another for tract publications, and a third for Sunday-school publications, while their periodicals are published and controlled by private individuals. This multiplication of establishments makes necessary the employment of many more men and larger amounts of capital than are called for on our plan, while the different interests are thus made to conflict with each other. In every way our plan is more advantageous, and hence it becomes the General Conference carefully to classify and arrange the several departments so as to harmonize with and aid each other.

CIRCULATION OF BOOKS.

Since the last session of the General Conference much has been said and written, and many plans have been proposed, with a view of getting our publications more extensively in the market. To a consideration of some of these we invite your attention: It is proposed that the Agents adopt a system of advertising in the secular papers. This plan was recommended by your Book Committee, and was, accordingly, to some extent adopted; but, after having expended hundreds of dollars in this way, we became satisfied that it was a losing operation. We were careful to watch the results; and though we received orders, again and again, for books outside of our ordinary agencies, from persons who saw our advertisements in the Church papers, yet we have not, to our knowledge, received one from any person who obtained information of our publications through the secular press.

The importance of establishing Depositories in our larger towns and cities has been urged. To the consideration of this plan we have also directed our attention. Though we could not establish such Depositories, yet we have made arrangements, in several cities and towns, by which an assortment of our books has been kept on sale at wholesale prices. The result, however, of this arrangement has thoroughly convinced your Agents that, in many places where both preachers and people have asked for Depositories, there could not be a sufficient amount of books sold to pay the expenses connected therewith, while the idea of profit is entirely out of the question. Others have proposed a general system of colportage. The adoption of such a system, all must be aware, would be attended with many difficulties, and involve an amount of hazard which would require the most mature deliberation before entering upon it. The experience of the last four years has demonstrated most clearly to our minds the inutility of this plan. It is perfectly obvious that, if we were to adopt this scheme for the circulation of our literature, it would be impossible to carry it out successfully, from the fact that the right kind of men could not be obtained to act as colporteurs. No man of much reliability or business tact could be found to engage in such a work at the compensation afforded, such being occupied in other and more profitable employments. Colporteurs, engaged in the work of Tract distribution by the Tract Society, have, no doubt, accomplished much good by the circulation of religious literature among the masses, and by their personal religious efforts; but if the Concern were left to depend upon these agencies, it would soon have to stop its presses, at least so far as its general business is concerned.

Another class of our friends suggest the propriety of leaving the whole matter of the sale of our books to the trade. They would have us place our books in the trade sales, and let them be sold, as those of other publishing houses, under the hammer, to the highest bidder.

We have not been unmindful of the interests connected with the book trade in general, and have, as judiciously as possible, effected many sales through the trade; but if this were the only agency upon which we had to rely, our business, instead of being increased, would be greatly diminished.

Finally, on this subject: Quite a large number are altogether favorable to the old plan of leaving the circulation of our books and periodicals with the preachers, who are constituted, by the Discipline of the Church, as the proper agents to supply our people with our book and periodical publications. Were this generally attended to, no plan could be devised that could approximate, in the remotest degree, its efficiency, as every city, town, village, and district of country would have an agency at once prompt and reliable; but, as it is, many places would be wholly unsupplied, if its dependence were to be placed alone upon the preachers.

We respectfully suggest, that, as all the plans proposed have more or less in them worthy of consideration, your Agents be left, in addition to the wise and wholesome regulations of the Discipline, to avail themselves of such parts of these plans as may be adapted to our economy, and will serve to facilitate our operations.

In regard to Depositories already established, we would say that they have proved themselves useful auxiliaries to the Parent Concern, though we are thoroughly convinced that it would be injudicious to multiply them, especially in those sections of the country where the facilities for transportation are such as to enable purchasers to procure their books from New-York, Cincinnati, and elsewhere, in a few days; and, besides, our arrangements with the trade are such, that our books can be had at almost all the larger places, at the regular catalogue prices. Though the trade has a larger discount, yet the market is thus kept supplied with our books; and the preachers can purchase our publications of those booksellers who keep them on sale, at our wholesale prices. Through this agency, many of our books get a wider circulation than they otherwise would. The colporteurs employed by the Tract Society have made sale of a large number of books and tract publications; and, we doubt not, this system is susceptible of such arrangements and regulations, that it may become quite effective, in the hands of skillful managers, in supplying the demand for our books in those sections of our work where the preachers are unwilling to carry out the provisions of the Discipline in supplying our people. The great agency, after all, upon which the Concern must chiefly rely for accomplishing its mission, in the diffusion of a sound religion and a pure literature, is that which is to be found in the traveling preachers; and we shall regret exceedingly if that agency is withdrawn, or lessened to any extent.

The age is emphatically a reading age; and never, in the history of the country, did the presses in the great book mart teem with such an amount of light literature. That the minds of our widely-extended community may not be left unoccupied by the pure and the true; or, what is much worse, filled with the corrupt and fictitious, it becomes every minister of the Gospel to see that his flock are supplied with such books as "tend to the knowledge and love of God."

CAPITAL AND REVENUE.

On the first of January, 1852, the books of the Concern showed the Capital to be: Real Estate, $130,568 63; Personal Property, $511,978 37; total amount of Capital, $642,547.

From this sum deduct the following appropriations made by the General Conference of 1852: Expenses of said Conference, $3,364 59; Pittsburgh Christian Advocate, $3,598 31; and dividends for 1852, $11,457 50; making the sum of $18,420 40. This deducted, leaves $624,126 60. Add to this the profits of the year 1852, $49,383 30, and you have, at the close of the year 1852, $673,509 90.

In the settlement with the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, in 1853, we agreed to pay the sum of $191,000 in cash, and $40,648 51 in notes and accounts, making $231,648 51. Expenses in said suit, $2,003. Total, $233,711 51; leaving the nominal Capital, in 1853, $439,798 39.

Profits for the last three years are as follows: 1853, $54,354 83; 1854, $54,844 75; 1855, $32,679 99. Total, $141,879 47. This shows a fraction less than 11 per cent. per annum on the whole capital, after the division of the property with the Methodist Episcopal Church, South.

Your Agents feel impelled to say, that while the above shows the nominal Capital in 1852 and 1853, its real value was much less, there being, after the settlement with the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, not less than $50,000 of notes and book accounts against persons from whom the first dollar could not be collected; and, besides this, there was a large amount of old, soiled, and unsalable books and sheet stock, which had been accumulating for many years. Of the sheet stock which was inventoried at cost, your Agents have sold over 47 tons, at an average price of 2½ cents per pound, or $55 per ton. Here is a deduction to be made of at least $15,000. The bound stock has been sold at a loss of about $500. After deducting from the notes and book accounts the amount which was transferred to the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, in the settlement, and the $50,000 of bad debts, there remained, in notes and accounts, $101,928 87, upon which your Agents judge there should be a deduction of at least 15 per cent., making $15,289 38. These several sums, taken from the nominal amount of Capital in 1853, left the real Capital, after the division of the property with the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, $359,009 01, allowing the real estate, presses, stereotype plates, &c., as then inventoried, which was evidently too high, and more than the property was worth. Instead, then, of reckoning the per centage as above, on the sum of $439,798 39, it should be on $359,009 01, which would show a profit on the Capital, for the last three years, of a fraction over 13 per cent. per annum.

This result, your Agents think, cannot but be satisfactory, considering the embarrassing circumstances under which they entered upon their duties; and though it has been said by some that it would be better to dispose of the property, and invest the proceeds in stocks that would be more productive, yet, as a mere financial operation, your Agents doubt if a better investment could be made in any stocks now in market, or if the money could be loaned, with any degree of safety, so as to yield to the Church an equal amount of profit.

But your Agents have not been accustomed to look upon the Methodist Book Concern merely as a money-making institution. This they have regarded as incidental, while the great object has been to furnish the Church and the world with a sound religious literature. And yet it may be doubted whether there is any book-making establishment in our country which has succeeded better financially. If the whole amount paid out at different times, per order of the General Conference, together with the dividends to the several Annual Conferences, had been invested in stocks, or loaned out on annual interest, we doubt if the Methodist Book Concern would not this day possess a larger capital than any other manufacturing establishment in this land. And though your Agents have not declared any dividends to the several Annual Conferences during their agency, yet they have met certain demands growing out of the action of the last General Conference, including the salaries and traveling expenses of the bishops, together with the dividend of 1850, amounting to the sum of $71,100 15.

If this sum had been appropriated by way of dividends, it would have given to the conferences annually $17,775 03.

But, notwithstanding this large appropriation, your Agents were very desirous to continue the long-established practice of declaring dividends to the several Annual Conferences; and it was not until they had made a full exhibit of the financial condition of the Concern to the Book Committee, and obtained their advice on the subject, that they abandoned the idea. Your Agents were members of the Book Committee the four years preceding the last General Conference, and knowing, as they did, the embarrassing condition of the Concern, growing out of the suit with the Church, South, they were then of the opinion that it was inexpedient to declare a dividend for 1852; but, under the circumstances which existed in 1853, it would have been ruinous to the best interests of the Concern. By borrowing money and by strict economy, your Agents have been able to meet all the liabilities of the Concern thus far as they became due, and they now have good hope that in a few years the Concern may be able to free itself from its indebtedness; and your Agents do most sincerely hope that this General Conference will not, further than is absolutely necessary for the interest of the Church, tax the Book Concern for the coming four years, or, at least, until its liabilities are so far redeemed that they can be managed with safety, even if there should come a more stringent time for money than we have had for the last two years.

In closing this article on capital and revenue, we give the exhibit of January 1, 1856, which was made in accordance with the long-established usage of the House, to be presented to the several Annual Conferences; together with one so modified as to show a cash valuation of the property of the Concern.

Items: Real Estate, less, $20,112 84; amount due on Periodical account is thrown out, because subscriptions received in advance would about offset the same, $10,000; Merchandise, 10 per cent. deducted, $15,488 18; Printing-office stock, 10 per cent. deducted, $11,688 08; Bindery stock, 10 per cent. deducted, $10,657 56; Notes and Book Accounts, 25 per cent. additional deducted, $46,103 90. Total, less than the showing made to the Annual Conferences, $114,045 56.

PRICES OF BOOKS AND PERIODICALS.

Much has been said and written, especially in the past, about the high price of the publications of the Book Concern. The advantages, however, of such high prices, if they were so at the time, did not accrue to the Concern as much as to those who purchased to sell again, from the fact that the most liberal discount was allowed. But, without any abatement of that discount to the preachers and wholesale purchasers, the publications have from time to time been reduced in price to such an extent that we may safely challenge the world of book publishers in this respect. We are perfectly willing the publications of the Concern, so far as mere mechanical execution is concerned, should be compared with those of any house in the country. We have taken the pains, in some instances, to institute a comparison, more for the purpose of satisfying our brethren than ourselves; and we find that they are cheaper than several of the New-York publishing houses, particularly our recent publications; that works which we sell for one dollar, a book corresponding in size, and frequently much inferior in paper and binding, is sold by others for one dollar and a quarter. This fact can be verified by any one who will take the pains to make the comparison. So much have our books been reduced in price, that, instead of the allegation that they are dearer than those of any other establishment, it may be affirmed, as a general thing, that they are from twenty to twenty-five per cent. cheaper, notwithstanding the discounts we are obliged to allow to wholesale purchasers are much larger.

As regards our periodicals, it may be asserted that, when compared with others, whether literary or religious, they are much cheaper; and it may be affirmed, upon the whole, that our Church furnishes its members, and the reading public at large, with books and periodicals on religion and literature, cheaper than is furnished by any other Church.

Frequent remarks are made about the cheapness of the publications of the American Tract Society and the American Sunday-School Union; but our Tract and Sunday-School Departments furnish books which will compare favorably with either in this respect, notwithstanding these societies are sustained by contributions from the various Churches, amounting annually to thousands of dollars. Our Tract and Sunday-school books, both for cheapness and variety, are not excelled by any similar productions; and the most thoroughly progressive among us, when all the facts are brought before them, could not find it in their hearts to charge the Concern with dereliction in duty in anything pertaining to a sound and healthy progress.

Fill every department with the right kind of men—men who will stand by their posts and work up to the extent of their ability for the promotion of the interests of the Institution, and there can be no calculating the results. What has already been done will be but the beginning of greater things for God and for the Church.

REPORT AND EXHIBIT OF THE AGENTS OF THE WESTERN BOOK CONCERN.

To the General Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church :

DEAR FATHERS AND BRETHREN : It becomes our duty, according to Discipline, to submit to you a report of the business of the Western Book Concern for the past four years.

In doing this, it is scarcely necessary to say they have been years of unprecedented solicitude and care to your Agents ; growing principally out of the Church Suit and the unparalleled financial difficulties that have passed over our country—all of which have called for the exercise of our best skill to save the Concern, if not from suspension, from the most serious embarrassment.

We are happy, however, in making up our account, to find that the Concern, though necessarily reduced in its resources, is still in a healthy and safe condition, as will appear from the accompanying Exhibit up to November 30, 1855.

And here it may be proper to give the reasons, already set forth in our Circular, sent to some of the Annual Conferences, for changing the time of getting out our Exhibit from March 31st to November 30th. The reasons are the following : 1. March 31st was not the most suitable time, being in the midst of our business year. 2. Ever since the first of January has been the period for the commencement of our periodical subscriptions, we have been compelled, in making our Exhibits to the above-named date, to embrace portions of two years of the periodical business, which has always been the occasion of considerable trouble ; while the period now adopted is as near the close of our contracts with subscribers as can possibly be fixed upon. 3. Our Exhibits made to that time were more than one year old when presented to some of the Conferences.

The Exhibit now presented, being the commencement of a new series of Exhibits, growing out of the recent settlement with the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, shows the condition of the Concern November 30, 1855—from which you will perceive that the capital stock of the Concern has been reduced from $216,203 53 to $150,406 74, by the deduction of the debt due the Church, South, the expenses of the Church Suit, and the reduction in our inventory of the entire stock on hand to its cash value. But for these extraordinary reductions, the capital stock would have been, at the date of our Exhibit, $250,816 62; which would show a profit in our business, from March 31, 1852, to November 30, 1855—a period of three and two-third years—of $34,613 09.

Our sales of books, including those sold to the Chicago Depository, for the last four years, ending March 31st, amount to.....	$346,886 80
Being an increase over the previous four years of....		$86,057 27
Periodical sales for the same time, including those sold to the Depository, amount to	302,953 93
Making an increase over the past four years of.....		90,804 63
Total book and periodical sales	$649,840 73
Total increase.....		$176,861 90

We are compelled to say that the Tract organization, in its present form, has been rather prejudicial to our sales at the Western Book Concern, from the fact that we have declined credit sales to the Conference Tract Agents, except to very limited amounts, for the following reasons: 1. The Annual Conferences were unwilling to assume the responsibility of paying said debts. 2. We did not think it safe either for brethren themselves or the Concern to extend credit to individuals for large amounts: This has, in some instances, induced the Tract Agents West to turn their trade to the New-York Concern. To colporteurs we have made no sales on time.

The increasing demand on us for books and periodicals has rendered it necessary that we should add to our facilities for publishing, etc., to enable us to meet said demand.

We have, therefore, added, during the past term, two stories to the Book Room Building, cornering on Main and Eighth streets, and removed the wooden columns, and supplied their places with iron, making the building much more permanent, at a cost of about $5,500; and have remodeled the internal arrangements of the building, so as to adapt it to the wants of our business, at a cost of say, $1,000.

We have also introduced into our Book Room Building the necessary apparatus for warming the entire building by steam brought from our Printing-Office, which cost $1,350.

We have added to our Bindery a sawing and a cutting machine, and one embossing press, at a cost of $1,000.

We have also added to our Printing Department a small building, for wetting paper, mailing-room, and a room in which we run two presses, at a cost of about $700.

We have added during the past four years two Adams's improved presses, and one Taylor's improved cylinder press.

At this time we are running seven presses—six for printing books, and one for printing the Western Christian Advocate and the Christian Apologist.

We are now in a condition to do a large amount of printing, binding, etc.; and yet, should our business enlarge as it has, we shall soon find ourselves crowded for room.

We have printed during the past term:

Bound volumes for the Concern	762,300	copies
Tracts for the Concern	745,750	"
Bound volumes for others	71,500	"
Pamphlets, consisting of Minutes of Conferences, Catalogues, etc.	65,000	"
Total	1,650,550	"

We have added to our Catalogue during the past four years thirty-six new works in the English language, and have several more in press; we have also stereotyped and issued during the same time thirty-one volumes and thirty-one tracts in German; making a total of sixty-seven new works and thirty-one tracts.

Our periodicals are all in a most flourishing condition:

We are sending out now of the Western Christian Advocate	28,718
Giving us an increase in the past four years of		7,718
The Ladies' Repository has a subscription list of	29,580
Which is an increase of		16,580
The Christian Apologist has a subscription list of	6,967
Being an increase of		3,598

Our other periodicals have subscription lists as follows:

Sunday School Advocate	31,192
Missionary Advocate	5,055
National Magazine	2,163
Quarterly Review	442

All the periodicals published at the Western Book Concern are now yielding an annual profit.

Among other duties assigned us by the last General Conference, we were instructed to establish a paper and Depository of books at Chicago; the paper to be called the Northwestern Christian Advocate. This we proceeded to do; and although the rush of conferences came upon us immediately after the General Conference, and our Church Suit with the South was also pending, involving great care and anxiety, as may be seen by reference to the report of the Commissioners of the Church Suit for the Western Book Concern, yet we had our Depository established and stocked with books for the trade early in the fall of the same year; and in carrying out the provisions for a weekly paper, we effected our arrangements so as to send out a specimen number in the fall of 1852; and the first number of the Northwestern Christian Advocate was issued in the first week of January, 1853.

The Depository has exceeded our most sanguine expectations.

The sales of books at that place, since the establishment of the Depository, in October, 1852, up to March 31, 1856—a period of three years and five months—have been	$142,209 67
Periodicals for the same time	85,164 28
Total book and periodical sales	$227,373 95

The number of subscribers to the periodicals at the Chicago Depository is as follows:

Northwestern Christian Advocate	10,083
Ladies' Repository	7,200
National Magazine	2,400
Sunday School Advocate	13,300
Missionary Advocate	3,000
Quarterly Review	218

The Northwestern Christian Advocate has been published at a loss of $4,653 30; but will, no doubt, soon pay for itself and yield a profit to the Concern. But for the heavy debt due the South, and the consequent importance of husbanding our finances, we should not hesitate to suggest to the General Conference the propriety of ordering the purchase of a suitable lot, and the erection of such a building or buildings as would answer for the Depository and the printing of the paper in Chicago.

We were also authorized to establish, at our discretion, a Depository and a paper at St. Louis, when, in our judgment, it would be safe to do so. In view of the heavy liabilities upon us, there has been no time when we have thought it would be safe to the Concern to establish a Depository of books at that place. Under date of August 21, 1854, we proposed to the patronizing Conferences, upon their advising it, to publish a paper, commencing January 1, 1855; but, about the time of the meeting of the Publishing Committee for the final settlement of the question, we were in the midst of the great financial shock which was upon the country, and was so severely felt in the West, and especially in our own city. The farmer and mechanic were suffering alike with the merchant. In fact, an overwhelming panic had seized upon the people, such as had never been felt before in the United States.

In our own city, by suspensions and failures, a large amount of capital was locked up, including about $9,000 of the funds of the Book Concern and the Missionary Society; and at the very time that we were setting out to attend the meeting of the Publishing Committee, the news reached us that $3,000 of our funds were shut up in the Union Bank of Chicago, which had suspended; and on the very day that we started for St. Louis, the run commenced on the Ohio Life Insurance and Trust Company of Cincinnati, in which nearly all of our remaining funds were deposited. In this state of things, although we had pledged ourselves to the Conferences to commence the paper, we felt ourselves compelled to abandon it, and so reported to the Publishing Committee at a meeting held at St. Louis, November 22, 1854. This was done with the concurrence of the members of the Committee present after hearing the facts in the case.

It may be proper, before closing our Report, to call the special attention of the General Conference to the encouraging increase of the German publications and sales, from which it will be seen that the German books are no longer published at a loss to the Concern, but, on the contrary, some profit. Our German brethren have earnestly desired a much larger increase in the variety of German publications. This demand we have not been able to meet, from the fact that Dr. Nast, in connection with his other editorial duties, has not been able, without such assistance as he could not procure, to do more than he has done in preparing German books for the press. In view of this expressed desideratum of a larger supply of German books, and the request for the publication of a semi-monthly Sabbath-school paper in the German language, we would respectfully suggest to the General Conference to consider the propriety of appointing an assistant editor in the German department, as it is thought the desired help can only be procured from among the German traveling preachers.

With regard to the Sabbath-school paper in the German language, we are told that our sister German Protestant denominations are publishing such a paper for their Sabbath schools, and if we do not provide our children with a periodical of this kind in the German language, our schools will be compelled to supply themselves elsewhere. It is thought by our German brethren that there will be a sufficient patronage from the beginning to save the Book Concern from loss. The great variety of cuts that we have accumulated from year to year, in publishing the English Sunday School Advocate, will enable us to furnish a cheaper and better periodical in German than any other Church can do.

With regard to the German Commentary on the New Testament, which the last General Conference instructed the German editor to prepare for publication, "and for which the Book Agents at Cincinnati were authorized to provide the editor with the help he might need to any amount not exceeding $1,000," we have to report, that the editor found it impossible to undertake this great work alone, and that neither he nor the Agents could succeed in finding aid suitable to so responsible a work; and besides this difficulty, the editor wishes us to say that he would have hesitated to proceed in this great work for the following considerations:

1. The great disproportion between the expense of the work and our limited German membership.

2. The fact that the General Conference ordered a brief Commentary, and the almost unanimous judgment of our German brethren that, in order to obtain the object of the proposed Commentary, it should not be brief, but full and large, and that the publication of a large Commentary would pay cost better.

3. The hope that before long the Church would publish a new Commentary, compiled by abler men and clothed with proper authority, which might then be translated into German.

Finally, we beg leave to say that, as your Agents in the performance of the highly-responsible duties devolving upon us during our Agency, we claim to have acted for the time being with reference to the best interests of the Concern we represent.

EXHIBIT, NOVEMBER 30, 1855.

DEAR BRETHREN : The late settlement with the Commissioners of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, renders it necessary for us to commence a new series of Exhibits ; and having for some time felt the inconvenience of making them up to March 31st, the former date, we have thought this the most suitable time for making a change. We therefore now present you an Exhibit of the condition of the Western Book Concern at this date.

Very respectfully, your servants in Christ,

REPORT OF THE BOOK COMMITTEE OF THE WESTERN BOOK CONCERN.

To the General Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church :

DEAR FATHERS AND BRETHREN: We have met annually at Cincinnati to attend to the duties with which we were charged by the General Conference of 1852, and have given to the interests committed to our watch-care, such attention as will authorize us to speak with confidence and pleasure of the prudent and faithful management of the Concern by your Agents, Brothers Swormstedt and Poe.

With our advice and approval, the Agents have made very important improvements to the property by adding two stories to the main building, and by furnishing increased facilities for carrying on the business of the Book Room.

So far as we have been able to learn, there has been no want of economy or of attention to the pecuniary interests of the Concern by your Agents. They have had to grapple with the difficulties accruing from the unsettled state of the monetary affairs of the country, and the additional perplexities of the settlement with the Methodist Episcopal Church, South.

Your Agents have been successful, under these disadvantageous circumstances, in maintaining the character of the Western Book Concern, in regard to its ability and promptitude in meeting all its liabilities. The books of the Concern are neatly and correctly kept, and the premises are in good order, and the working apartments are conveniently and comfortably arranged.

There have been added to the regular catalogue sixty-seven books and thirty-one tracts during the four years, and several additional volumes are in the course of publication.

We refer you to the report of the Book Agents for the amount of sales during the four years past.

We are gratified in being able to report that all the periodicals published at the Western Book Concern are in a highly prosperous condition, and you will, doubtless, appreciate the efforts of the editors of these periodicals, as contributing to this result.

By the report of the Agents, you will be pleased to learn that the Depository at Chicago is doing a good work, and that the prospect is good for the success of the Northwestern Christian Advocate, as a self-supporting member of the family of Church Periodicals.

We deem it not improper to suggest to the General Conference that the Tract Society, as at present organized and operating, is not accomplishing the design of its creation, and respectfully suggest the propriety of some better and more efficient and profitable arrangement.

We commend all these interests to your fostering care, praying that the blessing of God may rest upon these important auxiliaries in spreading Scriptural holiness all over these lands.

REPORT OF THE MINORITY OF THE BOOK COMMITTEE OF THE WESTERN BOOK CONCERN.

To the Bishops and Members of the General Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church in General Conference assembled :

DEAR FATHERS AND BRETHREN: The undersigned, a member of the Book Committee of the Cincinnati Book Concern, respectfully begs leave to present the following as a Minority Report. This measure is not prompted by any unkind feelings among the members of the committee, but by an honest difference of opinion respecting the powers and duties of the Book Committee. Nor is it intended, in this statement, to complain of any one, or to examine the matters treated of in the report presented by the majority, but mainly to bring to the notice of the General Conference the ground of difference between us and other members of the committee, which, in the judgment of the undersigned, requires the decision of the General Conference. The following preamble and resolutions, containing our views on the subject, were presented to the committee at its last meeting, April 29th, with the hope that the matter might be adjusted without reference to this body; but the majority did not see fit to acquiesce in the measure.

" Whereas, it is provided in the Discipline of the Methodist Episcopal Church, that 'It shall be the duty of the Book Committee to examine into the condition of the Book Concern, to inspect the accounts of the Agents, and to make a report thereof, yearly, to all the Annual Conferences, and to the General Conference; and,

" Whereas, the interests of the Concern on the one hand, and the protection of the administration on the other hand, require that such 'examination' and 'inspection' should extend to, and include, the annual receipts and expenditure of the funds of the Concern; and,

Whereas, a difference of opinion exists among the members of the Book Committee, in respect to their authority to audit the accounts of the Agents, and the practicability of the measure; and as information has been received from the Agents, that the books of the Concern are not so kept and arranged as to render such an inspection of the accounts practicable; and,

"Whereas, all the interests involved require that those differences of opinion should be fully settled, and the obstacles (if any exist) in the way of a thorough inspection of the accounts of the Agents should be removed; therefore,

"1. Resolved, That it is the duty of the Book Committee to inspect the accounts of the Agents, to the extent of ascertaining the amount of funds annually received, and the objects and purposes for which such funds have been expended.

"2. Resolved, That the Book Committee respectfully request the Agents of the Cincinnati Book Concern so to arrange and keep the books and accounts of the Concern, together with any vouchers that may be deemed necessary, as to render the above examination and inspection as easy and practicable as possible."

A majority of the committee declining to adopt the above resolutions, or to take any action on the subject, left the undersigned no other course to pursue than either, 1st, to sign the report of the majority, which, in his opinion, was not the result of such an examination of the Concern, and inspection of the accounts of the Agents, as the rule of Discipline contemplates; or, 2d, to neglect what he conceived to be an official duty, and allow this subject still to remain in doubt; or, 3d, to submit it for final decision to the judgment of the General Conference. The latter course has been chosen, with the humble request that the Conference will definitely express its views, whether it is not the duty of the Book Committee, under the rule of Discipline, to "inspect the accounts of the Agents," in the sense of auditing those accounts; and whether the books of the Concern should not be so arranged and kept as to render such inspection as practicable and easy as possible.

Respectfully submitted,

JOHN H. POWER.

REPORT OF THE BOOK COMMITTEE AT NEW-YORK.

DEAR FATHERS AND BRETHREN: The Book Committee appointed by the General Conference, at its session in 1852, in accordance with the provisions of the Discipline, make their Report to the General Conference, to be held in Indianapolis in May, 1856.

The committee having given all the attention to the important duties assigned them, which their limited time would permit, are happy to say, that so far as they are able to judge, the business of the Book Concern has been faithfully conducted. The Agents have proved themselves fully adequate to the management of the varied interests of the Concern, under the new and pressing emergencies through which it has passed, arising from increasing demands for our publications, great pressure in the monetary concerns of the country, and heavy liabilities arising from the settlement of the claim of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South. It would not have been matter of wonder, if in a path to them so new, and so large a portion of it entirely untrodden, our brethren, intrusted with this great interest, had made some material failures; but your committee are free to say that the administration of the agency has been such as to entitle them to the approbation and gratitude of the General Conference and the Church at large.

The buildings of the Book Concern are in a state of excellent repair, improvements having been made which add much to the convenience of the establishment, and afford increased facilities to those who are engaged in prosecuting the various branches of its business. The machinery has been much improved. New and improved presses have been substituted for such as were antiquated and comparatively inefficient. By these means the power of the Concern has been greatly increased at a comparatively small expense.

There have been added to the catalogue of books, during the past four years, two hundred and forty-seven volumes, and several of these are volumes of considerable size, and of great importance to our literature. The sales of the Concern have amounted to $1,000,734 18, and the business has yielded a profit of $191,262 77. These are results which your committee think should be regarded as highly satisfactory.

DEPOSITORIES

The Depositories established, in conformity with the action of the General Conference, at Boston, Pittsburgh, and Buffalo, are in successful operation. The amount of sales for four years is as follows: Boston, $129,814 17; Pittsburgh, $49,425 66; *Buffalo, $12,000.

An experiment of a Branch of the Concern in the city of New-York has been in progress for some six years, and the results, as your Committee think, have not been such as to warrant the conclusion that such an establishment is expedient. The question, it is presumed, will receive due attention from the General Conference.

Your committee are of opinion that there may be danger of establishing too many depositories. Such are the increased facilities for transportation at the present time, that it would seem to be a measure of common prudence not to increase the risks and expenses of separate establishments much beyond what they are at present.

PERIODICALS.

Your committee regret to say that all the periodicals published at New-York come short of supporting themselves, excepting the Christian Advocate and Journal, and that has fallen off in the number of its subscribers during the last year.

* This Depository has been in existence about twenty months; hence the report of sales is for only one year.

The Advocate now has 27,600 upon its subscription list, and yielded a profit for the current year, ending December 30, 1855, of $3,063 15.

The Quarterly Review has somewhat increased its number of subscribers, now having a list of 2,600, but still has run the Concern in debt $2,416 97 for the current year.

The National Magazine has a subscription list of 15,500, and was a loss to the Concern, the past year, of $4,438 57.

The Sunday-School Advocate has a circulation of 80,000, and failed to meet its expenses, in 1855, by $5,887 70. The mechanical execution and the quality of the paper are evidently too expensive for the present price of the paper. It will be a question for the General Conference to settle, whether it will be good policy to reduce the quality of the paper, number, and expenses of the cuts, &c., or continue to publish the paper at a loss.

TRACT SOCIETY.

The Tract Society is an important branch of our economy, and may be considered as having fairly commenced its career of usefulness. It only becomes us to speak of the institution as an instrumentality through which the Book Concern can act upon the public mind. The relations of the two, perhaps, are not yet quite sufficiently defined. Your committee would respectfully suggest that the relation of the Book Concern and the Tract Society should be so adjusted, and responsibility for the debts contracted for books should be so located, as that the Tract Society should not be a source of loss to the Book Concern. The General Conference will, doubtless, carefully examine into the whole question, and make all necessary and suitable provision for the harmonious and effective action of the two departments.

SUGGESTIONS.

Facts and circumstances have arrested the attention of the Book Committee, during the past four years, which have brought us to certain conclusions, which we feel bound to present to the General Conference for its consideration. We shall not undertake to sustain our opinions by a lengthened argument in this report, but should the General Conference be induced, by our suggestions, to look at the reasons upon which they are based, or, if they are not obvious, should our suggestions elicit them from any quarter, so that they may be fully appreciated, our object will be answered.

We would suggest the possibility of multiplying General Conference papers beyond the necessities of the Church.

We would also suggest that the editors at New-York should reside in that city, or in its immediate neighborhood, and occupy offices in the Book Room. Also, that editors should not, at their own motion, leave the country, and devolve their duties upon others.

Finally: That the General Conference editors should not disparage the Book Concern in their publications. We believe that the importance of the Concern, as a tributary to the Church's power, can scarcely be overrated, and we think that it is entitled to the sympathy and hearty coöperation of the whole Church; and certainly we think it ought to be protected from the assaults of our own editors.

During the past four years a great crisis has taken place in the history of the Book Concern. We refer to the settlement of the litigation with the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, and the consequent heavy liabilities of the Concern. The present financial condition of the Concern, we presume, will be presented by the Agents in their report, and must not be entered into by us.

This brief survey of interests committed to us for our annual inspection and advisement, we now submit to the General Conference as our report.

Q.

REPORT OF THE COMMISSIONERS OF THE CHURCH SUIT IN THE WEST.

THE Commissioners appointed to attend to the Church Suit in the West beg leave to report. They attended the trial in the Circuit Court of Ohio, where the case was argued by able counsel on both sides, and the decision was in favor of the defendants. No sooner was the decision rendered than notice of an appeal was given.

At an early period after this decision was rendered, Judge M'Lean voluntarily mediating between the parties, proposed an amicable settlement with the Methodist Episcopal Church, South.

The judge in his letter of October 29, 1852, says, "As the late decision places the Methodist Episcopal Church on its proper ground, and must vindicate its course in the estimation of all intelligent and unprejudiced men, I advise strongly and decidedly that a compromise be proposed by it."

The Commissioners of the suit in the East resolved, "That if the commission in the West should take measures for an amicable settlement, and succeed in obtaining such a settlement as the following, namely: that all proceedings in the civil courts between the Methodist Episcopal Church and the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, forever cease, then and in case the decision of the Court in New-York shall be satisfactory, we will give it our sanction, provided also the Book Agents at Cincinnati will allow an assessment upon the Western Concern, in proportion to the amount of property at New-York and Cincinnati."

To which the Commissioners of the West answered:

"That while we regret the litigation before the civil courts occasioned by the suits brought by the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, and feel disposed to do everything that justice, equity, or a Christian spirit may demand, we do not think we are required to make any proposition for compromise, or that it would be proper for us to do so.

"That we hold ourselves in readiness respectfully, and patiently, to consider any further suggestions which may be made by the Eastern commission of the Methodist Episcopal Church, touching a proposition for compromise, or to confer with them on this subject."

In communicating the foregoing, we suggested reasons why a proposition for compromise might with more propriety come from them.

Early in December, 1852, your Commissioners, acting upon suggestions of counsel, addressed a circular letter to the Bishops, containing in substance the following inquiries, namely: 1. Would you advise that the Bishops be requested to submit a proposition to make a division of the property of the Book Concern according to the "Plan of Separation" before the Annual Conferences, in order to ascertain whether the requisite majority could be obtained. 2. Do you believe such a proposition would be carried in the Annual Conferences? 3. If an attempt should be made to settle the claim of the South and it should fail, would our position before the public be better or worse?

The Bishops were unanimous in advising against submitting the proposition, and in declaring their opinion, that if it were submitted it would fail, and render our position worse.

The brethren of the Eastern Commission, who were also consulted, returned answers in harmony with those of the Bishops. Your Commissioners, therefore, concluded that nothing could be gained by submitting the question to the Annual Conferences, and they so informed their counsel. In May, 1853, the Eastern Commissioners were convened, at the instance of Judge M'Lean, and they agreed to a basis of settlement, subject to the condition that the Western Commissioners unite in the proposition. This "basis" was communicated to the Southern Commissioners, and after they had assented to it, it was submitted to us.

Before determining whether we could unite with our brother Commissioners in the East, we requested a meeting with them, which was held at Pittsburgh, Pa., July 6, 1853. Meanwhile we consulted counsel as to our powers, and received the following answer from Mr. Ewing:

"There is, to my mind, a very clear distinction between the powers of the Commissioners over the funds involved in the suit in New-York and the suit in Ohio.

"An interlocutory decree having passed against the Methodist Episcopal Church in New-York, settling the question of right against them, it is in the power of the Commissioners to compromise and settle the details of the final decree in such manner as in their opinion will subserve the interests and promote the well-being of the Church which they represent. The Annual Conferences have no voice in this matter of adjustment and detail. All rests with the General Conference, whose powers are not in this restricted by any organic law, and the General Conference has vested all its powers over this subject-matter in the Commissioners. They therefore have full power to adjust the details of the final decree, not departing from the principles settled by the interlocutory decree, in such manner as they think proper, and their acts will be binding upon the Church and all else interested by connection with it.

"But the case is totally different with the suit in Ohio, and the property which is affected by it.

"Without criticising too closely the powers granted by the General Conference to the Commissioners over the suit in Ohio, and suffering it to extend, as I think it does, not only to the suit, but with it to the subject-matter in controversy, the property involved in the suit, and the settlement of all matters in litigation concerning it, we yet find the Commissioners clothed only with the power which the General Conference has over the Book Concern before any litigation commenced concerning it.

"It cannot be well argued that the power of the General Conference over the property in, and proceeds of, the Book Concern was enlarged by the fact that there was controversy and litigation concerning it, and that the General Conference was the appropriate repository to conduct and settle litigation. The whole controversy rested and rests on the power of the General Conference to apply this fund in a particular manner. If they have that power, I think, on a liberal construction of their act, they have quoad hoc transferred it to the Commissioners. But if they had it not as an original and distinct power, they cannot have acquired it by an abortive attempt (if they did attempt it, which I by no means admit) at its exercise, and by such attempt giving rise to litigation. To hold that this could be done, would be to nullify at once all constitutional restrictions.

"The power of the Commissioners then over the subject-matter of the controversy in Ohio rests upon the power of the General Conference over the proceeds of the Book Concern, subject to the saving of the 6th restrictive article, and there is no decree in the case in Ohio changing the relation of the parties to the property.

"I have heretofore expressed my opinion that the General Conference had no power to change the application of the proceeds of the Book Concern without the consent of the Annual Conferences. This opinion remains unchanged. I have no doubt whatever on the subject. The Circuit Court in the district of Ohio, in the direct case, expressed the same opinion unhesitatingly. In the New-York case, it was held that the effect had been produced, not by a direct exercise of power, which it was not intimated that the General Conference possessed, but that by the destruction of the Methodist Episcopal Church and the organization of two Churches out of its original elements, the rights to the proceeds of the Book Concern followed the persons entitled into the new organization. In my opinion, therefore, the Commissioners have not power to enter into the proposed arrangement, as to the property involved in the suit in Ohio, without first obtaining the consent of the Annual Conferences. But as they have now vested in them all the powers of the General Conference, over the matters in litigation, if the consent of the Annual Conferences could be obtained, the arrangement proposed by Judge M'Lean might safely and properly be entered into."

This opinion settled in our minds the question of power, as the opinion of the Bishops had settled the question of reference to the Annual Conferences.

At the meeting at Pittsburgh, we received communications from Judges M'Lean and Nelson, advising us of the mode by which the settlement proposed by the former might be carried out.

This is briefly stated in the words of the latter :

"If the Western Corporation voluntarily appear and become parties to the New-York suit, there can be no doubt as to the jurisdiction of the Court over it, nor that the decree would bind it; and as to the powers of the Western Commissioners over the subject-matter, it seems to me the resolution of the General Conference, a copy of which you inclosed, is ample for that purpose."

We never doubted that we might acquire legal power to make the proposed compromise by voluntarily going out of the Circuit Court of Ohio and into the Circuit Court of New-York. This we did not think proper to do. 1. Because it would seem to repudiate a decision which we believed to be right. 2. To endorse a decision that we believed to be wrong. 3. We had no evidence that the principal for which we acted desired us thus to settle the matter in dispute.

We were informed upon inquiry, that the Circuit Court of New-York would not admit a caveat against its own decision, and that the Supreme Court of the United States would not make a decree in the Ohio case by consent of parties, and direct a distribution that might be agreed on.

Solicitous prudently to go to the limit of our power for an amicable settlement, we resolved, 1. That it is inexpedient to unite with our brethren of the Eastern Commission in the proposition for a settlement with the South. 2. That we agree to submit to an arbitration; the arbiters to be chosen in the usual mode, each party choosing one, and the two thus chosen selecting a third; their decision to be final. 3. That while we deeply regret the litigation into which the Methodist Episcopal Church has been forced, we cannot conceive any good reason why the Church we represent and serve, or the cause of religion, should suffer disgrace by our being sued, especially under the circumstances under which the suit was brought, and our appearing as defendants before the Courts of the country. 4. That in case the Commissioners decline our propositions for an arbitration, and will not suspend the prosecution of their appeal to allow us time to take the vote of the Annual Conferences, we consider ourselves shut up to the necessity of calmly awaiting the decision which the Supreme Court of the United States may make in our case.

These resolutions were transmitted to the distinguished gentleman who acted as mediator between the parties, and he was informed that it was understood by us that the proposed arbitration was to be under the sanction of the Court. He having declined to present our proposition to the Southern Commissioners, we made it directly, and received from them a direct but respectful refusal.

Mr. Ewing, at one time, in view of the settlement of the New-York case, and the uncertainty respecting the issue of ours in the Court of ultimate resort, although he felt confident that the law was with us, expressed a wish that there might be a compromise of the matter; but subsequently, under date of February 1, 1854, he writes:

"On full reflection, I am satisfied that the conclusion you have come to is the best. You are trustees, and you follow the law of your trust both as it was expounded to you by your counsel and adjudged by the Court; and nothing but a general consent of the ministry would warrant your departure from the straight line marked out by the law."

Your Commissioners attended the trial at Washington. The result is known to the country. Soon after the decision of the Supreme Court was published, we proposed to the Southern Commissioners an amicable liquidation of their claim against the Western Book Concern, with a view to save both delay and cost in the appointment of a Master Commissioner.

We are happy to observe that no unkind feelings have influenced us in the discharge of the duty assigned us, and that our intercourse, both with the Eastern and Southern Commissioners, has been most friendly. The former proposed to us the question, whether we had any objection to the separate adjustment of the claim of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, against the New-York Book Concern, and were assured that we had not. We felt every disposition to accommodate, but were determined not to transcend our powers. Although we were forewarned of the result, we are not responsible for it. Indeed, the same authority which predicted the issue, proclaimed Judge Nelson's decision in the New-York case to be wrong, and Judge Leavitt's decision in ours to be right. For ourselves, we do not regret that the Supreme Court has decided the case. If it has decided according to the law, it is well for us, for the Southern Methodist Episcopal Church, for the whole country, that the law should be proclaimed by our highest judicial tribunal. If it has decided otherwise, it behooves us all to know how far the Supreme Court of the United States can be relied upon.

The Commissioners of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, having responded favorably to our proposition for an amicable adjustment, a meeting was arranged for that purpose.

After a calculation of the claim of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, against the Western Book Concern, we proposed to give them seventy thousand dollars.

This proposition was declined, on the alleged ground that the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, according to the exhibit of the Western Book Concern, and the mandate of the Supreme Court, was entitled to from ninety to ninety-six thousand dollars.

It should be observed that, according to the mandate of the Court, the capital, up to 1845, was to be divided pro rata by the number of the traveling preachers, which would give the South from 28 to 30 per cent. on the capital; but that, instead of dividing the profits since 1845 upon the same principle, it directs that they shall be divided pro rata by Conference, which raised the proportion of the South to 42 per cent. on the amount divided.

We subsequently received from the Southern Commissioners a proposition, proposing to take eighty thousand dollars and the Southern debts, amounting to $12,926 61. To this proposition we acceded. Indeed, when we reflect that the Southern debts were all past due, many of them outlawed, some worthless, and all, while in the hands of the Book Concern, of little or no value; and that the South claimed, and could collect, under the decree of the Court, the interest on their portion of the capital since the rendering of the decree, and which was not taken into account in our calculation, although it would raise their proportion about three thousand dollars; and that the extension of credit beyond ordinary business limits and the proffered offer of purchases, with which the Southern propositions were accompanied, were greatly advantageous to the Concern at this crisis, we did not perceive that their proposition materially varied from our own.

The mandate required that all the expenses attending the suit, including charges of counsel and solicitors, and traveling expenses of Commissioners, as well of plaintiffs as defendants, should be a common charge on the Concern; but in our settlement it was agreed that each party should bear its own costs, except the taxable costs, amounting to, say $400, which should be paid by the Concern; and considering the difference in the expenses of the parties, we deemed this arrangement no inconsiderable advantage to us.

Moreover, a separation without a settlement, when there was no principle involved, would have been little less than disgraceful.

We, therefore, drew up and signed the following final decree, namely:

" WILLIAM A. SMITH, et al. , vs. LEROY SWORMSTEDT, et al.	}	U. S. CIRCUIT COURT FOR OHIO, April 7, 1855.

"And now come the said complainants, and, on their motion, the following decree, rendered by the Supreme Court of the United States at the December Term thereof, A. D. 1853, and the mandate thereon, are ordered to be entered, and the same is accordingly done, as follows:

" WILLIAM A. SMITH, et al. , vs. " LEROY SWORMSTEDT, et al.	}
--	---

"Appeal from the Circuit Court of the United States for the District of Ohio.

"This cause came on to be heard on the transcript of the record from the Circuit Court of the United States for the district of Ohio, and was argued by counsel. On consideration whereof it is ordered, adjudged, and decreed by this Court, that the decree of said Circuit Court in this cause be and the same is hereby reversed and annulled; and this Court doth further find, adjudge, and decree,

"1. That under the resolution of the General Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, holden at the city of New-York, according to the usage and Discipline of said Church, passed on the eighth day of June, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and forty-four, (in the pleadings mentioned,) it was among other things, and in virtue of the power of the said General Conference, well agreed and determined by the Methodist Episcopal Church in the United States of America, as then existing, that in case the Annual Conferences in the slaveholding states should find it necessary to unite in a distinct ecclesiastical connection, the ministers, local and traveling, of every grade and office in the Methodist Episcopal Church, might attach themselves to such new ecclesiastical connection, without blame.

"2. That the said Annual Conferences in the slaveholding states did find and determine that it was right, expedient, and necessary to erect the Annual Conferences last aforesaid into a distinct ecclesiastical connection, based upon the Discipline of the Methodist Episcopal Church aforesaid, comprehending the doctrines and entire moral and ecclesiastical rule and regulations of the said Discipline, (except only in so far as verbal alterations might be necessary to or for a distinct organization,) which new ecclesiastical connection was to be known by the name and style of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, and that the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, was duly organized, under said resolutions of the said General Conference, and the said decision of said Annual Conferences last aforesaid, in a convention thereof held at Louisville, in the State of Kentucky, in the month of May, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and forty-five.

"3. That by force of the said resolutions of June the eighth, eighteen hundred and forty-four, and of the authority and power of the said General Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church as then existing, by which the same were adopted, and by virtue of the said finding and determination of the said Annual Conferences in the slaveholding states therein mentioned, and by virtue of the organization of such conferences into a distinct ecclesiastical connection as last aforesaid, the religious association known as the Methodist Episcopal Church in the United States of America, as then existing, was divided into two associations, or distinct Methodist Episcopal Churches, as in the bill of complaint is alleged.

"4. That the property denominated the Methodist Book Concern at Cincinnati, in the pleadings mentioned, was, at the time of said division and immediately before, a fund subject to the following use, that is to say, that the profits arising therefrom, after retaining a sufficient capital to carry on the business thereof, were to be regularly applied toward the support of the different traveling, supernumerary, superannuated, and worn-out preachers of the Methodist Episcopal Church, their wives, widows, and children, according to the rules and Discipline of said Church, and that the said fund and property are held under the act of incorporation in the said answer mentioned, by the said defendants, Leroy Swormstedt and John H. Power, as Agents of said Book Concern, and in trust for the purposes thereof.

"5. That, in virtue of the said division of said Methodist Episcopal Church in the United States, the deficient, traveling, supernumerary, superannuated, and worn-out preachers, their wives, widows, and children, comprehended in, or in connection with the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, were, are, and continue to be beneficiaries of the said Book Concern, to the same extent and as fully as if the said division had not taken place, and in the same manner and degree as persons of the same description who are comprehended in, or in connection with, the other association, denominated since the division, the Methodist Episcopal Church, and that as well the principal as the profits of said Book Concern, since said division, should of right be administered and managed by the respective General and Annual Conferences of the said two associations and Churches under the separate organizations thereof, and according to the shares or proportions of the same as hereinafter mentioned, and in conformity with the rules and Discipline of said respective associations, so as to carry out the purposes and trusts aforesaid.

“6. That so much of the capital and property of said Book Concern at Cincinnati, wherever situated, and so much of the produce and profits thereof, as may not have been heretofore accounted for to said Church, South, in the New-York case hereinafter mentioned, or otherwise, shall be paid to said Church, South, according to the rate and proportions following, that is to say: In respect to the capital, such share or part as corresponds with the proportion which the number of the traveling preachers in the Annual Conferences which formed themselves into the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, bore to the number of all the traveling preachers of the Methodist Episcopal Church before the division thereof, which numbers shall be fixed and ascertained as they are shown by the minutes of the several Annual Conferences next preceding the said division and new organization in the month of May, A. D. eighteen hundred and forty-five.

“And in respect to the produce or profits, such share or part as the number of Annual Conferences which formed themselves into the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, bore, at the time of said division in May, A. D. 1845, to the whole number of Annual Conferences then being in the Methodist Episcopal Church, excluding the Liberia Conference, so that the division or apportionment of said produce and profits shall be had by conferences, and not by numbers of the traveling preachers.

“7. That said payment of capital and profits, according to the ratios of apportionment so declared, shall be made and paid to the said Smith, Parsons, and Green, as Commissioners aforesaid, or their successors, on behalf of said Church, South, and the beneficiaries therein, or to such other person or persons as may be thereto authorized by the General Conference of said Church, South, the same to be subsequently managed and administered, so as to carry out the trusts and uses aforesaid, according to the Discipline of said Church, South, and the regulations of the General Conference thereof.

“8. And, in order more fully to carry out the matters hereinbefore settled and adjudged, it is further ordered and decreed, that this cause be remanded to the said Circuit Court for further proceedings; that is to say, “That the same be referred to a master to take and state an account as follows:

“(1.) Of the amount and value of the said Book Concern at Cincinnati, on the first day of May, 1845, and of what specific property and effects (according to a general description or classification thereof) the same then consisted, whether composed of real or personal estate, and of whatever nature or description the same may have been, and a similar account as of the date or time, when the said master shall take this account.

“(2.) Of the produce and profits of said Book Concern from the time of the General Conference of May, 1844, as reported thereto, (if so reported,) up to the time of the said division in May, 1845, and from the last mentioned date down to the time of making up his report, specifying how much of said profits and produce have been transferred to said Book Concern at New-York, and accounted for to said Church, South, in the settlement of the case there, and how much remains to be accounted for to said Church, South, on the basis settled by this decree.

“And in taking said accounts, and in the execution of said reference, the said defendants shall produce on oath all deeds, accounts, books of accounts, instruments, reports, letters, and copies of letters, memoranda, documents, and writings whatever pertinent to said reference, in their possession or control, and the said defendants may be examined on oath, on the said reference, and each party may produce evidence before the master, and have process to compel the attendance of witnesses.

“And the said master is further directed, in respect to any annual profits of said Concern, not heretofore accounted for to said Church, South, to allow to said Church, South, interest at the rate of six per cent. upon such unpaid balances from the date at which the same ought to have been paid.

“And, in respect to all the costs in this case, including the costs of the reference, and all other costs from the commencement of the case until its conclusion; and in respect to the fees of counsel and solicitors therein of both parties, so far as the same may be reasonable; and in respect of just and necessary expenses, as well of plaintiffs as of defendants, in conducting the suit, the same ought to be paid out of said Book Concern, as a common charge thereon, before appointment and division; and the master is accordingly directed to allow and pay the same to the respective parties entitled thereto, and then to apportion the residue according to the principles fixed in this decree.

“And the master is further directed to return his report to the said Circuit Court with all convenient dispatch, which Court shall then proceed to enforce the payment of whatever sum or sums may be found due to said Church, South, on the confirmation of the master's report, in such installments as may be by said Court adjudged reasonable, each party having due opportunity of excepting to the master's report; and all questions arising upon said report, and not settled by this decree, may be moved before said Circuit Court, to which Court either party shall be at liberty to apply on the footing of this decree.’

“And thereupon came, as well the said complainants, by their solicitor, as also the said defendants, and make known to the Court that they have mutually settled and adjusted the various matters which, by the terms of said decree, were to be ascertained by the reference to a master, as therein directed, as follows, to wit:

“Sec. A. That there be paid by the said Book Concern at Cincinnati to the said William A. Smith, Alexander L. P. Green, and Charles B. Parsons, Commissioners of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, the sum of eighty thousand dollars, in manner hereinafter specified, and that there be assigned and delivered by said Book Concern to said Commissioners, or their appointee, all the debts due to said Book Concern from persons living in Southern States, according to a schedule now made out.

“Which said sum of eighty thousand dollars, and said assignment of debts, is to be in full discharge of all right, interest, and claim, either in respect of capital or profits, of said Methodist Episcopal Church, South, or the said Commissioners thereof, in and to the said Book Concern, upon the footing of said decree of the Supreme Court of the United States, or otherwise; and it is hereby admitted that the said assignment and delivery of debts has been made in conformity with the above agreement.

"That said sum of eighty thousand dollars shall be payable as follows:

"Sec. B. Fifteen thousand dollars thereof in cash in hand, which sum the said Commissioners of said Church, South, acknowledge to have received from said Book Concern, on the fifteenth day of February, A. D. 1855, being the date of said settlement.

"Sec. C. Ten thousand dollars on the first day of November, A. D. eighteen hundred and fifty-six, with interest, at the rate of six per cent., from the fifteenth of February, A. D. eighteen hundred and fifty-five, payable annually.

"Sec. D. Ten thousand dollars on the first day of November, A. D. eighteen hundred and fifty-seven, with interest, at the rate of six per cent., from the fifteenth of February, A. D. eighteen hundred and fifty-five, payable annually.

"Sec. E. Ten thousand dollars on the first day of November, A. D. eighteen hundred and fifty-eight, with interest, at the rate of six per cent., from the fifteenth of February, A. D. eighteen hundred and fifty-five, payable annually.

"Sec. F. Ten thousand dollars on the first day of November, A. D. eighteen hundred and fifty-nine, with interest, at the rate of six per cent., from the fifteenth of February, A. D. eighteen hundred and fifty-five, payable annually.

"Sec. G. Five thousand dollars on the first day of November, A. D. eighteen hundred and sixty, with interest, at the rate of six per cent., from the fifteenth of February, A. D. eighteen hundred and fifty-five, payable annually.

"Sec. H. Twenty thousand dollars in books of the said Book Concern, payable and deliverable within the term of two years from said fifteenth of February, A. D. eighteen hundred and fifty-five, upon such terms as to price and rate of discount upon the usual retail prices as have heretofore been established between the said Book Concern at Cincinnati and the Book Concern of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, for which said sum of twenty thousand dollars so payable in books, the said Book Concern at Cincinnati has this day, to wit, on said fifteenth February, eighteen hundred and fifty-five, entered on its books a credit in account with Messrs. Stevenson & Owen, as Agents of the Book Concern of said Methodist Episcopal Church, South.

"Sec. I. That a decree be entered in conformity with the foregoing terms, and to enforce the performance thereof; and that all taxable costs be paid by said Book Concern at Cincinnati.

"And thereupon, in conformity with said terms, it is ordered, adjudged, and decreed by the Court, that all and singular the terms of said settlement be well and truly kept and performed; and that the said Book Concern at Cincinnati do pay the said several sums of money and interest, as stipulated in sections C, D, E, F, and G, of said settlement, or in default thereof, that execution issue therefor, or for such part or parts as may be in arrear; and that said Book Concern at Cincinnati do well and truly pay and discharge the said sum of twenty thousand dollars in the manner specified in said Section H; and in default thereof, that said complainants, or said Commissioners of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, have leave to apply to this Court for such order or process to enforce the payment, as may be right and according to the usages of Courts of Equity; and it is further ordered, that the said Book Concern at Cincinnati pay all the costs of this suit.

"We, the undersigned, have, on this fifteenth of February, eighteen hundred and fifty-five, settled the various matters left open by said decree of the Supreme Court of the United States, in the manner specified in the foregoing Sections, from Section A to Section I, inclusive; and we do request the Court to enter the same of record, and also the draft of the decree following said Sections.

REPORT OF THE WESTERN BOOK AGENTS IN RELATION TO A BOOK
DEPOSITORY AND A PAPER AT ST. LOUIS.To the General Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church :

DEAR FATHERS AND BRETHREN : The following resolutions were passed by the General Conference of 1852, May 22 :

1. Resolved, That the Book Agents at Cincinnati be, and they are hereby, authorized and instructed to establish a Depository for books and a weekly Paper, to be denominated by such title as they may select, in the city of St. Louis, Mo. ; to be under the direction and control of the Book Agents at Cincinnati. Provided that, in the judgment of the Agents, such Depository and periodical can be established and sustained with safety to the interests of the Book Concern.

2. Resolved, That a Committee of one from the Illinois, one from the Southern Illinois, one from the Iowa, one from the Arkansas, and one from the Missouri Conference, to be selected by the Conferences respectively, be appointed to superintend the publication of the paper authorized to be published at St. Louis, Mo., and that upon the nomination of said committee, and recommendation of the Missouri Conference, the presiding Bishop be requested to appoint an editor for said paper, when the Book Agents at Cincinnati shall have determined upon its publication.

The conferences named in the last resolution, each appointed a member of the Publishing Committee during their sessions, in the month of October, 1852. A. Poe, being present at all these conferences, informed them that it would be impossible for the Agents to take any steps toward publishing a Paper or establishing a Depository at St. Louis, before the spring of 1853, and for the following reasons :

1. The conferences which our business required us to attend did not close till November 2.

2. We had been unconditionally instructed, by the same General Conference, to establish both a Depository and Paper at Chicago, which had to be done immediately at a very heavy outlay.

3. The expense and toil of the Church Suit in progress would take all of our time and means that could be spared from the regular business of the Concern at Cincinnati till May, 1853.

Notwithstanding this, the committee nominated Rev. W. D. R. Trotter for editor, and proceeded immediately to St. Louis, and issued a circular and prospectus, promising a Paper, to be called the "Central Christian Advocate," and to be commenced the first of January, 1853. A copy of this circular, and letters from Brother Trotter and Dr. Cartwright, member of the committee from Illinois Conference, reached us about the 10th of November, 1852. Bishops Morris, Simpson, and Ames, being in Cincinnati at the time, we laid the circular before them, with the following questions :

1. Have not the committee appointed by the several Western conferences transcended their powers in issuing the accompanying circular, in which they fix the time of publishing the Paper, and also the terms?

2. Can said committee appoint the editor without the concurrence of the Missouri Conference?

3. Was it the design of the General Conference that this committee should take the course they have, before the Agents determined on the publication of the Paper?

CINCINNATI, November 10, 1852.

To which the Bishops promptly replied as follows:

In answering the questions this day submitted by Brothers Swormstedt and Poe, we reply:

1. We understand the Discipline to give the Agents, and not the Book Committee at St. Louis, the power of determining the time and terms of the publication of the proposed Paper.

2. The committee appointed by the several conferences to superintend the publication of a Paper at St. Louis may nominate an editor, but the presiding Bishop cannot appoint him until the Agents have determined upon the publication of the Paper.

3. We should not infer from the reading of the rule that the General Conference designed the committee to proceed in making any arrangements without the previous action of the Agents.

T. A. MORRIS,
M. SIMPSON,
E. R. AMES.

CINCINNATI, November 10, 1852.

CINCINNATI, Nov. 15, 1852.

DEAR BROTHER,—Yours, accompanied with your circular, was received on the eve of the meeting of the Bishops and Book Committee.

We herewith send you copies of the questions which we submitted to the Bishops on reading your circular, and also their answers. From these you will perceive that it is the opinion of the Bishops that you have been premature in your proceedings. We have telegraphed you that we cannot endorse your course.

This we must decline for the following reasons:

1. Because you have gone in advance of the order of the General Conference.

2. It is wholly impracticable for us to make the necessary preparation for issuing a Paper at St. Louis by the 1st of January, 1853.

3. The General Conference having made us responsible for the establishment of a Depository and Paper at St. Louis, we cannot permit others to do this for us.

Our understanding with regard to the action is, that we were to establish a Paper and Depository at Chicago unconditionally, and that the establishment of a Depository and Paper at St. Louis was at our discretion. In compliance with the order and wish of the General Conference, we have proceeded to open a Depository at Chicago, and arrangements are made for issuing the Paper the 1st of January, 1853. This, with our other duties as Agents, has employed the whole of our time since the General Conference. So that it was impossible for us to take any steps toward doing anything at St. Louis. This our A. Poe was requested to state to the conferences at their late sessions. It has been, and is now our purpose, unless prevented by your movements, to visit St. Louis and inquire into the whole matter, so that we may be able to determine whether we can with "safety to the Concern" establish a Paper and a Depository at that place.

We now respectfully suggest that you suspend your proceedings until we can look into this matter, which we may do some time next spring; and should things be favorable, we may get ready to publish the Paper for you by the first of January, 1854, which, we think, will be as early as you could reasonably expect, in view of all the circumstances.

After a review of this subject, should you resolve on issuing your Paper, the responsibility must be yours, and not ours. We hope you may see your way clear to stop further proceedings. We suspend the publication of your circular in the Western Christian Advocate until we hear from you again. If we publish your circular, we must also publish our questions and the Bishops' answers. This, we think, not best, and therefore await further orders. Yours truly,

We also wrote substantially the same to Dr. Cartwright at the same date.

The editor and committee, however, determined to issue their Paper the first of January, 1853, and did so, of course, on their own responsibility.

In the spring of 1853, we visited St. Louis to ascertain whether we could establish a Depository and Paper, or either of them, with safety to the Concern. After a careful examination, we were satisfied that neither could be done.

And furthermore, we learned that the brethren engaged in publishing the Central Christian Advocate were in debt largely beyond the whole amount of their subscription list, and that they were unwilling to close with their first volume unless we would assume their debts, and purchase their type and fixtures. This we also declined doing, believing that we were not authorized by the action of the General Conference to assume any debt not contracted by ourselves.

In the spring of 1854, we were informed by Dr. Cartwright, at the meeting of the Book Committee in Cincinnati, that the Publishing Committee of the conferences had concluded to give up their Paper at the close of the current volume, and desired that we should commence a Paper; and as our Book Committee advised us, in compliance with their request, to commence said Paper, we issued a circular to the patronizing conferences, informing them that we had concluded, if they would recommend the publication of a Paper at St. Louis, and give us their aid in the enterprise, we would issue a prospectus at the earliest possible period after their sessions should close, and endeavor to be ready to commence the Paper the first week in January, 1855. The Arkansas Conference did not meet till the first week in November, 1854, and the earliest time we could therefore fix upon, for a meeting of the committee for the final settlement of the question, was the 22d of November. Just before this meeting occurred, an unparalleled crush in money matters took place all over the country, many banks and extensive business houses suddenly failed, and many more suspended. Two banks in Cincinnati, and one in Chicago, where we had funds deposited, suspended, and thus locked up our Book and Missionary Funds to the amount of $12,000, though at the time our deposits were made all had full confidence in them. At the meeting of the committee we had to inform them of these facts; and the members present, together with Bishop Ames, who was also in St. Louis at the time, agreed with us that, however desirable it might be under more favorable circumstances to issue the paper, we could not incur the expense at that time with probable safety to the interests of the Concern.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

SWORMSTEDT & POE, Agents.

REPORT OF THE GENERAL MISSIONARY COMMITTEE.

The General Missionary Committee of the Methodist Episcopal Church submit to the General Conference the following report of its acts and doings for the four preceding years.

There being seven effective superintendents, the work was divided into seven mission districts, and the Bishops constituted the committee by appointing one from each district as follows:

No. 1, Including Baltimore, Philadelphia, New-Jersey, New-York, and New-York East Conferences—N. Bangs.

No. 2, Including Providence, New-England, New-Hampshire, Maine, East Maine, and Vermont Conferences—George Webber.

No. 3, Including Black River, Troy, Wyoming, Oneida, Genesee, and East Genesee Conferences—George Gary.

No. 4, Including Western Virginia, Pittsburgh, Erie, Ohio, Cincinnati, and Kentucky Conferences—John F. Wright.

No. 5, Including North Ohio, Michigan, Northwest Indiana, North Indiana, Southeast Indiana, and Indiana Conferences—Wellington H. Collins.

No. 6, Including Wisconsin, Rock River, Iowa, Illinois, and Southern Illinois—Henry W. Reed.

No. 7, Including Missouri, Arkansas, Oregon, and California Conferences—Christopher J. Houts.

* For Report on the Bible Cause see Appendix S, on page 266.

The first meeting of the committee commenced at the mission rooms, New-York, on November 8, 1852. All the members of the committee were present at the opening except C. J. Houts, who failed to reach New-York until after the close of the session. Thomas Carlton, Treasurer, and John P. Durbin, Corresponding Secretary, were present, and also Bishops Waugh and Scott. Bishop James was with us also in the afternoon of the first day. On motion, N. Bangs was elected Chairman, and John P. Durbin, Secretary. Religious services by George Gary.

The committee entered upon their work with care and great deliberation; conscious of their dependence on the Head of the Church, they implored his guidance and help at every step, and applied themselves closely to their important duties; making appropriations for the year 1853 as follows:

APPROPRIATIONS FOR 1853.

FOREIGN MISSIONS.—Africa.—Aggregate amount appropriated, $28,000.

South America.—Buenos Ayres Mission, $1,000. For the extension of the work in the interior, $1,000. At the discretion of the Board and Bishop having the charge, for establishing a mission at Monte Video, $2,000.

China.—For the entire expenses of the mission, including the sending out of an additional missionary, $10,000.

Germany.—Foreign German Mission, $10,000.

DOMESTIC MISSIONS.—Domestic German Missions, $43,300.

Foreign Population other than German, $10,250.

Indian Missions, $13,500.

Domestic Missions in the several Annual Conferences to extend the work among such as use the English language, $74,250.

Of this amount, $15,000 were appropriated to the California Conference, $2,000 to be applied within their own bounds, and the remainder placed under the direction of the Board, for paying the expenses of such men as may be transferred by the Bishops to that Conference. $8,000 were appropriated to Oregon, $3,000 to be applied to the work at home, and $5,000 placed at the disposition of the Board to meet the expenses of transfers to that Conference.

The Committee resolved to place at the discretion of the Board, and the Bishop having charge of Foreign Missions, for promoting the work in France according to the previous action of the Board and the letter of the Corresponding Secretary to Dr. C. Cook, dated in August, $2,500.

The Corresponding Secretary then reported to the General Missionary Committee a voluminous correspondence concerning a mission to Bulgaria, and among the Greeks in Constantinople and vicinity, and also called their attention to opening a mission in India; whereupon it was resolved that a fund be created and placed at the discretion of the Board, and the Bishop having charge of Foreign Missions, for the commencement of a mission in Bulgaria, to the amount of $5,000.

India.—Resolved, that a fund be created and placed at the discretion of the Board and Bishop for commencing a mission in India to the amount of $7,500.

Special appropriations were made to Sweden and Norway, at the disposal of the Board and Bishop having the charge, $750.

Contingent, at the discretion of the Board and Bishop for German Mission in California, $2,000.

For second preacher on Warren Mission, Missouri District, Illinois Conference, German work, $75.

It was ordered that the Michigan Conference be allowed a credit on the Treasurer's books to meet a certain deficiency of $566 42.

There was appropriated toward the expenses of the Mission Rooms the amount of $308 58.

Making a total of $210,000.

These appropriations met with the concurrence of the Board of Managers, and all the Bishops in attendance. Adjourned.

J. P. DURBIN, Secretary.

The foregoing appropriations were concurred in by the Board of Managers and three of the bishops, namely: Waugh, Janes, and Simpson.

John F. Wright presented a communication, addressed to the committee, from Dr. C. Elliott, asking to have action in favor of influencing Congress to use its influence to obtain liberty for American citizens to enjoy their religious liberty in Italy and in other countries, and in favor of sending a missionary to Rome. Whereupon it was resolved that the Corresponding Secretary be charged with expressing to Dr. Elliott, in behalf of the committee:

1. That we heartily approve of using influence with the government to induce it to use its best endeavors to procure such liberty as desired above, but doubt the expediency of this committee taking action on that subject.

2. That we are ready to institute a mission to Rome so soon as it is practicable, and to set forth the reasons why the committee do not now deem it to be practicable.

Our Secretary made the communication ordered by the committee to Dr. Elliott, assigning many reasons why we could not at this time establish a mission at Rome, and we presume those reasons were entirely satisfactory. Adjourned.

J. P. DURBIN, Secretary.

These appropriations were concurred in by the Board of Managers with great unanimity, and also by all the bishops present, Waugh, Janes, Scott, and Simpson.

We say, in closing our labors at this session, "The General Missionary Committee, acting with the Committee from the Board, have carefully reviewed our Missionary work, aided by the counsels of Bishops Waugh, Janes, Scott, and Simpson, and letters from the other superintendents, and beg leave to report from the joint committee the following appropriations. The whole amount which may be drawn, for the service of all our Missions, Foreign and Domestic, during the year 1855, and for special purposes as set forth in the report in detail herewith submitted, $260,000."

At this session of the committee the following was unanimously adopted, namely:

Whereas, the work of appropriating missionary funds judiciously is often much embarrassed by ministers and people taking incipient steps, and creating expectations in small settlements of American or foreign population, which it is injurious to disappoint; therefore, Resolved by this joint committee, That we respectfully advise our brethren, in the ministry and laity, to refrain from any measures that will create any such expectations, but defer all action that will in any way commit the authorities of the Church, until the meetings of the Missionary Committees of the Annual Conferences.

On motion adjourned.

J. P. DURBIN, Secretary.

Upon taking the chair, Dr. Bangs very appropriately alluded to the death of Rev. George Gary, a member of the General Missionary Committee, who died since our last meeting.

On motion of J. F. Wright, Dr. Bangs was requested to prepare and report to this joint committee a suitable minute for entrance on their records, in relation to the death of our beloved Brother Gary.

The committee then proceeded to make appropriations for Foreign Missions.

Africa.—After providing for the salaries of the missionaries, the committee adopted the following resolution :

Resolved, That we require that each charge in Liberia shall raise something toward the support of its pastor as a part of his salary, and that the conference in their estimates be required to have respect to the ability of the local Church, or charge, which is to be served, and aim in the estimates to enable each Church to support its own pastor for the time being, and report the same to the Board of Managers in New-York.

The entire appropriations for Liberia embraced eighteen items, amounting to $31,500.

In connection with these appropriations, the joint committee adopted the following resolution :

Resolved, That in case of the division of any of the Annual Conferences, or of the Missionary work under their care, the members of the present Missionary Committee, who may be at the next General Conference, be, and are hereby, constituted a committee to divide the general appropriations made to such conferences according to equity, in their best judgment.

Appropriated to foreign populations other than German, total $15,975.

Appropriated to Indian Missions, $13,250.

The aggregate amount appropriated to Domestic Missions in the English work, $97,150.

Making a total to all Domestic Missions of $174,875.

This amount for Domestic Missions in the English work includes appropriations for transfers to California and Oregon, as well as to be used within the bounds of those conferences. And also an appropriation of $6,000 to the territories west of Iowa, Missouri, and Arkansas Conferences. And in taking this action, the committee say, if a new conference is organized in these territories, the amount shall be drawn for by the Mission Committee and presiding Bishop of said conference. If a new conference be not formed, the members of the General Missionary Committee present at the seat of the next General Conference shall apportion the amount to the Iowa and the Missouri Conferences respectively.

Of the seven thousand dollars appropriated to the Wisconsin Conference, the committee recommended, in case of a division at the General Conference, that Minnesota have four thousand of the amount.

Of the $3,500 appropriated to Iowa Conference, the committee recommend, in case of a division at the General Conference, that the Territory of Upper Iowa receive $2,000, and Iowa $1,500.

One thousand dollars was appropriated contingently at the discretion of the New-York Conference, at its next session, for a mission to the Jews in New-York. The appropriations were divided as follows, namely: Domestic Missions, $174,875; Foreign Missions, $78,900; add contingent under the constitution, $5,000; expenses of administration, $6,225; making a grand total of $265,000.

These appropriations were concurred in by the Board of Managers and all the Bishops present: Bishops Waugh, Janes, Scott, Baker, and Ames.

The following resolution was adopted:

"Resolved, That we refer to the Bishops having the charge severally of our Foreign Missions the number of missionaries to be employed, they and the Board having strict respect to the specific appropriation to each of said missions."

Rev. Dr. Bangs read his report on the death of G. Gary, which was adopted by the committee, and ordered to be entered on the minutes as follows:

REV. G. GARY. Whereas, it hath pleased Almighty God to receive to himself our late brother, the Rev. George Gary, who has been a laborer in his vineyard for the space of 46 years or more, several of which were spent in the service of this society as a superintendent of our mission in the Oregon Territory, and more recently, and at the time of his death, as a member of the General Missionary Committee. And whereas our departed brother hath with "meekness of wisdom" adorned, both in his private and public life, "the doctrine of God our Saviour," and hath by his labor of love all along the years of his ministerial course, commended himself to the highest respect and esteem of the friends of our Lord Jesus Christ; therefore, Resolved, That while with the Church at large we bow with reverence under the bereaving stroke which hath removed so eminent and valuable a laborer to his eternal reward; we also adore the God of all grace for the bestowment of so bright a light in his Church, and so devoted a friend to the missionary cause.

Resolved, That we thankfully adore the grace of God, which gave him beloved rest, throughout the severe and protracted illness by which he was finally removed.

Resolved, That we deeply sympathize with the surviving widow, and other members of the family, and tender them our affectionate condolence in this bereaving event.

Resolved, That a copy of the foregoing preamble and resolutions be forwarded to the widow and family of the deceased, and that a copy also be furnished to our several Church papers for publication.

The following was also adopted:

Resolved, That we recommend the Board to take measures to cause the constitution to be so amended as to render it clear that this General Committee and Board may grant aid to other Methodist bodies in carrying on their missions, and that such appropriations shall in effect constitute such missions foreign missions in the view of the constitution.

Adjourned.

REPORT ON THE BIBLE CAUSE.

THE Committee on the Bible Cause, in making their report to this body, are anxious to bring very prominently to your notice the American Bible Society. This noble institution, recognized in the Discipline of the Methodist Episcopal Church, as the great agency for the circulation of the Holy Scriptures, we are happy to be able to say, is still successfully prosecuting its work, and richly deserves the confidence and support of the Church and the public. During the last four years its career has been one of progress, and, we believe, of increasing usefulness. Each year, except one, a year of general pecuniary embarrassment, it has steadily increased in its receipts and in its issues. Four years ago the receipts of the society, from donations, legacies, and sales, amounted to $308,144 81; the last year's receipts, from all sources, were $393,167 25. In 1852 the report of the society stated its issues at 666,015 volumes; the present year they report 668,225. But it should be remembered that for two years preceding, the auxiliary societies had drawn very largely on the Parent Depository for books, had thereby become very heavily in debt to the treasury of the Parent Society; and during the past year, instead of ordering books, they have been reducing their indebtedness. This has naturally led to an augmentation in the receipts of the Parent Society, and a diminution in its issues. We are now happy to learn that the Parent Society has thereby been enabled to relieve itself of embarrassments contracted to meet the demands of the few preceding years, when its issues were unusually large; and being now relieved of all embarrassment by debt, it is prepared to go much more extensively into the manufacture and distribution of books than ever before.

Thus prepared, and moved by a consideration of the wants of the country, the Board of Managers, we learn from the doings at the late anniversary, have made arrangements to call the attention of the auxiliary societies to a complete reexploration and re-supply of the entire country. They are satisfied that there is room for a large amount of distribution in the country, many, very many, families and individuals having no Bible. It is high time that this work should be resumed among us. But to accomplish it it is necessary that auxiliary societies, Bible committees, and pastors and ministers generally, should take hold of the work with energy and zeal. It is also highly important that all ministers should cooperate with the auxiliary societies. We suggest that the ministers of our own Church may aid materially this great work by identifying themselves with the auxiliary societies, by cooperating with them, and as far as possible strengthening and encouraging them. Much of the prosperity of the Parent Society, and the success of its benevolent aims, depend on their so doing.

While the main object of the American Bible Society is to supply our own country with the Holy Scriptures, it is also devoting considerable attention to foreign nations. This Conference is well aware that unexpected openings have occurred in lands hitherto inaccessible to the Bible. In China and Turkey remarkable events have occurred to open the way for Bible distribution; and of late Italy, and even Spain, have become accessible. Owing to its heavy indebtedness, the Board has not done as much as was desirable for foreign lands the past year, but it expects very largely to increase its contributions to this object hereafter. In regard to appropriations to meet the wants of our Church, we are able to report very satisfactorily. We believe no application from our Church, that has come within the principles of its constitution, has been disregarded by the Board of Managers; and it has shown a gratifying liberality in regard to our Missionary Society for the foreign work, as well as for the Sunday-school and Tract Society, and to individual ministers and others, for private, benevolent distribution.

We are happy to learn that the Society is taking great pains to publish the Scriptures in different languages, of the most correct translations. It publishes the Bible, or parts of the Bible, in about ten of the principal modern languages, besides portions in several Indian dialects of this country, and in the Grebo dialect in Africa. Besides these, it is prepared to furnish imported copies in many more, besides printing the entire Bible in embossed letters for the use of the blind. To all these translations our Church has access, on the terms and conditions of the Society.

We think the American Bible Society entitled to our gratitude, for the pains it has taken to give us a pure and perfect version of the English Bible. Rejecting all attempts at a new translation, which they deem eminently unwise, as both uncalled for and hazardous to the best interests of Bible truth, they have taken great pains to give us a perfect copy of our unrivaled and inimitable English Bible. With this we should not only be fully satisfied, but more, it calls for our grateful acknowledgment.

Impressed with these views, your committee would beg leave respectfully to present, for adoption, the following resolutions :

1. That this General Conference cherishes the most cordial and undiminished confidence in the American Bible Society, and hereby recommends to the ministers and members of the Methodist Episcopal Church to coöperate with it, and exert themselves to carry out its noble and benevolent designs.

2. That we highly approve of the intention and effort of the Managers to secure a systematic and general, as well as thorough, re-exploration and re-supply of the entire country, and that we recommend our ministers and members everywhere to coöperate in this work, and help to carry the plan into effect in their several fields of labor.

3. That inasmuch as the successful carrying out of the designs of the American Bible Society depends on the efficiency of its auxiliaries, we recommend all under our charge to coöperate with those auxiliaries, to encourage, strengthen, and assist them.

4. That in declining all attempts or movement toward a new translation of the Bible, the Society is entitled to our warmest thanks, and for its pains to furnish an entirely pure and correct edition of the Bible in our commonly received English version.

5. In view of the importance of this whole subject, we hereby recommend to each minister in the connection to preach at least once a year on this subject, and generally at the time when he makes his annual collection for the Bible cause.

REPORT OF THE PUBLISHING COMMITTEE OF THE NORTHERN CHRISTIAN ADVOCATE.

THE Publishing Committee of the Northern Christian Advocate having attended to their duties in making personal and minute examination of the office, including the books of accounts, which they audited, beg leave to make the following report to the General Conference :

That the Northern Christian Advocate, in regard to its subscription list and finances, is in a very flattering condition, proving the editor and printer, who have the daily management of its affairs, to have been competent and successful.

The proof of this general statement will be found in the following particulars:

1. The subscription list consists now of nearly fifteen thousand paying subscribers, against about twelve thousand at the time of the last session of your body.

2. The office is entirely out of debt; and there is a surplus of $6,845 32 on deposit, against $1,981 42 four years ago. There is also due from agents the sum of $2,224, at the date of this report. There is, on the other hand, due to our subscribers about $7,000. At the close of the year, therefore, the office will have, as nearly as can now be foreseen, about $2,000, after all expenses of repairs and enlargement are reckoned in, as a clear profit.

3. The cost of the above-mentioned enlargement, which was called for by the necessities of the work, has been $1,610 98.

4. The cost of repairs for the four years has been $727 91.

We find the building, lot, and fixtures, to be worth about $10,000. Everything seems to be in good repair. The type is about one year old; and it will be necessary to purchase a new dress for the paper, and, perhaps, change all the type of the office at the close of the present year.

As the building up of a sound and prosperous establishment, with the intention of gradually enlarging to meet the increasing demands made upon the paper by the patronizing conferences, would seem to be the policy of said conferences, the office has been conducted under the idea of low prices and extensive circulation, that we may scatter intelligence rather than hoard money; and we are, therefore, able to report, in conclusion,

That the Northern Christian Advocate is safe in its finances, offering no occasion of anxiety to the Church at large, or to your reverend body; and is cooperating more and more efficiently with the preachers and people of this region of country, in spreading the knowledge of a perfect salvation to the ends of the world. Respectfully submitted,

P. S. The tardiness of this report is owing to the fact, that these reports are customarily made up to the first of May inclusive, after which the work of collecting the data is performed, from which data the chairman makes out his returns.

REPORT ON THE EDUCATION OF COLORED YOUTH.

The committee to whom were referred certain papers relating to the "Education of Colored Youth," have carefully considered the subject, and respectfully submit the following report:

HISTORY OF THE MOVEMENT.

For many years the unhappy condition of the colored people of this country has excited the sympathy of the benevolent; and the inquiry has been anxiously revolved, What can be done for the improvement of that condition? In the fall of 1853, the attention of the Cincinnati Conference was directed to this subject; and a committee of seven members was appointed to inquire and report some plan of operations at the next session. This committee reported to the Conference in 1854, urging the immediate adoption of measures for encouraging the education of colored youth, so as to fit them for any position or pursuit in life to which God in his providence might call them. This report was adopted by the Conference, and an agent was appointed to carry into effect the objects contemplated. This agent, the Rev. John F. Wright, in addition to his ordinary duties as presiding elder of East Cincinnati District, labored quite extensively, by correspondence and otherwise, in the work of the agency. He succeeded in awakening a lively interest on the subject, and in arousing the attention and exciting the hopes of the colored people themselves, who began to see opening out before them the prospect of respectability and usefulness. The Ohio Conference entered with great cordiality into the project; and, at its session in 1855, resolved to coöperate with the Cincinnati Conference, and such other conferences as chose to engage in the enterprise, in establishing "a literary institution of a high order for the education of colored youth, male and female." A committee was also appointed, headed by the venerable Dr. Young, to coöperate with the committees from the other conferences in carrying into effect the objects contemplated. The agent of the Cincinnati Conference, in person and by letter, communicated with the three western conferences of the African Methodist Episcopal Church upon the subject; and they entered heartily into the measure. He has also visited the General Conference of that Church, which is now in session in Cincinnati; and has received assurance of the most cordial coöperation. This body of Christians has great influence with the colored people of this country; and the ministers, and many of the leading members of that Church, have for some years manifested a laudable zeal for the literary as well as religious culture of their people.

LOCATION OF THE INSTITUTION.

At the last session of the Cincinnati Conference definite action was taken, the agent was re-appointed with enlarged powers, an able committee of four brethren was associated with him ; and they were authorized to raise funds, and procure a suitable site and buildings for an institution of learning. Providentially, as it seemed, just at the opportune moment, a most beautiful location, with appropriate buildings, furniture, &c., was offered to them upon terms as favorable as could reasonably be desired. It is known as the "Tawawa or Xenia Springs" property ; and is situated in Greene county, Ohio, some three and a half miles northeasterly from the town of Xenia, in a community where such an institution will be cherished, and where it will enjoy every possible facility for meeting the wants which have called it into being. It embraces fifty-four acres of land, on which there is a large and beautiful edifice, containing about two hundred rooms, which are well adapted to the purposes of a boarding-house, school and class-room, chapel, &c. ; also several cottages equally well adapted to the use of private families—the furniture for both the main edifice and the cottages being included in the purchase. There are several mineral springs on the premises ; and the whole had been fitted up for a fashionable watering-place, at a cost of over forty thousand dollars. This property was offered to the committee for thirteen thousand five hundred dollars. The offer was accepted ; and the committee now look to this General Conference for its approval, which will materially aid them in meeting the pecuniary responsibilities of the enterprise, and in carrying into effect the great objects contemplated.

THE OBJECTS CONTEMPLATED.

As already intimated, the great object had in view is the elevation of the entire colored race, by means of literary, social, and religious culture. And in order to accomplish this object, it is proposed to encourage and assist them in their efforts at self-improvement, by means of Sabbath and week-day schools, and also by means of at least one institution of learning of a high grade, which the colored people may regard as their own ; and where they may feel that they have no superiors, unless superior merit makes them such. The character and objects of this institution are thus explained by the agent of the Cincinnati Conference : "A leading feature will be to educate and train colored persons, male and female, for professional teachers, that they may be thoroughly qualified to go forth wherever their services are needed, and impart to their own race a good Christian education. It is to be open to both sexes, and persons entering may pursue and accomplish a partial or thorough collegiate course, as they may choose ; and, in its maturity, we design that it shall include and furnish all that is common to the best universities of the country."

PRESENT STATE OF THE ENTERPRISE.

It has been stated already, that a most desirable location and buildings have been procured, which will, in a short time, be ready for occupancy. The project is regarded with great favor by all the prominent friends of the colored race, so far as their views have been ascertained ; and the committee are informed, upon reliable authority, that the colored people themselves, especially in the neighborhood where the institution is located, are delighted with the enterprise. It has also attracted the attention of some wealthy gentlemen in the south, who have slaves whom they wish to emancipate and educate; and two such slaves have been emancipated already, and are now in Xenia awaiting the opening of the school. It will, probably, be necessary to place the institution under the superintendence of a white principal for the present; but the design is to make it emphatically the colored people's college.

In conclusion, your committee respectfully recommend the adoption of the following resolutions:

1. Resolved That, in the judgment of this General Conference, the religious education of the people of color in our land, will tend most effectually and speedily, under God, to their elevation in this country, and to prepare the way for the restoration of the benighted millions of down-trodden Africa, to all the blessings of civilization, science, and religion.

2. Resolved, That we look upon the proposed plan for the education of the colored youth of our land as of God, and as promising great good to the people of color among us, and untold blessings to the land of their ancestors; and we do most earnestly recommend this noble work to the sympathy, the prayers, and the generous benefactions of all who desire the elevation of the entire family of man.

3. Resolved, That we bespeak for the agents of this enterprise a cordial reception on the part of all Christians and philanthropists, hoping that they may be successful, not only in awakening sympathy and enlisting prayers, but also in gathering funds to pay for the property purchased, and to afford a liberal endowment of the institution, so as to place it on an equal footing with the best institutions of learning in our country.

V.

REPORT ON THE SMITH ARNOLD FUND.

THE Committee to whom a memorial from the New-York East Conference, in relation to the "Smith Arnold Fund," was referred, beg leave respectfully to report that, from the memorial, and the communications made to them,

It appears that, about twenty-five years ago, a sum of money was collected within the bounds of the New-York Conference, and by said Conference the money was ordered to be invested, and the proceeds appropriated to the use and benefit of Rev. Smith Arnold and his wife, during their lives.

It appears, also, that the proceeds of the said fund were regularly paid to the said Arnold and his wife, agreeably to the order stated above.

It further appears that, after the decease of the aforesaid beneficiaries, the said Conference, at its session in June, 1840, ordered that the proceeds of the said fund should be appropriated to the use and benefit of Rev. N. W. Thomas and his wife, during their lives; and the said proceeds were appropriated in conformity with this order, until the year 1848, when the New-York East Conference was organized by the division of the New-York Conference, and as the residence of the said Thomas was within the bounds of the New-York East Conference, he then became, and is now, a member thereof.

It appears, also, that the New-York Conference, prior to the division above-named, had accumulated certain other funds for various benevolent objects, and that, subsequent to the organization of the New-York East Conference, an equal division of these funds was made between the two bodies, with the exception of the particular fund which is the subject of the present memorial, and which remains in the possession of the New-York Conference, the proceeds having been administered by said Conference for the benefit of parties other than the said N. W. Thomas and his wife.

From the foregoing facts the committee are of opinion that the General Conference has no jurisdiction over the question submitted in the memorial from the New-York East Conference. Nevertheless, in view of the resolution adopted by the New-York Conference, at its session in 1840, and of the expectation thereby created, we recommend the New-York Conference so to administer the proceeds of the fund in question that they may in future inure to the benefit of the said N. W. Thomas and his wife during their lives, provided they shall remain members of the Methodist Episcopal Church.

REPORT OF THE PUBLISHING COMMITTEE OF THE PITTSBURGH CHRISTIAN ADVOCATE.

THE Publishing Committee of the Pittsburgh Christian Advocate would present the following report:

At the commencement of the four years just closing the paper was seriously embarrassed in its fiscal concerns, so that after appropriating the amount ordered by the General Conference of 1852, to the payment of old and long-standing claims against the paper, it was found that this did not, by a considerable amount, even pay the debts of the paper up to the 1st January, 1852, after including the cash received from subscribers, in advance, for their papers for the current year. It will be seen from the statement that the paper had to be carried on principally on credit for the year.

Notwithstanding, we were necessitated to renew the type during the early part of the second year. There was a considerable improvement in the condition of the paper each year, so that, as will be seen from the exhibit which follows, we shall have sufficient means to carry us on until August, or perhaps September, without incurring any debt, excepting the balances due to subscribers.

The following presents the present condition of the paper :

ASSETS.

Office Furniture, including Type, &c.....	$516 50
Due from Sundries	790 21
Bills Receivable	1,735 00
Cash on Deposit.....	1,792 00
		$4,833 71

LIABILITIES.

Due to Sundries.....	$1,225 34
Bills Payable	1,466 92	2,692 26
		$2,141 45
Balance in favor of Pittsburgh Christian Advocate.....

It is to us truly gratifying that we are able to show such a favorable improvement in the financial condition of the paper. We have now nearly 8,000 subscribers, and it is hoped that in the course of one or two years more the paper will be able to liquidate every claim by the commencement of the year, having on hand the subscription price of the whole year to come.

We may say that, during the existence of the Pittsburgh Christian Advocate, it has never been in so prosperous a condition.

All which is respectfully submitted.

REPORT OF THE TRUSTEES OF THE CHARTERED FUND.

To the General Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church of the United States of America :

DEAR FATHERS AND BRETHREN : The Trustees of the Chartered Fund of the Methodist Episcopal Church of the United States of America respectfully submit the following report :

The amount of invested funds, as per report, made to the General Conference in 1852, was $41,635 29.

The dividends to each Annual Conference, since that time, have been as follows :

1853 to 36 Conferences, each	$76 00	Total,	. . .	$2,736 00
1854 to 35	" "	35 00	Total,	. . . 1,225 00
1855 to 36	" "	36 00	Total,	. . . 1,332 00
1856 to 38	" "	38 00	Total,	. . . 1,140 00

A division of the assets of the Chartered Fund, under a decree of the Supreme Court of the United States, was made in January, 1854, in which the Methodist Episcopal Church was made owner of a proportion of the assets, equal to about 29 per cent., which ratio was based upon the number of preachers, and was as 4,632 is to 1,329.

The net valuation of the assets, at the time of settlement,
Of which amount was paid to Commissioners of Church,
South,	17,051 05

-------------------------------------	-------------

The Board of Trustees regret to state that the late Treasurer, Brother J. J. Boswell, appropriated to his own use about $6,000 of the funds of this corporation, and being unfortunate in his business, and being unable to pay over the amount to the Treasury, and with a desire to save the fund from loss, assigned to the Board of Trustees certain book debts, notes, &c., which, if realized, will be ample to pay the deficiency.

Brother Boswell made, at the same time, a general assignment for the benefit of his creditors. The assignees have resisted payment of the assignment made to the Chartered Fund. A suit has been instituted by the Board of Trustees against the assignees, and judgment obtained in the court below. The parties have carried the case to the Supreme Court. The Trustees have been in daily expectation of receiving the decree of said court, affirming the previous decision. They have no time to wait longer, and this is their apology for detaining the report to so late a day of the session of the General Conference.

The amount of this deficiency, about $6,000, or any portion of it, when collected, is to be divided with the Commissioners of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, pro ratio, as the former division, say 4,632 is to 1,329.

During the past four years Brothers J. J. Boswell and Solomon Townsend have resigned as trustees, and the vacancies have been filled by the election of Brothers Colson Hieskill and T. K. Collins, which elections the Board ask the General Conference to confirm.

The amount of invested funds, as per statement of Treasurer, on 1st January, 1856, is $22,182 50.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

By order of the Board,
W. P. HACKER, Secretary.

REPORT OF THE COMMISSIONERS OF THE CHURCH SUIT IN NEW-YORK.

The undersigned, surviving members of the commission appointed by the General Conference of 1852, "with full powers to act," in reference to the claims preferred by the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, upon certain property of the Methodist Book Concern in New-York, would respectfully report,

That under the friendly advice of the Hon. Judge M'Lean, after a careful examination of all the facts, and in full view of their responsibilities, they, at as early a time as practicable, effected an amicable adjustment of all the matters referred to them.

The decree of the court, given December 8th, 1853, entered on motion of both parties, contains the particulars of the adjustment.

It was agreed to pay the South $191,000 in cash, together with the Richmond, Charleston, and Nashville printing establishments, and all the debts on the books and periodicals as per schedule submitted, due the New-York Book Concern, from individuals residing within the geographical limits of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South.

The sum of $70,000 was to be given as follows: $10,000 on the filing of the decree, $40,000 on the fifth day of January following, and the remaining $20,000 on the first of March succeeding. The residue of the $191,000, amounting to the sum of $121,000, was to be paid as follows: $16,000 on the first of February, 1855; $15,000 on the first February, 1856; $15,000 on the first of February, 1857; $15,000 on the first of February, 1858; $15,000 on the first of February, 1859; $15,000 on the first of February, 1860; $15,000 on the first of February, 1861; $15,000 on the first of February, 1862. We, the defendants, were to pay the interest every year on all deferred payments, at the rate of seven per cent., and at the same rate on the payments to be made on the fifth day of March. We were also to pay the taxable costs of the suit, within ninety days from the filing of this decree.

Your committee beg to assure the General Conference, that while this arrangement was effected in full view of the legal decisions already made, and the moral certainty of those destined to follow, they were also prompted by the strictest economy, upon the part of the Methodist Episcopal Church, a very considerable sum being saved to the Book Concern.

GEORGE PECK,
THOMAS CARLTON,
JOHN S. PORTER.

REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE ON CHURCH EXTENSION.

THE committee to whom the memorial on Church Extension was referred, beg leave to report that they have had the subject under consideration; and while they deeply feel the importance of securing early attention to the purchase of lots for churches and parsonages, especially in the new districts of country, and in towns and villages that are springing up in almost every part of our widely-extended country, yet we cannot think it advisable, at this time, for the General Conference either to organize a society for the purpose, or adopt any one thus organized. Believing, as we do, that the desired end would not be the most successfully arrived at by any one local society, or the employment of agents to go through the country at large, therefore,

1. Resolved, That we appreciate and commend the zeal of our brethren at Chicago; yet we do not think it practicable, at this time, to organize such a society as they desire.

2. Resolved, That we earnestly recommend the Annual Conferences, as having this work more immediately under their supervision and control, to adopt such measures as are best calculated, according to their circumstances and necessities, and by all prudential measures, to secure the desired end.

REPORT IN THE CASE OF REUBEN ALDRIDGE.

THE Committee on Itinerancy, to whom was referred the memorial of Reuben Aldridge, beg leave to report that the memorialist was a member of the Missouri Annual Conference in 1844; but by the action of the General Conference of that year, and the administration which followed, was left without an appointment until the reorganization of the Missouri Annual Conference of 1848. By virtue of a resolution passed by the General Conference of 1848, the memorialist was allowed, by the Illinois and Missouri Annual Conferences, which held their session together in 1849, the sum of one hundred dollars; he having been employed, during the interval, in missionary labors. The aforesaid Illinois and Missouri Conferences authorized their Committee on Missions to present the above claim to the Parent Board of Missions at New-York for liquidation, which amount the memorialist avers has never been paid;

subjecting him to inconvenience and embarrassment. The committee, in view of these facts, recommend for adoption the following resolution, viz. :

Resolved by the General Conference in conference assembled, That we recommend to the Parent Board of the Missionary Society of the Methodist Episcopal Church to pay to the order of Reuben Aldridge the sum of one hundred dollars, ($100,) with interest from the time said claim was allowed, to wit, the month of October, 1849.

DD.

REPORT RELATING TO JOURNALS OF ANNUAL CONFERENCES.

THE Committee on Itinerancy beg leave to report that they have examined the Journals of the several Annual Conferences with care. Some of those Journals are kept with neatness and precision ; in others there were discovered blemishes and inaccuracies which require to be corrected, viz. :

First. In some cases the Journals are not paged.

Second. In one instance the Journal does not state who presided during most of the sessions of the Conference ; nor is there any statement that the Conference closed with religious services.

In the proceedings of the last two years, there are no tables to indicate the numbers in society, &c., nor any reference to any such statistics.

Third. The marginal notes and references are omitted in one of the Journals.

Fourth. On one occasion the Journal closes without showing that the minutes of the preceding session were read and approved ; nor do they make any allusion to the appointments of the preachers, as being read out in the usual way.

Fifth. One of the Journals presents blots, verbal inaccuracies, and the absence of figures indicating dates and pages.

Sixth. There is a failure in some of the Journals to make proper reference to papers, in cases of trial, so as to identify them.

Seventh. We record, as exceptionable, the case of a local elder who was received as such into our Church without taking upon him our ordination vows.

We conclude by recommending for adoption the following resolutions, viz. :

1. Resolved by the General Conference in conference assembled, That the statistics of the Conference should be entered on the Conference Journals.

2. Resolved, That the Secretaries of the several Annual Conferences be instructed to observe greater precision in referring to papers, documents, charges, testimony, &c., so that they may be certainly identified.

EE.

ADDRESS ON MISSIONS.

The General Conference to the Pastors and People of the Methodist Episcopal Church:

DEAR BRETHREN: We wish to appeal to you in behalf of the missionary cause; and we do this the more earnestly because the missionary treasury is deeply in debt. Next to the regular pastoral work, we regard the missionary cause as by far the most important interest committed to the Church. Indeed, it participates directly and largely in the essential work of the ministry, whose chief duty is to preach the Gospel to every creature under heaven. The missionary cause is intended to aid the ministry to do this great work, under the proper authority and direction of the Church, by calling forth from her bosom the men whom God hath chosen to execute this great commission, and by providing the means necessary to sustain them in their work. This is the high and Divine end which the missionary cause purposes to accomplish. We commend it, dear brethren, to your careful consideration in the sight of God. We believe you will regard it as the most important enterprise which God hath led the Church to propose for the accomplishment of her great commission, which is expressed in these words, "Go ye into all the world, and preach the Gospel to every creature." You will not let temporary embarrassments, or pressing demands for other purposes, interfere with your steady and liberal support of this great essential cause.

But in order to execute this great enterprise wisely and successfully, the Church must act as a body, under some general organization, and not as local Churches, or voluntary societies. This is the judgment of the Church as expressed in her book of Discipline, in the chapter "On the Support of Missions." We earnestly advise and enjoin that this judgment be seriously and universally respected, and that the provisions in the Discipline be prudently applied until all the people are trained to this great work. We will assign some reasons to induce you, dear brethren, to take these our well-considered instructions.

1. The provisions in the Discipline, during four years' experience, have been found, whenever prudently and faithfully applied, to have greatly advanced the missionary spirit and the piety of the Church, and to have increased the missionary contributions from twenty-five to a hundred per cent., and even more.

2. These provisions call into action a large number of the laity, both old and young, under the direction of a judicious committee, of which the pastor is chairman.

3. The whole enterprise is carried on at an expense, for administration, of not exceeding two per cent. on the whole amount of missionary appropriations. We think this is unexampled in the history of benevolent enterprises, and it is a weighty reason why you should give your cordial support to the cause; as all you contribute goes directly to it, with the trifling deduction just named. This very small expense is owing to the fact that no agents are employed abroad in the Churches and congregations; but the work is done by the pastors and their people severally; and they do it cheerfully, not only because it is enjoined by the Discipline, but chiefly because it is properly and legitimately the work of the pastor and the Church of which God hath made him the overseer.

4. Because the appropriation of the funds and the appointment of the missionaries are made in a way to command the confidence of the whole Church. The funds are appropriated by a general Missionary Committee, convened once a year from all parts of the Church, from Maine to Missouri, in concurrence with the bishops and the Board of Managers of the Missionary Society. By this joint action the appropriations are made to the foreign missions generally, and to each annual conference. Each conference distributes its own funds among its own domestic missions, according to its judgment. The appointment of the missionaries, both at home and abroad, is made by the bishops, without the interference of the Board of Managers at New-York. The bishops know the men. Thus you will see, the spiritual administration of the missions is entirely distinct from their financial affairs. The bishops, aided by their proper advisers, appoint the missionaries, and look to the Missionary Society to provide the funds. The Missionary Society looks to the Church, from whence alone the funds can be obtained. Just in proportion as the Church falls short in supplying the necessary funds, will the spiritual work, which is in the hands of the proper Church authorities, be curtailed. But we trust in God that no part of the Church will be delinquent in this matter. How simple, how beautiful, how economical, is our missionary system! How great and glorious the end which it proposes! an end in regard to which all are agreed, and to accomplish which every one should regularly and faithfully do his part.

But while we thus commend the missionary cause to your constant and liberal support, and while we say that our hearts have been glad at remembering that it has advanced steadily for years past, in all parts of the Church, we are obliged to confess to some apprehension in regard to the future. This apprehension is a feeling rather than a matter to be clearly stated; and it is possible that it is not well founded. The apprehension has respect to the supply both of missionaries and money. We look to God to raise up the men, while the proper authorities of the Church shall take due care to recognize them, and, if necessary, prepare them somewhat for their great work; and we look to you, dear brethren, for the money necessary to sustain the men whom God shall call to this work.

As we have expressed some apprehension in regard to the regular and sufficient supply of funds, we think it proper to indicate one or two of the causes which we think may be now interfering, and may interfere still more hereafter, with the supply of funds to the missionary treasury. We have learned with regret and serious apprehension that voluntary missionary societies are multiplying in our Churches, which societies not only reserve to themselves the right to dispose of a part or the whole of the funds which they raise for missionary purposes, but that they do actually so dispose of them independently, and without the knowledge of the missionary authorities of the Church, according to the Discipline. To such an extent is this carried, that the Minutes of some conferences will show that some Churches have contributed some hundreds of dollars, not twenty-five per cent. of which has reached the missionary treasury of the Church, the remainder having been disposed of by these local voluntary missionary societies of which we speak. These missionary societies are, frequently, the only active missionary organizations in their respective Churches; and they apply to the congregations, and obtain contributions on the credit of the general missionary cause, which contributions we judge and advise should be paid into the treasury of the Parent Missionary Society, through the missionary treasuries of their respective Churches, to whose missionary interests these voluntary missionary societies should be auxiliary. This is the true relation of such voluntary missionary associations to the Church and the missionary cause; and in this relation they would be of great service, especially as Sunday-School and Juvenile Missionary Societies.

We further judge and enjoin that each Church, aided by its own presiding elder and pastor, take care that the provisions of the Discipline for the support of missions be carried out, as far as is practicable, among them severally; and that the funds so raised be paid into the treasury of the Parent Society, through their own conference treasury. We do not, by what we have advised and enjoined above, object to the formation of voluntary missionary societies for specific purposes, which are of a local character, and to which individuals and Churches will contribute as they may judge proper, when the specific object of such contributions is presented to them. But we do enjoin that all funds contributed for the general missionary interests of the Church, shall be paid into the treasury of the Parent Society, as directed above. We are of opinion that the failure to do this is one principal cause of the decrease in the missionary contributions of the Church to the general treasury during the last two years; and it is still a cause of serious apprehension with regard to the future steady supply of funds. We are satisfied that the Churches in which these independent missionary societies have been formed, and also the societies themselves, have not been aware of the serious embarrassment which their policy produces. As true friends of the missionary cause, we ask their attention to it. Their example, if they continue their policy, may be followed by other Churches, until, in self-defense, it may become general, and our whole missionary system be materially weakened, and our missionary work curtailed.

We might allude to the seeming withdrawal of the attention of the Church from the missionary cause, by the intense excitement which has recently prevailed in the Church on side issues or secondary questions. We trust that the discussions at this General Conference may abate this intense excitement, and allow the spirit and action of the Church to flow again smoothly and strongly in their proper and legitimate channels. Particularly do we hope and believe that this will be the case as it regards the missionary cause, which seeks to aid the living ministry to "go into all the world and preach the Gospel to every creature." Whatever may be our differences of opinion on other questions, we do not disagree on this point. The holy missionary cause, we believe, is above all subordinate or secondary interests and plans, and finds the first and warmest place in the hearts of the people.

In conclusion, allow us to say, our honor, as well as our duty as a Church, is involved in our missionary cause. Our sister Churches and the world are looking to us, and inviting and expecting us to take that place in the great missionary movement of Protestant Christendom, to which our numbers, our wealth, our rapid rise and past energetic action point us. Shall we fail of this just expectation? If our missionary system is executed according to the enlarged plan indicated by the action of this General Conference, it will become the bond of union to the Methodist Episcopal Church in Europe, Asia, Africa, and America. And we see not why it may not become the common bond of union of the whole family of legitimate Methodism throughout the world, by which each part will help the other, as need may be. We ask you, dear brethren, not to let the temporary inconveniences to yourselves, nor the demands of other interests, interfere with your contributions to the missionary cause; but remember that our work is laid out; the missionaries are in the field, and others are called for; the drafts of the bishops are drawn against the appropriations authorized, and they must not be protested. Will you protect them?

Further, and finally, dear brethren, we ask you to think of the grandeur and glory of this missionary work, and let it have a place in your hearts and in all your plans. In your last wills and testaments let it be one of your heirs for Christ's sake, who has left it to us as a legacy in his last will and testament.

REPORT ON LAY DELEGATION.

THE committee to whom was referred the papers relating to Lay Delegation, beg leave to report:

These papers consist, first, of a communication, signed by sixty-seven laymen in the city of Philadelphia; second, a duplicate of the above from the same place, signed by fifty-six, making one hundred and twenty-three signatures to both papers; third, a memorial from the city of Buffalo, N. Y., signed by seventy laymen and six preachers; fourth, a communication from Geneva, N. Y., signed by the Presiding Elder of the Geneva District, the preacher stationed in Geneva, and sixteen official members of the Church in the same place; fifth, resolutions passed by the Pittsfield Quarterly Conference in the Troy Annual Conference; sixth, resolutions passed by the Quarterly Conference of New-York Mills Station, Oneida Annual Conference; seventh, a petition from two members of Christ Church, Pittsburgh; eighth, one from thirty-one members of the Methodist Episcopal Church in Ovid, East Genesee Conference, N. Y.; ninth, one from ten members in the Elyria Station, North Ohio Conference; and also two communications from Edgar Conkling, a member of Union Chapel, Cincinnati.

Your committee have read all these papers, and carefully considered the suggestions they contain. The first two papers do not purport to be a "petition," but a statement of their "sentiments," by respected and honored brethren, in relation to Lay Delegation in the General Conference. The third corroborates the statements of the above, and asks for the same changes. The fourth paper asks that provision may be made in the Discipline for a "Lay Representation" in our Annual Conferences. The fifth asks the General Conference "to so alter the General Rules as to admit of Lay Delegation in that body, and also that of the Annual Conferences." The sixth requests that the Discipline be so amended that the General and Annual Conferences shall be composed of as many lay delegates as clergy. The seventh, eighth, and ninth petition, also, for Lay Delegation in both the General and Annual Conferences. The last two communications pray for sundry modifications in our economy; and also for the General Conference "to provide for lay representatives equal in number to the delegates in the General Conference, the membership in the bounds of each Annual Conference to elect their representatives; and that the General Conference adjourn for one year, when the lay representatives should unite, at which time the secular matters of the Church shall be acted on."

Your committee entered upon the matter before them with a sincere desire to ascertain what is the mind of the Church upon the subject, and what will contribute most to its efficiency and success. No motives of personal interest, they trust, have influenced them; nor have they been influenced by any want of consideration for the character and rights of the laity. The assumption that the lay element fails of recognition in our ecclesiastical economy, or that there is any lack of coöperation between the ministry and the laity in carrying forward the great work of the Church, finds no warrant in our experience as ministers, nor in our history as a Church. Yet your committee are free to say, that could they see any method by which the element of lay influence could be brought into a wider and more active sphere, without destroying the harmony of our organization, and thus periling its stability and efficiency, we would most cheerfully and heartily recommend such method for your adoption. We are happy to learn that some of our Annual Conferences have already, under existing provisions of the Discipline, associated with themselves Lay Stewards, who act as counselors, and participate in discussions upon the financial and temporal interests of the Church. Sufficient time has not yet elapsed to determine the practical workings of this system, nor yet the results to which it will finally lead; but your committee believe the subject is worthy of the favorable consideration of all our Annual Conferences.

Again, your committee have not sufficient evidence that the change desired by your memorialists, is demanded by the membership of the Church, nor, indeed, by any considerable portion of them, to warrant present action. In fact, they are convinced that though some wise and good men desire the proposed change, the great body of the Church do not desire it. The subject has been discussed repeatedly in different periods of our history; it was largely discussed four years since, and the attention of our entire membership was called to the subject by circulars, newspaper discussions, and resolutions passed by conventions. Since then the matter has died away; and the general judgment of the Church, so far as we have the means of ascertaining it, has settled down in the conviction that such a change in our economy is not desirable, or at least not practicable under the circumstances.

For these reasons, and many more, which we find it impossible to embody in a brief report, we are brought to the conclusion that the change in our economy desired by your memorialists, is demanded neither by the exigences of the case, nor by the voice of the Church; and, therefore, we recommend the passage of the following resolution:

Resolved, That any change in our economy relating to the constitution of our General and Annual Conferences is inexpedient at the present time.

REPORT RELATING TO A REVISION OF THE RITUALS OF THE CHURCH.

THE Committee on Revision of Discipline, to whom was referred the memorials and resolutions asking for a revision of the rituals of our Church, having maturely considered the subject, beg leave to report:

That they are deeply impressed with the importance to be attached to the ritual forms of the Christian Church, in order to the decency, order, and solemnity of her various administrations. The Church has always had her forms, nor is it possible, in the nature of things, that ordinances should be duly administered and religious worship solemnized without form. But that form should be simple, natural, and appropriate, adapted to convey the meaning and moral of the administration, suggesting to the devout worshiper those sentiments and feelings which the particular occasion was originally intended to inspire. We believe with St. Chrysostom, that as God has made man not an incorporeal being, but with a material body, so he has delivered unto us his truth, not in a spiritual and abstract manner, but clothed in a visible form of words and symbols. The Church, like a living plant, as it develops and enlarges takes on, by a natural law of fitness, just so much of external form and organism as is necessary to give freedom and scope to the operation of the principle of life within it, and which in its turn also may afford protection and nourishment to that fountain of vitality. But if the external organism and form do not naturally grow out of the principle of life, and do not naturally nourish and protect that life, they are only a disease and a burden. And this analogy is corroborated by all the past history of the Church of Christ.

The rituals of our Church relate to the baptism of infants and adults, the Lord's Supper, the ordination of bishops, elders, and deacons, the solemnization of matrimony, and the burial of the dead. Two principal defects attach to them: first, in several instances their simplicity is impaired by a cumbrous amount of unnecessary verbiage; and, secondly, their pertinency and salutary influence are in a much more serious degree affected by the declaration of sentiments, which are not only irrelevant to the occasion, but in some instances adverse to the genius of our faith and of our Church polity. Nor is this matter of surprise when we consider that our denominational and our Church polity both were borrowed from the rubrics of a foreign Church.

Another fact of great importance affecting the question of revision is, that the irrelevant sentiments which they now express are so interwoven throughout the entire texture of their language as to render it necessary in many instances to take apart its entire structure, and recast the sentences in a different mold. This, we need not remind you, is a very delicate and difficult work, not to be accomplished in a General Conference Committee during the brief and hurried days of a session. It is a work for the private study, to be performed only by long meditation, study, and prayer, and to be finally completed only by the most experienced, deliberate, and competent counsel of the Church.

The idiom of the Prayer Book of the English Church is to be preserved; it is the idiom of our English Bible, sanctified in the hearts and memories of the great Saxon family, and with the history of that Prayer Book, and the venerable forms of the old and half-obsolete English, the mind of the revisers must be thoroughly imbued. Then, when the sentiments which are to be incorporated in our rituals are logically and familiarly mastered, they must be clothed in the smooth, solemn, and stately Saxon, and arranged in an easy, natural order.

The errors in our rituals are greatly mitigated and neutralized on the one hand by the softening terms which we have from time to time introduced, and on the other from important omissions from the English Prayer Book. They do not, therefore, threaten any immediate injury, and with the modifying sense which our denominational faith and piety affix to the language, may continue safely for a while to be used. But their tendency is to beget, by imperceptible advances, a faith in our membership contrary to our standards, and if suffered to remain in future as now, and should our Church ever decline from her present spiritual life and relapse into an inert formalism, she would find in her Discipline the materials to vindicate baptismal regeneration, the apostolical succession of bishops, and the doctrine of three priestly orders.

A large portion of our ministry and membership are grieved to find in our most solemn forms the sanction of doctrines which neither we nor our fathers believe. That baptismal regeneration is the doctrine of the English Prayer Book is constantly admitted and maintained by the ablest standard writers of the Anglican Church; that in a modified form we have copied the Prayer Book in this respect cannot be denied. The Church of England is this day in a state of schism, and even the civil institutions of that country are threatened, strange as it may seem, by the controversy on baptismal regeneration. What the final result will be, both in that country and our own, cannot now be determined. It is a struggle between dead formalism and spiritual life in the Church. And can we bequeath to the next generation the elements of this sad and ill-fated controversy? Can we safely, and we might almost ask, innocently, retain in our most solemn formularies, with which we wish to imbue the holiest feelings of our membership, these latent elements of superstition? Your committee are frank to declare that it is their conviction that the future peace and edification of the Church require a revision. In view of all the facts in the case, your committee would therefore respectfully submit the following resolutions for the consideration and adoption of the General Conference, to wit:

1. Resolved, That a committee of five be appointed by the chair to revise the rituals of our Church.

2. Resolved, That this committee be instructed to prepare a circular at their earliest meeting, in which all the points involved in the proposed revision shall be stated, and to send a copy of this circular to each member of the present General Conference, who shall consider the same, and return his opinions and suggestions to the committee within three months.

3. Resolved, That when the committee shall have received the returned circulars from the members of this Conference, with their opinions and suggestions on the points therein contained, they shall avail themselves of all the information thus suggested, and prepare a revised copy of our rituals, which they shall then lay before the bishops, and the bishops shall have power to make any verbal alterations, and when the rituals shall receive the final approval of the bishops, they shall cause the same to be published, and the rituals thus revised shall thereafter go immediately into use.

REPORT RELATING TO THE QUARTERLY REVIEW, NATIONAL MAGAZINE, AND SUNDAY SCHOOL ADVOCATE.

THE Committee on the Book Concern, to whom was referred certain alleged errors in the Report of the Book Agents in regard to the Quarterly Review, National Magazine, and Sunday School Advocate, beg leave to report,

That they have examined the subject in the presence of the Agents and Editors, and, after careful investigation of the items of the accounts, and the manner of making them up, they find that these periodicals are charged master's prices on composition, stereotyping, and press-work, and deducting the profits to the Concern on these items, the loss on these publications will be materially reduced. A further reduction of the loss charged will be made if we credit these periodicals with certain assets which belong to them. We also find that the time of making up the accounts prevented these publications from receiving credit for outstanding subscriptions and claims. Yet, after all fair credits are made, it appears they have not fully met the cost of publication.

This may be accounted for, in part at least, by the great advance in price of paper and of labor after the subscription price had been fixed; and that such an increase in their subscription list as may be reasonably anticipated, and such as their great merits demand, will carry them safely through coming years. From reliable data, the committee would furthermore say that, in their judgment, two thousand seven hundred paying subscribers would fully sustain the Quarterly Review.

In view of these facts, we therefore recommend to the General Conference the continued publication of these periodicals.

PASTORAL ADDRESS.

BELoved BRETHREN: "Grace, mercy, and peace, from God our Father, and from Jesus Christ our Lord," be unto you now and forever.

While we have many reasons to humble ourselves before God, and to mourn over our failures in gaining the benevolent ends so manifestly indicated in the singular providences which brought the Methodist Church into existence, and the extraordinary blessings vouchsafed to us through every period of our history, yet in the present state of the Church there are many grounds for thanksgiving and praise. The Spirit of all grace has been poured out afresh upon our Zion. In the past four years numerous and extensive revivals have been enjoyed throughout the Church; and thousands have experienced "the washing of regeneration and the renewing of the Holy Ghost." That our Church is in a high state of prosperity, is sufficiently indicated in the cheering facts, that our effective traveling ministers have increased from four thousand four hundred and fifty to five thousand four hundred and eight, or nine hundred and fifty-eight; and membership, including probationers, from seven hundred and twenty-one thousand eight hundred and four to seven hundred and ninety-nine thousand four hundred and thirty-one, or seventy-nine thousand six hundred and twenty-seven.

But this is not all. The Church has been quickened; many of its members, we trust, are "hungering and thirsting after righteousness," and are "going on to perfection;" thus evincing that the doctrine of entire sanctification is not with them a mere theory, but a substantial and saving reality. And looking over the whole ground, and availing ourselves of every means of information within our reach, we cannot avoid the conviction that, though some of our societies may be in a languishing state, the piety of the Church generally is deepening, its faith is becoming more active and comprehensive, its moral power is largely increased, and the blessing of God abideth with us even as in former years, and more abundantly. This all-pervading, energizing, and saving grace may not now be manifested precisely in the same manner as in other years. Some of the peculiarities that characterized the work of God in the early history of the Church, will now be sought for in vain; but all of the essential features are still visible. The glory hath not departed. We have many examples of the same converting power, the same witnessing Spirit, the same grace and purity, and the same glorious triumphs in death, which distinguished the early Church. God is as manifestly with us as with our fathers. The Gospel is still a Gospel of power, and is yet preached "with the Holy Ghost sent down from heaven;" and the great Head of the Church yet visibly owns us as his people, and reveals his sovereignty among us in directing his own work, and in vindicating and honoring his own appointed means and instrumentalities. Thus united with Christ, and thus enjoying his covenant blessings, we may gratefully exclaim, "Happy is the people that is in such a case; yea, happy is that people whose God is the Lord."

Among the many reasons that may be enumerated, calling for devout praise and gratitude, we may mention prominently the cheering fact that the Church yet retains "the unity of the Spirit in the bond of peace." We can conceive of nothing more hostile to the spirituality and prosperity of the Church, and to personal piety, than dissension and strife. "Forgiving one another, if any man have a quarrel against any," is the inspired direction; and, in the inimitable prayer which our Saviour taught his disciples, we are directed to pray, "Forgive us our trespasses as we forgive those who trespass against us." We judge no true Christian can look upon schism in "the body of Christ" in any other light than as a fearful and desolating calamity; and the careless manner in which the disunion and rending of the Church are frequently spoken of, betokens a great want of "the meekness and gentleness of Christ," and ill comports with our relations to God as redeemed sinners. Nothing but evils of the greatest magnitude—evils that can neither be controlled nor extirpated, but which threaten the vitality and integrity of the Church—can ever justify such propositions. We have reason to fear that the division of the Church, which under almost all conceivable circumstances is the greatest of all possible calamities, has been contemplated by some with entire composure; and instead of being deprecated with true Christian foresight and zeal, has, under certain contingences, been invited and encouraged. This has been unfriendly to those relations which lead us to "dwell together in unity."

Our unity has also been assailed in other directions. We have fallen upon singular times. New and subtle issues are continually forced upon us. Reform is the watchword of all parties—the universal passport of error to popular favor. Radical changes, antagonizing the social system of the Gospel, have been proposed; error has assumed new forms, and bland, conciliating aspects; infidelity has abandoned its gross materialism, and now makes its insidious advances under the guise of spiritualism; unexplained facts, arising either from mysteries in our own natures, or from the misleading teaching of laws, of which, as yet, we have no adequate knowledge, have been resorted to, to render this spiritualism palatable; and it has been claimed that religious truth opens as legitimate a field of discovery as science, and that man, in the exercise of his own powers, aided by spiritual agents which he can con-mand, is capable of traveling further into the inscrutable and invisible, than it has pleased the Divine mind to take us.

These insidious errors have been the more dangerous because oftentimes admitting religious truths, and assuming them as a garb, or appealing to well-known physiological laws and mental phenomena, and building its theories upon them. Thus lulling the fears of the unwary, and appealing to the perverted principles of our natures, particularly to human pride and vanity, they have succeeded in leading a few astray, who have either fallen into hopeless and open infidelity, rejecting altogether the teachings of the Gospel, as below their attainments, or have become the victims of insanity. But it is a matter of rejoicing how few have been deceived and turned from their steadfastness. In no instance has any considerable defection been brought about. Our membership "stand fast in the liberty wherewith Christ hath set them free," and have not suffered themselves "to be entangled again with the yoke of bondage." They have "tried the spirits" by Bible rules, and have thus escaped these gross delusions. And general revivals of religion, contrasting directly with the results of error, "bringing forth the peaceable fruits of righteousness," elevating and saving men from sin, have fortified their minds against these soul-destroying errors. There has been agitation in the Church itself; and, in some instances, this may have been exhibited in a manner not quite in harmony with Christian meekness. But this very agitation has betrayed, in most instances, the ardent love of our people for the old paths, the land-marks of our beloved Methodism, the institutions, usages, and teachings of our fathers, under which God has vouchsafed us so long and so extensive prosperity. We rejoice that these monuments of the wisdom, zeal, and piety of our fathers have not, amid the rapid changes everywhere marking modern movements, fallen into desuetude. The lessons of the past have not been lost upon our people. In their minds, as it should be, the presumption is against that which is new, and the burden of proof is with its advocates. New measures must either be tried in the balances of the sanctuary or tested by the experience of the past. Bold and rash experiments, though assuming the names of progress and reform, have been justly regarded with suspicion; and as a whole populous Church is to be affected thereby, even where, as in reference to Church usage and polity, real improvement is admissible, it is certainly proper that this rigid surveillance and earnest solicitude should be exercised. With such vigilance and godly jealousy, the agitations of the past four years have been, we trust, on the whole, healthful, developing on one hand a love for Methodism as it is, and on the other leading to the adoption of such well-digested plans for carrying out our great evangelical designs as a mature and godly judgment will approve. Thus, what seemed adverse, has been friendly to our unity; and thus it ever will be while "the God of love and peace dwells among us." Continuing to "walk by the same rule, and to mind the same thing," God will continue to honor us with the same hallowed instrumentality for good; and the energy, activity, and efficiency of the Church will be commensurate with its high vocation, as a Church raised up "to spread Scriptural holiness over these lands."

During the present session of the General Conference many subjects, some of them involving great, if not radical changes, have been under consideration. Petitions and memorials from almost every part of our extended work, have been presented and referred to appropriate committees, where they have received respectful consideration. This has been especially the case on the subject of Slavery.

The position of our Church from the beginning has been that of an anti-slavery Church; and in both slave and free states this is our present attitude. So we are regarded by pro-slavery men, as the persecution of our ministers in some parts of our work, and the apparent necessity of changing the seat of one of our conferences, in order to avoid the notified violence of a mob, clearly prove. The subject has been largely discussed in our periodicals, patiently considered in the Committee on Slavery, and has occupied a large portion of the time of the General Conference, where it has been debated, as you have seen, with eminent ability and the greatest freedom. With its action upon this subject you are already acquainted. The debates brought out fully the fact, that none of the members of this General Conference entertained pro-slavery sentiments, and that little or no mercenary slaveholding exists in the Church. And the effect of such action upon the interests of the border conferences, probably alone prevented a constitutional majority from voting to recommend a change of our General Rule on the subject of slavery. On this subject be temperate and firm; resisting evil, not with carnal weapons, but with immutable truths—"weapons that are mighty through God to the pulling down of strongholds."

And now, beloved brethren, will you suffer us to exhort you to prompt and vigorous coöperation with your ministers, in carrying forward the work of God committed to us? "Ye are workers together with him." To this high dignity and honorable distinction in the presence of God, and "a great cloud of witnesses," is every Christian called. And if we "stir up your pure minds, by way of remembrance," it is that we may present you before Christ "holy, and unblamable, and unreprouvable in his sight."

And first we exhort you to give the "most earnest heed" to the training of your children. It is your high privilege as well as your solemn duty, while they are yet infants, to consecrate them to God in baptism. "The promise is unto you and to your children;" and to the mind of the Christian it cannot be a matter of indifference whether or not covenant blessings are secured for his offspring. Bring your "little children to Christ" in baptism, that that heavenly benediction which conveys covenant grace to the soul may fall upon them.

In the early and most eventful period of life, when the conscience is tender and the heart susceptible, instruction devolves upon the parents, and they cannot transfer their duties and responsibilities to others; but, subsequently, the Sabbath school, the common school, and the college, become valuable auxiliaries. We must educate. We are shut up to this necessity. Mind will be educated; and we are only to choose as to the manner and direction of its education.

Experience has furnished ample proofs that the Sunday school is the nursery of the Church. Many of our most eminent ministers, and hundreds of our laymen, whose faith and morals proclaim them living Christians, received their early religious impressions in the Sabbath school. Minds, that otherwise would be employed in every evil work, receiving an education fraught with mischief, are thus, on the Lord's day, directed to religious truth and devotion. Interest is excited, new trains of thought are opened to the mind, religious truths are impressed, books are furnished adapted to the juvenile taste, and calculated at the same time to entertain and improve both the heart and the mind.

Great improvements have been made in our Sabbath-school libraries; and now, in cheapness, variety, and adaptation, they may challenge comparison with any other Sunday-school libraries in this country. Our statistics furnish indubitable evidence of prosperity in this department. We have now ten thousand four hundred and sixty-nine schools, one hundred and thirteen thousand one hundred and fifty-nine officers and teachers, and five hundred and seventy-nine thousand one hundred and twenty-six scholars.

While we rejoice in view of the growing interest and efficiency of Sabbath-school instruction, and while we express our hearty praises to God for the frequent outpouring of his Spirit upon our schools, we can but deplore the indifference manifested by many in regard to this most potent instrumentality for good. To secure the greatest efficiency for our schools, it is essential that all the members of our Church should give them their countenance and aid. He would prove himself unworthy of the name of a Christian who deemed Sabbath-school instruction beneath him; for Christ not only said, "Suffer little children to come unto me," but "took them up in his arms, put his hands upon them, and blessed them." We cannot better imitate our Saviour, or more directly advance our own spiritual interest, than by laboring to direct the youthful mind to Christ, and to implant therein great and influential moral and religious truths, that, in the hour of darkness and spiritual conflict, shall hold the soul steady in its high resolves, amid the successive shocks of temptation. It is surely Christ-like to be thus employed in preparing an immortal being for a life of usefulness and purity, and for bliss in the heavenly world. And it is surely matter of serious regret that many members of the Church seem satisfied to commit this important interest entirely to youth, and in many instances to unconverted youth. Not that we would object to the employment of young persons in our schools; but we would have them sustained by the wisdom and counsel, the large experience and mature piety of age. Surely this is a most inviting field for Christian labor, a "field white to the harvest;" and here, if anywhere, we should feel the force of the exhortation, "Whatsoever thy hand findeth to do, do it with all thy might."

We have reason to fear due prominence is not given in our schools to teaching a personal spiritual Christianity. Mere intellectual teaching, however thorough and extensive, will not accomplish the end proposed, and is, in our judgment, a desecration of the holy day. The array of officers and teachers, complete discipline, diligent application, all the apparatus and external appliances of the school, cannot secure the end contemplated in their establishment. We are to teach the lost condition of man, the necessity of the new birth, justification by faith; and we are to guide the youthful mind, penitent through our instrumentality, to Christ, as its only Saviour. Every Sabbath-school teacher, as he enters his class, should hear the voice of Christ saying, "Feed my lambs;" and having furnished the young mind with the simple and saving truths of the Gospel, he should retire to seek God's blessing upon the seed he has sown, that it may yield a harvest, "some thirty, some sixty, and some a hundredfold," to the "praise of the glory of God's grace."

We cannot be too deeply impressed with the importance of educating our sons and daughters. You need not be told that genuine education is as favorable to the progress of Christianity as to the development of mind, and to the health and happiness of the physical man. It should be directed to all our powers; and man is only truly educated when all his powers are thus harmoniously developed. In this country especially, where every individual is charged with high social and civil responsibilities, and where free speech and the pen exert so wide and beneficial an influence, it is the duty of every parent to educate. But there are higher and more influential reasons than even these. God has committed immortal spirits to our charge, and has furnished in their economy, reasons of the most weighty and imperative character, in favor of educating them. It is not because your child is to pursue one of the learned professions, or to prosecute this or that particular business, or for any other merely earthly reason chiefly, that he should be educated, but because he is an immortal being. A man's pursuits in this world, though often regarded as the only reason for educating, is, comparatively, a trivial one, and every Christian must feel that the weighty and commanding reason is to be found in man's immortality.

We rejoice to see seminaries and colleges rising up on all sides under the sole care and direction of our Church. There are now some seventy seminaries of the first grade, and fourteen colleges and universities under the patronage of the several Annual Conferences. Our educational enterprises have received the manifest approbation of the great Head of the Church. Hundreds of the pupils of these institutions have been brought to Christ, and while learning earthly sciences, have become "wise unto salvation." Extensive revivals of religion have gladdened the hearts of their professors and teachers, and most significantly indicate the approval and favor of God. We trust you will sustain them with your contributions, and that your sons and daughters will enjoy, through them, the advantage of a thorough literary and scientific training. And with Heaven's blessing upon these institutions, subordinating them to our great evangelical work, we doubt not, will largely contribute to our denominational power and efficiency.

The enlargement of our Zion, and the aggressive character of a missionary Church, opening fields of usefulness which it becomes our duty to occupy, lead to increasing calls upon the liberality of our people.

God has given us ability to meet these demands, and there is no reason why, for want of means, the Gospel should be hindered. To this great work of evangelizing the world "we are called in one body." "No man liveth unto himself." Selfishness stands as directly opposed to the prosperity of man as it does to his happiness ; and both the one and the other are greatly promoted by liberally and systematically sustaining the onward movements of the Church. Almost without means Methodism has accomplished a wonderful work. What, then, will it effect when all the institutions and appliances now being established and adjusted to each other, and to our holy Christianity, are brought into full play, and directed against the strongholds of sin ? If throughout all our history Methodism has doubled itself every thirteen years, with such enlarged and multiplied means and opportunities, with a nicely adjusted and harmonious machinery, reaching every interest, and with "the Spirit of the living God in the wheels," may we not hope to treble and quadruple both our numbers and our usefulness in the same length of time ? A perishing world calls us to greater activity, to more comprehensive plans, to more numerous instrumentalities, to larger sacrifices ; "the love of Christ constraineth us" to undertake new and bolder enterprises for the glory of God, and the salvation of man ; and the great Head of the Church requires us to press every agent, and every available means consistent with rectitude and moral freedom, into the work of evangelizing the world. We trust you will respond to these calls in the spirit of self-denial and enlarged benevolence.

Without referring to many local interests which will naturally fall under your observation in every part of our extended work, and which will be sustained by those immediately connected with them, permit us to call your attention particularly to the cause of missions, both in the domestic and foreign fields. We have to notice here a most commendable liberality, evinced in the increased collections of the past four years over any other quadrennial period. But to maintain our ground, and enter those great and effectual doors opened to us by the providence of God, our general collections must be largely increased. Here, if anywhere, is God's word peculiarly applicable, a Divine truth with countless living illustrations, "The liberal soul deviseth liberal things, and by liberal things shall he stand." Everywhere, both in our own and in foreign lands, success attends us. "The fields are white to the harvest." But as a Church, missionary in its origin and spirit, we are capable of doing much more. In answer to our prayers, God will raise up laborers, who will boldly respond to the call of the Church, "Here am I ; send me." And we ask that the "riches of your liberality may abound more and more," that this great and glorious work of God may not be hindered. With your ministers enter the mighty conflict with the powers of darkness, and sustain them as God's servants doing his will, until "the kingdoms of this world shall become the kingdoms of our Lord and his Christ."

But we should never forget that the mere external movements of the Church, its wealth, numbers, triumphs, do not constitute its strength. "On all the glory there shall be a defense." This defense is found in its living union with God. "The branch cannot bear fruit except it abide in the vine." Mere activity will not supply the want of this union. The parade of means and ordinances, the sound of preparation and the array of agents may all exist, and still the Church be powerless. To be truly aggressive it must be a living Church ; we must walk with God in order to obtain the moral power to save men. More than to all other instrumentalities combined we owe the success which has marked our history, and which constitutes our distinction in the sight of men and angels, to the fact that our membership have been living Christians. And while this continues to be the case, our progress will continue to be "like the going forth of the morning," and God will still visit us with his blessing, "even as the early and latter rain upon the earth."

That this may be your happy experience, suffer us to warn you against the spirit of speculation now so extensively prevailing throughout the country. Many persons have lost, through this means, their union with God. Many have made "shipwreck of faith and a good conscience," and have proved by sad experience that "they that will be rich fall into temptation and a snare, and into many foolish and hurtful lusts, which drown men in destruction and perdition."

With painful feelings we have sometimes noticed neglect of the ordinances of God's house, particularly the sacrament of the Lord's Supper. This we deem inconsistent with growth in grace and a life of piety. We can consistently expect Heaven's blessing, the presence and agency of the Holy Spirit, by which spiritual life can only be retained in the soul, when we are living in obedience to God's commandments.

We exhort you to the regular observance of family devotions. In the absence of family religion there is likely to be a low state of personal piety. Love to God and a proper regard for domestic harmony and happiness, which are essentially promoted by regular family devotions and a true Christian solicitude for the welfare of your children, all combine to render this duty imperative. And experience has shown the wisdom of the declaration made by one now with the blessed in heaven, "The prayerless family has God's curse."

You can only hope to enjoy union and communion with God by the use of the means of grace, such as prayer and class-meeting. Whatever may be urged against class-meetings, experience has shown that, at least in the Methodist Church, they are intimately connected with the spirituality and religious prosperity of its members. This needs no better attestation than what is often seen when "times of refreshing come from the presence of the Lord." Then the class-room, long neglected, is filled with Christians eager to enjoy this means of grace. It requires no urgent appeals to induce you to attend the class-meeting. You joyfully exclaim, "I was glad when they said unto me, Let us go up to the house of the Lord." As you value your own relations to God, and the progress and spirituality of your Church, be faithful in the use of this most interesting and improving means of grace. We cannot, it is true, declare, in this precise form, it is of Divine authority, but we can assert that you are under obligations, as Methodists, to observe it while you continue in your present Church connections. "Forsake not the assembling of yourselves together, as the manner of some is." We close with the language of Paul to the Corinthian Church: "Finally, brethren, farewell. Be perfect, be of good comfort, be of one mind, live in peace, and the love and peace of God shall be with you."

REVISED CONSTITUTION OF THE MISSIONARY SOCIETY.

ARTICLE I.

THIS association, denominated "The Missionary Society of the Methodist Episcopal Church," is established for the express purpose of enabling the several Annual Conferences more effectually to extend their missionary labors throughout the United States and elsewhere; and also to assist in the support and promotion of missionary schools and missions in our own and in foreign countries.

ARTICLE II.

The payment of twenty dollars at one time shall constitute a member for life. Any person paying one hundred and fifty dollars at one time into the treasury shall be an honorary manager for life, and the contribution of five hundred dollars shall constitute the donor an honorary patron for life, both of whom shall be entitled to a seat and the right of speaking, but not of voting, in the Board of Managers.

ARTICLE III.

The management and disposition of the affairs and property of this Society shall be vested in a Board of Managers, consisting of thirty-two laymen, all being members of the Methodist Episcopal Church, and so many clerical members, not exceeding that number, as shall be determined at each annual meeting called for that purpose, each of whom shall be a minister of the Methodist Episcopal Church, and all of whom, both the lay and clerical members, shall be elected at the said annual meeting.

ARTICLE IV.

The Corresponding Secretary shall be appointed by the General Conference. He shall reside in New-York, and conduct the correspondence of the society, under the direction of the Board. He shall be subject to the direction and control of the Board of Managers, by whom his salary is to be fixed and paid. He shall be exclusively employed in conducting the correspondence of the Society, and, under the direction of the Board, in promoting its general interests, by traveling or otherwise. Should his office become vacant by death, resignation, or otherwise, the Board shall have power to provide for the duties of the office until the Bishops, or a majority of them, shall fill the vacancy.

ARTICLE V.

The Board shall have authority to appoint all the officers required by the charter, and to make by-laws for regulating its own proceedings, to appropriate money to defray incidental expenses, to provide for the support of superannuated missionaries, widows, and orphans of missionaries, who may not be provided for by their Annual Conferences, respectively, it being understood that they shall not receive more than is allowed by the Discipline to other superannuated ministers, their widows and orphans; and to print books for the benefit of Indian and Foreign Missions, and missions in which a foreign language is used, fill vacancies that may occur in their own body during the year, and shall present a statement of its transactions and funds to the Society at its annual meeting, and also shall lay before the General Conference a report of its transactions for the four preceding years, and the state of its funds.

ARTICLE VI.

The annual meetings for the election of officers and managers shall be held on the third Monday in November, in the city of New-York, and the term of the service of the officers and managers so elected shall commence January the first following.

ARTICLE VII.

At all meetings of the Society, and of the Board, the president, or, in his absence, the vice-president first on the list then present, and in the absence of all the vice-presidents, a member appointed by the meeting for that purpose, shall preside.

ARTICLE VIII.

Twenty-five members of each meeting of the Society, and thirteen at each meeting of the Board of Managers, shall be a quorum.

ARTICLE IX.

The minutes of each meeting shall be signed by the chairman of the meeting at which the minutes are read and approved.

ARTICLE X.

It is recommended that within the bounds of each Annual Conference there be established a Conference Missionary Society, auxiliary to this institution, under such regulations as the conferences shall respectively prescribe.

ARTICLE XI.

Any auxiliary society or donor may designate the mission or missions, under the care of this Society, to which they desire any part, or the whole of its funds to be appropriated, which special designation shall be publicly acknowledged by the Board. But, in the event that more funds are raised for any particular mission than are necessary for its support, the surplus shall be at the disposal of the Society for its general purposes.

ARTICLE XII.

The Annual Conferences shall be divided into as many mission districts as there are effective superintendents, and there shall be a committee consisting of one from each mission district, to be appointed by the Bishops, and to be called The General Missionary Committee. It shall be the duty of this committee to meet annually in the city of New-York, between the 1st and 15th of November, as shall be determined by the Corresponding Secretary and Treasurer, to act jointly with the Board of Managers, the Corresponding Secretary, and the Treasurer, in fixing the amount which may be drawn for during the ensuing year, and the division of said amount between foreign and domestic missions. Said committee shall, with the concurrence of the Board of Managers, and with the concurrence of at least two of the Bishops, determine what fields shall be occupied or continued as foreign missions, and the number of persons to be employed on said missions, and shall, in conjunction with the Board, estimate the sums necessary for the support of each mission, subject to the approval of two or more of the Bishops. Said committee, with the concurrence of the Board and Bishops as aforesaid, shall determine the amount for which each Bishop may draw for the domestic missions of those conferences over which he shall preside, and he shall not draw on the Treasurer for more than said amount.

Provided, nevertheless, That in the intervals between the meetings of the General Missionary Committee, the Board of Managers, with the concurrence of the Bishop who has charge, or is to have charge of the work proposed, may, if they shall deem it important, adopt a new missionary field, and also provide for any unforeseen emergence that may arise; and to meet such demands, may expend any additional sum not exceeding ten thousand dollars.

Should any of the members of said committee, in the interval of the General Conference, go out of office by death, resignation, or otherwise, the Bishop presiding in the conferences where the vacancy shall occur, shall appoint another to fill his place.

Said committee to be amenable to the General Conference, to which it shall make full reports of its doings.

Any expense incurred in the discharge of its duties shall be met by the Treasurer of the Society.

ARTICLE XIII.

The sums allowed for the support of a missionary shall not exceed the usual allowance of other itinerant preachers. The Bishop or president of the conference, (if the mission be domestic,) and the superintendent, where there is one, and if not, the missionary, (if it be foreign,) shall draw on the Treasurer for the same, in quarterly or half-yearly installments, and they shall always promptly notify the Treasurer of all drafts made by them.

ARTICLE XIV.

Each superintendent of missions, and where there is no superintendent, each missionary, shall make a regular quarterly report to the Corresponding Secretary at New-York, giving information of the state and prospects of the several missions under his care.

ARTICLE XV.

Each missionary shall report to his superintendent once a quarter, in writing, the state and prospects of the special work in which he is engaged.

ARTICLE XVI.

No one shall be acknowledged a missionary, or receive support from the funds of this Society, who has not some definite field assigned to him, or who could not be an effective laborer on a circuit, except as provided for in Article V.

ARTICLE XVII.

This Constitution shall not be altered but by the General Conference upon the recommendation of the Board of Managers, or by the Board, on the recommendation of the General Conference.

A true copy, as approved by the Board of Managers at their meeting, June 18, 1856.

JOHN S. PORTER, Chairman.

LL.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON EDUCATION.

The Committee on Education beg leave to submit this as their final report.

The view of our institutions of learning exhibited in the tabular statement annexed, imperfect as it is, affords matter of congratulation. It is presumed that no Church in our country has done more than our own, in proportion to her means, to promote sound learning.

It is very desirable that our literary institutions should report regularly and fully to the General Conference, in order that we may have, as far as possible, a reliable history of our labors, expenditures, and progress, in the department of education.

Your committee suggest that a yearly Educational Register, containing financial and educational statistics, and reports of the colleges, seminaries, and academies, under the care of the Methodist Episcopal Church, be published by our Book Concern. Perhaps an appendix to the usual calendar would answer the purpose for the present. It should contain, in addition to general information, answers to the following questions concerning each of our institutions, namely :

1. What are the names, salaries, and labors of the president, professors, and tutors ?
2. What is the course of study ?
3. What are the plans of instruction and government ?
4. What is the total number of pupils ?
5. How many are pursuing the regular course ?
6. How many are pious ?
7. How many are connected with the Methodist Episcopal Church ?
8. How many are preachers or exhorters ?
9. How many have in view the missionary work ?
10. How many are looking forward to the ministry ?
11. How many were converted after they entered the institution ?

Such an addition to our calendar would afford hints to improvement and matter of encouragement ; while it would awaken interest and call forth the prayers of the Church for our seats of learning, and serve as a vehicle of important information to the superintendents, and to such institutions as are in need of instructors. It is presumed that the increased profits of the calendar thus enlarged, would more than justify the additional expense. Though this would not fully meet the wants of our educational interests, it would, we trust, lead, sooner or later, to a weekly or monthly publication devoted to education, and, perhaps, to an Educational Secretary to superintend the interests of this department of our work, which in importance, perhaps, yields to no other. For want of such guidance we have, in many parts of the land, entered upon plans of doubtful expedience ; called into existence institutions that were not needed and could not be sustained ; employed instructors ill adapted to their vocation ; adopted courses of study greatly defective ; lowered and varied the standard of education, and wasted much of the resources of the Church.

Time, it is true, applies the corrective to these evils, but not without much loss and mortification. Much as we have done, there is a wide field before us. It is, therefore, difficult to set limits to the number of our literary institutions in the newer portions of our country. Your committee think it advisable for our Annual Conferences to keep in mind the distinction between universities and colleges, restricting the former term to institutions that have courses of study additional to the ordinary classical curriculum ; and, also, to distinguish between institutions which have the latter course and the mere academy or preparatory school.

We respectfully suggest, also, that our Annual Conferences fix upon some minimum foundation to be acquired by each institution hereafter to be established, before it shall assume its title, or take rank among our seminaries of learning, and that such foundation be sufficient to give it respectability and a fair prospect of permanence. Although we have no right to limit the number of literary institutions, we have a right to limit our responsibility for their character and support.

In regard to the "course of study," your committee remark that we should not make any material variation from that which has received the sanction of ages, and trained the best minds of modern times. The additions to this course, rendered necessary by the progress of modern science, does not justify any diminution of attention to classical and mathematical studies; and when we consider the improvements in the methods of education which have been made of late years, we cannot think that these additions call for any great increase of the time to be devoted to the course.

One of the greatest demands of the age is for teachers of common schools. Your committee think that our Church has not done what it should to answer this call, and would respectfully ask whether we should not establish, either separately, or in connection with our colleges, Normal Schools for the special purpose of training youth for the profession of teaching. We have in the Normal School of Westminster, England, an excellent model, and in its results, an impressive illustration of the benefits of such an institution.

It is deemed indispensable to press upon the Church the importance of giving all our literary institutions a decidedly religious character. That this has not been overlooked heretofore is evident from the revivals which have occurred within them, but it is presumed that more may be done, by giving greater prominence to the Bible in our courses of study, by establishing a more intimate connection between the seminary and the Church, by organizing Bible classes in connection with the former as well as the latter, and perhaps by establishing catechumen classes for advanced scholars, to train them in that critical period when the passions glow and the world assumes its most attractive forms. Such classes differ from Bible classes in a more thorough organization and a more extended plan; they would develop systematically the truths of Holy Scripture, and the glories of the Christian religion, and thus prevent the young from being attracted by the imposing forms of a spiritless religion and the poetical spiritualism of a Christless faith.

Your committee express the hope that our Church will not fail to observe the annual concert of prayer for colleges, or to offer up daily intercession for all our institutions of learning.

We trust that our ministers will feel increased interest in our seminaries of literature, and manifest this interest by visiting them, and inquiring earnestly how they may serve them. They ought not, however, to limit their attention to schools under our own control. It is our duty to feel a deep concern for the common schools and academies of the republic. Much may be done by Methodist ministers to elevate, to purify, and to extend them, especially in the newer portions of our country. Our agency in this respect should be employed prudently, and in such a manner as to show that we have no sectarian or selfish end in view, but merely desire to do our share in the great work of educating the nation. A large proportion of the youth belong to families under our ministry, and if we fulfill our obligations to them we shall have our full share of influence in the management of common schools and other state literary institutions accorded to us by a public sense of justice without any solicitation on our part.

Your committee beg leave to call attention to a clause in the Discipline, disqualifying teachers for admission into full connection in our Annual Conferences. If the sacred office is not compatible with that of the educator, it is clear that our ministers should not be appointed to institutions of learning. If they are in the discharge of ministerial duties while occupying professors' chairs, why should they be ineligible to take rank with their brethren who are in situations no more sacred? Although they are not recognized as pastors, it is presumable that they do as much pastoral work as those who are so recognized, and receive as much fruit of their labor. Indeed, it may be doubted whether any portions of our work are more blessed by the great "Head of the Church" than our Methodist schools and colleges.

We respectfully submit the following resolutions:

1. Resolved, That our institutions of learning be requested to be more prompt and full in reporting their condition to the General Conference.

2. Resolved, That the attention of the Book Agents be called to this report.

3. Resolved, That our seminaries of learning be commended to the prayers of the Church, and that the annual concert of prayer for colleges be observed in all our congregations.

4. Resolved, That the several Annual Conferences be directed to discourage the further multiplication of Methodist colleges and other seminaries of learning, unless when additional schools may be imperatively required for the education of the youth of our Church, and unless these schools may be maintained without materially diminishing the patronage and efficiency of existing institutions.

5. Resolved, That in the judgment of this Conference, no institution should hereafter be received as a college under the patronage of our Church until it shall have secured an endowment of one hundred thousand dollars.

6. Resolved, That preachers appointed by our bishops to our institutions of learning shall not be deemed ineligible to full connection in our Annual Conferences, if otherwise qualified, and that the Discipline be conformed to this principle.

REPORT RELATING TO THE BEQUEST OF JAMES BOURDET.

The Committee on the Bourdet Bequest, having considered the subject referred to them, submit the following as their report:

In A. D. 1841, James Bourdet, of Champlain, Clinton county, New-York, in his last will and testament, left to the Methodist Episcopal Churches of the United States, one undivided half of his real and personal estate, to be expended by them in Christian and charitable purposes: provided that his nephew, Warren Chapman Dickinson, died without issue.

Said Warren Chapman has since died, having no issue. The committee has no means of knowing the exact amount of the aforesaid legacy, but recommend the adoption of the following resolutions:

1. Resolved by the delegates of the several Annual Conferences in General Conference assembled, That Solomon Fisk, of Chazy, New-York, and George L. Clark, of Plattsburgh, New-York, be, and they hereby are, appointed commissioners on the part of the Methodist Episcopal Churches, to settle with the executor or executors of the aforesaid estate.

2. Resolved, That they pay over the money remaining in their hands, after defraying all necessary expenses, in the manner following, namely: Five hundred dollars to the trustees of the Methodist Episcopal Church in Chazy, New-York, and the balance, be the same more or less, to the Treasurer of the Missionary Society of the Methodist Episcopal Church.
